tions and several trailer parks. A levee break at Alum Creek, near St. Charles Academy took a heavy toll in the Bexley area. Msgr. George Wolz, rector of St. Charles ordered the school and seminary closed until Monday, Feb. 2.

Not far downstream water poured into the new gymnasium at Columbus Academy.

At noon Wednesday, after about 14 hours the rain let up some. Many workers went home to check basements. The mayor was in the West Side (he had attended a West Side Kiwanis meeting at noon) and a little later was on the scene when W. Broad-st was strangled at the State Hospital bottoms.

It was then that the emergency really became apparent.

'Dry Run' Revolts

Rupture of the Dry Run levee behind the Columbus State Hospital spawned most of the West Side's troubles. Torrents of water from the 3.1 inch rain surged down from the Hilltop and Valleyview and met in a sharp bend with backwater from the swollen Scioto. The pressure was too great and the flooding was sudden.

A communications center was set up in the mayor's office. Much of the rescue work was directed from there.

It was many hours before heavy equipment could be secured and driven through sucking mud to drop heavy boulders from the quarries into the hemorrhaging Dry Run levee.

The same thing happened in the East and to the South when Alum Creek and Big Walnut Creek lost all sense of direction and took their toll. Two spectacular instances of property damage in those areas were seen. Spitzer Motors, 2010 E. Main-st, had 40 new autos under water. After the flood left, they were found in tangled heaps around the lot. Damage was placed at [illegible].

The Michael Torchick family, 6130 Parsons-av, lost $25,000 worth of cattle and hogs valued at [illegible].

Misery Sets In . . .

The city was in pall of gloom Thursday. Just before noon the river was at its crest. More than 2000 had been evacuated. One invalid West Side woman, Mrs. Betty Montgomery, 94 Sullivant-av, shot and killed herself as waters swirled around her home. Her second-story tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sampson, were preparing to evacuate the house when they came downstairs and discovered her slumped near her wheelchair. The body was removed in an amphibious "duck."

Nine bus routes had been shut down, isolating the East and West Sides. All major roads into the city were closed except Route 23 north. Stores downtown closed. Public and parochial schools were closed everywhere except northern suburbs and Canal Winchester. Hospitals soon filled with the cold, the wet and invalid.

One or two small roads around the flood areas were jammed with traffic both Thursday and Friday. Cars were backed up for miles out Trabue-rd and down Hague-av.

The Red Cross took care of about 600 of the first evacuees at Starling Junior High School. But water crept up to the school and early Thursday they were moved on to Central High School, Veteran's Memorial and the Naval Reserve Center on Sandusky-st. The Elks Club, 1045 S. High-st, took care of 150. During the weekend more than a hundred families were moved a fourth time to the State Fairgrounds Youth Center.

Trailer Park Swamped

From the Caravan Trailer Park alone (1048 Jackson-pk) more than 500 people were pulled from their trailers about 2 a.m. Thursday. Police and firemen woke everybody, giving them 10 minutes to get ready. The evacuees first went to the South Franklin School, then to Central. Hundreds were moved from Greenlawn and Sullivant Gardens housing projects. Across town, the whole Hanford Village area was evacuated by the National Guard and volunteers from Lockbourne Air Base. There was little looting.

In some places the rescuers found resistance. As one airman volunteer said, "If folks had left when they were first asked Wednesday, the job would have been much easier. As it was, they waited until water was about to come through their doors and ice was freezing." Some couldn't be reached by truck, so amphibious "ducks" were used. The sick had to be rushed to hospitals.

Red Cross volunteers handled the gargantuan task of keeping families in touch. Some children were apart from their working parents — in babysitters' homes, in playschools or with relatives elsewhere in the city. They weren't reunited for several days.

Bus service to both extremes of the city stopped Wednesday night. Lines to the Hilltop weren't restored until Saturday.

Disaster Is Declared

Governor Michael DiSalle's declaration of the state as a major disaster area was backed by President Eisenhower Friday and federal relief funds are made available. Much will go to replacement of roads and public buildings. The Red Cross was placed in charge of all disaster relief work and was empowered to draw on its national funds.

The Small Business Administration, a federal agency with regional headquarters in Cleveland, will handle loans to stores and small manufacturers who were hurt.

On the family level, State Relief funds, already set aside by legislature were ordered made available immediately. The Red Cross opened a disbursement office Sunday at Central Point Shopping Center, 691 Harrisburg-pk, to serve all county flood victims. The phone number is BR. 9-7341.

Following application, the families are given swift investigation and are contacted by a case worker. They receive as outright gifts, purchase orders good for food, clothing, and whatever basic furniture is needed to begin housekeeping again.

Sightseers Impede

Sightseers hampered the return of families to their homes Saturday and Sunday, police reported. Pumping crews, fire trucks, ambulances and utilities vans were slowed by streets choked with lookers. Men, women and children "rubbernecked" from their cars and drew sensitive glances from homeowners who were scraping mud from their steps.

A number of other agencies gave out aid to flood victims. Included were Volunteers of America, 379 W. Broad-st and Salvation Army, food, shelter and clothing; Columbus Home Builders Association, emergency repairs; City Health Department, inspection of foodstuffs in stores and homes and processing plants; Columbus Retail Grocers Association, helped some grocers to clean up stores, fire department, gas and electric companies, inspection of homes and check of appliances.

By Tuesday many homes in the stricken areas looked fairly normal from the outside, under a shroud of snow. But inside they were miserable. Woodwork is warped, mud stretches from wall to wall and appliances are working poorly.

Throughout the past week teams of inspectors have been checking gas and electric lines, looking for weakened foundations and plaster and watching for signs of disease and sanitation hazards. Some gas lines, left open, had to be blown free of water.

The work continues, but it will be some time before things can be called normal again.

Do it now. Visit your nearby Columbus Public Library (wso a bit, and you'll want take out a whole armful of ...

Staters In First Place In Senior Boys' League

Behind Buddy Stavens' 12 points, the Staters took over first place in the senior boys' basketball league at Glenwood Recreation Center.

One and two points was all that separated the two teams until the last quarter, when the Staters pulled away and handed the Aces their first defeat 38-27. Bob Capuano was high point man for the Aces with 12 points.

The Falcons downed DeMolay in a close contest 45-41. In the third quarter DeMolay challenged the Falcons and went ahead 39-36, but the excellent play of Norman Bell and Melvin Hill proved too much for DeMolay who consequently suffered its first defeat of the season.

Julian Howie, Dean Grabill and Jim Skaarer, hitting for 16, 15 and 14 points respectively, helped the Cavaliers hand the Otters their second defeat of the season, 62-23. Steve Fatheroff scored nine points for the Otters.

Bluebirds flew away with a 39-31 victory over the Playboys in a game in which many baskets were made. Mike Richter, Earl Ober, Roged Tidwell, Steve Stavrides and Carl Brown all hit in the double figures. George West hit for 12 for the losers.

League standings are: Staters, 2-0; Cavaliers, 2-0; Aces, 1-1; DeMolay, 1-1; Falcons, 1-1; Bluebirds, 1-1, Otters, 0-2; Playboys, 0-2.

G. W. McDonald Named President By Managers

G.W. McDonald, 2505 Steele-av, was elected president of the Columbus Association of Building Owners and Managers at a luncheon meeting, Jan. 16. He is building manager for the Coop Association at 245 N. High-st.

Many electrical items using 115 volts are not grounded. The principle danger, say Ohio State University Extension agricultural engineers, lies with old equipment where worn insulation on wires and connections allows a charge to build up on the frame of the equipment.

Advisers were on scarcity of manpower.

Few Copies Of Changes In Charter

Columbus City Clerk Russell Drake pleaded guilty last week to a charge by East Sider Albert Gregg that there probably aren't enough copies of the proposed charter revisions to go around.

Gregg, a former councilman, was unable to secure a copy from the City Clerk's office before the recent public hearing on the changes and had to borrow a copy from the Finance Department.

The East Sider complained that the public could hardly participate in council's hearings when it is impossible to secure a copy.

Drake said that five copies of the proposed changes are now available in his office. There are only 17 copies of the over 100 page typewritten report in city hall.

"It would have been foolish to print a large quantity," Drake said, "when Council is liable to approve changes which would make each copy obsolete."

He added that the 185,000 registered city electors would be mailed a copy of the final proposal before it is voted upon.

Eagles Outpoint Hawks 36-15 At Glenwood Center

The Eagles, with Center Bob Wood scoring 16 points, beat the Hawks 36-15.

Hawk forward Bob Coles scored nine points to lead the losers' [illegible].

Spearheaded by Capt. Jim Bell with 13 points, the Bears handed the Eagles a 35-29 setback. Eagles held the Bears until the last quarter when they were outscored 10-6. Eagles' Hess and Graves, with 12 and 10 points respectively, were top scorers for their team.

Hawks squeezed by the Braves 19-14 to bring their season mark to an even 8-8.

With Goodin and Robertson scoring 14 and 16 points respectively, Braves defeated the Bears by a 39-16 score. Much of the Braves' success was due to the fact that they held the Bears' high scorers Bell and Newman to a total of 14 points.

League standings are: Rams, 9-6; Braves, 8-7; Bears, 8-8; Hawks, 8-8; Colts, 6-8, and the Eagles, 7-9.

A bowl of dry cereal atop a sofa overturned on a mattress was the first thing to meet Fred Bauman's eyes when he returned Sunday to his home and business, Baumann's Ceramics, at 1241-43 Sullivant-av.

Mrs. Bauman had filled the bowl and set it on a table minutes before the couple fled from the fast-rising water. Five feet of water in the building destroyed all their possessions . . . home and business.

The Baumanns took shelter with Jeanne Greer and Mrs. Wilhelmina Actor at their grocery, Sullivant-av, at West Park-st, until 2 a.m., when lack of heat forced them all to leave.

They were evacuated by a naval crew, taken first to the fire station and then to Naval Recruitment Center.

Thursday afternoon the four left to stay with friends at Jack's Grocery on Harmon-av at Chime-rd. Betty Bricker of 96 Derrer-rd, opened her home to them on Friday.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Vegetables — Potatoes, cabbage, celery, frozen and canned peas.

Fruits—Grapefruit, [illegible] apples.

Protein Foods — Pork loin roasts, round steak, fryers, large eggs.

Vegetables are the foods most affected by the recent cold wave and heavy rains across the nation. Shipments are lighter and prices higher for a week or two. You'll pay more for more tender vegetables such as snap beans, eggplant, cucumbers and summer squash. However, there are still many good choices available.

Potatoes lead the list—and indications are we'll have low potato prices and abundant supplies all winter. Sweet potatoes, rutabagas, turnips and carrots are other good standbys for winter menus that are reasonably priced.

You may want to rely more on canned vegetables now. Because of large supplies you can look for good prices on tomatoes and tomato products, sauerkraut, peas and green beans.

Fruits—In general the eating quality of citrus fruit is excellent. You'll find good values in both California navel, and Florida juice oranges. Grapefruit are at their best. Apples remain plentiful and good in quality. Banana supplies are lower and prices higher for those of good quality. Avacados, Emperor grapes, and pineapples offer welcome dessert variety.

Meats—With a pig crop larger than last year and a good feed supply, look for pork among the good buys from now through spring. Various cuts can be expected to be "specialed" by retailers from one week to the next.

Relative good buys in beef are sirloins and rounds. Because of higher demand on beef roasts in winter months, steaks can be found as "specials" from time to time." Those "buy a pound, serve a pound" variety meats, liver, heart, and kidney, rate a place on your shopping list.

Poultry, Eggs and Cheese—are all budget stretchers. Fryers are up a bit in price, but still an outstanding buy. In addition to broilers, there is also plenty of fowl available. And this is the time of year when chicken and dumplings should make a big hit with the family.

SURPLUS FOOD GOES TO WEST SIDERS

FLOOD VICTIMS received free cheese, flour, butter, cornmeal, and dried milk Saturday and Monday when the Red Cross arranged for distribution of Federal surplus commodities. Helping with the project were the F&R Lazarus & Co., which provided trucks, and the Columbus CIO Council and the Columbus Federation of Labor. The foodstuffs were passed out at eight West Side distribution points.

Chicago Avenue Church Hit By Flood, Then $23,000 Fire

Congregation Loses Five Pianos In 10-Day Period

Labor of love was almost lost for the people of Chicago Avenue Church of Christ this week.

A crew of seven men and women sat down in the church basement Sunday for a cup of coffee. They had just finished washing down all the walls, scrubbing the floor, and sterilizing every cup and saucer in their kitchen. The church had been hit by the flood to the tune of four feet of water.

A week of cleanup was finished . . . so they thought. At that very moment a two-alarm fire raged on the floor above them in the Sunday School rooms. The loss climbed to $23,000 before firemen could stop the flames.

Water from hoses poured through a hole chopped in the floor and settled in the spick and span kitchen.

Firewall Prevents Spread

But, the congregation was grateful that the main part of their church was spared. A firewall helped. The lost portion was frame, the original church. About 12 years ago the brick part of the building was added in front.

Utilities men in the alley first spotted the fire and turned in a warning at 3:37 p.m. The fire apparently started at a gas heater or switch box. Eight classrooms, the choir room, all music and all Sunday school seating were burned. Also gone was a piano, the fifth one lost by the church in two weeks! The flood claimed the other four.

Police Officer Frank Peterfy saved records, flags and other items belonging to the West Side Kiwanis club which meets weekly at the church

Expansion Plans Set

Fred Van Order, secretary of the church board, said the $20,000 loss to the structure has been accepted by the insurance company. The board will order temporary repairs but will proceed with original plans to expand the building. He said $42,000 will be spent to widen the church 22 feet to the south. A new kitchen will go up and the house to the south will be converted to a Sunday School.

Temporary pastor of the church is Rev. A. A. Sebastian of 141 Webster Park.

NOTHING WAS LEFT but ashes when fire swept through the Sunday School annex of Chicago Avenue Church of Christ, Sunday. Fireman Ronald Varner, 733 E. Round-st, examines remains of a piano, one of five lost by flood and fire.

AID WELFARE FUNDS

Lions Offer To Replace 'Specs' Lost By Local Flood Sufferers

Hilltop Lions Club committed itself to $1100 worth of financial assistance to flood victims on the West Side this past week.

Bun Kimball, chairman of the Lions Community Betterment committee, on Jan. 28 gave a $200 check to the Red Cross Disaster Center at Central Point Shopping Center and another check for $400 to the WTVN Spook Beckman Flood Relief Fund.

At the same time, Don Rumley, chairmen of the Lions sight saving committee, said his group was prepared to spend up to $500 to replace lost or broken eye glasses of West Side flood victims. Those suffering such loss should report to the Red Cross Disaster Center with their individual prescriptions if possible. The Lions Club will underwrite the cost of the finished glasses. In cases where lens prescriptions are not readily available, the club will also

In all, the club committed itself to $1100 worth of flood relief last Wednesday.

Hartley's $$$ Game Ends Soon

"Confederate" money game, a weekly feature in Hartley Newspapers for several years, will be discontinued when the current jackpot is claimed.

Value of the jackpot emblem, now $60, will continue to increase by $5 each week and the usual ten $1 insignia will also be put in circulation every week until the jackpot is found.

Stamped by hand on ads in 11 copies of each week's issue, insignia are always printed in brightly colored ink and placed in plain view on ads.

Subscribers finding a lucky emblem in their copies of the newspaper, may redeem the copies for "Confederate" money at Hartley Newspapers' office, 2465 W. Broad-st before Saturday noon of the week of publication.

Advertisers appearing in the current issue will accept "Confederate" cash at face value in payment for any merchandise in their stores

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" cash.

Employes or carriers of the newspaper and members of their families are not eligible.

Hoermle Return Voted; Prexy Westlake Files

Apparently intent on entering the election campaign with clean hands, city councilmen compromised Thursday night returning South Side appliance dealer William P. Hoermle his council seat and naming W. Ralston Westlake as the group's president.

The city's political machinery, momentarily stalled when the Ohio Supreme Court ruled 4-3 that Mayor Sensenbrenner had overstepped his bounds in appointing Hoermle, was once again running smoothly.

The compromise ended a battle for the city's seventh council seat which had raged since the death of Wesley Llewelyn last Sept. 12.

Making the motion which gave Westlake the council's presidency and Hoermle the vacant position in one vote was Republican Dewey Garner, who had previously announced he would not seek re-election this fall.

Relief, Rebuilding Continue In Area

While city councilmen fired verbal potshots at each other over "who was doing what" to rebuild Dry Run levee, the West Side story continued this week.

Processing of 906 flood-struck families had been accomplished by Tuesday in the Red Cross disaster relief office and at least 200 more applications for aid were expected. These included other sections of the county.

The Gas Co. said today that at least 100 homes were still without heat. Crews were working over week ends and at night to drive water from the mains. The process is tedious, requiring the drilling of three holes through frozen ground for every section that is water bound, Torn up alleys and streets hindered pickup of refuse but trash collections improved early this week.

Surplus food stocks, made available by the Department of Agriculture were distributed free in hardest hit areas on Saturday and Monday. No more disbursements were planned.

District Revival Asked

While U.S. Army engineers officially attributed the West Side damages to the breach of Dry Run levee, the city declared its intent to injoin the dissolution of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District. Judges in some of the counties involved were still not convinced that revival of the district (which voted to dissolve 11 days before the flood) would accomplish anything. But pressure from thousands of flood sufferers all along the Scioto is expected to gain momentum.

Councilman Ralston Westlake's resolution to demand an immediate accounting from Service Director Floyd C. Redick on his plans to prevent another Dry Run flooding ran out of gas. The Democratic majority, concerned with what they thought were political implications, voted down the issue and insisted the city would have a report and recommendations soon. Redick stated it would be ready in two weeks. Mayor Sensenbrenner read a letter he wrote to Congress in 1957 urging more protection for Columbus.

Westlake stated firmly that he had the people of the West Side at heart when he asked for the resolution.

Business Aid Discussed

Instructions to small businessmen who lost everything in the flood were still somewhat clouded this week. Dan Bachman, chairman of the Red Cross disaster relief operations at Central Point, said his agency was prepared to help those whose sole livelihood depended on lost tools or facilities, and

Pedestrian Dies Of Auto Injury

John W. Robinson, 45, of 110 N. 22nd-st, suffered fatal head injuries when struck by a car as he walked into Sullivant-av near Wayne-av, Friday night at 11:10

Robinson died Saturday afternoon.

Police said he walked from between two parked cars on Sullivant-av and was struck by an auto driven west by Paul Sokol, 17, or 3502 Westway-dr. Sokol's car was then struck in the rear by another westbound auto driven by Darrel E. Nibert, 23, of 3273 Jackson-pk.

No citations were issued, but the accident is under investigation.

Center's 'Favorite' Refugee Returns To Yale-av Home

By NAN LONG

Marie Gatton is home again

Gray water rushed down West Side streets that Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Gatton was forced to leave her home at 221 S. Yale-av. She was frightened by the boat and sorrowful that she could not take her parakeet But, gracious, she'd be back home in an hour!

But next morning, Mrs. Gatton was taken from Starling Junior High school to the Salvation Army Center on E. Goodale-st To a "little old woman who lives alone," some time was needed to adjust to such a busy place as the center.

The dim room she entered, actually the sanctuary of the Salvation Army Church, was filled with cots, pushed tightly together. Children, moving too quickly to be counted, played in the aisles or clustered in groups around a game. Tired fathers slept amid childish patter, and mothers talked quietly together

Suppertime for 50 children can be chaotic. But Mrs. Gatton began to like the busy, chattering place, and soon she was helping to feed the little ones

Found Job To Do

During those first hectic days, when families were coming in for shelter, food and clothing, or leaving to stay with relatives, Mrs. Gatton could be found working happily. When two children had a dispute over a toy, it was Marie Gatton who found a toy for both. Another time, she helped the cooks by searching through the cupboards for the dessert's vital vanilla. Was the meat salty enough? Mrs. Gatton's expert taste said yes.

One day chilled, hungry Army workers, returning from long hours of collecting donations of clothing, were welcomed with steaming bean soup. Marie Gatton had made it but brushed aside their compliments. She "didn't want to sit and do nothing," she said. The other women had clothing to sort and children to watch, and everybody's colds and aches kept the nurses busy.

Wondered About Parakeet

Of course, in between times, Marie Gatton was homesick, "I mustn't fret," she said, "I'm just one of thousands of West Siders who are worrying. Some-

Flood Clean-Up Helpers Lauded

Dan Bachman, director of disaster relief headquarters, had special praise this week for the church groups, Arlington students, and other volunteers who have pitched in to help with flood cleanup.

Bachman singled out a group of 52 Mennonites from Plain City who have devoted three days to work on the West Side. In this time, the volunteer group has performed heavy clean-up tasks in from 60 to 70 homes. Seeking out the most distressed and needy families has been the aim of the Mennonites. One member approached Bachman with a cup containing $2.35 and the name of the family in whose home he found it; he wanted to be sure that the money was returned to its owner.

'Heart Days' Under Way

"The butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker" will be asked for contributions to Heart Fund, during the drive among small businessmen Feb. 3 to Feb. 13.

"Heart-Days" is part of the month-long general drive which will feature a residential canvass on Heart Sunday, Feb. 22 and will end on Feb. 28.

Area residents serving as "Heart-Days for Business" district leaders include:

Clarence H. Archer, 3309 Stephens-dr; Fred L. Shaner, 2943 Fremont-st; Robert R. Grove, 896 S Richardson-av; Cecil L. Campbell, 589 S. Terrace-av; Charles H. Campbell, 91 S. Westmoor-av; Joe Goodwin, 2909 Sullivant-av and Carl T. Peterson, 3321 Eakin-rd.

Included among volunteer business-days workers are 26 West Side and Hilltop residents.

LIGHT GIVES LIFT

HILLTOP PARENTS' spirits rose Monday with the erection of this traffic light at Sullivant and S. Westgate-av. Sunshine Kids Honor Lincoln

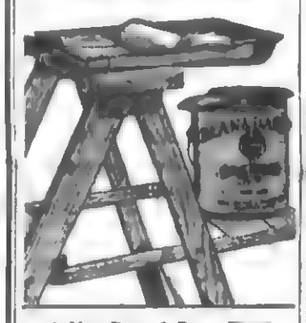
Lincoln Day celebrations will be held at Sunshine Recreation Center next week. Decorations and exhibits are being made and a large chalk portrait of Lincoln will be hung in the main entrance hall.



Another craft class project will be groups of mobiles depicting Lincoln's life.

A head of Lincoln has been loaned to the center by O. D. King, who is on the maintenance staff. The bust, along with several children's drawings will be exhibited in the trophy case.

On Feb. 9, the Pre-Teen Club will hold a Lincoln birthday party. Members will dress as people did during the Lincoln era. A skit "Ten Pennies for Lincoln," will be presented.

Girls' Leaders Club will assist in the program.

Fourth Grader Knows How To Tell Concise News Story

Ed. Note: James Jeaty, 9, of 123 N. Roys-av wants to be a newspaperman when he grows up. Giving himself an assignment last week, he decided to write about the flood. His fourth grade teacher at West Broad Elementary is Mrs. Roma Waymer. She liked his story. So do we. Here it is:

James Jeaty

THE GREAT FLOOD OF 1959

It all started Wednesday, Jan. 21, 1959 when a hard rain came down. For two months there was very cold weather. This caused the ground to freeze and kept the water from going into the ground. So naturally we had a flood.

The Dry Run waters ran east, but the Sciota waters backed up west, and when the water going east met the water going west, it caused a whirlpool, and broke through the levee which caused four feet of water across West Broad-st

Two thousand people were evacuated from their homes. Army ducks floated around and went up to houses and took people out of their homes and took them to Starling Junior High, Central High, West High, and the Elks Lodge.

Water backed up drains. Besides the west side, the east side was flooded also because of Alum Creek. The towns flooded the most were Columbus, Mt. Vernon and Chillicothe.

Friday, Jan. 23 at 2 p.m. the river reached its crest. Saturday, the 24th they moved the evacuees to the Youth Center at the Fairgrounds. Thursday the 22nd at 10:30 levees got temporarily fixed. In Ohio 15 were drowned during the flood.

It will take months to repair the damage done by the flood. And the hurt to many people can never be made right again. I hope we never have another flood.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Veterans Active In Emergency; Thank Helpers

Westway Post No. 8441, Veterans of Foreign Wars, 882 Clarendon-av, put its Civil Defense program into effect when the West side became a victim of flood.

Westway's Disaster Corps went into action when calls went out at 10 a.m. that Wednesday morning. By 12:05 we had 61 men and 24 boats working all over Franklin County. There were two locations that could not be reached by small boats, but Westway acquired large enough boats to make rescue possible.

All during the flood there were men on duty.

Rescue work is not the only part of our C. D. program. Saturday and Sunday some Post members with 16 pumps, pumped out basements throughout Franklin County and Columbus. This service was part of Westway's helping hand to the community.

This program is Westway's own project with no financial help from any other organization. The personnel on this corps is also trained in first aid, rescue work and fire fighting.

The Post home was also used as a relief station, helping families get relocated. Commander Sam Weller would like to thank all who gave their time and help during the crisis; also the people who were kind enough to offer coffee and sandwiches to the flood workers.

Chairman of the C. D. program is Orville Click, a past commander of the post.

Sincerely,
OTIS R. LOWE,
Public Relations.

times I laugh at myself sitting here worrying about my water pipes. Why, everybody's worrying about their water pipes. I do wonder about my little parakeet, though!"

To help her homesickness, a Salvation Army worker drove Marie over to see her house, where she had lived for 40 years. It was quite dry, but had no heat. And her parakeet was [illegible]

Her homesickness grew worse. Nurses forced her to stop her tasks, put her to bed. By the end of the week, she was the last of the flood refugees at the Center.

Then came the blessed news. The gas was turned on, her house was warm. Her temperature was down, the nurse said she could go home. On her last evening at the center, she read to the children of the hurried volunteer workers.

She heard them sing their songs, encouraged a three-year-old to chant her jumbled alphabet. Busy men and women paused a moment to listen. They knew it wouldn't be quite the same when Marie Gatton went home.

Next day, nine days after the flood came, she said goodbye. Salvation workers all promised to come and see her . . . and Marie Gatton wants to bake each one a cake.

BOY SCOUTS CELEBRATE 49TH ANNIVERSARY

The fourth point of the Boy Scout Law reads, "A Scout is friendly. He is a friend to all and a brother to every other scout."

Now as the Boy Scouts of America celebrate their 49th anniversary during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, let us see how this friendliness is fostered.

Friendships form readily in the Cub Scout pack, Boy Scout troop, and Explorer unit as their programs promote democratic ways of living together.

The weekly neighborhood den meetings of the Cub Scouts who are eight, nine, and ten years old are full of fun as they take on themes of American history, geography, natural science, and safety. At monthly pack meetings where they put on interesting demonstrations and program features, the Cub Scouts meet and know the parents of members of the other neighborhood dens.

The Boy Scouts, over eleven, make friends as they form patrols in the troop, elect their own boy leaders, and plan their programs. These friendships are strengthened as they camp and hike together.

The new Exploring program for high-school age young men provides a series of social experiences that help Explorers increase their skill in working and living with others.

World Scouting today in 87 nations finds 7,589,183 enrolled.

America's Scouts make friends with those of other lands at the world Scout jamborees usually held every four years. Several hundred American lads will camp together with about 12,000 others from all parts of the world at the Tenth World Jamboree in the Philippines next July 17 to 26.

Through the World Friendship Fund of voluntary contributions since 1944, Boy Scouts of America have helped less fortunate brother Scouts of other lands.

We congratulate the Boy Scouts on their 49th milestone.

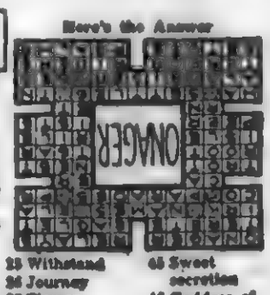
GROWING OUT OF 'EM

Abraham Lincoln Said:



"That, in their present glorious struggle for liberty, the Hungarians command our highest admiration and have our warmest sympathy; that they have our prayers for their speedy triumph and final success; that the government of the United States should acknowledge the independence of Hungary as a nation of free men at the very earliest moment consistent with our amicable relations with the government against which they are contending; that, in the opinion of this meeting, the immediate acknowledgment of the independence of Hungary by our government is due from American free men to their struggling brethren, to the general cause of republican liberty, and not violative of the just rights of any nation or people."

Don't Give Up Long Tax Form Until Deductions Are Totaled

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Columbus Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

The big question facing the small taxpayer at this time is whether to itemize deductions or take the standard deduction.

Before you give up and file a "short" form, take the time to add up the family expenses that could be deducted. If the deductions that could be itemized total more than 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income, it will pay you to file a "long" Form 1040.

Here is a list of the more important items to watch for while you compile the list of family deductions:

Interest on Loans—The interest you paid on loans is deductible. This includes any mortgage, automobile, appliance, home improvement or personal loans you may have had. Interest on installment purchases is also deductible. Evidence, such as a statement from the seller should be obtained to show the amount of interest you paid during the year.

State and Local Taxes—Most taxes, other than federal taxes, are deductible. These include, state and local real estate, personal property, income, retail sales, gasoline and poll taxes. You can deduct auto license fees, but not auto inspection fees. If you don't have an exact record of some of these taxes, you can make a reasonable estimate.

Charitable Contributions — Gifts to charitable, religious, educational, scientific or literary organizations are deductible. Generally these contributions are deductible up to 20 percent (in some cases 30 percent) of your adjusted gross income. In adding up your donations, don't overlook the old togs, books or furniture you may have contributed to a local charity or church. The fair market value of these gifts is deductible.

Medical and Dental Expenses—Unless you or your wife has reached the age of 65, your medical expenses are deductible only to the extent that they exceed three per cent of your adjusted gross income. Include in your medical deduction the cost of doctor, nursing, dentist's X-rays, and hospital services. You may also deduct premiums for health, accident and medical insurance.

Casualty Losses—You are entitled to deduce your uninsured home losses from fire, theft or storm. Damage to an automobile is deductible if the accident was due to faulty driving but not negligence on your part.

Child Care Expenses — Widowed, divorced, or legally separated taxpayers, and in some cases any taxpayer, who must pay for the care of a dependent while they work can deduct up to $600 of this expense. Check carefully the requirements in the official instruction book before claiming a "baby-sitter" deduction.

Miscellaneous Deductions—If you had certain expenses in connection with your employment (other than travel and reimbursed expenses), you may claim them as miscellaneous deductions. Examples would be tools, uniforms, union dues and employment agency fees. "Periodic" alimony or separate maintenance payments ordered by the [illegible] are also deductible under the heading

"Square Shooters" On Auto Claims

You always get your every dollar due when you have a claim with State Farm Mutual...and fast, too. You can count on fair, courteous treatment from State Farm Mutual and your friendly State Farm agent every time. They're "square shooters"... honest, reliable and good folks to do business with.

BIBLE COMMENT

We Must Go With Jesus To Calvary

The cup in Gethsemane that Jesus prayed so earnestly might pass, did not pass.

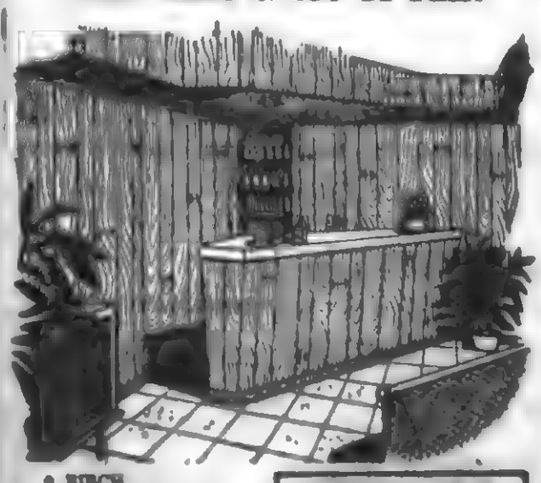
We know how He drank it and drank to the very lees of sacrifice and suffering.

It is the mystery of God and the universe that the lifegiving powers, alike of nature and of grace, are intimately bound up with suffering and death.

It is one thing to recognize a general law of sacrifice, but how different when we are faced with a real, insistent danger, or demand for sacrifice ourselves.

Then comes the real testing. Many find the faith and power.

Out of Gethsemane the Master came with the serenity of a profound faith in the destiny that the Father had for Him, and with a quiet sublime courage.



That serenity and courage endured alike the buffetings of His aggressors, the taunts of the cowardly and the cynical contempt of the worldly minded Pilate.

From Gethsemane to Calvary! We must go with Jesus all the way, if we could get the inspiration of that divine tragedy and its fulfillment of blessing for mankind. Thus will the message of that divine tragedy come to us personally, pointing the way to triumph and glory.

It is the way of prayer, in discovering and obeying the will of God, and in finding the strength that God supplies.

Three-Way Tie In Girls' League

Three teams are in first place in the Senior Girls Basketball League at Glenwood Recreation Center. The Thugs, Sixteens, and Senior Stars each boast a 2-0 record.

Last week, the Sixteens edged out the Hilltoppers, 23-21, in an overtime. Vicki Quinn scored 14 for the winners and also made the two points that broke the tie.

Other games ended as follows: Thugs 25, Juniors, 5; Knights, 22, Juniors 4; and the Senior Stars, 20, Strollers 10.

Hilltonia Junior High brought its season mark to 8-2 and its City League record to 3-2 last week as it dumped Roosevelt Jr. High, 30-24. Dwight Newman led the victors with 13 points, followed by Bill Hunter's 11. They play Marion-Franklin there this Thursday afternoon at 4.

Five boys were lost to the Hilltonia squad last week via graduation. They were Bill Karn, Phil Tucker, Larry Smith, Steve Galentine and Ken Bowman.

The St. Aloysius Girls' CYO beat St. Mary Magdalene Girls' CYO squad last week, 26-21. They meet St. Leo's Feb. 14, there.

St. Aloysius' grade school team lost 28-16 to St. Francis. They play Holy Family at the Aquinas gym Saturday morning.

To Jerry Speers: Just what is it that you say just prior to shooting each for your foul shots? Several people have inquired about this . . .?

The West Junior High scorebook is temporarily (we hope) missing, so the dope from their game with Marion-Franklin last week is unavailable. We do know that West took it on the chin. They play Franklin Jr. High this week.

The monthly meeting of the Ohio Valley Football League will be held Saturday, Feb. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the Valleyview Council Hall, corner of Richardson and Valleyview.

One of the league's players has now turned his talents to music. Bruce Douglas, 17, and a halfback with the Thunderbolts and a student at West High will be the featured vocalist at the next record hop conducted by radio station WMNI at Vet's Memorial this Saturday evening. The combo backing him up is composed of Chuck Bowen, Dublin, Bob Smith, Central, and Charles Bell, Franklin Heights. They call themselves the Melody Makers.

Two women have done much for Bruce—Mrs. Violet Swanson organized his grid league, and Mrs. Ross Winner, 2005 Olivet, gave him free music lessons.

The Central track squad is working out inside and to further prove that spring is just around the corner, their baseball and golf squads have had recent meetings. Central plays Marion-Franklin at home this Friday evening.

Starling Junior High beat Mohawk last week, 31-15. The victors were led by Don Poling with 7 points. This raised Starling's record to 2-6. They meet Roosevelt there this Thursday afternoon.

Manager Olin Parrett reports that the Three C Lanes bowling alley reopened for regularly scheduled business this past Sunday. No estimate of flood damage is yet available, but it took over a week for repairs. Leagues will be scheduled for makeups as they appear this week for their regular play.

'Sweethearts' Swing Is Set; Basketball Lads To Be Feted

By Carol Souther

Oops there goes that bell and John is late to class again. Oh well, it's the first day on his new schedule. The teacher will understand.

Yes, Monday was the first day of the new semester. Everyone just naturally slowed down on his way to class. This marks the final step for many who have now become 12As. To you 12A's, you now have 18 more weeks of school.

On Friday, Feb. 6 at 8 in room 317, Dr. Harold M. Eibling superintendent of schools will speak to the Future Teachers of America. Dr. Eibling will speak on "Teaching in A Time of Challenge."

Hold it pardner! Yep, turn Ole Paint around and listen. There's gonna be a shindig sponsored by the rough [illegible] tough West High Journalism Department.

The dance is called "Sweetheart's Swing" and will be held in West's gym following the West-Marion Franklin game on Friday, Feb. 13.

At intermission, the basketball team will be honored and a basketball sweetheart will be chosen by the team. Candidates for basketball sweetheart are Sharon Younkin, Diane Kelsay, Freddie Cotter, Jane McIlyar and Sarah Hays.

Many heart throbs will croon to your gals, fellows, since the music will be top records of the day.

Journalism photographer will be on hand to take sweetheart pictures.

Hold on to your hat pardner because you can have all this fun for 50 cents stag and 75 cents drag.

Speaking of queens, congratulations to Marilyn Hangar for reigning supreme over the Mardi Gras Carnival, Jan. 30.

Exclusive . . . Acts for the 20th annual Band Variety Show have been announced.

Vocal: Sally Jansen, Judy Parsons; quartett: Morrison, Bill Jones, John Lafeavor, Joe Massey; Amrine-Hastings Duo, Montgomery and Ellis, Sextett: Helga Scharte, Linda Snider, Janet Gove, Sarah Hays, Sandy Bukey, Carol Souther, Sue Drinkhouse, Gary Cook.

Mothers and housewives . . . both the Hillcrest and Old Trail bowling lanes have one more session of their free lessons for you. They will then form leagues. If you have missed the first two sessions, you can show up at one of the alleys for the last. Refreshments and free baby sitting. Get in a league and maybe you can beat hubby one of these days. Hillcrest's session is Friday, Feb. 6, from 9:30-11:30. Old Trail's is Monday, Feb. 9, at the same time.

MYF Undefeated In League Play

MYF, flooring a well-rounded quintet, downed the Minutemen 53-20 to remain undefeated in the Intermediate Boys Basketball League at Glenwood Recreation Center. Jim Roberts of MYF was high man for both teams with 28 points.

Terriers won a thrilling game over the Warriors 19-17 in over time play. John Minehart of the Terriers made the final basket which put the Terriers ahead. Minehart was also high scorer for both teams with ten points.

The school lunch program served 30 percent of the total school enrollment in the United States in 1958, according to OSU extension economists.

Braves Leading Junior League Play At Center

Braves jumped into first place in the junior boys basketball league standings at Glenwood Recreation Center as a result of last week's cage action.

With a 9-7 record, they are one-half game ahead of the second place Colts, who are sporting a 8-8 season mark.

A real battle for the top three positions led to a three-way tie for third place. Rams, Bears and Hawks each have 8-9 records.

In the first over-time game of the season, the Bears squeezed by the Hawks, 26-24. With less than five seconds left in the regulation game, the Hawks were leading 22-20. Going in for a shot, Bear center Newman was fouled. He made good on both attempts to knot the score at 22 all.

In the overtime period, the Bears out-pointed the Hawks 4-2.

To gain second place, the Colts played "red hot" ball to win three games. They defeated the Bears 37-32 in a game which saw Colt Ray Glascor score 13 points. With center Carl Ruzicka netting 11 points, the Colts handed the Eagles a 29-19 defeat of the season, 40-18.

The Braves, paced by Goodin's 12 points, edged the Rams, 24-20.

Despite a 14 point effort by captain Sam Link, the Rams were defeated by the Hawks 37-30. Van Order and Miller each had 14 points for the winners.

Gladden Center Officers Named

John C. Elam was named president of Gladden Community House in a recent election of new officers.

Other officers are C. Gordon Jelliffe, first vice-president; Herschel S. Stephan, second vice-president; Mrs. Harold Andrese, secretary and H. R. Hartman, treasurer.

CITY NATIONAL BANK & TRUST CO.

3100 W. Broad St. CApital 4-1121

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

Is it good business to pay bills with borrowed money?

Yes. Your credit is valuable. Prompt payment of bills is important to maintaining good credit. A loan will make bill-paying money available immediately.

Where to borrow?

What better place than your neighborhood City National Bank whose only business is to serve you and the community.

On what basis are loans approved?

Wherever you apply, good credit is your main requirement but ability to repay is also important. It is City National's policy not to overload any borrower with a back-breaking burden.

What about repayment schedules?

There is no "easy way to repay." The longer you take to repay, the smaller your monthly payments but the more costly your loan will be. City National Bank will work with you to determine the repayment schedule that will be the least expensive and the most convenient for you.

What rates are charged?

City National's bank rates are low compared with other lenders. Why pay more?

I personally invite you to phone or drop in and talk to our Loan Department . . . there is no obligation to discover how a City National Bank loan can benefit you.

Cordially,

Roy E. Von Ins

De Molay Upsets Cavaliers Five

Paced by Dick Curtiss and Alan Daft, DeMolay handed the Cavaliers their first defeat of the season, 49-48, in the Senior Boys basketball league at Glenwood Recreation Center. Dean 'Grabill was high-point man for the Cavaliers with 16.

The Otters won their first game by over-powering the Playboys 42-31. Steve Fetherhoff and Bob Voorhees scored 12 and 10 respectively for the Otters while Bob Pemberton led the Playboys with 15.

In another close one the Bluebirds downed the Aces 46-44 for the Aces' second loss. Fine shooting by Mike Todd and Steve Stavrides proved to be the winning factor. Fred Blackburn scored 17 for the losers.

Bucaneers Grab Two; Reserves In Top Spot

Central picked up two wins over the past week, dumping Aquinas, 50-45, there on Jan. 27 and then taking Eastmoor's measure, 66-53 on Friday night. The first encounter found Ed Tucker with 17 and Jim Gunnell with 10 leading the Pirates. John Hillman with 18, Tucker's 14 and Butch Lynch's 13 paced the Central attack against Eastmoor.

The two victories put Central into third place in the City League. Central got a little more trouble from Aquinas than they had bargained for in a 'run-run' game which saw Aquinas always close but holding the lead only once . . . by 4 points in the second period. Eastmoor wasn't quite that much of a problem.

Reserves Follow Suit

The Pirate Reserves won both their contests also (44-40 over Aquinas and 45-36 over Eastmoor) and now lead the City League Reserve competition. Aquinas proved rough all the way until Central 'broke' them in the last period as the lead changed hands several times. Central merely outran Eastmoor.

George Chilton led the scoring for the victors in the latter game with 11 points, followed by Roosevelt Coffey and Cordell Stewart each with 10.

Three Games On Cowboys' Basketball Card This Week

The next six days will be busy ones for the West Cowboys, with three games piled onto them.

At first glance the games would seem to boil down to, one a real toughie; one about "even-steven;" and one a romp.

But you never can "call" the outcome of a basketball game until the last whistle.

This Friday the Cowboys will be host to a good Aquinas crew which knocked off South and Central of late. In their first meeting this season, the Aquini came out on top in a low scoring contest, 37-34. This was one of the very early games that West played at the Coliseum and their brand of ball hadn't jellied as yet. With the improvement shown over the weeks, this should be a toss-up, favoring West at home.

Saturday night may find the Cowboys meeting a real "Waterloo," or accomplishing the upset of the year in "these here parts." They take their overnite road trip of the year . . . to meet the Big Red of Steubenville. And that's quite an assignment . . . on their court!

Steubenville has had some state powerhouses and is always a rough team. (A few years back, led by Chuck Ellis, they beat Akron North for the state crown.)

There is no secret that the Big Red are masters in the use of the all-game, all-court press . . . which is actually their biggest weapon and one that they're famous for. However a good press on an individual basis has to involve some body contact from time to time. On the road officials seem to call this more readily than officials in that area, so the Cowboys have their work cut out for them.

They have shown a weakness for handling a press, but did show improvement enough to stave that put on by South and easily out victorious.

Next Tuesday eve the Cowboys have their return match with Eastmoor, there. That earlier game was a romp, 90-52 . . . that is the game that saw Jerry Spears set the new single game, individual scoring record of 45 points. However, Spears must have much, better performance than he has had in some recent games (particularly West's single encounter last week) to even come close to half of that output. With home-court advantage, more experience under their belts, and the funny bounces of the ball, Eastmoor could make a tight game of this one, too.

Last Friday evening, at home, West took it on the chin rather heavily as their cross-town rivals, East wrapped up a fairly easy 84-60 victory. This tied East with North for the City League title.

West's Billy Castle opened the scoring with a long one-hander, his only points of the evening. Larry Jones put in a free throw for the Easterners; Roger Street a long one-handed push from the left side; Jones connected for two for East to put them ahead. West had thus held leads of 2-0, 2-1, 4-1 and 4-3. Spears dumped in two to put West ahead for the last time at 6-5. Leroy Anderson pushed in a fielder and the Tigers were never headed.

East held a slim 18-13 first quarter edge, but built it up to 34-27 by halftime. They did not gain too much in the third period as both squads played on fairly even scale . . . thanks mostly to a sensational hot hand of Dave Brady for West. He dumped in 12 markers . . . and seemingly couldn't miss. Unfortunately, he didn't get as many chances in the final frame. East led 56-48 going into the last stanza.

Contrary to the final score, West managed to stay within 'shooting distance' until the final stretch drive. East would pull away and then West would spurt within 'range' again . . . at one point only 7 points down in the third quarter. But the fourth period was just too much.

Too much drive, run-run, hustle . . . and fine shooting by East as they iced the contest. The entire game was too much running (a fine fast break) with usually some fine passing and a nice shot tacked on the end.

West shot a nice 36% from the field, but East hit a 'very nice' 45%. Although West hit 50% from the charity line, East was 'sizzling' with 77%. West had 18 turnovers to East's 10. East only rebounded West 37-34, but to the observer it seemed like East was definitely getting the better of it off the boards consistently.

Brady was the saving grace to keep the Cowboys in the ballgame in the second half as he led West's scorers for the night. Street was also hot for the first half, finished the evening with 11, but ended the first half with three personals and added his fourth early in the second half, as was quite hampered. Though Spears had 14 for the night, in the second half East effectively bottled him up.

When he did outmaneuver his defenders and get the ball the Tigers were all around him. He got eight in the second quarter, but only two in each of the other periods.

Larry Jones led East with 29 points (didn't play the entire game as Jackie Moore cleaned his bench), followed by Leroy Anderson's 20 and Jim Allen's 11. The latter closed out his high school eligibility in a blaze of glory (beautiful floor work and his points broke West's back every time they tried to make a comeback) . . . and he was given a fine hand when he left the floor.

SCORING: West—Street, 5-1-11; Brady, 6-2-18; Spears, 7-0-14; Horky, 2-04; Castle, 1-0-2; Briggs, 2-1-5; Uldricks, 2-2-6; Hartranft, 0-0-0; King, 0-0-0. Totals: 27-6-60.

East—L. Jones: 11-7-29; Johnson, 1-0-2; Turner, 1-0-2; Stewart, 1-4-6; Smith 1-0-2; Winston, 1-0-2; Gullick, 0-2-2; Doughty, 0-0-0; M. Jones, 3-2-8; Allen 4-3-11; Anderson, 8-2-20. Totals: 32-20-84.

Final Arrangements Made For Lincoln Day Program

A tree planting ceremony will highlight the Lincoln sesqui - centennial commemoration celebration scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 12, at Lincoln Memorial Hospital, 3941 E. Livingston-av.

This event is part of a long range tree planting program initiated by the Association last year. John Terry of Radio Station WVKO will act as Master of Ceremonies.

The Rev. G. Weir Hartman, executive secretary of the Columbus Area Council of Churches, will be in charge of the religious aspects of the celebration and will deliver the invocation.

A salute to the flag lead by units of the National Guard and VFW will be followed by an exhibition of Civil War manoeuvers executed by a platoon of Ohio State University students outfitted in period regalia.

Charles Minnick, as in years past, will take the part of Lincoln and deliver the Gettysburg Address.

Flowers for the occasion have been donated by Lou Viereck, Viereck the Florist. Music will be furnished by the Eastmoor High School Band.

Doctors A. H. Kanter and R. L. McFarland, trustees of the hospital, have invited the public to register and make a tour of the building and its facilities. The hospital, dedicated in Lincoln's honor, currently has 60 beds and a recent purchase of an additional six acres allows for future expansion.

An aerial salute to Lincoln will be performed by a plane provided by the Jones Flying Service. A special floral emblem composed of wood fibre will be donated by Mrs. Gladys Devore from her shop on Indianola-av.

According to Emile Reiss, secretary of the committee, a crowd of more than 2,000 persons will attend the tree planting event which will mark the beginning of a year-long series of festivities in connection with the Lincoln Sesqui-centennial Celebration.

Nuclear Testing To Be Discussed

Dr. Eric Ogden, chairman of the physiology department at Ohio State University, will moderate a discussion on nuclear testing at a 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting slated for the Central YMCA Tuesday, Feb. 17.

Panel members will include John W. Bricker, former U.S. Senator; Dr. William Graydon Myers, Julius Stone, research professor at Ohio State and Dr. Otis Maxfield, senior minister, First Community Church. They will discuss "What Is A Sane Nuclear Policy."

General chairman of the Public Affairs Dinner Meeting is Mrs. William Miller.

Golf Classes Open At Central YMCA

Professional Alex Polli will instruct classes for beginning and advanced golfers being enrolled at Central YMCA.

All equipment for the eight week classes open to men and women will be furnished. Classes, which began Monday, Feb. 16, will be taught weekly on Monday and Tuesday evenings and Wednesday afternoon.

Old Mr. Groundhog Didn't See His Shadow — He's Still Asleep

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

The most you can say for a groundhog's (or woodchuck's) weather sense, is that he knows enough to stay fast asleep in his cozy den until March. But the legend persists, even to the present age of satellites, that he is a weather prophet.

Most people take with a grain of salt (another legend that we won't go into right now) the saying, "If a groundhog sees his shadow on Feb. 2, then we'll have six more weeks of winter." Even though we don't take the legend seriously, it will never die. Spring beats eternally in the heart of man, and he needs a little moral support along about Candlemas Day to see him through the winter.

The beginnings of the groundhog legend go back to pre-Christian Romans. They chose Feb. 2 as the date to burn candles to Februa, the goddess who gave her name to the month. The day has been known since as Candlemas Day. In western Europe the day came to have weather significance—I guess our ancestors got tired of winter, too.

In any event, the badger and hedgehog became known as weather prophets. The settlers of this country carried the legend with them, and pinned it on the first likely animal they saw. This happened to be Mr. Woodchuck — an animal that knows enough to come in out of the winter.

No Scientific Proof

There are many sayings, especially pertaining to weather, that are passed on from father to son that have basis in fact. But as far as meteorologists can determine the presence or absence of sunshine on Feb. 2 has no effect on future weather. Neither sun nor cloud will awaken the sleeping groundhogs.

Other animals hibernate in Ohio besides woodchucks. Bats and chipmunks are familiar to everyone and they are winter sleepers. Raccoons will take long winter naps when the weather turns particularly bad and cold. But on a misty, thawing night they will be out prowling for food. Chipmunks are the same way. A warm sunny day will arouse them, and they will scratch around for seeds and nuts. I've seen several this winter searching for seeds spilled from the bird feeder in our yard.

Actually Near Death

A true hibernator, however, goes into a deep trance. An animal in hibernation is near death. Its heart will beat very slowly — maybe two or three times a minute. The animal will breathe once in several minutes. Everything is slowed down until just a spark of life remains. Body temperature drops constantially.

After spending all winter in a trance or deep sleep, these animals do not wake up all at once. If you are afield this spring you will see snakes, frogs, and woodchucks in a rather drowsy condition as they emerge from hibernation. Bears are mean and grouchy, more so than usual, when they awake.

Nature has equipped the hibernators with a marvelous capacity for living through the winter. When food is scarce these animals are sleeping. When other animals are freezing to death in an ice encrusted snowdrift, the hibernators are not bothered. But being unconscious all winter has some drawbacks. When there are floods, such as we have just had, the dens and holes fill with water and the hibernators drown without ever waking up. Although the rabbit must forage in the cold, he saves his mobility—and possibly his life.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits — Grapefruit, oranges, apples, canned fruit cocktail.

Vegetables—Potatoes, celery, cabbage, peas, canned tomato products.

Protein Foods — Pork loins, poultry, bacon, cheese, large eggs.

ON FEBRUARY MARKETS

Headliners on the food list for February are potatoes and canned peas.

Potato production during 1958 was the fourth largest on record. The late or fall crop made up much of this year's crop. These late-crop potatoes keep well in storage. In February they made up the bulk of all potatoes on markets. Remember that potatoes offer high return in nutritive value for money spent. They offer vitamin "C" and two important "B" vitamins, plus other nutrients.

Canned peas are even more plentiful than last year . . . and their quality runs high because the areas where they were grown had just the right weather to produce peas fine in flavor, tenderness and color. To make the most of canned peas, use the liquid in the can. Drain liquid into a saucepan, cook down with a little chopped onion or other seasoning, add peas, heat, and serve. Try peas with celery or tiny onions, with sliced mushrooms, or with rutabagas, cauliflower or potatoes.

Pork, both fresh and cured, will be on the market at favorable prices, as will eggs. Turkey also deserves a place on your February shopping list.

Two fresh vegetables are appearing in quantity—celery and new cabbage. Supply depends much on future weather conditions in Florida, California, Arizona and Texas. For a February slaw, consider a combination of chopped celery, cabbage and apples. Or team cabbage with grated carrots and peanuts.

Other plentifuls are peanuts, peanut butter, walnuts. And for the sweet tooth, there's honey in ample supply, and so good on hot breads or drizzled on fresh grapefruit. Try warm honey with chopped walnuts as a topping for ice cream.

And a special February fish item—California sardines. After being scarce for several years these little fish are back on the market in good supply.

Canned Foods

Each week Americans open and use about 400 million cans of food chosen from 1000 different foods available. At this time of year you, too, may want to open more cans than usual for mealtime variety and economy.

The quality of processed foods may be better than fresh products, because the foods are processed quickly after harvest during their peak of quality. However, the quality of fresh, frozen and canned food is usually about the same.

Faculty Honored At West Anniversary Luncheon

West High faculty and PTA board members took a nostalgic look backward over 30 years of shared experiences at their annual luncheon Jan. 29.

Honored guests at the affair, given each year by the PTA to honor the faculty, were teachers who had served at the school since it was opened in 1929. A number of the building's original students were also present.

It was the last day at West for Miss Mary Baker, biology teacher since the building was first opened. She has accepted a position as a science resource teacher on the Board of Education's radio-television program, broadcast over WOSU.

She welcomed, before she left, Howard F. Wilson, one of her biology students in 1929, who joined West's staff this [illegible]

West High, marking the 30th anniversary of the building at the opening of the second semester, is also celebrating its 50th anniversary as a high school.

Building of the present West High was largely due to efforts of the late Judge Cecil J. Randall. A member of the board of education 30 years ago, it was his vision of the Hilltop as a community needing a high school of its own, that persuaded the board to build West.

West High's first annual published in the new building was dedicated to Judge Randall in gratitude for his efforts.

Mrs. R. B. Baranek, PTA social chairman, was in charge of the faculty luncheon last Thursday, with Mrs. Harold Fox serving as co-chairman. Mrs. Roy Miller was in charge of the dining room and Mrs. Roger Gove, the program.

Invocation was given by Mrs. Howard Thurston. Robert Darrow spoke on West High's history and music was presented by Mrs. Keith Williams and Mrs. D. T. Crawshaw, violinists and Mrs. Paul Crosier, pianists.

THIRTY YEARS' SERVICE—Faculty members who have been on West High's staff since the building was opened 30 years ago were honored guests at the luncheon given by the PTA Thursday, Jan. 29. From left, are front row, Miss Emma Uncapher, Miss Helen McCormick, Miss Helen Workmen, Mrs. Velma Moss Milhone, Miss Edith McKelvey, Miss Lois Forbes; second row, C. F. Bateman, H. L. Zulauf, Arthur Miller, Foreman Slager, Miss Mary Baker. Not present for the photo were Miss Ruth Bachmayer, junior high vice principal; Otto C. France, Alfred Elliott.

Councilman Robert H. Smith, who had held the council gavel on virtue of Hoermle's disputed vote, stepped down from the president's chair before the Thursday meeting.

Republicans, who had objected to such a compromise when proposed earlier by the Democrats, insisted that with Westlake running for mayor, the president's chair assumed more importance.

Following the appointment of Hoermle, Westlake named the East Side resident to head the zoning committee. Smith, ousted from the president's post, resumed his position as head of the city's finance committee, formerly held by Hoermle.

City Attorney Russell Leach said that he knows of no legislation which would be voided by the court's decision.

Both Westlake and Sensenbrenner filed petitions Tuesday at the county board of elections for the mayoralty race of the May primary.

Republicans filing for the councilman races were Golda May Edmonston, 50 W. Dominion-blvd; William M. Hicks, 1165 Sunbury-rd; Ronald E. DeVore, 329 S. Terrace-av; and Ragland Reid, 141 Brunson-av.

Democrats entering the same race were Charles P. Meeks, 68 Clark-pl, financial secretary-treasurer of Local 909, United Auto Workers at the Ternstedt plant; Harold Hickman, 1163 E. Weber-rd; and William P. Hoermle, 2423 Beverly-pl.

Democrat Judge Alan A. Schwartzwalder and Republican assistant city attorney W. Bruce Jenkins, 279 Piedmont-rd, filed the municipal court bench.

Fred J. Shoemaker, incumbent Democratic councilman, filed to seek the nomination to fill the unexpired term of Judge Henry L. Holden, who resigned to become a common pleas judge Jan. 4.

Library Lists New Routine For Hilltonia

Additional hours of service at the new Hilltonia Branch Library, 2282 W. Mound-st, and flood-damage delays in the reopening of Franklinton Branch, 340 Sullivant-av, were items of interest to library patrons on the Hilltop and West Side this week.

Library officials said that enough new books have arrived since the opening of Hilltonia Branch to increase the weekly service to 52 hours. Previously the branch had not been open any morning except Saturday.

Hilltonia's hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday; 1 to 9 p.m., Tuesday through Friday; and 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Saturday.

Mrs. Alma Kelly, head of Franklinton Branch, has become acting chief librarian at Hilltonia Branch pending the repair of flood and fire damage to the Franklinton Branch. She estimated that Franklinton would be out of service at least another two weeks to permit complete rewiring of the furnace and structural repairs.

Patrons of Franklinton Branch were advised that no fines would accrue as a result of the branch closing. However, they are welcome to return their books to any other of the Columbus Public Library agencies and use these facilities while awaiting the reopening of Franklinton, Mrs. Kelly pointed out.

Mrs. Marie Biehl, who was named head of Hilltonia Branch in November, is recuperating from injuries suffered in a fall Christmas week. She expects to be back on the job when Mrs Kelly returns to Franklinton Branch.

'Guys And Dolls' Schedule Annual Sweetheart Ball

Guys and Dolls Club is sponsoring the fourth annual Sweetheart Ball at Glenwood Recreation Center, Feb. 6, 8 to 11 p.m. The record dance is being held for all pre-teenagers on the Hilltop and West Side. No admission will be charged.

A "King and Queen of Hearts" will be picked by ballot at the dance. Candidates are, queen: Sherrie Rhinehard, Diane Gallenstein, Donna Bailey, Rachel Gallentine and Pudgy Edwards; king, Sam Link, Carl Graves, Mike George, Don Van Order, and Tony Latorre. The royal pair will wear crowns and flowers and will reign over the dance.

Relief

even autos in some cases.

According to the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, the Small Business Association may not set up office in the city unless a demand is shown. The federal agency makes disaster loans at 3 per cent, on long-term basis for small businessmen.

SBA representatives in the city Friday drew assurances from the Ohio Bankers Association that city banks would help process loan applications. Many were still waiting for forms Tuesday. The chamber suggested that interested parties write the SBA at 1379 Ontario-st, Cleveland, 13, O. and direct questions to Arthur Armstrong. The phone number is CHerry 1-7900, ext. 493.

Aid Policies Outlined

Red Cross Director Bachman praised the patience of most of the flood sufferers awaiting aid. He said his staff of 15 interviewers and 15 caseworkers was working long hours to contact every applicant. Relief is going out on a priority basis, according to need, he said. Income, resources and indebtedness of individual are considered by a local board in making the gifts.

He urged all who need assistance to make immediate application. The office at Central Point will stay open at least three more weeks or until the job is done, Bachman said.

Some of the categories of disaster aid available to those hard-hit by the flood include: food, clothing, maintenance (fuel, payment of rent), care of injured, repair of property, replacement of basic furnishings, supplemental medical and nursing assistance.

Bachman stated that the Red Cross never sells food or disaster supplies and urged that such rumors be reported to him at BR. 9-7341, anytime from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 a.m.

sponsor eye examinations, he said.

Agency Praises Club

Robert D. Thomas, Franklin County Disaster Chairman of the Red Cross, praised the generosity of the Hilltop Lions and said that both the money and offer of free glasses would assist greatly in the local emergency.

WTVN radio personality Spook Beckman, himself a member of the East Side Lions Club, launched his personal radio flood relief campaign fund while flood waters still covered much of the West Side. He reported that the gift of the Hilltop Lions was the largest received. Collected funds, he assured Kimball, would be turned over to the Salvation Army for flood relief work. Beckman collected $3,000 before calling an end to his appeal last Wednesday evening.

Herbert Loechler, president of the Hilltop Lions Club, said his committees would seek still further avenues of assistance for the flooded areas.

Sullivant Friends Plan Missionary Convention

Third annual weekend missionary convention will be held at Sullivant Avenue Friends Church, 1442 Sullivant-av, Feb. 6 through 8.

Guests for these services will include a member of the church Miss Ella Ruth Hutson, who for five years has been supported in her work on the Formosa Mission field by the Sullivant Avenue congregation.

Miss Huston is a former resident of the Hilltop where she was employed as the Field Representative for Friends Rescue Home. She will participate in Saturday evening service and will give the main message Sunday morning at 10:30. Sunday evening she will show pictures of her work on Formosa.

Miss Ella Ruth Hutson

Also helping with the services will be Rev. and Mrs. Russell Myers of Canton. Mr. and Mrs. Myers have recently returned from a three-month trip to visit mission works in Central and South America. They will show a sound film account of this trip Friday evening.

Mrs. Catherine Cattell, whose husband formerly pastored the Sullivant Avenue Church and who later served for nearly 20 years in the India Mission field, will hold a ladies service Saturday afternoon to 2 and will assist with services Saturday night and Sunday.

All evening services will be held at 7:30 and are open to the public. Rev. Leonard L. Borton is pastor.

SOCIAL EVENTS PLANNED

PREA-LENTEN SOCIAL—A joint meeting of the Knights of Columbus and Ladies of Maria Tuesday, Feb. 10, at K of C Hall, West Broad-st at Burgess-av, will be followed by a social evening. Planning the event are Mrs. Joseph Gregory, president of Ladies of Maria and Frank Shea, grand knight of the K of C Council. Ladies of Maria are also planning a pre-Lenten dance at the hall Feb. 7, 9:30 p.m. Public is welcome.

New Memorial Baptist Dedication Set Sunday

Dedication of the new Memorial Baptist Church, 2435 Eakin-rd at Wayne-av, will be held Sunday, Feb. 8 with all-day ceremonies planned.

In addition to the regular morning worship service at 10:30, a dedication ceremony is planned for 3 p.m. Rev. James T. Jeremiah, president of Cedarville College will preach the dedication sermon and a male quartet from the college will sing at all services.

Dr. Owen Murphy of London, England, will speak during the 7:30 p.m. service.

The new building replaces the original church, moved from 26 S. Sandusky-st to make way for expressway construction.

Work on the building, started soon after groundbreaking on June 1, was delayed first by rainy weather and later by a freak wind that collapsed the partially-completed church.

The auditorium of the $150,000, red brick Colonial building is furnished with blonde oak furnishings and cushioned pews. The steel baptistry behind the choir section is built beneath a stained glass window, carefully removed from the original church and placed in the new building.

A sound-proofed nursery, ladies parlor and choir and class rooms on either side of the rostrum are features of the building. A room at the front of the church may be opened by folding doors to increase auditorium capacity to 725.

First-floor wing houses the pastor's study and additional class rooms. Sixteen class rooms in the basement will accommodate approximately 500. Kitchen is furnished with Youngstown kitchen equipment.

The front porch and portico, with tower housing the church bell and new organ chimes are features of the Colonial structure.

Space for 300 cars is provided on the parking lot in the rear of the building and a garage is now underway for the two church buses and a car.

Plans are underway for a new parsonage to be built on the site in the spring. Rev. C. C. Clawson, pastor for the past 13 years, now resides at 3027 Crescent-dr.

Concordia Plans Lenten Services

Lapel crosses will be given each worshipper at the 7:30 p.m. Ash Wednesday service at Concordia Lutheran Church, 225 School, Hanes-la, Lincoln Village.

Lenten services will be held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 and each will be illustrated with film-strips depicting events in the life of Christ during the last week before crucifixion.

Sermon topics of the series are "He Was Annointed to Die," "The Last Supper," "Not My Will But Thine Be Done," "Jesus Before The High Priest" and "The Crucifixion and Burial."

Rev. Paul Hutchinson is pastor. The public is invited.

Breakfast Set At Church Hall

Monthly fellowship breakfast of St. Agnes Church, W. Mound-st at Wheatland-av, will be held in the church hall from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 8.

Public is invited. Proceeds go to the building fund.

Committee in charge includes Mrs. Norma Theado, Mrs. Leo Oddi, Mrs. Nick Figliola, Mrs. John Condon, Mrs. George Dalton and Mrs. Harry Warren.

Joe Boyham and Richard Derwester will be chefs.

Men Of St. John Church To Hear Judge Draper

Men's Brotherhood of St. John Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st at Hague-av will meet Tuesday, Feb. 10, 8 p.m.

Judge Robert M. Draper will speak on Abraham Lincoln. Jeff Wiler will give a clarinet solo and refreshments will be served.

All men of the congregation are invited to come and bring a friend.

Science Church To Give Lecture

Lowell F. Kennett of Louisville, Ky., will speak under the auspices of Second Church of Christ, Scientist, at the church, W. First-av at Park-st, 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 9.

His subject will be "Christian Science: Practical, Operative Christianity." The public is invited.

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he is currently on extensive tour.

FLOOD AID PLANNED

Food, clothing, and other useful items will be available to Girl Scout families that have been flood victims at St. John's Episcopal Church, Town and Avondale-sts, Saturday, Feb. 7 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The project of collecting the necessary items is being done by all Girl Scout troops in District Ten (about 1000 girls). Anyone else interested in contributing may leave items at St. John's Church.

District Tee [illegible] is Mrs. Gerald Smith, 40 S. Ogden-av.

Personal Note . . .

With the Dedication of the new Memorial Baptist Church, 2435 Eakin Road, being now a reality, we want to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to the Supervisors, the various Contractors, the dealers who supplied the materials, the laborers, the various committees, and all who have had a part in the construction work and installation of the equipment in the commodious new edifice.

We want to thank everyone who made financial contributions to the Building Fund. This has been most deeply appreciated. Also many thanks to Mr. Pearl Schilling for the gift of the organ chimes that graces the steeple tower donated to the church in memory of Mrs. Bessie Thompson, a member of the church until her death, and the mother-in-law of the donor.

We also want to thank the general public for their concern and patience during construction and the accident we encounted while constructing the building which delayed the completion of the structure.

Boy Scout Week To Start Friday; Services Planned

Boy Scout Week, marking the 49th anniversary of the organization in America will be observed beginning Feb. 7 through Feb. 13.

Boy Scout Sunday will be observed Feb. 8 in many churches with Scouts and leaders attending services in uniform. At Hilltonia EUB, both the Cub Scout Pack 257 and Boy Scout Troop 257 will assist the pastor, Gerald M. Koster, with the 10:30 a.m. services.

The troop, directed by Scoutmaster John Snider, will take charge of the opening. Charles Huff, a senior at West High and a candidate for the "God and Country Award," will be devotional leader. The Cubs will share in the closing.

Rev. Koster will preach on the subject: "The Making of a Man." Special music will be rendered by the Junior Choir, directed by Mrs. Julia Miller and Mrs. Ellabelle Kreitzman, organist.

At Hillcrest Baptist services 10 to 11 a.m., three Scouts are to be presented the "God and Country Award," for distinguished church-scout service. A Blue and Gold Banquet will be held at the church on Feb. 20.

Next committee meeting of Pack 114 will be Feb. 10, at the home of Elmer Hixon on Richtered.

Don't forget the pack's bake sale this Saturday. It will be held from 1 to 5 at Central Point, in front of Kresge's.

Elect Albrecht President

A new slate of officers has been drafted by Post 29. Gene Albrecht becomes the post's first president, and Ronald Montgomery is vice president. Other officers are: Dick Martin, secretary; Pat Presnell, treasurer; Johnnie Riggs, quartermaster; and Bill Stimson and Raymond Hartman, cabinet representatives.

To Prepare Display

A window display will be prepared for Scout Week by Cub Pack 348, at Penney's Central Point. It will feature handicrafts, collections, and achievement and monthly program materials.

A cookie sale will be held by Pack 348 Saturday morning, at the shopping center.

Now that the flood waters have receded and schools are once more in session, the Hilltop YMCA program will get back on a regular schedule.

This week the Gra-Y Basketball League will begin its regular season. All teams have played practice games. It is hoped that the boys will progress as fast in this next six weeks as they have in the first part of the season. All the West Section teams will play at West Broad Street School on Monday and Tuesday afternoons. All East Section teams see action each week at the Glenwood Methodist gym. All teams have shown promise.

Tonight there will be a meeting of the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Council to further discuss the Gra-Y Club-of-the-Month. Some rule changes in the basketball leagues will also be discussed.

On Feb. 14 the YMCA Taffy Sale will begin on the Hilltop. All boys who are planning to participate are urged to take advance orders. A good list of prizes is being worked on and we hope that we will be able to make a substantial contribution to YMCA World Service.

West Junior Hi-Y is planning on having a ping-pong tournament for all members of the club. The winners of this tourney will represent the West Club at a city-wide playoff in March. The group is also hoping to have a joint meeting with the Hilltonia Junior Hi-Y in the third week of February, with a featured speaker.

The Hilltop Nation of Indian Guides will hold a pow-wow on Monday, Feb. 9, 7:30 p.m. at Hoge Memorial Church. Officer James Bonham of the Juvenile Bureau will speak on "Why We Have Policemen."

Schedule for the week follows:

Wednesday, Feb. 4 — Gra-Y Clubs, John Burroughs and Valleyview, 3:30 p.m.; "Y" Indian Guides, Mohican, Sioux, 7:30 p.m.

Charter Should Provide For District Representation

Voters of Columbus will be called upon to approve or disapprove a revised city charter in the near future, perhaps at the May primaries.

Little fault is to be found with the revisions being proposed. We do feel that council should delete that portion of the charter that would make the city auditor an appointive officer. We believe the public generally likes the idea of electing this official.

For many years we have contended that there should be some kind of district representation in city council assured all sections of the city. We had hoped that the charter committee would come up with such a proposal. It was considered but because of lack of an actual map showing the boundaries of such districts seems to have had no further consideration.

It is not too late for city councilmen to make such representation possible by including this revision in the charter before it is submitted to the public for approval. Our contacts with individuals and groups all over the city cause us to believe such a plan would be popular with the public.

It would appear logical that a councilman be elected from each of about five districts: East, South, West, North and Northeast, with four councilmen to be elected at large from the entire city.

Such a plan would encourage better candidates from each area to run for council because of the fact they would not have to campaign over such a wide area.

As Columbus continues to expand rapidly the residents of any section will feel nearer their city government if there is assurance that at least one councilman lives in their area. It will make it possible for local matters to get better consideration than otherwise might be true.

The fact that four councilmen would be elected at large certainly would counteract any criticism of the possibility of the city being run by ward politicians.

There are a lot of points in favor of this plan. We sincerely hope both the Republican and Democratic councilmen will reconsider this matter and see that it is included in the revised charter.

Officials Agree To Move Signs

City Traffic Commission, meeting with residents of S. Southampton-av Tuesday, agreed to their requests that signs directing traffic north on Demorest and S. Southampton would be removed, as well as the left-turn sign at Broad-st and Southampton.

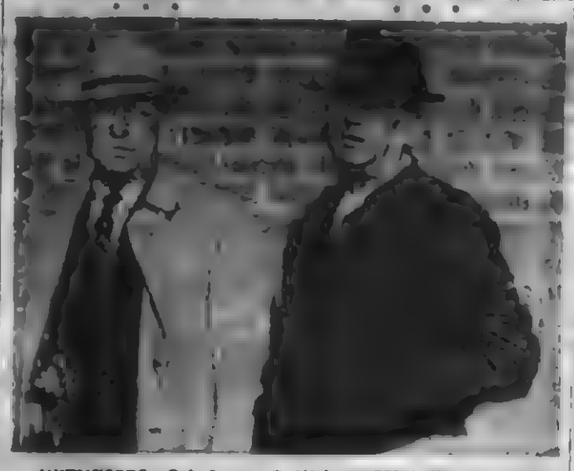
Commission also promised to install "no truck" signs.

Removal of the signs was promised within two weeks.

No Primary For Mayor

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner and Council President W. Ralston Westlake will be the two November mayoralty candidates without having to clear the preliminary primary election hurdle.

The two Hilltoppers were left alone in the race Tuesday when the Franklin County Board of Elections disqualified Mrs. Vivienne Suarez, Ackerman-rd housewife, because she didn't have enough valid signatures on her nomination petition.



This means that there will be no primary election for mayor.

Secretary of Army Is Invited To Armory Dedication, Feb. 21

UP SHE GOES—Weighing possibly 700 pounds, the 166th Infantry crest is hoisted to prominence in front of the new armory at 4094 Sullivant-av, in time for its dedication, Feb. 21. The emblem is of solid brass, trimmed with colored glass. The men are M. Sgt Charles Looker, M/Sgt James Marquine and SFC Lee Light.

WITNESSES—Col. George R. Walters, 239 S. Huron-av (left) and Smith L. Meyers, superintendent of the city workhouse, watch as the gift crest from the Rainbow Division Veterans Assn. is put into place. Both are World War I veterans.

by MARCUS ORR

If the Secretary of the Army is as nostalgic as most old soldiers, he'll be on hand Feb. 21 when his "old outfit" officially dedicates the new $400,000 armory at 4094 Sullivant-av.

The secretary, Wilber B. Brucker, during World War I was a first lieutenant in the 166th Infantry, the same National Guard outfit currently assigned to the armory.

Brucker has acknowledged an invitation but has not yet stated whether he can be present. Program planners for the Muster Day event are hopeful that the army chief will come, since he has an engagement in Detroit the following day.

Invitations are also out to the governor and a host of military and civic leaders. The affair a week from Saturday afternoon will be open to the public and will wind up with a free dance, beginning at 9 p.m.

Highlight of the day will be unveiling of a plaque honoring Col. Robert Haubrich, for whom the armory will be named. A World War I hero, he earned the Distinguished Service Cross at the Argonne. His widow, a resident of this city, will do the honors, assisted by Gen. Oliver Gibson, assistant Ohio adjutant general.

Crest Is Revered

To a National Guardsman, his regimental crest is almost as dear as his wife. In preparation for the dedication, a huge brass replica of the 166th's famed "Follow Me" insignia has been attached to the armory. It is a gift of the Ohio Rainbow Division Veterans Association and in the absence of Secretary Brucker would be presented by a local delegation of the organization.

Despite its great bulk, the crest has been around. It was first presented to the regiment by the 42nd (Rainbow) Division at Camp Shelby, Miss. in 1941. (The 166th had been a part of

Petitions Swell As Residents Seek Full Flood Protection

People of the flood-battered West Side put their feelings down in black and white this week and are punctuating petitions with thousands of signatures.

Fred Van Order, 38 Wisconsin-av, who now has 20 in circulation, said: "We believe this is the right way to tell those responsible for our welfare that we need something permanent. "We want more than a patch on Dry Run levee and we want it before spring."

Van Order said there is practically no opposition to his petitions and he hopes to have nearly 7,000 signatures ready for presentation to council by Monday, Feb. 23.

On Monday, Service Director Floyd Rodick announced that the desired permanent work on the levee would cost from $70,00 to $100,000. He said the plan would call for raising the earthen wall at least three feet, enlargement of two culverts under railroad tracks, deepening an abandoned tunnel to allow some water to flow into Prisoner's Quarry, and possible reinforcement of the Scioto river bank with pilings.

City council will probably be asked to approve the work next week. Some assistance from the railroads and county engineers is anticipated.

Another West Sider, John Maclam, president of the Buckeye Equipment & Manufacturing Co. and Metro Homes, Inc. was reporting successes on a petition he has authored. Maclam estimated flood damages to his business at $20,000.

Both petitions in this case are directed to the city administration.

Text of VanOrder's statement follows: "We hereby petition that permanent repairs be made to Dry Run levee as soon as [redacted].

"Further, that the work get underway before the spring rains and thaws start and cause a repetition of the Jan. 21, 1959 [redacted].

"We, the residents of the lower West Side feel that this condition should have been corrected several years ago and that as guardians of the citizens of Columbus it is the duty of the above named city officials to pass the necessary legislation to correct this present condition so that unnecessary suffering and expense of Jan. 21, 1959 will not be repeated in the future."

Van Order who himself reported $900 flood damage to his home said he had 80 copies of the statement prepared and hoped to get the minimum 186 signatures on each. Signers were being sought from the Scioto river, west to Schultz-av. He invited interested parties to call him at BR 9-6022.

The vigorous petitioner said he had only two callers trying to deter his efforts . . . both refused to identify themselves. They implied that the statements were slanting unfair criticism toward the administration.

"We are aware that the real big danger lies in the Scioto itself and needs [redacted] district planning." Van Order continued, "and we may speak out for that later . . . but our immediate concern is that ditch."

We Ring The Bell Again At Ohio Newspaper Show

Hartley Newspapers again this year came in for honors in competition with the largest weekly newspapers of Ohio.

They received recognition last Friday at the annual convention of the Ohio Newspaper Assn. The Hilltop Record received a second place award for special editions (Christmas 1957), and a special mention for makeup.

Judges in the Osman C. Hooper Newspaper Show praised the presentation of Rod Cochran's column in the Record and the Rural-Urban News. The Record's special feature on the 45th anniversary of the 1913 flood was also singled out.

Kiwanians Organize 'Contact' Flood Aid

Backed by five other Kiwanis clubs in Columbus, West Side Kiwanians this week began a "personal contact" type of assistance to flood victims of this area.

Harry C. Essick, president, said the club will not try to "collect" the work of many volunteer agencies who have been battling the emergency here. "However," he said, "we know that with our familiarity of the area and its people we can perform a valuable supplemental service."

Taking top priority in the club's attention are children in families hard-pressed by the flood, and senior citizens who are undergoing hardships straightening up their homes [redacted].

Enrollment Drop Alarming

Meeting with Columbus school personnel last Friday, the Kiwanians were alarmed to learn of a terrific loss of enrollment in West Side schools since the flood. While a number of people were not returning to damaged rentals, there were other reasons for the dropouts.

Some families seem reluctant to ask for charity. As a result there are many children, particularly in large families, without proper clothing, school supplies, lunch money, etc. Oldsters were having some trouble getting housecleaning help and need minor repair work done. "It is these folks we hope to help as far as our finances will reach," Essick declared.

SBA, Red Cross Offices Can Assist Many Here

A bright ray of hope (financially) for flooded out homes and businesses shone on the West Side disaster area this week.

The Small Business Administration set up a field office in Room 207 of the Old Post Office and is processing low interest, long-term loans.

Businesses, churches, or homes that must be repaired or repaved may apply for assistance. Columbus banks and their branches will accept and process applications or they may be made at the agency's office.

Disaster loans generally are to be repaid in monthly installments, including 3 per cent interest, usually beginning not later than five months after date of the note, said George F. Baker, SBA office manager. Maturity of a loan is not to exceed 20 years.

Banks Cooperate

Banks here are being encouraged to "participate" on portions of the loans. Both SBA and bank interest rates are limited to three per cent for home repair or [redacted] loans. However, in the case of aid to businesses, the banks are permitted to charge their "going rate" for their share of the participating loan. If desired, the SBA alone can serve businesses at purely 3 per cent, Baker said.

In many cases this assistance is given jointly by the SBA and the Red Cross. Complete information and step-by-step procedure for applicants can be obtained by calling Baker's office at CA 1-6411, Ext 395.

Red Cross Work [redacted]

Practically all of the flood-struck West Side homes were being reoccupied this week. Gas service was almost back to normal. Applications for aid at the Red Cross disaster center in Central Point were dwindling as more than 1100 cases had been processed. Work

Hartley Newspaper Want Ad Can't Fail—Results Assured

Ever have the urge to advertise that dress or coat that Susie has outgrown? Or those perfectly good toys the youngsters no longer play with?

Perhaps you have been hesitant about spending for the cost of an ad . . . you're not sure you would get results.

Well that need no longer worry you. Effective next week when you place a miscellaneous-for-sale ad in any of the seven Hartley Newspapers, you may very easily do so with the assurance that your money will be refunded if you don't get results.

Yes sir, that's just how good we feel these Hartley Newspaper Want Ads are. If they don't get results you get your money back.

Full details of this new Guaranteed Results Plan along with an announcement of new lower advertising rates are contained in a full page ad on page 5 of this newspaper today. Read it and see for yourself what a real buy is yours.

Incidentally . . . effective this week there is a new member of the Hartley Newspaper group . . . The Reynoldsburg Record. Purchase of this paper is being announced this week by Publisher C. Carlton Hartley who states that this one like all the other Hartley newspapers will be tailored strictly to the needs and interests of the area it serves.

Advertisers using the South-East Rural-Urban News will automatically have their messages included in all copies of the new Reynoldsburg Record.

OLD LEVEE 'WOUND' ACTS UP AGAIN

NOT A DRY RUN—City workmen Tuesday morning were dispatched to the spot where Dry Run ruptured Jan. 21, and were ordered to stop seepage discovered during a two-inch rain. Officials have been "on pins and needles" since this levee gave way and flooded the West Side last month. It has been under constant guard.

Ex-Official Defends Need For Scioto Conservancy District

Pretzman Says Area Citizens Lulled Into False Security

What has the Conservancy District done? Why has flood control in this area been delayed? What can be done about it?

These and numerous other questions have become controversial issues following the recent Central Ohio floods.

In an effort to inform readers of the Hartley Newspapers as to what happened to the Conservancy District, the following article was prepared by Allen I. Pretzman, until recently the secretary of the district.

By Allen I. Pretzman

Official Plan of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District was finally approved in July of 1952, after a futile attempt in three courts by Clyde Lewis to reject the plan and dissolve the district.

After this decision the district was without funds, and in April of 1953 an injunction was issued by the Common Pleas Court of Franklin County, which restrained the district from collecting or attempting to collect any funds with which to proceed.

This injunction was in full force and effect until August of 1956, thus halting any progress by the district for over three years.

Flood control projects included in the official plan of the district are as follows:

The Mill Creek Reservoir, a tributary of the Scioto entering the Scioto River from the west at approximately Bellepoint; a reservoir on Big Darby about four miles northeast of Harrisburg; a reservoir on Deer Creek approximately a mile northwest of Crownover Mills in Pickaway County and about nine miles upstream from Williamsport; a reservoir on Paint Creek about two miles above the confluence of Paint Creek and Rocky Fork Creek approximately on the line between Ross and Highland Counties; a reservoir on Rocky Fork Creek in Highland County approximately 8.6 miles above the confluence of Rocky Fork and Paint; the Delaware Reservoir, now completed and having been built by the Corps of Engineers about six miles upstream from the city of Dela[redacted].

In addition to these flood control reservoirs, channel improvements were provided at five different locations in Columbus, some in Chillicothe and some in Fremont. One flood control reservoir was located on the Sandusky River above Tiffin.

In all the hearing on the official plan and in the plan as adopted and approved by the Conservancy Court the flood control reservoirs were to be constructed in whole or in part by the Federal Government, depending upon whether the flood control benefits in a given reservoir equalled or exceeded the [redacted].

In Committee Document No. 1, 75th Congress, as approved by the Federal Flood Control Act of 1936, in the survey of Darby, Deer, Paint and Rocky Fork Reservoirs it was determined that they were economically justified for flood control in 1950 and 1951 the Corps of Engineers were then engaged in a re-survey of these reservoirs, and at the request of the Conservancy District, the new Mill Creek Reservoir, developed by the Conservancy District Engineers for protection to Columbus and points south was to be included in the Army survey.

In March of 1948 the City of Columbus being in desperate straits for water asked the Conservancy District to see what could be done about a multiple-purpose project on Walnut Creek, and this demand was so urgent that the District asked the Army Engineers to hold up their Scioto Survey long enough to make a project survey on Walnut, all of which was done.

The multiple-purpose reservoir was ready and the first appropriations for this reservoir were obtained from Congress through the efforts of Ohio Congressional representatives and officials of the Conservancy District and against the opposition of Clyde Lewis and Congressman J. Harry McGregor.

The Walnut Reservoir would have furnished substantial flood protection for sections on the east side of Columbus but, more particularly, for Pickaway and Ross Counties and points south.

After the appropriation was obtained Columbus decided to build the reservoir itself, and rejected any participation by the Army Engineers or the Conservancy District. The project survey had used up all of the available funds for the continuation of the Scioto Survey, and after the conclusion of the litigation in Franklin County and the dissolution of the injunction in August, 1956, representatives of the district together with Senator Bricker, Congressmen Vorys and Polk, Mayor Sensenbrenner, and Allen Pretzman, appeared before the Subcommittee on Appropriations of the Senate in May and June of 1957 to procure funds sufficient to enable the Corps of Engineers to resume their studies in the Scioto Survey for the current fiscal year.

The first appropriation was obtained and the survey was ready to start, in May and June of 1958, before the Subcommittee on Appropriations of the U.S. Senate, Senators Bricker and Lausche and Allen Pretzman, representing the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District again appeared before the Senate Committee to procure the remainder of the funds necessary to continue the Scioto Survey through fiscal year 1959.

In the fall of 1958, Congressmen Vorys and Polk and Allen Preisman representing the Conservancy District appeared before the Subcommittee of the House on Appropriations, 85th Congress, and as a result of the two appearances in 1958 funds were procured sufficient to see the survey through to its completion.

Directors of the district then took all steps possible to hasten this survey, which the Corps of Engineers had estimated to take a year and a half for completion or, in other words, the early part of 1960. The district was anxious to have no delays in this survey, and to procure the government conclusions as to what reservoirs were economically justifiable and which ones would be eligible for construction in whole or in part by flood control appropriations from congress.

We have been roundly abused by our opponents for going to Congress and lobbying for these appropriations. Throughout the preparation and hearing on the plan, the Conservancy Board of Directors intended to take advantage of possible Federal assistance in the construction of reservoirs too expensive to be paid for by local interests.

This was especially advantageous since most of the projects in the Official Plan of the District were part of the overall Federal plan for reservoir control for the benefit of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, which reservoirs would likewise control floods on the local [illegible].

Since 1938 conditions have materially changed in these river valleys; more expensive construction and development has taken place and in order to make an up-to-date determination as to economic advisability, the Scioto Survey was undertaken by the Corps of Engineers.

In order to cut down the over-all time of this survey so that the district officials could go to Congress for appropriations for the construction of these reservoirs, particularly Mill Creek north of Columbus, the directors of the district, in the fall of 1958, had conferences with the Chief of Engineers in Washington, the Division Headquarters in Cincinnati, and the District Office in Huntington, all aimed at the adoption of steps in cooperation with the Corps of Engineers to hasten the completion of this survey.

Various methods were suggested and certain cooperative procedures were arrived at between the Conservancy District and the Army and this survey by the Corps of Engineers was in full swing when a majority of the judges of the Conservancy Court voted to dissolve the District and to refund all of the money to the counties. This procedure has seriously impaired and definitely delayed the schedule for the establishment of these flood control projects.

In view of the catastrophe caused by the flood of Jan. 21, the district would have again gone to the Corps of Engineers to see if priority in this Scioto Survey could not be given to Mill Creek and Darby Creek, in the order named, for the purpose of enabling the district to take the necessary steps in Congress to secure appropriations for the early construction of the Mill Creek Reservoir, this reservoir offering the greatest flood control benefits of all of the reservoirs in the district.

The Corps of Engineers has a policy under normal circumstances of not giving priority to any one project in a watershed survey, but owing to the heavy losses in the recent flood, the Conservancy Board felt that it might persuade the Corps to make an exception to this rule.

With the dissolution of the district all of the proceedings will be at an end, one section of the watershed will be working against the other, the Board of Directors is now under the control of persons who have desperately endeavored to destroy this district for the last eight years, and the hope for flood control projects only approximately a year to a year and a half off will now be completely abandoned if some steps are not taken to revive the district and retain this flood control plan.

It is significant that no better plan or even an alternative plan has been suggested by any opponent of the District or any judge voting to dissolve the same. It is the considered opinion of the former officials of the district that had it not been for the consistent attacks both upon the official plan and the financial [illegible] of the district by Delaware and Union Counties and their county offi-

A space-age problem is being anticipated by the Federal Communications Commission. It is seeking comment on a proposal to set aside a band of frequencies in the international radio spectrum specifically for space communications cials strongly assisted by certain interests in Columbus, the district would have had the Mill Creek Reservoir built and the channel improvements constructed in Columbus prior to the advent of the recent flood of Jan. 21.

To Consider the specific problem of flood protection for the West Side of Columbus, it must be clearly understood that insofar as the loss of life and property on the West Side is concerned in the 1913 flood, the primary cause of that loss was from the Scioto River and not the Olentangy.

The people of Columbus, and particularly West Side residents, have been lulled into a false sense of security that the Delaware Reservoir on the Olentangy constitutes the final answer for protection to the West Side and all other parts of Columbus.

Remarks by public officials from time to time when the Hoover Reservoir was being considered as a multiple-purpose project has added to the erroneous conception. This is not intended to belittle the magnificent performance of the Delaware Reservoir in the flood of Jan. 21, 1959.

Without the operation of the Delaware Reservoir and the tremendous amount of flood water it safely impounded, some parts of Worthington and sections in the north end of Columbus, and especially the University Hospital, would have been put out of commission. This reservoir reduced the crest at Columbus 4-2/10 feet and at Chillicothe very nearly three feet (2.9 feet to be exact). The severity of the inundation at Chillicothe would have been increased to a disaster point had the Delaware Reservoir not been in operation.

In 1913 approximately 85,000 cubic feet of water per second (c.f.s.) struck the levees near Grandview-av in Columbus' West Side at a point where the Scioto River turns from a northerly direction into an easterly one. These levees were only capable of handling approximately 60,000 c.f.s. and, of course, with the excess volume of water and the velocity behind it the levees deteriorated rapidly sending this water into the West Side, causing the loss of 96 lives and untold millions in damages.

The Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District in its plans provided for the Mill Creek Reservoir and five separate units of channel improvements in Columbus to enable Columbus to be safe from a repetition of the 1913 flood, plus a slight margin in excess thereof. These five channel units must be constructed in connection with the Mill Creek Reservoir because without the reservoir the units may well be a waste of money and not afford the maximum protection.

It is the duty of any flood control district to afford maximum protection against the largest flood of record, and this is what was planned for, taking 1913 as the criterion. The channel improvements were to be done by the City of Columbus at an approximate cost of a million and a half dollars, and because of the extreme value of the Mill Creek Reservoir from the standpoint of benefits to costs it is fairly certain that the Federal Government will construct the same insofar as the flood control aspects are concerned, entirely at Federal cost. This will all be determined at the end of the Scioto Survey.

The levees at Grandview-av are still capable of holding back only 60,000 c.f.s against the 85,000 that came down in 1913. The five local channel and levy units in the District's Official Plan are "A" to "E" inclusive. Unit "A" is the one designed to take care of the difficulty at Dry Run where the flood of last month broke through. The proposed new expressway will substantially take care of Units "B" and "C", probably making these unnecessary to build, thus leaving "A," "D" and "E" to be done.

Much criticism has been leveled against the present administration for not doing the improvement called for by Unit "A" but this criticism is unjustified in that the present city administration has joined with the Conservancy District in attempting to procure from Congress the funds necessary to complete the Scioto Survey so that both the Mill Creek Reservoir and the channel improvements can be done in conjunction with each other.

It was not contemplated that proper protection could be procured from one without the other. Without fear of contradiction we can say that had the district been permitted to proceed with its program back in 1953 without the opposition of Clyde Lewis, recently appointed head of district, assisted by certain interests in Columbus and some of Columbus public officials at that time, all of these recriminations and attempts to pass the blame from one place to the other would have been absent.

No plan of any kind, good, bad or indifferent, has been suggested to replace the Conservancy District Plan which was prepared by a nationally known hydraulic engineer ably assisted by engineers formerly with the Corps of Engineers of the U.S. Army. Extensive hearings were held on this plan before the Conservancy Court, at which [illegible] Clyde Lewis offered every objection which he could think of. These objections were rejected and the plan was adopted by the district as the best and most feasible program for [illegible] control of this valley.

He reported the club has already been assured of flood aid from the following clubs: Northern, $250, (for aid to children); West Franklin, $100; Hilltop, $200; Northwest, $50 and Eastern, truck load of clothing.

To this the West Side members matched the largest gift ($250) from their own funds. More assistance has been promised from outside if needed, Esaick said.

Pupil Check Promised

Principals of all West Side schools have been alerted to keep close watch for signs of family distress among their pupils. These cases will be reported promptly and given close check by Visiting Teachers Milton Mussman, Mrs. Josephine Rinehart and Virgil Green. Kiwanis funds will then be alloted to the problem.

The Visiting Teachers, who are also on call to parochial schools, were enthusiastic over the Kiwanis support voted them this week. They said a second wave of needy cases is expected momentarily as families struggle to reshape their homes.

Cases needing attention may be referred to PTA's, school principals or the following Kiwanians: Joe Davis, Jr., BR 4-3255; Harry Esaick, BR 4-8405; Carl Bogart, CA 1-7801; George Weber, CA 1-0009; or Homer Johnson, CA 4-3552.

Forrest P. Smith, director of the Federal Housing Administration of Columbus, said special FHA terms were being extended to flood victims. No down payment is required, Smith said, of disaster victims seeking loans up to $12,000 to replace homes lost or seriously damaged during the flood week. Repair loans as high as $3,500 are available, carrying a maximum repayment time of five years, or three years if under $600.

Smith can be reached by calling CA 1-8501.

Hearings Set Next Monday On Rezoning

Zoning committee of city council will hear several appeals for zoning changes of West area properties Monday, Feb. 16.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the council chamber.

Requested change from family residential to commercial includes two lots of Reed and Holton's Broadview addition bordered on the north by Broad-st, on the west by S. Roys-av and on the south by an alley.

A lot measuring about 220 feet by 290 feet, extending south of Valleyview-dr, which has as its northeast corner a point beginning 1,735 feet west of the intersection of Hague-av.

From family residential to manufacturing: a 1,250 foot area along Harmon-av, beginning 615 ft. south of Reiter-av, running easterly along the property of Oscar and Flossie Reiter to the expressway, and touching Anderson Concrete lands on the north.

During this time the beloved old crest was left to gather dust in obscure quarters at Camp Perry or Ft. Hayes, Columbus. But in November, 1946 the 166th Infantry was reorganized as a Regimental Combat Team (complete mobile fighting unit).

Erecting the gigantic crest was always a problem because of its size. But Guardsmen are sure the Haubrich Armory is a fitting home for the black Maltese cross, and its shield of red, yellow and blue.

Rainbow Division Veterans serving on the crest presentation committee include: Herbert Leach, Smith L. Meyers, George L. Walters, 230 S. Huron-av, Forbes B. Lampman, Carl S. Thimmes, James Kristoff, Barney Baker, Sol Rising and Orville Carson.

The 166th Infantry traces its lineage far back into pioneer Ohio. It was organized as the second regiment of the Fourth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and first mustered into federal service in June 1846. As now, it was composed of troops from south-central Ohio.

Attached to its flag are one campaign streamer from the Mexican War, nine from the Civil War, one with Spain and six from World War I.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Vegetables—Brussels sprouts, cabbage, celery, potatoes, canned peas and tomatoes.

Fruits—Oranges, grapefruit, apples, canned applesauce.

Protein Foods—Fresh picnics, frozen fish, lamb stew meat, fryers, large eggs, cheese.

LENTEN PROTEIN ALTERNATES

For the many families observing the Lenten season between Feb. 11 and Mar. 26, meat will appear on the menu less often than usual. Perhaps you, like many homemakers, are looking for meat substitutes that will provide satisfying and nutritious meals for your family during the coming weeks.

How Much Protein?—As meat is largely protein, the food substituted must also be of good protein sources. We need protein to build and repair body tissue. Protein foods also provide iron, thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin.

To get the protein needed, nutritionists suggest at least two foods each day from the following group:

- 2-3 ounces of lean cooked meat, poultry, or fish
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup of cooked dry beans, dry peas, or lentils.
- 4 tablespoons of peanut butter
- 2 ounces of cheddar cheese
- ½ cup cottage cheese.

Fish—Fresh, canned or frozen fish are all available. You'll find more fresh fish in local markets during Lent than are usually offered. Among canned fish now in good supply are salmon, tuna and sardines. Supplies of frozen fish offer somewhat more variety. They are available in several styles of pack—from those only eviscerated to those breaded and ready to cook. Check cost per serving for the better buy, as well as amount of breading if any.

Eggs are excellent substitute for red meat and poultry. Large sizes are plentiful now and give you more nutrition per dollar than smaller sizes. White and brown eggs are equal in food value.

Cheese provide high-quality protein and come in a wide variety of kind and flavor. Natural or process cheddar is a good all-purpose cheese, while other types lend interest for special uses.

Dry Bean and Peanut Butter are good sources of protein, but the protein is not of as high quality as that found in animal foods. Thus, menus having dry beans or peanut butter as a main dish should be supplemented with a dish rich in milk protein.

Ice Fishermen Still Catching Bluegills

"The bluegills are really hittin' in farm ponds," is the report from Bob Strohm, 1580 Haft-dr, Reynoldsburg. I chatted with Bob about his ice fishing experiences at the Farmer-Sportsman banquet held by the Southeast Conservation Club last week.

"I've been out ice fishing at farm ponds only four times," related Bob, "and have caught 120 nice bluegills."

There was a time when fishermen thought that fish became dormant during the cold weather months. But as more fishermen brave the elements, we find that fish feed throughout the year. Fish are more active, of course, during the summer. But for the fisherman who wants to change his tactics with the changing seasons, the fish are waiting.

Tries Various Baits

Bob's method of taking bluegills through the ice starts with finding the deepest hole in the pond. He usually knows this from fishing the same pond in the summer. Then he puts his bait all the way down on the bottom and starts to fish. If he gets no action, he raises the bait a little. He keeps fishing higher and higher until he finds the fish.

If he doesn't locate the fish on his first try, he will chop another hole in shallower water and try again. On the day I talked to Bob the bluegills seemed to be scattered, and he caught only a few at each hole. It kept him on the move all afternoon chopping holes to find more fish.

Meal worms and maggots are favorite baits for pond fishermen as they are for ice fishermen everywhere. A small hook and fine line are used. Strohm says, "It is difficult to know when you've got a nibble with heavy tackle. And in ice fishing it is that first little nibble that counts—you don't get any strikes."

Pond is Blessing

To my way of thinking, a farm pond is just about the best thing that ever came down the road. Farmers usually build them for watering livestock or for fire protection. They plan on fishing now and then. Few pond owners realize that they have year 'round recreation in their back yards. In the summer there is fishing, boating, and swimming. In the autumn farm ponds provide a little duck shooting if they are well placed near food for natural duck flight lanes. After the ice has formed, the ponds offer superb winter fishing and ice skating to the more adventurous.

Soon after the ice has gone for good, the bass start to hit on many days up in the shallow end.

But right now it is time to bundle up, fill the thermos with hot coffee, and do a little ice fishing. Catching blue gills through the ice is fun, and they never taste better than when taken from cold water.

Kiwanians, Lions Put Heart Fund Boxes In Stores

Kiwanis and Lions Clubs have joined with retail stores to put Heart Fund coin boxes in shopping centers.

Hollow plastic hearts, waiting to be filled with contributions to the 1959 Heart Fund Drive, have been distributed by the following groups to shopping centers in Hartley Newspapers' area.

Central Point, West Side Kiwanis Club, Steve Long, J. C. Penney, chairman; Town and Country and Great Eastern, Whitehall Lions Club, L. J. Miller, Economy Savings and Loan, 3956 E. Broad-st, chairman.

Great Western, Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Noble L. Allen, Allen Funeral Home, 2456 W. Broad-st chairman: Great Southern, Southern Kiwanis Club, Dr. C. E. Greiner, 887 S. High-st, chairman.

Plastic hearts, mounted on display cards with the legend, "Give Heart Fund, Fight Heart Disease," will be available during the Heart Month of February for contributions. Heart Sunday on Feb. 22 will climax the drive.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Innocent Will Often Suffer With Guilty

A deep mystery of life is that the innocent have so often suffered with the guilty. At this Lenten season one might well contemplate, because it is the mystery of the Cross, and the suffering and sacrifices of Christ himself.

The hostility that Jesus aroused in His prejudiced fellow townsmen as He began His ministry in Nazareth continued on the part of many throughout His ministry. Strange to say, it was the finest things that He did that aroused the most violent opposition.

Right down to our own time, this condition prevails.

Religion ought to make men humane, kind, considerate, ready and eager to help one another.

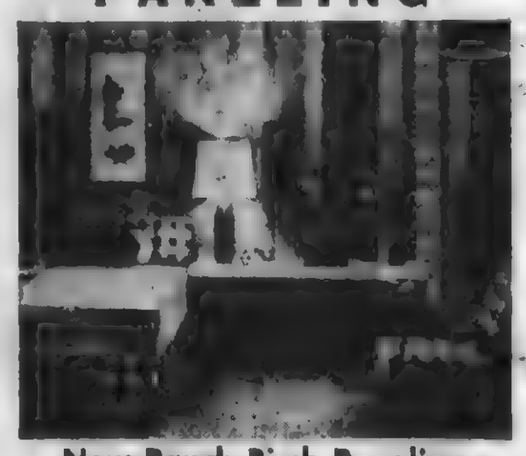
Unfortunately, it has often made them bitter and full of hatred.

Often—too often—that bitterness and hatred has evidenced itself in religious differences.

Are we wiser than those of old? It is only in our response in living our religion that we can prove our wisdom.

Is the living of our religion our response to the goodness of God?

Or is it dominated by prejudices and bigotry?



Each of us must answer to those two questions, in our own hearts.

"My electric dryer helped me entertain!"

Finding time to have a friend in for the afternoon is no problem when you have an electric dryer to help you. Low-cost electric drying does more than dry your clothes fluffy and sweet. It saves you time and energy, too. Your laundry-day routine is shorter, and there's no back-breaking drudgery of carrying and hanging wet clothes. Then you can use the time and energy you save to be an even better homemaker, wife and mother.

If you don't already know how much an electric dryer can help you, see your electric appliance dealer. He'll be happy to give you a free demonstration.

Shopping Center Offers 'Dollar Day'

Central Point Stores Prepare Annual Sale Event Thursday

A sales event that is fast becoming a tradition in the West area is the "Annual Dollar Day" sponsored by merchants of the Central Point Shopping Center on Thursday of this week.

Central Point is located at the corner of W. Mound-st and Harrisburg-Pk.

So popular has become this event that the Central Point stores are this year making a greater-than-ever effort to stock appealing and seasonable merchandise, at bargain prices. In addition, there are those inevitable articles left over after the Holidays and January clearances, completely appropriate at this time of the year, but being offered "at sensational low prices."

During this sale most stores ordinarily opening at Noon will open at 10 a.m. and will all remain open until 9 p.m.

Free and unlimited parking is available for 1500 cars. Thanks to the continuous sidewalk roofs, shoppers may go from store to store without worrying about the weather. Music issues from beneath the [illegible].

"Combine this with the balance and completeness of the ranges in merchandise and services offered by Central Point's 38 establishments and it is easy to see why it is great fun to bring the whole family here," said Lew Slye, president of the center's merchants.

The Red Cross Disaster Headquarters for Franklin County [illegible] been set up at Central Point. This office is servicing applications for worthy flood victims for food, clothing, furniture, appliances and household furnishings.

"GLORIFIED DEPARTMENT STORE"—Conveniently located [illegible] of and Harrisburg-pk, offers a one-stop shopping place featuring [illegible] goods and services of 38 businesses.

'59 Easter Sale Campaign Gets Underway Feb. 27

The 1959 Easter Seal campaign in Franklin County and the nation will open Friday, Feb. 27 and continue through Easter Sunday, Mar. 29.

Charles V. Schwanker, 2231 Berwyn-rd, president of the board of trustees of the Society, stated that in the 30 pre-Easter days, Easter seals will reach more than 197,000 homes in this area.

He said, "The needs of the crippled children in our community are greater than ever. If we are to meet these needs our campaign must be successful. When a crippled child holds out his hands to us we must not turn away."

Contributions from the sale of Easter seals provide direct service to physically disabled people in the county regardless of age or crippling condition. Unduplicated services include a training program for pre-school, cerebral palsied children, provision of aids such as orthopedic shoes and braces, equipment loans, recreational camping and education. Last year a total of 11,666 services were given to 483 different Franklin County people.

The 1959 campaign is conducted simultaneously by 1,700 affiliates of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults in 49 states, the District of Columbia and territories of Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Heart Association Urges Precaution Against Influenza

Persons with heart and blood vessel diseases should obtain vaccinations against influenza, it was recommended today by the Central Ohio Heart Association.

The association pointed out that the dangers of influenza are greater for patients with heart or lung disease than for others, and the risk is particularly great among those with lung congestion due to heart disease.

It was pointed out that influenza vaccinations do not produce local or general reactions that would be significantly hazardous to those with heart conditions. Vaccinations should not be given to persons with an allergy to eggs.

"Influenza can be a real threat to the cardiac. It is frequently a serious illness in this group and may result in death. We urge heart patients to seek the advice of their physicians with respect to obtaining the protection that vaccination will give," the Central Ohio Heart Association said.

Symphony Youth Orchestra Sets Concert Sunday

Columbus Symphony Youth Orchestra will present its first concert of the 1959 season at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 15 in Mees Hall, Capital University.

George H. Wilson of the Ohio State University music faculty will conduct the orchestra in the following program: "Concerto In D Minor," Vivaldi; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach.

"Symphony 103 (Military)" Haydn; "Allegretto Scherzando," McKay; "Elsa's Procession To The Cathedral," Wagner.

Members of the [illegible] from the Rural Urban area are: Jacqueline Masters, 507 Blacklick-st, Groveport, violin; John Masters, same address, violin and Paul Hartley, 5141 W. Broad-st, violin.

Youth Orchestra is sponsored by Young Associates of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, who are also sponsoring the seventh annual Young Musicians' Competition, to be held the previous day at Capital University.

Winners of the competition will receive their awards at the concert.

Ohio State University Extension economists expect fresh vegetable supplies this winter to be about 9 percent above those of a year ago, when freezing weather killed a major portion of the Florida crop.

Pre-School Unit Plans Workshop

[illegible] Pre-School Association will hold its second annual workshop Saturday, Feb. 14 at North Broadway Methodist Church. It is open to all who are interested in working with young children in groups.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. followed by breakfast and time to visit literature and equipment displays.

Speaker will be Dr. Laura Zirbes, professor emeritus, College of Education, Ohio State University.

After a luncheon program of Hawaiian dances and music, there will be discussion groups under the leadership of Dr. Norejane Hendrickson, Dr. Amalie Nelson, Mrs. Ethel Winner, Miss M. Isabel Miller and Miss Helen Carlson. Reports of the groups will be presented in the form of a panel with Dr. Zirbes moderating.

An evaluation by Dr. Hendrickson will conclude the workshop at 4:30 p.m.

Gun Contest Is Feb. 15

Hilltop Conservation club will hold a merchandise shoot Sunday, Feb. 15 at the club grounds, at the north end of Biggert-rd, about two miles west of Darbydale on State Route 665. Shooting starts at 1 p.m.

Letters To The Editor

Teacher Likes 'Y' Influence

Dear Sir:

The annual Hilltop YMCA meeting and dinner on Tuesday, Jan. 27, at the Westinghouse Corporation provided a most enjoyable and worthwhile evening. The program was both informative and entertaining.

The Hilltop YMCA exerts an excellent influence on the community.

Let's talk about

YOUR WIFE

You and your wife want the best out of life. But you also want to put a 'little something' away for emergencies and for the future. And what better way of systematic saving than through the medium of life insurance? Through life insurance, your wife's standard of living can be maintained if you should die prematurely; through life insurance, your retirement years can be financially secure if you survive. And the accumulation of dividends over the years increases the attractiveness of life insurance as an investment for the living.

Cowboys Trample Aquinas; Show Well At Steubenville

By Bob Wilcox

At press time West was batting .500 in its heavy five-day basketball schedule. Friday night they downed Aquinas to revenge an earlier defeat at their hands, 66-60. Saturday night they traveled to Steubenville and were "unhospitably" dumped by the Big Red, 61-55.

Rounding out their five-day grind Tuesday the Cowboys traveled to Eastmoor. This Friday evening, Feb. 13 they host Marion-Franklin. They beat M-F earlier, 58-44.

In a game that developed into a rough and tumble affair, the Cowboys bettered the Aquinas green'. Fairly rough throughout, in the late stages some arms and legs were not always 'stuck in the aisle' accidentally. Three Cowboys sustained minor injuries and two had to leave the ball game. Billy Castle in being knocked over sustained an arm injury, but reentered the game late.

Dave Brady was forced to retire with a bad ankle injury while Jerry Spears (who didn't leave the game) had his right arm bruised in a fall. A total of 52 fouls were assessed . . . 31 on West and 23 and a technical on Aquinas.

West held quarter leads of 17-9, 30-20 and 44-36. In all 24 men saw action, 11 for West, 13 for Aquinas.

Although having a rough time in the pivot, Spears led all scorers with a fine 28 points. He was aided by Roger Street's 10 and Don Uldricks' 9. Aquinas scoring was led by Hatfield's 13 and Welch's 10. West hit a nice 43% from the field to the foe's 33. West's 62% for charity tosses, this should have been much better. West committed 18 turnovers to Aquinas' 14, while grabbing 42 rebounds to their 38.

Saturday night found the Cowboys doing quite well against a notorious home-court advantage and one of the state's finest all-court presses.

They did so well that the Big Red called off their famed press after halftime. Not only was West breaking it, but it was costly on free throws. Steubenville fouled three men out, while West lost Ray Horky early in the fourth period, and Spears with seconds to go.

West committed 23 personals (to the Big Red's 29), but 19 of them were in the second half! Brady, with a bum ankle, did not play at all although his sub, Carl Brown, did a fine job. (Brown has just joined the squad and looks like a valuable asset.)

West zoned effectively as the final difference actually amounted to but two points; the rest of their margin came on free throws in the last few moments as West's desperation tactics cost them foulwise. The quarter scores read 12-10 and 28-26, Steubenville with West closing fast at halftime . . . and finally going ahead 44-38 at the three-quarter mark.

West held a six-point margin until midway through the final stanza when the Big Red made their "dash to the wire." When they got 2 points ahead they stalled, and West was forced to go after the ball and subsequently foul.

West apparently overcame all disadvantages, led in most departments, but killed themselves off at their season-long bugaboo, foul shooting. They only hit on 23-46 for .511, missing their first of one-and-one situations 12 times.

The Big Red made 19-30 for .633 and had 49% from the field to West's .333 (good for a "foreign" court).

The Cowboys hurt themselves with 23 turnovers. (10 recoveries) but had a better night off the boards, taking 36 rebounds. In the latter, Spears led with 13, Horky was hot with 10 and Street took 8.

Spears led all scoring with 26 aided by Street's 13.

The reserves took their lumps Friday against Aquinas in a game that got away from the officials and, like the varsity, became fairly rough. Aquinas took their measure 43-40 as Jim Grote led with a fine 25 markers. Bronco Bill Hill was right behind with 21. Quarter scores read 14-7, 26-16 and 35-28 . . . Aquinas all the way.

The Reserves did not go to Steubenville, but were inadvertently left out last week. They lost to East 51-36, but had one of their better nights. They again "won" their first quarter, 10-6, and were only down by two at halftime, 16-14. But as usual the third frame was their "Waterloo" as it ended 40-26 East. Gary Woodward 13, and Joe Shaw 10 paced the victors and Bill Ross and Rick Banker each had 8 for West.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

Remember back a few weeks ago when it was announced that they had suddenly discovered that the foul lines were too far back from the baskets at the Coliseum? One of the first to notice this was the West Cowboys. Most thought is just a 'gripe,' until someone did some measuring. (However, boys, don't let that be an excuse for your poor foul shooting out there . . . cause the other team had the same disadvantage.)

• • • •

West's first year wrestlers are still learning . . . but not quite winning. They dropped three more dual meets in the last week to round out their regular season. They go to the District Meet at Ohio State starting this Friday morning. One boy just might go somewhere, too. He's their captain and only undefeated boy, Tim Shearer. He has even wrestled in heavier classes and still remains undefeated. West dropped decisions to Linden, 24-21, East, 38-11 and to Marion-Franklin, 31-18.

• • • •

DON POLING with 12 points led Starling as they were defeated last week by Roosevelt Jr. High, 51-22. Starling's record overall now is 2-7 . . . they play Marion-Franklin at Starling this Thursday.

• • • •

The Glenwood Methodist Church's team is doing fairly well these days. Their men's volleyball squad is leading the Y league with a perfect 9-0. Their other two teams . . . boys of high school age (3-5) and boys of junior high age (3-2) are both batting .500. The former plays in the Y's Monday evening league at West High while the latter plays Saturday at the Glenwood Recreation league.

The church is also starting something brand new this Friday at 7 p.m. in the church gym. It is a "take-off" on Little League, only this time its basketball . . . open only to members of the Sunday School, for grade levels of 5-6-7. They hope to have four teams. If you qualify why not try out.

Central is still holding down third place in the City League race behind North and East in that order. West is tied with South at 6-4 for fourth.

West's Jerry Spears is the city loop's leading scorer by a pretty fair margin. He has dumped in 73 fielders, 32 fouls for a grand total of 190 points in league play. An average of 22 per game. Ed Tucker of Central is tenth with 85-10-120. An average of 12-2. In scoring for the entire Central Ohio area-district, Spears is eighth with 100-80-280.

In the Junior High individual scoring Alfonso Burks, of Roosevelt (though he graduated at mid-year) sort of made shambles of any race with 125 points . . . his nearest competitor only has 92 with the season almost completed) . . . Meyer of West is tied for 8 spot with 22-17-61; Newman of Hilltonia is 10 with 24-11-59; Coles of West is 12 with 23-12-58; and Hunter of Hilltonia is 12 with 24-7-55.

In the South Section of City's Junior High Loops, West is in fifth position with a 2-2 record followed by Hilltonia with a 2-4 mark.

The Columbus Chapter, Order of DeMolay, (on the Hilltop) is having quite a successful year in basketball. Sunday afternoon they wrapped up the Fourth District championship by defeating Mt. Vernon Chapter, 46-23, and will represent the District in the State Finals at the Winter Conclave in Toledo, March 12-14.

Dick Curtiss led the winners with 16 points. Previously, at Whetstone, they downed Aladdin Chapter, 61-49, and Bexley Chapter, 68-27 for their perfect mark. The former game's high scorers were Curtiss with 27 and Alan Daft with 18. In the Bexley encounter, the scoring was evenly balanced between Curtiss, Daft, Ed Fredendall and Howard Hicks.

The team is also in a Tuesday night league at Glenwood Recreation and had a 2-1 record at press time. They encountered their first loss last week, 34-32, in a squeeker to the Staters. They are also in the Monday evening Y league at West High, but aren't doing as well, with a 1-4 mark. Tom Morrison had 15 points in their close loss to Hoge Memorial last week in the latter loop.

Columbus' starting five consists of Curtiss and Fredendall at the forwards, Hicks at center and Daft and Ewing at the guard slots. Their two top subs are Morrison and Elliott.

• • • •

Don't forget . . . the monthly meeting of the Ohio Valley Football League this Saturday (Feb. 14) at 7:30 p.m. in the Valleyview Council Hall, corner of Richardson and Valleyview.

• • • •

The pins really took a shellacking at the Hillcrest Lanes last Friday night in the Women's Major League . . . Lucille Noe (WIBC champ in 1956) rolled a 575 series, followed by Louise Wolfe's 564, Bertha Richardson's 562, and Ruth Saunder's 557. Seiller's Department Store team rolled a 924.

• • • •

There will be a Sweetheart's Swing dance in the West gym after the West-Marion-Franklin game this Friday night, Feb. 13. It will both celebrate Valentine's Day and honor the basketball teams in a sort of Homecoming. It is the only after-game dance this season.

A basketball king will be chosen by the West Journalism Dept. from the senior Cowboys and the team will select a Sweetheart.

Tickets are 50 cents stag and 75 cents drag and can be purchased in Room 220 at West or at the door that night. It will be a record hop with several surprises from both schools. Beat that Friday the Thirteenth jinx and have a ball.

Central Does Well In Week's Battles

Central knocked off two foes during the past seven days. Friday evening it was Marion-Franklin (64-31) and Saturday nite they traveled to Bellefontaine (63-62). While the former was a rout, the latter was nip-and-tuck all the way.

The Pirates against M-F held fine quarter leads of 11-4, 40-10, 60-23 . . . as they started ahead and roared away. All 12 Pirates hit the scoring column. The Bues were led by Wally Chandler with 13, John Hillman, 11, and Ed Tucker and Butch Lynch each with 1.

Bellefontaine's loss was their second this year and first in regulation. The foe led at the first quarter mark, 23-18, but Central came back fast to tie things up at half-time, 25-25. Central led at the third, 50-40 and managed to hold on and sneak a victory out of the fire. Hillman had 15 and Lynch 14 for the victors.

Reserves Still On Top

The Central Reserves were also twice victorious as they remained atop the City League Reserve heap. They bumped off Marion-Franklin with ease 55-34 as 11 men scored. The first team "retired" midway through the second quarter. The "Little Bues" were led by Ray Tucker with 13.

It was a trifle tougher against Bellefontaine's "Juniors". The half was over before the 30-35 victory was secured.

In the third period the Belles seemed tired and quit running . . . but Central didn't. Roosevelt Coffey with 18, George Moxley with 11 and Cordell Stewart with 10 paced the attack.

Against M-F they held quarter leads of 9-3, 31-12 and 40-18. Sat. eve they held leads of 14-13, 22-21 and 38-25. Central played at North (or possibly the Coliseum . . . final decison hadn't been made at press time) and then takes on Linden McKinley at the Coliseum as part of the double header Friday eve. The Buc reserves will host the McKinley reserves (the only ones to defeat the Bues all year) at Central Thursday eve after school.

Miss Harris, Mr. Reckling Repeat Vows In Germany

MRS. RUSSELL JAMES RECKLING

St. Killian Church in Schweinfurt, Germany was the setting on Dec. 20 for the marriage of Miss Judith Louise Harris and Mr. Russell James Reckling.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Harris of 880 S. Terrace-av and Mr. Reckling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Reckling of 3833 Overdale-dr.

Mr. William Dewey escorted the bride to the altar. She wore a gown of bridal satin and imported chantilly lace with empire waist of lace, scooped neckline, dotted with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and push-up sleeves. The satin, waltz-length skirt billowed over crinoline.

Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion fell from an open, pointed crown of iridescent sequins and pearls and she carried a white satin prayer book, topped with a white orchid, stephanotis and lily-of-the-valley.

The bride's only attendant, Mrs. Richard Foley, wore a street length gown of ice blue silk organza, styled with a scooped neckline and a small matching hat. She carried deep red roses. Mr. Richard Foley served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of West High School and Columbus Business University. Mr. Reckling is a graduate of Aquinas High School and attended Purdue and Ohio State Universities.

Following a wedding trip to the Bavarian Alps, the couple will reside in Schweinfurt, where Mr. Reckling is serving with the U.S. Army.

Parish PTA's To Hear TB Speakers Discuss Society's New Program

Mrs. Barbara Schreiber, health educator for the Tuberculosis Society, will be guest speaker Sunday, Feb. 15, 2:30 p.m., at the parent-teacher meeting at Holy Family School, 86 S. Sandusky-st.

She will explain how tuberculin-testing will screen TB suspects among local children in a new program to be set up soon by the society.

Mrs. John Bracken, 40 N. Mill-st, is president.

Harold M. Throop, case-finding director for the TB Society, will address parents and teachers attending a 2:30 p.m. meeting at St. Aloysius School, W. Broad-st and Clarendon-av, Sunday, Feb. 22, 2:30 p.m., on the new Christmas seal case-finding program.

Robert Fisher, 2884 Valleyview-dr, is president.

HIGHLAND PEGS MEETS

Highland Avenue Parent Education Group Session met Tuesday, Feb. 10. Guest speaker was Dr. Norman Brandes, child psycologist.

OES TO MEET

Robert Morris Chapter, OES, will meet Tuesday, Feb. 17, 7:30 p.m., at Westgate Masonic Temple.

Betty Appleman, Martin Richards Repeat Wedding Vows At St. Agnes

Miss Betty Appleman of Newark and Mr. Martin Richards exchanged their wedding vows at a high nuptial mass Jan. 17, 10 a.m. at St. Agnes Church. Rev. Raymond Lavalle officiated.

Mr. Richards' parents are Mr and Mrs. A. A. Richards of 586 Woodbury-av.

The bride chose a gown of chantilly lace and pleated nylon tulle designed with a lace bodice, sabrina neckline and long, tapering sleeves. The bouffant skirt, billowing over an old-fashioned hoop, was styled with tiers of pleated tulle down the sides, and lace panels in the front and back that extended into a brush train.

A coronet of pearls and iridescents held her fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried a sheath arrangement of snow white tea roses with garlands of ivy foliage.

Mrs. Charles J. Herbst, served as matron of honor and Miss Margarite Richards was bridesmaid. They were gowned identically in ballerina-length frocks of emerald green satin with bateau necklines, brief sleeves and pleated, bell-shaped skirts caught in front with a bow.

They carried crescent arrangements of white carnations and yellow tea roses.

Mrs. Ford Dye, sister of the bride, wore a brown and black wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The mother of the bridegroom chose a beige wool gown with brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

Hostesses for the reception, held following the ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's parents, were Mrs. Mildred Ferguson, Mrs. Frank Crawford, Miss Jane Richards and Miss Sharon Meyer.

YMCA Taffy Sale Blastoff Is Saturday

Blast off day for the Hilltop YMCA Annual Taffy Sale is Saturday, Feb. 14 at 9 a.m. at the Hilltop "Y".

At this time we will put our rocket into orbit for the Annual World Service campaign. Fuel for this rocket will be money earned from the taffy sale which will go for furthering the YMCA in countries throughout the world. Many boys have taken advance orders in hopes of selling more taffy than ever before on the Hilltop. All YMCA youth are asked to participate.

The taffy will again sell for 60 cents a pound. The first prize going to the top seller will be a new bicycle. The zero hour will be 9 a.m. Saturday at which time all salesmen will be briefed.

All teams in the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y basketball leagues have now seen action. In the first game in the West section, West Broad defeated Binns 16-4. Dan Dent with 8 points paced the West Broad attack while Dave Bush scored 3 points for his team.

Westgate then swamped Valleyview 30-3. Jud Boley topped all scorers as he tallied 8 points. Larry Krumm was high man for the losers with 2.

In the East Section John Burroughs beat West Mound and Highland Avenue burned back Lindbergh in the "A" League.

In the West "B" league, a powerful Westgate team defeated Valleyview 12-1. Bill Dennis and Dan Walker each scored 4 while Roger Buchanan made 1 for the losers.

In a thriller, Binns "B" team edged by West Broad 2-0. Steve Hedges scored the only basket of the game. In the East "B" League, John Murroughs defeated West Mound and Highland No. 1 team beat the Highland No. 2 team.

RAY TO MEET

Spencer Cancer Ray will meet Feb. 12, 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Sue Stewart, 610 Salisbury-rd.

Writer Urges Bible-Reading As Rewarding Experience

EDITOR'S NOTE . . . A series of short articles, written by young people from churches belonging to Hilltop Ministerial Association, will appear in this newspaper each week during Lent.

Charles Meacham, 26 Powhatan-av, a teacher at Barrett Junior High School has submitted the first one. He is a member of Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church.

By Charles Meacham

With the coming of Lent many people are beginning to wonder, "What will I give up for Lent?"

To me, the purpose of fasting or giving something up is to use the time, money and energy that you would have spent in communing more pointedly with God.

I would like to suggest to many of you that you give up the buying and reading of the sensuous and obscene literature that we find on our local newsstands. In its place, I urge you to read the most thrilling love story of all time, the life of Christ as found in the Holy Bible.

Read it and you, too, will learn to love the Christ who loved you so deeply that He died for your sins. Fill your soul and mind with "The Bread of Life" and long after Lent is past you will find no desire to return to the musty, mouldy, and sour bread of [illegible] literature.

To Be Guest At Hillcrest

Hillcrest Baptist Sunday Evening School Of Missions will present Miss Dorothy O. Bucklin as guest leader this Sunday, 7 p.m.

National executive secretary for the American Baptist Home Missions agencies, she has had many personal experiences with the North American Indians, and in the new state of Alaska.

Leaders in the annual School of Missions have been Rev. James E. Wells, Mrs. James W. Kasler and Mrs. Richard DeWitt. Mrs. Carl Kuns is chairman of the central committee.

Lutheran Lenten Series Planned

A series of Lenten services will be held each Wednesday evening until Easter at St. John Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st at Hague-av.

Rev. C. T. Langhols, pastor, will preach on the theme, "Behold The Lamb Of God."

To Speak Sunday At Brookshire

Miss Marian Brown, director of children's work in the Ohio Area, Methodist Church, will visit Brookshire Methodist Sunday School, Sunday morning.

A member of the inter-church board, she will also speak during the 10:30 a.m. worship service.

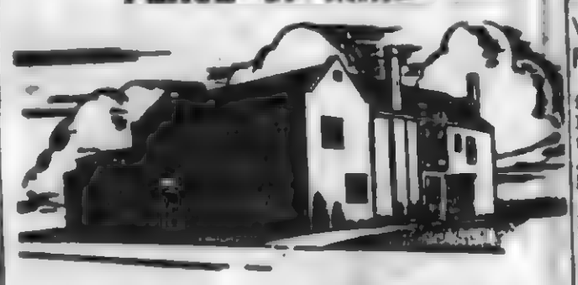
Symphony Youth Concert

Young Associates of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, sponsors of the Youth Orchestra, will present the seventh annual Young Musicians' Competition Saturday at Capital University.

Winners of the competition will receive their awards at the Youth Orchestra concert the following day at 3:30 p.m., at Mees Hall, Capital University.

Sunday's concert program, conducted by George H. Wilson of the Ohio State University music faculty, includes "Concerto in D Minor," Vivaldi; "Jesu, Joy Of Man's Desiring," Bach.

"Symphony 103," Haydn; "Allegretto Scherzando," McKay and "Elsa's Procession To The Cathedral," Wagner.



HOLY FAMILY PTA TO MEET SUNDAY

Holy Family PTA will meet Feb. 15, 2:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. A representative of the Tuberculosis Society will discuss X-rays and tests of children.

Msgr. Applegate, superintendent of schools, requests that all parents attend.

Valley area services are planned at Sullivant Avenue Friends Church, 1442 Sullivant-av at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. J. L. Mermon is chairman.

Day of Prayer, sponsored by United Church Women of the National Council of Churches, has been held for many years on the first Friday in Lent.

Thousands of Christians around the world unite in the common service of prayer and praise.

Services begin on Tonga Island where Queen Salote leads her subjects in prayer and continue throughout the day in 144 countries, ending with the setting of the sun on St. Lawrence Island in Alaska.

Prayer service for 1959 was prepared by a committee of nine Christian women in Egypt.

Offerings at the services are used for Christian missions at home and abroad.

Wreath-Laying Sunday At Post

Westway Post 3441, Veterans of Foreign Wars, 853 Clarendon-av, will hold a wreath-laying service Sunday, Feb. 15 in memory of the sinking of the Battleship Maine and the men who died during the Spanish-American war.

Post will open at 1 p.m. and the ceremony with flag-raising, firing squad and wreath-laying will be held at 2 p.m. Public is welcome and all Spanish American veterans are especially invited.

Church Seeking Young 'Royalty'

King and Queen Sunday will be observed Feb. 15 at Rich Street Church of Christ, Rich-st at Grubb-st.

A king and queen will be crowned from the children's department of the Sunday School. Boys and girls are competing to win in their class by inviting friends to Sunday School and having them sign their contest blank.

Valleyview PTA Plans Founders Day Program

Westgate Plans Lenten Meeting

Rev. Lon Woodrum will speak at a Lenten meeting at Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, Feb. 11 through 22.

Rev. Woodrum held a series of meetings four years ago and by popular request will return for the Lenten series. Meetings will be held each night at 7:30 with the exception of Saturday.

Rev. Woodrum is an author, poet, and a general evangelist of the EUB Church. His novel "Eternity In Their Heart," won first prize in Zondervan's International Fiction Contest in 1956. All are invited.

West Park Plans Lenten Services

West Park Methodist Church will hold the first of a series of Lenten services Ash Wednesday, Feb. 11.

First of the seven services will begin at 7:30 and will be under the direction of lay men of the church. Robert Miller, 367 Binns-blvd, is lay leader of the congregation.

In services planned for following Wednesday evenings, Rev. L. L. Young will speak on the "People in the Life of Jesus During the Last Week."

Rev. M. Bennett To Speak Sunday

Rev. Merrill Bennett, missionary to Japan, will speak during morning worship service at Bellows Avenue Church of the Nazarene, Sunday, Feb. 22.

Rev. James E. Everett is pastor. Public is invited.

Guide Forms Booklet

Again in this issue, subscribers to the six Hartley newspapers will receive a weekly guide to the top television program on all four Columbus area stations. To fold the page into a handy booklet, follow these simple instructions: Taking the page as it is presented in the paper, fold it vertically in half. Then fold the top of the page to the bottom twice until the front page of the section appears. The first three days then follow in order. By turning the page over, the other four days appear.

State Opens New Center On Hilltop

A new key facility in Ohio's program for the mentally retarded was to be dedicated at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Columbus State School.

The $1 million structure, a 150-bed reception and diagnostic center, will give Ohio for the first time an adequate place to receive the state's retarded needing institutional care, and to diagnose their needs before placing them in one of four institutions: Columbus State School, Orient State Institution, Gallipolis State Institution and Apple Creek Hospital.

Principal speaker at the ceremony was Judge Donald L. Ziegel of Eaton, president of the Ohio Probate Judges Association.

Dr. W. A. Butcher, assistant commissioner in the state division of Mental Hygiene, served as master of ceremonies. Dr. Butcher, former superintendent of Columbus State School, is in charge of the state's program for the mentally retarded.

'Key' is Presented

Symbolic key to the building was presented to Dr. T. R. Huxtable, Jr., the facility's director, by Richard M. Larrimer, director of the state department of public works.

Others participating were Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction; Dr. R. C. Anderson, acting commissioner of the Division of Mental Hygiene and Dr. Roger M. Gove, superintendent of Columbus State School.

Following ceremonies and ribbon-cutting across the building's main entrance by Judge Ziegel, those present toured the new facility.

The school's three chaplains and the choir, directed by Mrs. Mary Muncie were included on the program.

Rabbi Nathan Zelizer of Tifereth Israel, Jewish chaplain, gave the invocation; Rev. Melvin Oertman, protestant chaplain, the prayer of dedication and Rev. Edward A. Moan, OMI, catholic chaplain, said the benediction.

Architects for the project were Tibbals, Crumley and Musson of Columbus. General contractor was Geis Construction.

Civic and church groups wishing to see the new facility may make arrangements through Lloyd Ferguson, special services, BR. 8-9471.

New $400,000 Ohio National Guard Armory at 4094 Sullivant-av will be dedicated Saturday.

Colonel Robert Haubrich during World War I days.

World War I Hero Haubrich Honored

Colonel Robert Haubrich, World War I hero of the 166th Infantry Regiment who later became a prominent civic figure, belongs to the ages. But his deeds will be perpetuated Saturday when the new armory on Sullivant Avenue assumes his name.

As commander of the regiment's hard-fighting Third Battalion during World War I, Col. Haubrich earned the Distinguished Service Cross. As a major during the Argonne fighting he stopped to help one of his wounded men. Suddenly he himself was struck and seriously wounded with shellfire and falling timbers. Despite his wounds and shock he maintained command of his men.

Col. Haubrich started his military career as a private in the Ohio National Guard in 1899. He served as a captain in the Mexican Border campaign.

After the World War, as colonel he took command of the reorganized National Guard regiment, a post he held from April, 1921 to Oct. 1946. His tenure is considered a national record.

Colonels George R. Walters and Smith L. Meyers of the local Rainbow Veterans Association recalled the following about Haubrich:

"In every instance his leadership was masterly. Even after the war he was called upon to command troops in civil disorder. He is responsible for bringing order out of chaos during the 1930 fire, at the Ohio Penitentiary.

"Col. Haubrich was a calm, soft spoken man, yet his meanings could never be misinterpreted. He had an intense desire to excel without showmanship or fanfare.

"The Ohio National Guard today is a better organization because of men like Colonel Haubrich."

Publisher To Undergo Surgery Thursday

C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of Hartley Newspapers, entered Mt. Carmel Hospital Tuesday, where he is expected to undergo surgery Thursday.

Ceremony, Dance To Mark Muster Day Next Saturday

Muster Day, an obscure event to most laymen, will take on new importance in the community when it is observed this Saturday, Feb. 21.

Since early colonial times the day has been customarily set aside for roll call and inspection of citizen-soldiers, the militia or today's National Guard.

Next Saturday afternoon the public and a number of distinguished guests are invited to attend the dedication of the Robert Haubrich Armory at 4094 Sullivant-av.

The new $400,000 home of five units of the famed 166th Infantry will be at its shining best for inspection by all.

City-wide observance of Muster-Day will begin at 10 a.m. with a parade through downtown Columbus. Some 32 Central Ohio National Guard units, including air units, will move west on Broad-st from Washington-st to Washington-blvd. At the reviewing stand in front of the Chamber of Commerce building will be Governor Michael V. DiSalle and Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, Reynoldsburg, new Ohio adjutant general. There will be military displays on the State House lawn all day. Service Co. of the 166th Infantry will serve as Color Guard for retreat ceremonies at the McKinley Monument downtown and at Haubrich Armory.

The armory dedication service will begin at 2:30 p.m. Brig. Gen. Oliver Gibson, assistant adjutant general, will read the tribute and Mrs. Robert Haubrich will unveil a plaque honoring her late husband.

If he is able to attend, Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker is expected to officially present a large brass replica of the 166th Infantry regimental crest, recently installed on the armory facade. Brucker is a veteran of the 166th, having served as a lieutenant with Signal Co., Headquarters Co, in World War I combat.

In the absence of the secretary, local representatives of the Rainbow Division Veterans Assn. will present the colorful insignia to the armory.

The plaque honoring Col. Haubrich together with his portrait will be gifts of the 166th Infantry Assn.

During the afternoon music will be played by the 37th Division band.

Visitors will be shown how Guardsmen maintain equipment and train for any emergency. Facilities also available for public use will be pointed out.

At 9 p.m. everyone is invited to a free dance in the armory's big drill hall.

OPEN TO PUBLIC—The new armory already is a popular meeting place for community groups. Crowds swarmed about displays of firearms and other collectors' items last week end, when members of the Capital City Gun and Indian Relic Collectors' Association met there to swap relics and stories. This drill hall measures 75x115 feet.

Big Insignia Now Worth 70 $$$$

Two Hartley Newspaper subscribers exchanged their copies recently for one "Confederate" bill each, but no claim was made on the big jackpot prize.

The recent winners were Mrs. Pauline Murnane, 640 Butler-av and Mrs. Norman Jones of [illegible] Lattimer-av.

Value of the big jackpot insignia, printed in one copy of today's newspaper is now $70. Ten $1 insignia are also stamped in ten other copies.

"Confederate" money game, a weekly feature in this newspaper for several years, will be discontinued when the present jackpot is claimed. Jackpot insignia will continue to increase in value each week until it is found.

Valuable insignia are stamped by hand in brightly colored ink on ads in 11 copies of each week's issue.

Subscribers finding the emblems in their newspapers may exchange their entire copies for "Confederate" cash at Hartley Newspapers office before Saturday noon.

Advertisers appearing in the current issue will accept "Confederate" dollars at face value in payment for any merchandise in their stores.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Employes or carriers of the newspaper and members of their families are not eligible.

See sample insignia, page 19.

Council Rules On Westside Zone Changes

Planning committee of City Council Monday night refused one request for rezoning of West area property, granted a second and referred a third back to the planning commission for re-evaluating.

Committee refused for the second time, to rezone a 200-foot site south of Valleyview-dr, and west of Hague-av and the proposed new community center to permit construction of a party house.

The land is owned by Harold Cunningham.

A request to rezone from family residential to industrial, a 20-acre tract of land south of Mound-st and east of Harmon-av was approved. The area is adjacent to Anderson Concrete land on the north.

A change from family residential to heavy commercial was asked for two lots bordered on the north by W. Broad-st and on the west by S. Roys-av, for construction of a retail sales building for auto accessories.

Committee members suggested the request be referred back to the panning commission and be changed to a light commercial classification.

Hearing is set for 10 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 25, in council chambers.

Dr. Miller Sells Office Building To Dr. J. Hardie

Dr. R. J. Miller announced this week the sale of his building at 2493 W. Broad-st, site of his residence and office for the past 28 years, to Dr. James A. Hardie.

He will move March 1 to his new home and offices at 3275 Colchester-rd, Upper Arlington and will be able to care for his patients there after March 10.

Dr. Hardie, a Hilltop doctor for the past nine years, now practicing at 2975 W. Broad-st plans extensive remodeling of the building before he occupies it in mid-June or July 1.

Enlargement of the building in the front and back is planned to make room for other professional offices besides his own.

George Matson Insurance Agency on Brinker-av, and perhaps a dentist, will move into the building.

Levee Reinforcement Starts On 'Round The Clock' Plan

Heavy machinery was heaving dirt today on the levee of Dry Run Creek which went berserk a month ago and strangled much of the West Side.

There were men on the job Tuesday a few short hours after the Tom Holt Construction Co., 627 W. Mound-st, was awarded a city contract. The firm's bid was $33,350 for basic work. An additional $5,000 will be allotted for stone to bolster the wall.

Prodded by a room full of West and East Side kibitzers in city hall Monday night, Service Director Floyd Redick asked for and got $100,000 to work with. All but $20,000 was earmarked for permanent repairs to Dry Run.

Informal bidding began at 10 a.m. Tuesday and by 1 p.m. the work was awarded.

Redick told Hartley Newspapers he was "pleased with the Holt Co.'s reasonable bid, which would leave enough money to do even more than we planned." He said he thought the dike could be built up seven or eight feet.

"At this height there should be plenty of protection even though alterations are not immediately made to the culverts under the railroad," the service director stated.

He explained that a repetition of the last rains would cause congestion again at the culverts but the water would be diverted across an old cow pasture to holes around Prisoner's Quarry.

In the meantime Redick has asked City Attorney Russell Leach to find out who is responsible for needed changes to the tunnels under the railroads.

"The work will proceed around the clock for two or three weeks until the job is done," Redick declared. Council's $100,000 Dry Run-Alum Creek improvements note is to be retired in a year's time with bonds.

Won't Use Mound

The service director said contractors would probably not be able to accept Gov. DiSalle's gift of the "Indian Mound" on State Hospital lands for use as building material. When the governor learned from the Ohio Histori-

Moral Responsibility Stressed By Flood Experts

WATER CONSCIOUS — Bruce Browning (left) of the Muskingum Conservancy district, and Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, (right) renowned watershed engineer, are introduced to a large Community Services Council audience by C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of Hartley Newspapers.

"Flood control is a moral as well as a practical responsibility."

This was the thought presented to local civic leaders who heard two nationally famous water control experts speak last Thursday.

A gathering of 150 persons, invited by the Community Services Council, listened to Bryce Browning, secretary-treasurer of the Muskingum Conservancy District, and Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, originator of several of the world's most successful flood control projects.

Browning in reviewing the success of both the Muskingum and Miami Conservancy projects strongly emphasized three points:

- Flood control and water conservation programs must be planned on a watershed basis, following natural drainage areas instead of political boundaries.
- The necessary reservoir sites for both flood control and conserving our water supply are limited by nature. Many of these are no longer available due to costly industrial, utility, highway and municipal developments. Only as they are acquired at an early date and are later developed on a multiple-use basis may we assure ourselves of adequate water supply in time of drought, flood protection and water recreation at the minimum of cost.
- Future development of Columbus and the Scioto Valley may be greatly dependent on water supply and control action taken now, Browning asserted.
- Local initiative and support is essential if a program such as the Scioto-Sandusky district is to proceed.

Dam Saved Millions

Browning quoted figures given by the U.S. District Engineers which showed that the Delaware Dam (the only part of the Scioto-Sandusky plan to be built) was of great value during the January flood.

The report stated that flood crests were lowered 13. 6 feet below the dam, 9.2 feet at Worthington, 4.2 feet at Columbus, and 2.9 feet at Chillicothe. Estimated reduction in flood losses totaled $6 million.

Browning was introduced to the group by C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of Hartley Newspapers, who said he was acting in the capacity of many community groups interested in getting a true picture of flood control possibilities in this area. "Who can tell," Hartley said, "maybe we have taken the hint that Noah received long ago . . . to get out the hammer and nails and go to work."

Urges Wide Vision

Dr. Morgan, whose appearance was a surprise, expanded on this thought when he said "seeing the whole job" was of prime importance. He recalled that Dayton in 1913 was the most

Planners OK 'Port Request

City Planning Commission last week authorized Sullivant Avenue Airport to expand its facilities by constructing 12 executive-type plane hangers along its east and west borders.

Although no such expansion is planned in the immediate future, the planning group's approval makes such construction possible when needed.

Commission also changed zoning of the southeast corner of W. Mound-st and Clarendon-av from single-family to one-to-four family dwellings.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Pack Advances 15

Dens 7 and 15 rated big applause for the skits they gave at the January meeting of Cub Pack 36, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church.

Pack 181 Meets

Thirty-eight were on hand when Cub Pack 181 of Hillcrest Baptist church received awards Jan. 20.

Awards went to Den 1 (Mrs. John Lucas, den mother, and Mrs. Cliff Rector, assistant), Bill Ramage, den chief cord; Tom Ramage, denner stripe; Roger Lucas, assistant denner stripe; and Danny Jenkins, bobcat pin.

Den 2—Mrs. Louis Madden, den mother, David Craig Madden, denner stripe; Roger White, assistant denner, stripe; and Drew Gibson, 1 year pin.

A new den is being formed with Mrs. Carl Agriesti as den mother.

Cub Awards Made

Cub Scout Pack 357 of Hilltonia EUB church featured advancement awards at its Jan. 29 meeting. Den 1, under the direction of Mrs. Nellie Leathers, den mother, and Mrs. Jenny Rumfield, assistant den mother, were in charge of the opening exercises.

Achievement awards were presented to Wayne Johnson, Stephen Hessler, and Gary Williams, bear badges; Kenneth Winslow, bobcat pin; Charles Venable, bobcat pin and wolf badge; John Pippin, denner bar and Dale Leathers, assistant denner bar.

Monty Chase was promoted from the Webelos Den into Boy Scout Troop 357 and was presented with a Webelos badge and chow kit by Harold Doane, assistant cubmaster.

Jimmy Alexander advanced into the Webelos Den and received a Webelos patch and Boy Scout manual.

Den chief cords were presented to Mark Leathers and Mike Doane.

Study Science Theme

"General Science" is the theme planned by Post 225 for this year's Scout-O-Rama booth. Biology is being presented by Jim Demorest, Kenneth Martin, and Doug Boggs; chemistry by Carl Hott, assisted by Carl Teadgardner; physics by Jack Fravel, Lawrence Rennie and Jim Minton; and general scientific principles by Paul Hartley, who will also conduct various experiments for the show.

Cubs Tour News Plant

Many steps of producing a newspaper were shown Cubs of Den 1, Pack 181, Hillcrest Baptist Church, recently.

They were accompanied by Denmother Mrs. John Lucas and her assistant, Mrs. Clifford Rector. Marcus Orr conducted the group.

Boys making the visit were Den Chief Bill Ramage, Tom Ramage, Ricky Haideman, David Rector, Bobby Krull, Roger Lucas, Tommy Jenkins, and Danny Jenkins.

TROOP 79

Boy Scout troop 79, sponsored by Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, held a court of honor Feb. 9. Following boys received awards of rank:

Tenderfoot badge, Don Shults, Richard Stotsbury; second class, Russell Jaccaud, Earl Sisson Tommy Hammon, Milton Neher and Darrell Wilson. Ronnie Blythe became a star scout.

Boys receiving merit badges: Ronnie Blythe, home repairs, citizenship in the home, scholarship; Randy Sheets, scholarship; Brian Horne, hiking; Terry Elliott, music, home repairs; and Craig Weaver, printing, architecture.

Evan Morgan, scoutmaster, presented the following with service pins: John Mauldin, three-year Explorer and Melvin Allard, two-year Explorer. One-year pins were given to Richard Gardner, Richard Hauser, Brian Horne, Jim McCann, Steve Malone, Randy Sheets, and Richard Thompson.

Billy Cordial, transferring from another troop, was welcomed into the troop.

Post To Form Rifle Team

Post 29 spent Saturday evening in practice at the Columbus Police indoor target range. Soon the post hopes to establish a rifle team.

A representative from the Order of the Arrow attended the meeting last night. He spoke on the purposes of the OA, and encouraged candidates from Post 29.

On Feb. 6, 7, and 8, Post 29 camped at Camp Klages.

Stinson Elected President

Central District Explorers are engaged in a drive to increase attendance at district roundtables, held once a month at Fort Hayes. A "leadership post" has been formed, composed only of cabinet representatives. Bill Stinson of the West Side's Post 29 has been elected president of this organization.

PACK 43

New members of Pack 43, accepted at the meeting held Jan. 18 at Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church were Darrel Sparks, Ted Griggs, Charles Fickiesen, Terry Carter, Kenny Speicher and Tommy O'Neil. Mrs. Charles Fickiesen is the new den mother.

Advancements were, Wolf, gold and silver arrows to Randy Ulen and Harold Kounts; gold arrow, Morgan Jaccaud and silver arrows, Richard Early, Bear, Mark Dunbar, Morgan Jaccaud, Ernest West, Robert Van Dyke and David Stephens; Lion, Gary Handschumacher.

PASTOR LAUDS SCOUT TROOP

Rev. Gerald M. Koster appeared before Boy Scout 357 recently to praise the Scouts for their recent activities in helping collect food, clothing, and money to aid in the flood relief program of the Salvation army.

Scouts Dave Koehler and Larry Snider spent part of their recent mid-term vacation helping Gabe Kizamore of Gabes Auto Service, 1271 Sullivant-av, clean up damage done to his garage by the recent flood and a fire which destroyed most of the interior of the building.

Scouts Chuck Beesler, Jack Daugherty, Bob McLane, Roy Buckly, and Larry Snider spent their Saturday collecting Salvation Army aid from generous residents of the Hilltonia section. The boys delivered a car load of food and clothing and $15 50 in cash.

On the weekend of Jan. 24-25 four boy leaders, Gene Fink, Jack Daugherty, Ken Snider and Dick Grossinger accompanied Assistant Scoutmaster Hap Hatter to Camp Lazarus for intensive study in troop and patrol operation and leadership. The boys were given certificates and junior leader patches.

Patrols have worked hard on troop window display for Scout Week and practiced for Scout Sunday at Hilltonia EUB church.

Many scouts have been working on the fingerprinting merit badge and a related display for their Scout-O-Rama exhibit, Apr 25-26 at the Ohio State fairgrounds.

Banquet Successful

Pack 225's blue and gold dinner Feb. 12 also marked the units' fifth anniversary. A pot-luck was held for everyone connected with the pack, troop, and post.

The special event replaced the pack meetings and parents auxiliary for February.

Guest speaker, presentation of awards, inspection of pack and post, a review of 225 history were all on the birthday agenda.

FLAG GIVEN TO NEW TROOP

cal Society last week that the mound is a natural one, he made the offer. "Trucks would have a hard time getting to it through the mud," Redick said, adding that dredging of the creek bed would furnish much of the dirt.

Meanwhile members of the West Side Board of Trade are keeping in close touch with flood prevention here. Many members are among the 5 000 to 6,000 signatures on petitions being circulated by Fred Van Order, 38 Wisconsin-av. Van Order said he will deliver the petitions urging permanent levee repairs to council next Monday night.

John MacLam, West Side machine operator who lost much equipment in the flood, appeared at council Monday night but brought no petitions, claiming he wasn't finished with them. MacLam is not a member of the Board of Trade.

Confer With Mayor

Eight local businessmen held a conference with the mayor Tuesday afternoon and said they were satisfied with the first phase of anti-flood work ordered this week by the city.

"Our next step is to consult Army Engineers and see what can be done toward reviving conservancy work on the Scioto," said delegate Bob Miller.

Left unanswered was the question raised by Carlos Darnell, McKinley-av warehouse owner—how to relieve the steadily mounting congestion of storm sewers in the West Side.

Attending the conference in addition to Miller were Bill Moler, Sam Alford, Bob Morton, Carl Tyler, Vernon Cressap, John MacLam and Glen L. Rayot.

District Still Faltering

Clyde Lewis, chairman of the board of directors for the controversial Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District, announced last week that Columbus attorney John Eckler had agreed to defend the legal position of the conservancy court judge who ordered dissolution of the district Dec. 29.

The City of Columbus, Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, and commissioners of Pike and Pickaway Counties have filed notice with the appellate court that they intend to contest the conservancy court's action in dissolving the district. Lewis maintained that Eckler had been retained for the purpose of fighting these appeals. He is a member of the law firm of Bricker, Barton, Evatt, Eckler, and Niehoff.

"Some people," he said, "can't see beyond Saturday night. Others see far into the future. That's what a conservancy district is—seeing into the future."

Gallentine, Graves Rule At Center's Record Hop

Approximately 350 pre-teenagers attended the Fourth Annual Sweetheart Ball on Feb. 6, at Glenwood Recreation Center.

Highlight of the evening was the coronation of the 'King and Queen of Hearts,' Rachel Gallentine and Carl Graves, by last year's royalty Tony Agriesti and Charlene Thomas.

Attendants on the court were Sam Link, Donna Bailey, Don Van Order, Pudgy Edwards, Mike George, Diane Gallenstein, Tony Latorre, and Carl Diedrich.

Paul Sokol disc jockeyed the record dance.

A SALUTE TO THE NATIONAL GUARD

The name of Colonel Robert Haubrich is indelible in the memory of many an ex-Doughboy. But, it will be impressed on future generations after Saturday ceremonies here this week.

The naming of the new National Guard armory at 4094 Sullivant - av after the World War I hero of the 166th Infantry Regiment is called most fitting.

Modern day citizen-soldiers under the same regimental number stand ready for duty, as did Col. Haubrich, when the state or nation calls. Their new home is a valuable asset to our community.

To the men of the famed 166th, and Col. Haubrich who coined their beloved motto "Follow Me", we offer our salute on Muster Day, 1959.

THIS IS NATIONAL BROTHERHOOD WEEK

AN AMERICAN is one who believes in the right of men and women of whatever creed, class, color or ancestry, to live as human beings with the dignity becoming the children of God

AN AMERICAN is one who believes in the right to be free; free not only from crushing coercions and dictatorships and regimentation, but free for that way of life where men may think and speak as they choose and worship God as they see fit.

AN AMERICAN is one who believes in the right to vote, the right to work, the right to learn, the right to life, and —what is equally important—in the right to be different; for he knows that if we ever lose the right to be different we lose the right to be free.

AN AMERICAN is one who believes in democracy, not only for himself but for all his fellow-Americans. By democracy he means not simply the rule of the majority but the rights of minorities; and those minorities have rights, not because they are minorities, but because they are human beings.

AN AMERICAN is one who believes in the responsibility of privileges. What he asks for himself, he is willing to grant to others; what he demands from others, he is willing to give himself. His creed is not alone, "Live and let live," but "Live and help live."

AN AMERICAN is one who acts from faith in others, not fear of others; from understanding, not prejudice; from goodwill, not hatred. To bigotry he gives no sanction; to intolerance no support.

The only question THE TRUE AMERICAN ever asks is not, Are you Protestant or Catholic, Gentile or Jew, white or colored, but, Are you an American? If you are, then give me your hand, for I am an American too. (Written by Harold W. Ruopp, minister-at large, Minnesota Council of Churches)

BIBLE COMMENT

Testament Bolsters Faith In Next Life

"If a man die, shall he live again?" That ages-old question was asked by Job, and successive generations of men have asked it, and it has been answered in various ways, and with varying convictions.

The strongest ground of hope and faith in immortality is found in the New Testament, with its message of, and concerning, Christ.

The message concerning Christ is as much the ground of that faith as the message of Christ Himself, for the one is intensively associated with the other.

The Resurrection is the evidence of the deathless life of Jesus Himself.

It became to the disciples, as it should to us, the clearest evidence of the immortality that He promised, "Because I live, ye shall live also."

Consider: a group of disciples, in the depth of gloom and despair because of the death of a Master upon whom they had set their faith, were suddenly aroused to new life and hope and vision by the conviction that their Lord was living, and that they had seen Him, and received His message.

In that vision, faith and conviction they not only went forth to the spiritual conquest of the world, but they went forth with their characters and outlooks transformed.

There was no more bickering about who should be greatest.

They had found the eternal life of which Jesus spoke.

For eternal life is a present possession. We should think of immortality, not in terms of mere continuance, but in terms of the quality of life.

That is a good thought to ponder, during Lent.

Abraham Lincoln Said:

"The world has never had a good definition of the word 'liberty,' and the American people, just now, are much in need of one. We all declare for liberty; but in using the same word we do not all mean the same thing. With some the word 'liberty' may mean for each man to do as he pleases with himself, and the product of his labor; while with others the word may mean for some men to do as they please with other men, and the product of other men's labor. Here are two, not only different, but incompatible things, called by the same name, 'liberty.' And it follows that each of the things is, by the respective parties, called by two different and incompatible names—'liberty' and 'tyranny'."

Tract Rezoning Is Under Study

Public hearing on a request to rezone 18.3 acres on Valleyview-dr from manufacturing to single family residential use is slated by the zoning committee of city council, Monday, Mar. 2. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the council chamber at City Hall.

The land lies north of Valleyview-dr, west of Hague-av and is bordered on the north by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

QUOTES FROM LINCOLN

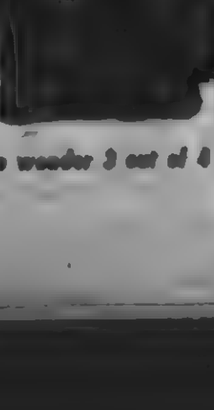
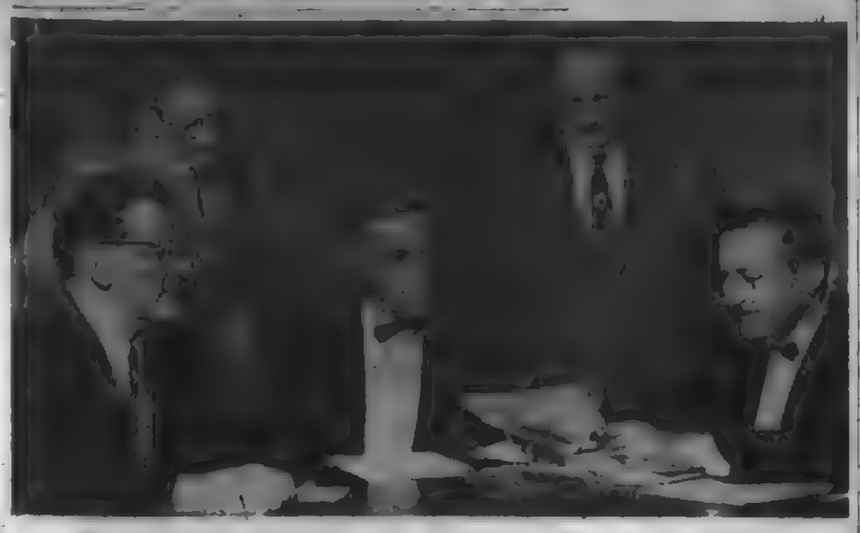
Here's the Answer



"My electric dryer helped me make fudge!"

You can take the time to pamper the family's sweet tooth when you have an electric dryer to help you. Low-cost electric drying does more than dry your clothes fluffy and sweet. It saves you time and energy, too. Your laundry-day routine is shorter, and there's no back-breaking drudgery of carrying and hanging wet clothes. Then you can use the time and energy you save to be an even better homemaker, wife and mother.



If you don't already know how much an electric dryer can help you, see your electric appliance dealer. He'll be happy to give you a free demonstration.

Fishing Map Will Help Fishermen At Hoover

Hoover Reservoir, one of the fishing hotspots in this area, can now be studied in detail on a large two-color map published by the Ohio Division of Wildlife. Fishermen have been asking for such a map of the popular lake located 14 miles northeast of Columbus for the last two or three years, and now it's available.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Even a beginning fisherman knows the importance of finding submerged stumps, gravel bars and deep holes. All of these are indicated on the map designed especially for fishermen. Boaters will find it helpful too.

When the first warm rays of spring sunshine give you fishing fever, it's best to fish shallow bays for bass. In the grassy shallows, from a foot to 18 inches deep, the water warms quickly and it puts fish on a feeding spree. Dozens of bays and shallow necks of water are shown on the fishing map.

Stocking Record Listed

Additional information includes the fish stocking record from 1954 through 1956. It is interesting to note that over 14 million walleye fry have been planted in the lake. Muskellunge stocking has amounted to 29,500. Largemouth bass, bluegills, black crappies, white crappies, bullheads and channel catfish have all been stocked.

Carp, the fish that invites himself everywhere, is present in the lake, and provides sport for many anglers. The lake has produced good stringers of carp for the last few years and will continue to do so, even though it was not stocked by the state.

How does fishing at Hoover stack up with other lakes in the state? Clayton Lakes, fisheries biologist in central Ohio, says, "In my opinion Hoover is providing the best fishing of any lake in this area. Fishing was very good last year for crappies, walleyes and bass. Ice fishing for bluegills has been popular all winter when the ice has been safe. We expect excellent success for fishermen for the coming year."

Wildlife Division Assists

So, the city of Columbus in creating a 3300-acre lake for water supply, has provided a wonderful fishing lake. The city has an agreement with the state whereby the Division of Wildlife takes care of fish management on the body of water. Columbus is planning two large fisherman parking areas and boat ramps that are to be completed this year. Fishermen also enjoy the facilities of city parks around the lake.

With fishing prospects bright for this spring, area anglers are tuning up their outboards and checking over their fishing gear in preparation for a few trips to Hoover. A map of the area will help anglers who are unfamiliar with these waters. The maps may be obtained for 10 cents at Publications, Division of Wildlife, 1500 Dublin-rd, Columbus 12, O.

Two Join Staff At Realty Co.

Mrs. Lena Nast and Rolin L. "Nick" Hudson have joined the sales staff of the Gladys Albery Realty, 1125 Georgesville-rd, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Albery.

Mrs. Nast, who resides with her family at 508 Wrexham-av, is a member of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church. She has been associated with another Columbus realty firm for the past 10 years.

An employe of a glass company on the South Side of Columbus for the last 10 years, Hudson is a graduate of South High School. He is a member of the South EUB Church and of the Ralph P. Rickley Masonic Lodge. He resides with his family at 1572 E. Hudson.

Wolfe-Sweetman Rites Held Jan. 10

MRS. WILLIAM H. SWEETMAN

St. Agnes Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Barbara Jo Wolfe and Mr. William H. Sweetman on Jan. 10. Rev. Raymond Lavelle read the marriage service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Wolfe, of 758 S. Wayne-av, and her husband's parents of Mr. and Mrs. John William Sweetman, 909 Hodges-dr.

The bride chose a gown of taffeta and chantilly lace with basque bodice, sabrina neckline trimmed with iridescents, tapering sleeves and lace bands down the side and around the hem of the waltz-length skirt.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a queen's crown of iridescents and pearls and she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and carnations.

Mrs. Patrick Divney served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ellen Sweetman, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Elenore Wolfe, cousin of the bride.

They were identically gowned in flamingo red taffeta with low round necklines, bracelet-length sleeves, pleated cummerbunds and draped harem skirts.

Each carried a white fur muff with red roses and wore a white fur hat.

Mother of the bride chose a powder blue lace gown with a pink carnation corsage and the bridegroom's mother, royal blue taffeta with white carnations.

Breakfast for the immediate families was served at Lincoln Lodge and an afternoon reception was held at the Onized Club.

The new Mrs. Sweetman was graduated from Holy Family High School and was employed at Big Bear.

Mr. Sweetman was graduated from Aquinas High School and is serving with the US Air Force, stationed at Shilling AFB, Salina, Kas.

The couple is at home at 614 Santa Fe, Salina, Kas.

Pictured during a coffee break at a pre-campaign meeting in the home of Mrs. Richard E. Goudy, 180 Binns-blvd are six leaders of the Heart Sunday drive for the Heart Fund to be held from noon to 3 p.m. Sunday. From left are Mrs. Fred C. Hagie, 981 S. Hague-av, Ward 11 chairman; Mrs. Robert K. Chrisman, 85 S. Roys-av, assistant city general chairman; Mrs. C. A. Bonaventure, 1024 S. Hague-av, assistant Ward 11 chairman; Mrs. W. Ralston Westlake, 3294 W. Broad-st, Ward 32 chairman; Mrs. Goudy, west area city chairman, and Mrs. Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, assistant Ward 32 chairman.

Leaders Map Out 'Heart Sunday' Campaign

WELCOME WAGON

From The Top O' The Hill
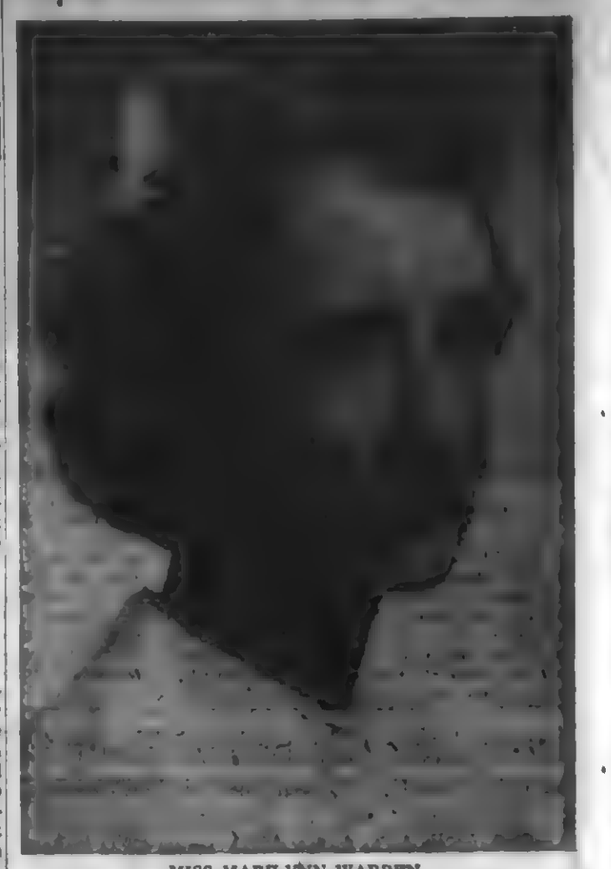
By Betty Daft

President Eisenhower now knows what most of us have known for a long, long time--The Gene Stinsons of 1025 Hartrd were really surprised last Thursday when an envelope bearing the White House return address received. The letter read, in part "Through one of your neighbors in Columbus word was received here of your long service as a scoutmaster and civic leader. You have been described as a man who gives his all to any one who needs him. It is a privilege to send best wishes to such an inspiring citizen. Sincerely, Frederick Fox, special assistant in the White House."

Miss Edith Salles is recuperating at the home of her niece, Mrs. Fred Apel, 236 Kenwick-rd, on the mend after recent surgery.

Folks of the West Side, especially in the Campbell-av area are still talking about the amazing "Tiny" Cunningham who gave them a helping hand during the flood. "Tiny" who runs a cleaning shop on Sullivant-av at Davis-av lost almost everything he had in the high water--even a cast on his leg. Hospitalized all winter with an injury from a speedway accident, he left the hospital the morning of the flood and immediately went to work helping the Red Cross evacuate and care for people. He fell from an Army duck during a rescue and lost his cast--but is still going strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. [illegible] (Betty Raether) celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Dec. 27 at their home in Greensboro, N. Caro. Hill is general secretary of the YMCA there. The couple were 1924 grads of West. Their daughter, Diane, is now leading player in the Barter Theater, (State Theatre of Virginia at Abingdon.)



One flooded West Side family has particular cause to be grateful for the efforts of Shirley Ann Hoffman, 181 S. Westmoor, eighth grade student at West. She learned of the family's problems and responded by personally collecting from neighbors generous contributions of clothing and other items.

Lt. and Mrs. Owen B. Marsh (Marlene Tague) are parents of a son, Timothy Owen, born Feb. 2 at Burlington County Hospital, Mt. Holly, N.J.

Mary and Jack Camp, 6220 Valleyview-dr, are on a months visit to Hawaii visiting their son, Pfc Zeffie Camp, stationed there with the US Army, MP Division, and meeting his new bride . . . Don H. Pannabecker, 537 Ryan-av, is enjoying the bloom of the sacred lily of India, now flowering for the first time since he received the bulb ten years ago. He estimates the bloom of the rare, 66-inch tall plant will last another ten to 15 days.

Welsh people will honor their patron with a St. David's Day banquet Saturday, Feb. 28, at the Ohio Union, Ohio State University campus. Everyone interested in Welsh culture and music is welcome to join the celebration. For further information call Mrs. E. Gomer Jones, 2090 W. Broad-st, BR 4-8471.

Good Reading Is Suggested

Today's article, second in a pre-Lenten series written by young people of churches in the Hilltop Ministerial Association, is by Shirley Campbell, 3689 W. Broad-st.

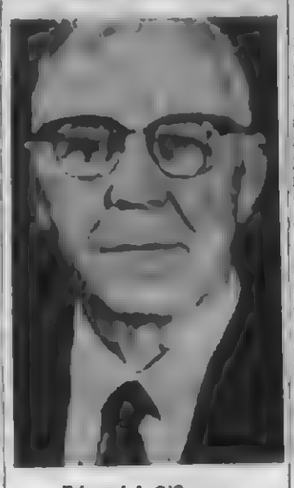
She is employed by Nationwide Insurance and is a member of Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church.

By Shirley Campbell

It is a well-known fact that what we read has a great effect on what we become. If we are to become good citizens, we must be very careful in choosing the type of literature we read.

We must shun such things as sex magazines and all other perverted literature, thus preventing the developing of perverted characters. By reading only clean, pure literature, we can become the honest, upright citizen of whom the entire community can be proud.

It is my sincere belief that the majority of young people today want more spiritual and truly educational reading placed on magazine stands.



Let's pull together to see what can be done!

Columbus Chapter of DeMolay team split last week . . . dropping a 46-43 game to West Park Methodist and themselves trouncing the Playboys, 46-16. The former league finds its record now 2-5 and the latter 4-1 and in a three-way tie for first place. In their loss Mike Richter had 12 and Tom Morrison had 10; Alan Daft had 13 and Ed Fredendall 9 in their victorious endeavor.

• • • •

Last week was a big one for West's Jerry Spears . . . since a week ago Friday evening and covering four games he dumped in 118 points for an average per game over that period of 29.5. Included were his second and third highs of the year—a 33 and a 31. It jumped him from eighth to fourth in the county area.

These figures are based on totals scored. If based upon averages he might be much higher since West has played fewer games than some other schools involved. He still leads the City League individual race, holding a 50 point margin over North's Ed Clark (North and West meet this week).

Central is still hanging onto third (could end up second in case of the possible North-East tie for first) place in the City League with an 8-3 mark. West follows in fourth with a 7-4.

Getting back to Spears . . . Friday evening proved to be one of 'mixture' for him. After having a great night (31 points) against Marion-Franklin, he was crowned as the Basketball King at the Journalism Dept's. combination Valentine-BB Homecoming after-game dance.

But Larry Jones of East was tying Spears' mark set earlier this season (46 points for one game) across town to mar the evening. "Jerry's Queen" as the basketball Sweetheart was West cheerleader Sharon Younkin.

Other members of the queen's court were Freddie Cotter, Diane Kelsay, Jane McIlyar and Sarah Hayes. On the king's court were Don Uldricks, Dave Brady and Ray Horky.

West wrestling team, though not expected to go very far in the District Meet last weekend, did disappoint Coach John Butler as the pressure of the situation seemed to be too much. West managed to score two points as Bill Doughty pinned Schneider of Dayton for their only spot of "glory."

Another boy who had handled his opponent quite handily in regular season matches, got himself pinned by the same lad. Tim Skaarer who was undefeated against all-comers, including those over his weight, seemed to tighten up and lost to Bennett of Linden McKinley.

• • • •

Old Trail, beginning last weekend and continuing for the next three consecutive weekends, is hosting the Men's City League tournament. There are about 700 teams and 3500 individuals rolling in the event.

• • • •

Three teams were represented at the February meeting of the Ohio Valley Football League last weekend. They were the original Westgate Manor Thunderbolts, Valleyview Golden Bears and the new Gahanna team that is presently nameless. Several other teams are definitely in the league, but were not represented.

O V will adopt a constitution next, with some minor changes it will parallel that of the Bear-cat League headed by Harry Jacobs. At the next meeting March 14 a publicity officer will be picked and "10 Commandments of Good Play" (covering parents, adults, players) will be voted upon.

St. Aloysius Booster Club's new officers for this year are Frank Ness, president and Louie George, treasurer.

THEY RIDE THE RANGE FOR WEST

Cowboys Win More; Battle Bears Friday

By BOB WILCOX

West successfully completed its tough three-games-in-five-days schedule by dumping Eastmoor Feb. 9 there, 65-53. Then, playing their fourth game in exactly a week, the Cowboys romped over Marion-Franklin at West Friday evening, 69-41.

This Friday night they close out their regular 1958-59 season at North. If the Cowboys could only pull off an upset and dump the Polar Bears it would throw the City League crown to East. If North wins it will at least clinch a tie with the Tigers.

The Broncos met North at home just before Christmas in a game that was the area headliner that evening. But West came off on the short end of a 64-53 score. They trailed only 32-28 at the half-way mark.

But a relatively cool third period, especially in the rebounding, spelled their downfall. However West has a record of giving North a "rough road" as witnessed by the one 57-55 loss to that mighty North crew of last year.

In recent weeks, however, the Cowboys have shown definite progress, especially in ballhandling. Last time Jerry Spears outscored Joan Doughty 20-12, but had a rough time on the boards for one of his lowest scoring efforts of the season. If he could only maintain recent scoring spurts, it would help a [redacted].

In the last week against Aquinas, Steubenville, Eastmoor and Marion-Franklin, he scored a total of 118 points for a fabulous 29.5 per game average over these four games.

With some fine teamwork and scoring help from Dave Brady and Roger Street it could be quite a game even if on a "foreign" court.

Seats are scarce in North's "bandbox", so go early!

• • • •

It wasn't quite as big a romp as their earlier 90-52 conquest of Eastmoor, but the Cowboys cleaned the bench with four minutes to go (after freely subbing much earlier) and it was still "no contest." After setting the city's individual game record against them before Christmas, Spears again licked his "cousins." He collected his second high for the season, 33 markers . . . and only one from the foul line.

West took a quick 2-0 lead and held it until Eastmoor went ahead 8-6 and again at 8-7 . . . then Spears hit for two to tie it up, and from there on West was never headed. They held quarter leads of 16-12, 36-24 and 55-36. The Broncos definitely had the height advantage . . . picking off 36 rebounds and making 12 recoveries, but made 17 turnovers. Each squad had 18 personals.

From the field West hit on 27 of 73 for 37 per cent as compared to the Warriors' 16 for 70 and 23 per cent. From the charity line the Cowboys hit on 11 of 23 for 48 per cent, while Eastmoor showed superior foul shooting form with a fabulous 21-26-81 per cent.

Tried Box Zone

The Warriors tried Bexley's successful tactics (for a far shorter squad), but with far less success. They used a box-zone . . . four men zoning and one man on Spears. This latter person was Shulz, their all-city football lineman, who though rough enough didn't have the height (6'1") only got 4 points and as indicated earlier Spears made "mincemeat" of him.

On the other hand, while breaking the Warrior zone on the supposedly tough "inside," West was successfully using a 2-3 zone . . . switching to a 3-2 when shorter and more ballhandlers were employed by Eastmoor. Brady hit for 10 and Street 9.

• • • •

The romp would have been much greater, but West again cleaned the bench early.

M-F only committed 17 personals to West's 21, but theirs were more concentrated as they lost three men via that route. Nine Cowboys hit the scoring column including popular Chuck King, who had earlier caught the fans' fancy with a fine Reserve game performance, little Tom Hartranft with his fancy shots and John Peterson.

And paced by Spear's 31 markers, the Marion-Franklin game was another rout. Aided by his 13 in the second quarter (7 from the foul line), the Cowboys opened up a 16 point halftime lead at 33-17. They led after one period 15-7 and at the three quarter mark, 46-29. M-F was paced by Dan Dailey with 13.

West, from the field, hit on 27-56 and a 46 per cent, while M-F was hitting a very poor 17 per cent on 13-72. From the foul line West hit 15-24 for 62 per cent while M-F made 15 of 27 for 56 per cent. For once West man had fewer turnovers than their opponents, but still managed an even dozen. They out-rebounded MF 41-34.

• • • •

Both games this week saw the West Reserves come the closest to victory, but they dropped two squeakers. They went to town at Eastmoor only to lose, 37-34 in an overtime. Rick Banker led the Broncos with 7 as they led a good deal of the way. It was West 15-7 at first quarter, and at halftime 26-17. But their "disastrous trends" took over in the third period, tieing up at 29-29. At the end it was 32-32.

Against Marion-Franklin, West again led into the third period. But they were finally nosed out in a thriller, 33-32. West's first leads were 12-7 and 18-17. However M-F led going into the final stanza, 30-28. Chuck King and Garry Weigand each with 8 paced the [redacted].

West was kept in the ball game in the second half mainly on the long jump shots of King . . . he also had a chance to tie things up on a foul shot seconds before the gun, but missed connections. However they had already "shot" the game away. Leading 32-31, West had possession of the ball, but instead of stalling out the last few seconds with ballhandling, someone took a "wild" long shot and M-F got the rebound . . . and a good shot and the game.

• • • •

West Junior High cagers had themselves a pretty fair romp last week at the expense of Roosevelt Junior High, 66-46. They were paced by Dennis Moyer with 21 and Lew Coles with 18 points. West, behind at the end of the first period, 11-10, and again at halftime, 30-26, took over in the third frame . . . leading by 42-40 going into the last period. They outscored Roosevelt 24-6 in that stanza. West is at Marion-Franklin this Thursday afternoon.

Central Varsity Loses To North, Reserves Win

Central's chances for second place were deflated and North's hopes for the City League title were kept alive Feb. 10 as the Polar Bears dumped the Pirates, at North, 63-57.

Central took off with a banging 8-0 lead, then watched helplessly as North scored the next 15 consecutive points.

Central came within 3 points in the second period and within 1 in the fourth, but that was all.

North's Ed Clark was stealing the ball and Jim Doughty was a rebounding "hog" off the boards as the Bears played control ball.

The Pirates' running game was null and void on the North "cheesebox" floor. Ed Tucker led the Bucs with 11.

Central came back Friday night to nip Linden-McKinley in a thriller, 50-48, at the Coliseum. Linden led at the first period mark, 16-12, but Central took over, caught up and went ahead at halftime, 29-21.

They led going into the final stanza, 40-32. Linden caught up and it was nip and tuck until, with 1:37 to go, Central went ahead to stay.

John Hillman put the Bucs ahead and then Linden lost the ball and Central "iced" two more. Tucker again led the Bucs with 14. Both squads ran, but Central proved to be the better runners.

• • • •

Meanwhile the Central Reserves kept winning . . . over North 43-39 and had sweet revenge over Linden (the only team to beat the tough Bucs this year), 45-26.

Chuck Glover led in the first game with 11 markers while George Moxley with 11 and Roosevelt Coffey with 10 paced their second win. George Chilton stole the ball and sank a shot from mid-court at the half gun at North.

Linden had bigger boys, but Central literally ran 'em off their feet and kept pouring it on.

Central winds up its regular season Friday night with Aquinas at home. The Reserves need the win to clinch their title.

Is Entered In Hoop League

Gladden Community House has entered a team in the Columbus Federation of Settlements' basketball league.

Formed to give the little fellow a chance at organized basketball, rules say that a boy must be no taller than five feet 10 inches and be 14 years of age and under.

Teen-age girls practice every Monday evening at Gladden in preparation for their debut in the girls volleyball tournament, also sponsored by the Columbus Federation of Settlements.

Deputy Registrars Are Appointed

Deputy registrars to sell 1959 motor vehicle licenses in Columbus and Franklin County were named Monday by Clifford Ayres, state motor vehicle registrar.

The 37 deputies are two more than appointed last year. Only seven issuing licenses under the C. William O'Neill administration were reappointed.

Among those appointed were: Frank W. Bentley, 3540 E. Main-st; Frances A. Boyd, 1160 W. Broad-st; Charles H. Campbell, 2656 W. Broad-st; Muriel Geis, 185 Parsons-av; and Betty Heilman, 2674 E. Broad-st.

Paul Jones, Zettler Hardware, Great Southern Shopping Center; Eleanor Koch, 1220 Parsons-av; Morgan Murphy, 5279 W. Broad-st; and Carl J. Schumann, Zettler Hardware, Great Western Shopping Center.

Charlotte Williams, 64 Park-st, Canal Winchester; Arthur C. Heibrecht, 2355 E. Main-st, Bexley; Margaret Browning, 43 S. High-st, Dublin; Mamie E. Kropp, 3800 Haughn-rd, Grove City; Jeanette L. Montgomery, 532 Main-st, Groveport; Alma E. Weber, 45 N. Norwich-st, Hilliards; Homer B. Tussing, 7392 E. Main-st, Reynoldsburg.

Easter Seal Plans Made

Franklin Society for Crippled Children's month-long Easter seal campaign will be headed this year by co-chairmen, Dr. Judson D. Wilson, orthopedic surgeon and Flippo, television clown personality.

Campaign, conducted through mail solicitation, sale of Easter seals and the lily parade, is planned for Feb. 27 through Easter Sunday, Mar. 29.

Dr. Wilson, in medical practice at 1275 Olentangy River-rd, is also acting head of the department of orthopedic surgery and an associate professor at Ohio State University.

He is active in many organizations helping crippled children and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children.

Flippo, a member of WBNS-TV staff since 1951, makes numerous personal appearances at benefits and civic affairs, and conducts his own orchestra.

Fruits—oranges, grapefruit, apples, canned or frozen cherries.

Vegetables — broccoli, potatoes, cabbage, celery, frozen green beans.

Protein Foods — ham, tuna, ground beef,, cheddar cheese, large eggs.

GOOD PLANNERS ARE SHARP BUYERS

Are you a family food dollar manipulator? Do you ever juggle food allowance to save money for something else? This kind of manipulation happens sometimes, even in families practicing good management. It's a serious practice only when it happens regularly. For then, what is left from regular payments and purchases is made to do for the family's food.

As a first step to remedy this ailment, planning ahead is suggested. Before going to the food store, plan the needs for your family for a week or even longer. This will help you purchase a nutritionally adequate food supply for your family with money available. Paper, pencil, chair and food shopper make good companions for this sort of pre-shopping planning session.

Determine family food needs first. Use foods from these groups for each member of the family each day:

• Milk—Some for everyone: children—3-4 cups; teenagers—four cups or more; adults—two

• Meat—Two or more servings. Includes beef, veal, pork, lamb, poultry, fish, eggs. Alternates are dry beans, dry peas, and nuts.

• Fruits and vegetables—four or more servings. Includes a citrus fruit or other fruit of vegetable for vitamin C, a dark brown or deep yellow vegetable for vitamin A—at least every other day, and other vegetables and fruits, including potatoes.

• Bread and cereals—four or more servings. Should be whole grain, enriched or restored.

There are other tricks that will save money, like planning ahead for special meals. Such meals can play havoc with any budget.

Taking time to study food ads in your local newspaper can save you both time and money. They are cues to good buys, especially in meat, poultry and fresh produce. These are also the largest investment items. Many homemakers find it helpful to decide on meat and poultry purchases first. Then the produce can better be selected as to which—fresh, frozen, or canned—to use.

Remember a good shopping list is general enough to allow for alternate decisions to be made after you see the merchandise. Then you can select items that best meet your family needs.

'I Am The Guard'

(Originated by Charles Chappell)

Civilian in Peace, Soldier in War . . . of security and honor, for three centuries I have been the custodian, I am the Guard.

I was with Washington in the dim forests, fought the wily warrior and watched the dark night bow to morning. At Concord's bridge I fired the fateful shot heard round the world. I bled on Bunker Hill. My footprints marked the snow at Valley Forge. I pulled a muffled oar on the barge that bridged the icy Delaware. I stood with Washington on the sun-drenched heights of Yorktown. I saw the sword surrendered . . . I am the Guard.

I pulled the trigger that loosed the long rifle's havoc at New Orleans. These things I know . . . I was there! I saw both sides of the War Between the States—I was there! The hill at San Juan felt the fury of my charge, The far plains and mountains of the Philippines echoed to my shout . . . on the Mexican border I stood . . . I am the Guard.

The dark forest of the Argonne blazed with my barrage. Chateau Thierry crumbled to my cannonade. Under the arches of victory I marched in legion . . . I was there!

I am the Guard. I bowed briefly on the grim Corregidor, then saw the light of Liberation shine on the faces of my comrades. Through the jungle and on the beaches I fought the enemy—beat, battered and broke him. I raised our banner to the serene air on Okinawa—I scrambled over Normandy's beaches—I was there! I am the Guard, Across the 38th Parallel I made my stand. I flew MIG Alley—I was there! . . . I am the guard.

Soldier in war, civilian in peace . . . I am the Guard.

I was at Johnstown, where the raging waters boomed down the valley. I cradled the crying child in my arms and saw the terror leave her eyes. I moved through the smoke and flame at Texas City. The stricken knew the comfort of my skill. I dropped the food that fed the starving beast on the frozen fields of the West and through the towering drifts I plowed to rescue the marooned.

I have faced forward to the tornado, the typhoon, and the horror of the hurricane and flood—these things I know —I was there! . . . I am the Guard.

I have brought a more abundant, a fuller, a finer life to our youth. Wherever a strong arm and valiant spirit must defend the nation, in peace or war, wherever a child cries or a woman weeps in time of disaster, there I stand . . . I am the Guard.

For three centuries a soldier in war, a civilian in peace —of security and honor, I am the custodian, now and forever . . . I am the Guard.

IN COMMAND

Custom Dates Back To Day Of Militiaman

Showing of the new Haubrich Armory to the public on Saturday, Feb. 21 (Muster Day) will be appropriate in that it follows a custom older than the nation itself.

Major General Loren G. Windom, Reynoldsburg, Adjutant General of Ohio, said the term "Muster Day" is derived from an old militia custom which began during the early days of the Colonies. Once each year, every able bodied man for miles around would gather on the village green for roll call and weapons inspection. The National Guard units are on call today as they have been since 1636 to serve at the call of the governors or the President of the United States.

"One of the most important contributions we expect Muster Day to make," General Windom added, "is a public awareness of how far the National Guard has come during the past 300 years without changing its basic principle of voluntary military training on a citizen-soldier basis. The Ohio Guard has demonstrated that it can stay up with the times without losing its identity of purpose."

"Another contribution is the readiness of the officers and men of the Guard to serve at a moment's notice in event of local emergency or disaster. Hundreds of National Guardsmen aided flood-stricken victims during the recent Ohio flood."

Governor Michael V. DiSalle and General Windom, who earlier this month became the new adjutant general will review the Guardsmen in their 10 a.m. parade downtown at a special reviewing stand in front of the Chamber of Commerce Building. The parade will be led by Colonel William E. Morr, the new Chief of Staff of the 37th Division.

The public is invited to view the parade and to take part in other Muster Day activities.

WE BOTH NEED THEM

Armory Houses Big Arsenal

Haubrich Armory houses military equipment worth several million dollars.

The $400,000 facility, was built with 75 percent federal and 25 percent state money. Designed by State Architect George P. Guthrie, it consists of a 75x115 foot drill floor, kitchen, two stories of classrooms and seven offices. There is spacious parking for military and civilian vehicles.

In the basement is found a four-point firing range for 22 cal. rifle and pistol practice. The range, divisible into three classrooms, meets the regulations of the National Rifle Association.

There are separate supply rooms, complete with dehumidified arms storage vaults, for each of the five guard units.

The drill floor and several of the classrooms (convertible to various sizes) are often available for rental to the public when not needed for Guard use. Rental policies are determined by an armory board, headed by Col. Joseph Tritschler and composed of officers assigned to the building. Chief Warrant Officer Walter Donzugh handles the board's business with the public. His phone at the armory is BR. 6-1166.

Another office at Haubrich armory is maintained by Capt. Sheridan Moore, 754 Wedgewood-dr. Representing the Regular Army, it acts in an advisory capacity to the Guard, keeping it informed of new military procedures and equipment.

Chief of Defense, Many Presidents Served In Guard

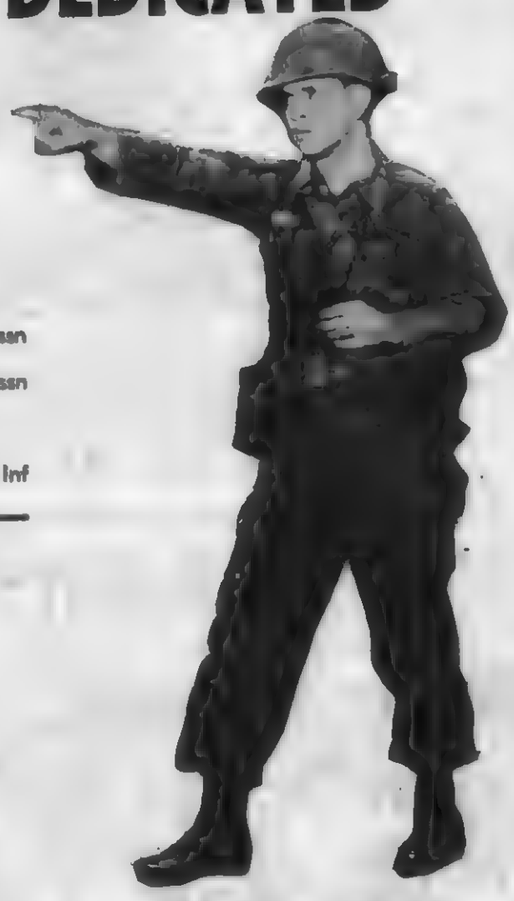
Secretary of Defense, Neil H. McElroy, one of the Nation's top defense leaders received his early military training in the Ohio National Guard.

In addition, six of our presidents served as National Guardsmen. They were George Washington, whose birthday is celebrated in conjunction with Muster Day, Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Jackson, Chester Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt and Harry Truman.

Industry Boosts Armory Board In Getting Start In Community

In its dedication program for Saturday the Haubrich Armory board has published acknowledgements to firms that have helped in its progress.

Some of these turned help to find a location for the armory while others later helped to supply it with items not supplied by the government.



Following are the contributors: Ternstedt Division of General Motors, Westinghouse Electric Corp., North American Aviation, Glick Tractor Co., Summer and Co., Rainer Athletic Co., Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Hartley Newspapers, Coca-Cola Co., and Hilltop Business Association.

SPECIAL BOARD GOVERNS USE OF FACILITY

Community Groups Benefit From Armory's Presence

National Guard troops moved into Haubrich Armory last fall and an advisory board was immediately set up to handle affairs of the building.

While the board was concerned chiefly with building maintenance and social programing for men of the Guard, it saw another obligation . . . relations with the public.

Time for this was limited but the board saw one predominant need in the W. Sullivant area — a program for youth. Newly-annexed Georgian Heights and Westgate Manor apartments nearby have no recreation centers. Add to this the fact that a bus line still comes no farther than Demorest-rd. The kids were isolated.

Teen Dances Carded

In October a disc jockey was engaged and a successful teen-age dance was held in the drill hall. The dances show great promise and the next will be staged by Gene Fullen on Apr. 25.

Most spectacular is the growth of the Western Optimist sponsored Boy Scout troop. Since January, Troop 273 has sprouted from a nucleus of five boys to a boistrous 42. Meetings are held in the armory every Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon and a hike is held monthly.

Guardsmen Help Scouts

Guardsmen often donate their time to teaching scout skills such as first aid, code, knots, and pioneering. Chief Warrant Officer Donaugh represents the armory board in scout relations.

Troop leaders include Elmer Randle, scoutmaster, 963 Demorest-rd; William Ucker, assistant scoutmaster, 951 Stephen-dr; H. H. Hagen, institutional representative; and Rufus Parret, committee chairman.

An Explorer program for boys older than 14 is in the works for fall.

Adult groups too, are availing themselves of the facilities of Haubrich Armory. Gun clubs, flower shows, dances and many other activities have been carded.

Westway Post Plans Banquet

Westway Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold it's birthday and past commander's banquet at the post home, 852 Clarendon-av Saturday, Feb. 21, 6:30 p.m.

All VFW and auxiliary members and their friends are welcome. State, district and county council officers will be present.

After the meal, there will be dancing starting at 8 p.m.

George Bradley, a past commander of the post, is banquet chairman. Reservations must be made before Wednesday, Feb. 18 with Robert Zulauf, BR. 4-6509.

Father-Son Communion Planned At St. Agnes

Santa Maria Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold a father, son corporate communion Sunday, Feb. 22, 8:30 a.m. at St. Agnes Church.

Breakfast will follow in the school cafeteria.

Call Bob Luckhaupt, BR. 9-9603 for breakfast reservations.

Judge R. Draper Presents Civitan Troop Charter

Judge R. M. Draper, as guest of the West Side Civitan Club Tuesday at the Everglades, presented a charter to the club-sponsored Boy Scout Troop 131.

Glen Eichenauer is president of West Side Civitan and Troop committee includes chairman, Jack Kidwell, 26 Lenox-av; secretary and finance, Al Holbrook; advancement, Carrol Johnson.

Outdoorsman, Virgil Thompson; Scoutmaster, Bernard Bowers, 141 Fernhill-av; Assistant Scoutmaster, Malcolm Pennell; Assistant Scoutmaster, Bill Morris.

Troop members are Patrol, Apache, Mike Tillis, Patrol Leader; John Oliff, Assistant Patrol Leader; Billy Travis, Michael Kistler, Phillip Laing, Rickey Shoot, Jack Schrum and Edwin Harroy.

Patrol Eagle, Harold Blatt, Patrol Leader; Gary Boyer, Assistant Patrol Leader; Steve Hank, Thomas Burke Jim Kimbelton, Albert Holbrook and John Hank, Senior Patrol Leader.

Guys, Dolls, Plan Swimming Party

Guys and Dolls Club of Glenwood Recreation Center will hold a swimming party at the Jewish Center Sunday, Mar. 1.

Transportation and chaperones will be provided by parents of the members. Chairmen of the affair are Jack Logue and Carol Dunlap.

All members planning to attend should notify one of the chairmen by Feb. 22.

BOY SCOUTS HAPPY AT ARMORY

LEARN SKILLS—Boy Scouts of Troop 273, sponsored by the Hilltop Optimist club, consider themselves the luckiest in the district. They are allowed to use the facilities of Robert Haubrich armory for meetings and training. Key personnel of the five guard units devote spare time to teaching valuable basic scouting subjects to the boys. Classes include first aid, map reading, compass, Morse code, radio, outdoor camping, and knots. No attempt is made to "militarize" the boys. Here, Cadet John M. Pennell, 814 Wedgewood-dr, of Medical Company, 166th Infantry, teaches first aid.

TROOPS STAY IN READINESS

FORMAL INSPECTION — Unit personnel undergo rigid inspection regularly at armory training sessions. First St. Robert D. Crawford, 3329 Miriam-dr, executive officer of Company A, 166th infantry, closely examines the rifle of Sgt. Rathwell Lutz, 1651½ N. Eureka-av, machinegun squad leader.

RIFLE RANGE SERVES DOUBLE DUTY

TRAINING AID—The sand pit of a four-point rifle range at Haubrich armory is used in this case for a purpose other than catching "spent" bullets. A miniature battleground is made of the sand to show trainees the battle formations of an infantry battalion. Lt. Donald A. Fourar, Hilliards, executive officer of Headquarters Company, first battalion, is giving the instruction.

166th Gained Battle Prestige

National Guard units are proud of their traditions.

Since the days of the Minuteman at Lexington and Concord, the militia has been made up of fathers and sons, uncles and brothers, subject to call when their freedoms are threatened.

The 166th Infantry Regiment traces its history back more than a century. The unit was first organized during the Mexican War, (June, 1846). It was composed of recruits from central and southern Ohio.

In the Civil War as part of the "Fourth Ohio" it served in nine campaigns. It went to Puerto Rico in 1898 and later was in the Mexican Border campaign.

As a regiment in the 42nd Infantry (Rainbow) Division during World War I, it made history at Champagne-Marne, where it withstood the best the Germans could offer. It later fought at Aisne-Marne, Lorraine, Champagne, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne.

In the thick of many battles and as a front line element at the time of the German surrender, it suffered heavy casualties.

After World War I the regiment was reorganized as a part of the Ohio National Guard and assigned to the 37th Division.

Between world wars it was often called for state duty during strikes and riots. Most important, perhaps, was the disastrous fire at the Ohio State Penitentiary on the Monday following Easter, 1930.

Smith L. Meyers, superintendent of the Columbus Workhouse and veteran of the outfit stated: "The regiment was denied the chance to distinguish itself in World War II combat. Members were transferred to commands scattered all over the various fronts.

"No satisfactory explanation has ever been given for this action. However, it is known that thousands of the members were in combat. The regiment furnished over 300 men for officer candidate school (unusual for a line outfit.)"

DeMolay Staters League Leaders In Glenwood Play

Behind the exceptional play of Mike Todd and the good shooting of Mike Richter, Steve Stavrides and Jerry Hummel, the Bluebirds downed the Staters 39-26 in the Senior Boys League at Glenwood.

Staters' loss now puts the league in a three-way tie for first place.

DeMolay handed the Playboys their fifth defeat of the season 46-17. Alan Daft provided DeMolay with the scoring punch by marking up 13 points. DeMolay is now tied for first by place.

Bob Capuano and Dave Dahl, scoring 11 and 14 points respectively, enabled Aces to down Cavaliers 48-30. Dean Grabill scored 10 points for the losers.

NEW PEANUT DEVELOPED

A new peanut, to be available by 1960, has been developed from irradiated seed. One of about 11,000 multations, it is known as "N. C. 4-X." Dr. Walton C. Gregory of North Carolina State College developed the new variety. It is said to be one of the few times that an improved strain of any living thing has been developed through atomic research.

MODERN INFANTRY IS COMPLEX OPERATION

ADVANCED WARFARE—Infantrymen of today face a different kind of war than did their dads and granddads. They're still foot-soldiers, yes, but they must use complex nuclear-age equipment. Here members of Hq. Co. 166th Infantry counter-fire platoon uses a sound locating device to pinpoint "enemy" gun locations. Because of this gadget mortar crews must keep on the move or face sure death. The guardsmen (left to right) are Sgt. Robert E. Scurlock, 233 N. Schultz-av; M Sgt. Loughan J. Borowski; 33 Avendale-av; Sp/3 David Powell, 583½ S. Wayne-av; and Sgt. Rodger E. Smith, 2419 Harrison-rd.

166th Is Mobile Fighting Unit

After many of its men had seen service in various parts of the globe during World War II, the 166th Infantry Regiment was reactivated on Nov. 11, 1946. It was redesignated the 166th Regimental Combat Team with headquarters at Ft. Hayes in this city.

In its present situation it is a highly mobile, complete fighting unit with its own artillery, medical, signal and service companies. In the future it may "go pentomic" utilizing small, fast units with atomic firepower. Many of these companies are found in nearby south and central Ohio towns.

Five are assigned to the new Raubrich Armory. They include: Headquarters Company, under Capt. Fred Inamelt; Service Co., Capt. Carlos Guisinger; Medical Co., Major Robert A. Vogel; Headquarters, First Battalion, Lt. Col. Joseph E. Tritschler; Hq. and Hq. Co., First Battalion, Capt. Hugh E. Clements; and Company A, Capt. William Shaffer.

Answer To Governor, President

In event of sudden war the units are subject to federal call. They are also available to local governments to take charge in extreme emergencies such as riots, strikes and sometimes fires or floods. In the recent flood, civilian employes with military experience remained on duty at the armory and helped direct the evacuation of 480 people.

More than 300 citizen-soldiers from all over Columbus and vicinity train from Monday through Thursday nights at the armory. Every year the companies take two weeks of field training. Next August they will go to Camp Breckenridge, Ky. Here they will receive indoctrination in the latest combat devices and the mathematics of warfare.

Vacancies in the units now are open to veterans of all branches of the service. There are 15 vacancies for non-prior service men available.

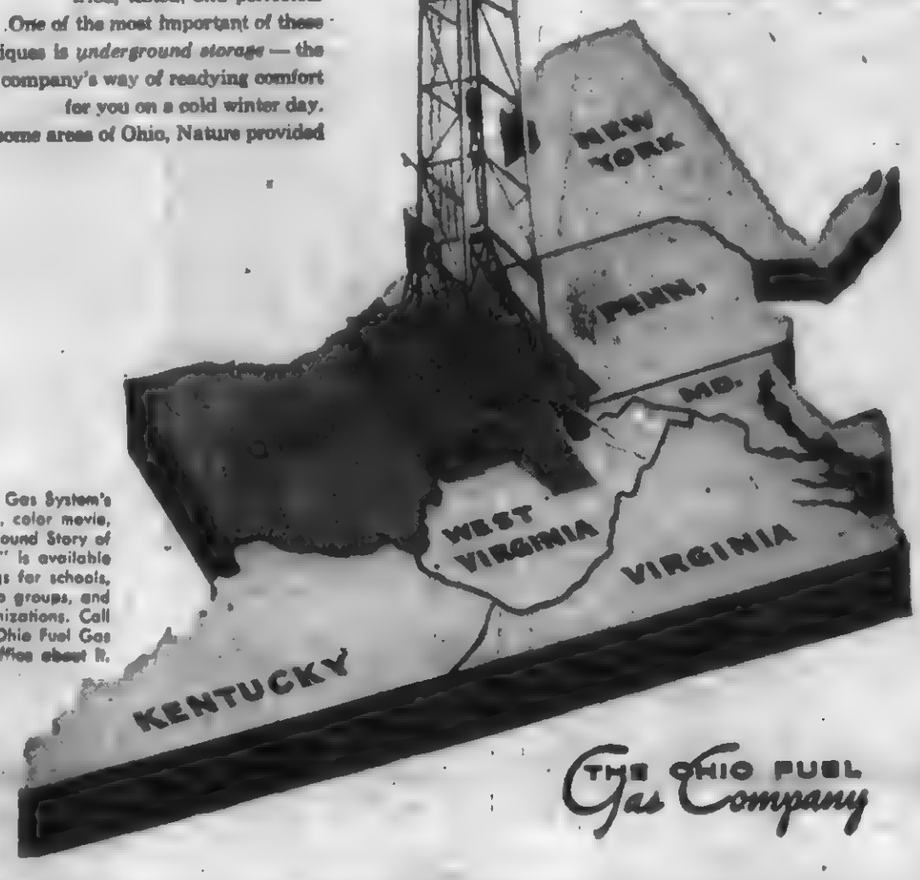
There is Something Special About Living in...

"America's Original Natural Gasland"

Perhaps you've heard Ohio is one of seven states which comprise "America's Original Natural Gasland" and that you have special advantages because you live in this area.

Why? Because Nature, and the ingenuity of the gas industry, have been combined to give the people of Ohio the finest natural gas service — at rates that are among the lowest in the nation!



It was in "America's Original Natural Gasland" that gas was first discovered in its natural form, in this country, and first put to use in home and industry. It was here that many of the techniques used to provide modern gas service were tried, tested, and perfected.

One of the most important of these techniques is underground storage — the gas company's way of readying comfort for you on a cold winter day.

In some areas of Ohio, Nature provided underground rock formations with the ability to hold vast quantities of natural gas. During summer great volumes of gas piped here from the Southwest are stored in these huge natural "warehouses." The gas is withdrawn from storage as needed, in winter, to help meet increased heating demands.

On cold winter days, more than half the gas used by Ohio Fuel customers comes from underground storage.

It's easy to understand, then, why underground storage is the heart of natural gas service in Ohio. Because of it, customers enjoy the convenience of an available supply at moderate cost — day in and day out — the year around.

The Columbia Gas System's dramatic sound, color movie, "The Underground Story of Natural Gas" is available for showings for schools, churches, club groups, and other organizations. Call your local Ohio Fuel Gas Company office about it.

Westinghouse Salutes . . . The National Guard

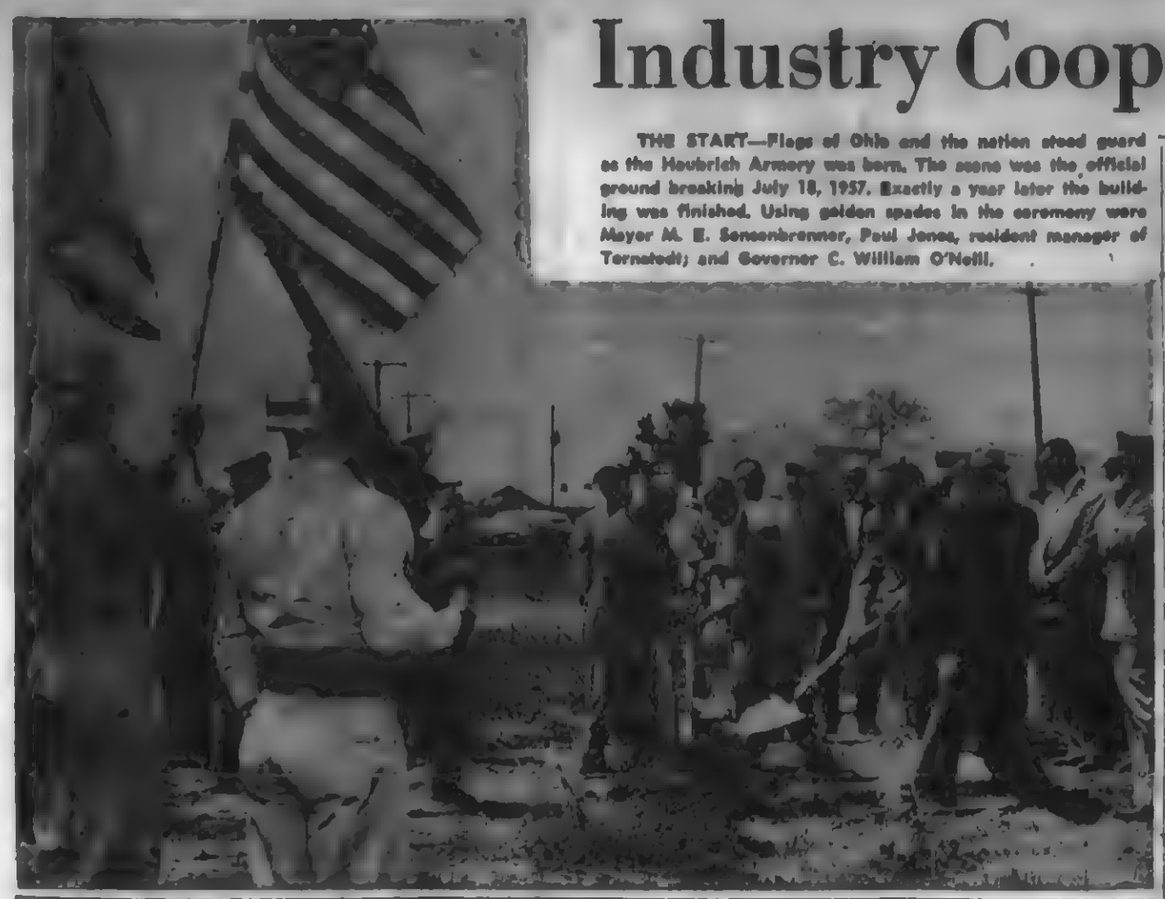
Typical of the many Westinghouse employes — who serve their country as citizen-soldiers in the National Guard — is Kenneth Swartz. A medical specialist in the 166th Infantry regiment's medical company in the Guard, he is also known as a conscientious employe in the general records section at the big Westinghouse Columbus plant.

THE citizen soldiers that allow us all to

"SLEEP WELL TONIGHT . . . . .

YOUR NATIONAL GUARD IS AWAKE"

The National Guard today like its forerunners — the Minute Men of the American Revolution and other citizen soldier groups that have fought in every war, is ready to defend America or fight for freedom the world over.



Many local Westinghouse people are active members of the National Guard. They devote much of their own time each year to schooling themselves in the methods of modern defense.

As a corporation, Westinghouse does its share, too. The company gives these citizen soldiers time off for their summer training. In fact, we even make up the difference — if any — between their regular Westinghouse pay and that they receive from the National Guard. We feel, as all America does, that the National Guard is an important link in our home defense.

We salute the National Guard on its annual Muster Day and we extend congratulations to the 166th Ohio National Guard Unit on the dedication of its new armory.

Industry Cooperated To Bring Center Here

THE START—Flags of Ohio and the nation stood guard as the Haubrich Armory was born. The scene was the official ground breaking July 18, 1957. Exactly a year later the building was finished. Using golden spades in the ceremony were Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, Paul Jones, resident manager of Ternstedt; and Governor C. William O'Neill.

Hilltop Business Association Instrumental In Finding Site

In the summer of 1956, Maj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, Adjutant General of Ohio, and Maj. Gen. Kenneth Cooper, his assistant, met with the officers of the Hilltop Business Association and informed it that money had been appropriated by Congress for the construction of two National Guard Armories in Columbus and that they would like to have one on the Hilltop.

They further stated that no money was available to purchase land for such a building, but that in whatever communities armories are located, the land must be donated to the National Guard for this purpose.

The HBA was asked to search for some satisfactory sites. A committee headed by Harold Fox, chairman of the HBA civic committee and composed of Joe Briggs, Ed Melvin, E. H. LeFever and C. H. Campbell proceeded to make a canvass of the community. Several suitable sites were located and the owners contacted.

Paul Jones, resident manager of the Ternstedt Division of General Motors agreed to take a proposal to his home office in Detroit with a recommendation that the company donate sufficient ground for this purpose. Jones, known for his civic-mindedness, heartily endorsed the plan and his efforts were successful.

In due time the transfer was consummated and in the summer of 1957 ground was broken for the construction. Governor C. William O'Neill turned the first shovelful of earth, and was followed by Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, and the military in the presence of community representatives.

"The HBA is proud to have played a part in bringing this fine structure to the community," said Secretary Campbell. "We consider it a fine addition to the Hilltop.

There will be Standard and Advanced classes for the adults and also a Junior Course for the younger ones.

Persons interested should send name, age, address, and working hours to Samuel A. Weller, 1234 S. Eureka-av. (No phone calls.) There is no charge.

Any Boy Scout taking the Junior Course will be able to pass the first aid merit badge.

Stars, Thugs Tie For First Place

Senior Stars and Thugs are in first place in the Senior Girls Basketball League at Glenwood Recreation Center. Both teams boast a 4-0 win-loss record.

Last week the Stars, paced by Shirley Larkin, defeated the Hilltoppers 21-11. Riots lost by default to the Thugs and the Knights overpowered the Sixteens 31-18.

Preceding week the Sixteens were tied for first place. They have now dropped to fourth.

Juniors lost to the Strollers by default.

Survey To Chart X-Way Routings

Locations of several routes in the city's expressway program will be determined by a county-wide traffic survey planned for April.

Residents of the city and county will be requested to list addresses of homes and employment on cards sent to them. Surveyors will determine from this the heaviest traveled routes.

Future industrial expansion plans in the west and east areas of the city will also be taken into consideration.

Survey will be conducted cooperatively by the city, state and federal bureau of public roads. Results are expected late this summer.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

'If We Use Bottom Lands We Must Pay The Price'

"The need for flood control is brought about by man's attempt to use the bottom lands along the channels and streams which are actually part of the channels that have been used for centuries to discharge their flood waters.

"The first settlements were along rivers and streams but were built above the reaches of the flood waters. As the settlements grew into cities the land along the waters became more desirable, mainly to railroads and industry with the result that the flood plains were gradually encroached upon between the great floods. In some cases the channels themselves were narrowed by dumping and filling which causes the water to flow at a higher stage and to overflow the banks at a smaller discharge than before.

"Railroad and highway bridges were constructed with openings inadequate to pass the flood waters and restricting even more the flows. The result as we have seen and experienced are flood conditions.

"All the blame cannot be put on the cities. The farmers along the valleys have used the rich bottom lands for agricultural purposes and have built levees along the banks to protect these bottom lands (flood plains) from overflow. These levees in many instances were constructed piece by piece and without coordination, each group working for its own interest and without regard to the injury the levees might cause to other lands. As a result the levees on opposite banks were built too close to each other thus restricting the flood channel and backing up the water above.

"It is within man's right to use these bottom lands because of their value but he cannot expect to dispossess the streams without paying the price. He must pay either in the form of flood damages or in the form of assessments for the construction of flood protection or flood prevention works. The more the country develops, the more the need for these bottom lands. If other provisions can be made for the flood waters at a reasonable cost, there is no doubt that they should be made.

"Floods of large volume will continue to come periodically for all time to come and man cannot prevent them. But he can and must control them and prevent the increasingly large loss of life and property.

"The flood discharges are not becoming greater but the flood heights are and so is the damage potential.

"The flood of March, 1913, in Ohio, caused a loss of over $100,000,000 and 360 lives in the Miami Valley and of about $10,500,000 and 145 lives in the Scioto Valley. The property loss by this flood in the Ohio Valley was estimated at over $180,000,000. These losses are, in general, the direct losses caused by flooding and do not include losses to railroads, public utilities, manufacturers, merchants, and business men from suspension of business.

"Where the area flooded is agricultural land, the damage is usually represented by the loss of whatever crops may be growing on the land and possibly of stock.

"Unfortunately, it usually takes a disastrous flood to arouse the public and make it realize the need and value of flood protection and to unite the various interests affected in financing, planning, and construction of flood control works. It took the flood of March, 1913 to make the people of the Miami and Scioto Valley realize the need for flood control measures. The Miami Conservancy District spent about $36,000,000 in the construction of detention basins and in channel improvements.

"Flood control is no longer considered a matter of local importance and responsibility. On Mar. 1, 1917, the first Federal Flood Control Act was passed by Congress.

"The Flood Control Act of June 1936 placed all flood control work on navigable streams and their principal tributaries under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government, and the government assumed all costs. In this act, 319 projects were specifically mentioned and approximately $400,000,000 was authorized for their construction.

"A large amount of the flood control work done in the past was done largely as the result of economic depression and of the attempt of the government to relieve unemployment. I believe the past abnormal program of public construction should become a normal one."

Carl A. Gibson

"Dear Sirs:

"On behalf of the Memorial Baptist Church I want to express to you our sincere thanks for the fine publicity you have given our church during construction and for our Dedication Day.

"This has been deeply appreciated by all of us and we want you to know it. The full page given to our dedication was outstanding and every one was happy about it.

"Too many times papers are sparse with the churches in publishing the events of importance to the public but you have done an excellent job on this occasion.

"SLEEP WELL TONIGHT . . . YOUR NATIONAL GUARD IS AWAKE"

The extensive, modern and complete Armory which is now ready for its dedication ceremonies and inspection by the public is a truly splendid addition to the growth of the West Side of Columbus. It brings to this community a very famous name, 166th Ohio National Guard, Rainbow Division, which is known and honored for its achievements throughout the various wars. It brings many new faces to the area and trains many-many more for the safety of the world.

We heartily welcome the 166th ONG units as one of the important builders of the area and congratulate all who have played a part in making this Armory ready for dedication and full operation.

Guide Forms Booklet

Again in this issue, subscribers to the six Hartley newspapers will receive a weekly guide to the top television program on all four Columbus area stations. To fold the page into a handy booklet, follow these simple instructions: Taking the page as it is presented in the paper, fold it vertically in half. Then fold the top of the page to the bottom twice until the front page of the section appears. The first three days then follow in order. By turning the page over, the other four days appear.

Lincoln Contest Draws Crowd To Sullivant Gardens Center

Sixty-five children participated in the Lincoln Sesquicentennial contest at the Sullivant Gardens Recreation Center, 890 Van Buren-dr, Tuesday evening, Feb. 3.

Judge Robert Draper and Mrs. Draper judged the entries, which included cabins and pictures, some of which were made of bark, clay, match sticks or embroidered on cloth.

After a Boy Scout meeting and the judging there was social dancing with about 125 persons present, said Mrs. Juanita Sims, director.

Awards were given as follows: Pictures by children over 14 years of age — first, Paul Duey; second, Rose Hodge; third, Leonard Reed; fourth, Patricia Abbott; fifth, Ray Rigsby.

Pictures by children under 14 years—first, Tim Noe; second Aundria Burke; third, Brownie Troop 477; fourth, Billy Neff; fifth, Sandra Whitten.

Cabins by children over 14—first Bob Stinson; second, Bob Albrecht.

Cabins by children under 14 years—first, Vivian Whitten; second, Brownie Troop 477; third, Anita Dufbeck.

Area Man Leaves Hospital After Train-Truck Collision

Thomas Dean came home to Hilliards last week. To his parents, wife and son it is a miracle that he is still alive.

Dean sustained serious injuries when a Pennsylvania railroad freight train rammed into his truck at a crossing a half mile east of Woodstock, Jan. 28.

He sustained a cerebral concussion, lacerations of the left knee, three lacerations of the scalp, a laceration of the back and multiple lacerations on the right thigh, knee and foot. His truck was completely demolished.

It is believed that Dean was thrown from the truck by the impact of the collision, and that he landed on the tar-matted roadway.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dean of 98 N. Westmoor-av, credited the efficient work of the attending physician and the quick thinking of a Woodstock mail carrier with the saving of their son's life.

Monte Kemper, the mail carrier, was the first to arrive on the scene. He called the doctor immediately who gave Dean first aid at Woodstock. Later they took the accident victim into Urbana's Mercy Memorial Hospital.

HOPES FOR CAREER

POTENT FISTS—Two months ago Glen Pack, 242 S. Cypress-av, decided to try for a Golden Gloves championship . . . a tough challenge for any youngster. He trained doggedly every day and on Feb. 9 brought back to the West Side a 118-pound novice championship and a trophy for the best novice boxer in a tourney at Zanesville. He represented the West Side Boys Club. Under the tutelage of Bob Buse, 16-year-old Glen hopes to climb to the same heights of another of the trainer's West Side successes, Johnny Palmer. Palmer is a five-time Golden Gloves winner and is now doing well as a professional, losing only three out of 22 fights.

Flood Aid Applicants Urged To Register For Relief Now

Dan Bachman, Red Cross disaster relief director, planned to suggest a Monday, Feb. 23, deadline for flood aid applications when he met Tuesday night with the local advisory committee of the organization.

Bachman urged immediate filing of requests for aid. At the same time, he underlined the fact that every application filed is being investigated.

So far, 1,061 applications have been received. The advisory council, comprised of 15 local community leaders, last week allocated $4,060 for furniture repair and replacement. This was included in $70,585 spent by the Red Cross for emergency mass care, such as food, clothing, and medical needs.

Families wishing to apply to the Red Cross for aid should visit the disaster office at Central Point before the Monday, Feb. 23, deadline. The telephone number is BR 9-7341.

Promptness in filing applications for rehabilitation also is urged by the field office of the Small Business Association, which plans to remain in the city for at least ten more weeks.

The headquarters, in Room 207 of the Old Post Office building, is handling low-interest, long term loans in the lower Ohio disaster areas.

Owners of flood-damaged businesses, churches, and homes may apply for SBA loans, either through their banks or directly to the Federal agency. SBA field, office manager George F. Baker reported scattered applications coming into his office, with the bulk of them being processed by Columbus banks. He commended the banks for doing a good job with both participating and non-participating loans.

MYF Remains In Cage Lead At Rec Center

MYF downed Hilltop 8, 51 to 26 to remain the only undefeated team in the Intermediate Boys Basketball League at Glenwood Recreation Center.

Phillip Tucker was high man for MYF with 14 points while opponent Bob Montgomery made 15.

Ronnie Stewart and Arthur Tomson (14 and 12 points) enabled the Minutemen to hand the Terriers their second loss of the season, 46 to 19.

The Warriors' Jerry Holloman provided scoring punch and Harold Woodford the rebounding power when the Warriors handed the Monarchs their sixth loss of the season, 32 to 23. Bill Bailey was high man for the losers with 7.

Smart shooting of Ronnie Stewart and the good team play of the Minutemen enabled them to smash the Warriors 37 to 25. Stewart of the Minutemen pumped in 22 points.

Bears Climb In Boys' Loop

The Bears have climbed into a tie with the Braves for first place in Glenwood Recreation Center's junior boys basketball league. Both teams own a 12-10 season record. The other teams are in the following order: Hawks, 12-11; Rams, 11-11; Colts, 10-11; and Eagles, 9-13.

In their jump from fourth to first, the Bears won three games during last week's action. With Keith Creamer scoring 7 points they defeated the Eagles 19-15. They also stopped the Rams, 30-26. Newman was high for the Bears with 10, while Logue and Link each had 10 for the losers.

By a 21-15 score, the Rams knocked off the league-leading Braves. Link was the big gun for the Rams, netting 12. Goodin had 10 for the losers. The Colts were also victims of the Rams, 26-23. High man respectively were Norman Caune, 12 and John Coleman, 14.

With Miller and Coles scoring 12 and 10 the Hawks bested the Braves 30-19. The Braves scoring was divided among six players.

Bonds' Sale Will Finance New School

Sale of $2.9 million of bonds by the Columbus Board of Education Tuesday, provides funds for the construction of five new buildings in the school system, including Georgian Heights Elementary.

Offer of 3.25 percent plus a premium of $52,799.10 made by the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago and seven associates, was accepted by the board.

Premium reduces the net interest to 3.06 percent as compared to a net interest of approximately 3.73 percent on bonds sold a year ago.

Bonds are the third and last issue of the $12.9 million approved by voters in September, 1956. The board sold $5 million each in 1957 and 1958.

This last sale will exhaust construction funds as of Dec. 31, 1959.

Georgian Heights Elementary, designed to accomodate students from Georgian Heights subdivision, will be ready for occupancy in time for next September's enrollment.

L. Dayton Named To Wade's Staff

Larry N. Wade has announced the addition of Lee Dayton to his West area real estate sales staff. Dayton was associated with the Barber and Beautician Supply Co. for 24 years as salesman and sales manager. He has been trained in the sale of residential property and, in addition, will handle the sale of businesses for his former customers. Dayton resides at 176 S. Southampton-av and his business address is [redacted].

Service Stations Bow To Sunday Ban On Business

Citations issued Feb. 8 against two service station managers for violation of the blue law resulted in closing of about 20 stations on the Hilltop and Westside, Sunday.

Agents of the Ohio Independent Merchants Association, starting its own drive after hearing of the mayor's campaign to enforce the law banning Sunday business cited William Francis, operator of a Shell station at 2314 W. Broad-st and Austin L. Wogan, Sohio station, 1294 E. [redacted].

Despite the citation, Francis remained open for business last Sunday. He was to appear in Municipal Court Wednesday for a hearing.

Wogan appeared in the police prosecutor's office last week to receive the warrant against him and will have a hearing Thursday.

Safety Director Leo Phillips said Monday he had received no orders that service stations are exempt from the Sunday ban. Police have not been citing them because of various interpretations of the law.

Coca Cola Names Cross The (T) Contest Winners

Indoor sports generally hold sway during fall and winter months, and right now a new game seems destined to join "Scrabble" and "Monopoly" as a leading indoor pastime for both juveniles and adults. Its name is "Cross the T" and oodles of prizes spur the players' interest.

"Cross the T" is played with caps from bottles of Coca-Cola. A gold or black letter is printed on each cap, under the cork. So, to play "Cross the T" all you need is caps from bottles of coke. That's the reason young folks, adults, club members, PTA groups and others are organizing parties to collect caps.

With the letters contestants seek to spell two key words currently found in advertising of Coca-Cola.

First prize winners will have their choice of either a brand new Westinghouse 17-inch portable TV, or the latest model Westinghouse portable Stereo Hi-Fi. Six hundred second prize winners will receive Eastman Kodaks new Starflash camera sets. These sets include a camera, film, batteries and flash bulbs.

Winter Leaves Mark On Roads

Worst freeze and thaw weather conditions in the past five years have left their mark on Columbus streets, with chuck holes and humps developing faster than a 150-man repair crew can patch them.

City Engineer Robert Werner said the city's 960 miles of paved streets suffered extensive damage from heavy rains and snows that washed out street foundations, coupled with freezing and thawing.

What's more, the nightly freezes and thaws expected in the next weeks will increase the holes and bulges, he added.

Not until freezes are past will more repair crews be hired, he said; and some of the brick streets completely resurfaced with concrete.

Budget Slows Three Local Projects

Tightening of city expenditures in 1959 will shelve three West area projects, temporarily at least, a study of the new capital improvements budget reveals.

On the plus side are expanded facilities for parks, sewers, recreation and care of the elderly.

Left behind is the proposed remodeling of an old barn into a recreation center at the Valleyview Park development (tagged at $21,760); purchase of land for a park next to Binns Elementary school ($37,500); and city acquisition of the old Fieser school site on W. State-st ($60,000).

PARK ALREADY PURCHASED

One of the approved works for 1959 has already been accomplished—purchase of Hilltonia school park site for which $42,000 was allotted. The city has set aside $51,000 for purchase of land for a new Senior Citizens housing and recreation center in the West Side. Use of public-voted bonds has been authorized for a $30,000 heating plant for Glenwood Recreation Center and a new auditorium ceiling ($10,000) at Sunshine Recreation Center.

By far the biggest local item in the '59 budget, is $500,000 for relief sewers in the lower West Side. It's a holdover from the past, however, and is proving a knotty problem for city officials. Besides its flatness, the area is laced with underground gas and utilities lines. Outside help from a consulting firm will probably be required first before any sewer work can be scheduled, a department official said.

In presenting his program to council last month M. D. Portman, city finance director, indicated that 26 of 73 projects must be delected because of the financial pinch.

Commenting on the Parks and Forestry Division's work shelved here Director Ray Dietz said: "The only other money we have is tied up to commitments elsewhere in the city and can be spent only as originally intended." He said he was hopeful that some money can be scraped together to buy at least seven acres of park land near the proposed Georgian Heights [illegible].

Dietz said his department had hoped to remodel an old barn in the northwest part of Valleyview-dr park development to serve immediate needs of youngsters in two schools there. This seems out of the question now, he said.

FIESER SITE AWAITS BUYER

With deferment of city funds the Columbus Board of Education still has no suitable buyer for the vacant lot where old Fieser School once stood. Some time ago the city matched a private bid of $42,000 for it. According to F. T. Rudy, executive assistant to the superintendent, the property had been appraised at nearly $60,000, so the bids were refused.

"We need the money to buy new school sites and the like," Rudy said, "and had hoped we could liquidate it quickly." He said that possible condemnation of the area for a State Office building could have discouraged buyers. City interests in the spot are classified under "offstreet parking."

FREEWAY, RECREATION NEEDS STATED

Looking ahead into the next five years, local capital improvements projects include share of costs of a $10 million freeway to West Jefferson, and completion of parks on Clime-rd and adjacent to Valleyview, Hilltonia, Binns and Lindbergh [illegible].

Tabbed for recreation needs is the Senior Citizens center (by 1961), a recreation center at Westgate Park (1960), swimming pool at Sunshine and possibly Westgate Centers (1961-62), acquisition of land for new playgrounds and needed lighting and equipment.

Veteran Swimmer Recovering From 'Hopeless' Virus Illness

REMINISCING — James M. Sleppey, right, famed long-distance swimmer and son of the couple who first operated West Side Settlement House, forerunner of Gladden Community House, discusses "good old days" with Carl Bogert, present director of Gladden.

Will To Live Is Stronger Than Illness

By Betty Dutt

James N. Sleppey's last trip home from far-away places was perhaps his longest, most arduous.

The veteran teller of Ohio National Bank and long-distance swimmer of world-wide fame contracted a vicious virus in Europe last summer, resulting in operations in Rome and later in Columbus.

Although it was predicted he could not live, he is stubbornly refusing to give up, and confidently predicts he will be swimming again this summer.

An Ohio National Bank teller for 35 years, Sleppey has worked mostly at the main bank, but has served at different times at all the older branch offices, including West Side and South Side.

Through the years he has answered the challenge of far-away rivers and oceans by combining vacation time with leaves of absence for long jaunts, "To an ocean somewhere, or maybe a river I heard was difficult to swim."

Although travelling throughout the world in distance-swimming feats, he has always returned to Columbus, made "home" by close friends and business associates.

Roots Are Deep

The West Side where he spent part of his childhood, and Gladden Community House, operated by his parents when it was first founded, are where his roots are deepest.

On intimate terms with most of the world's great bodies of water, those he has conquered include the ancient Thames River at Kew, London; the Tiber wending through ruins of old Rome, Havana Bay at Cuba; Nassau Harbor in the Bahamas, Montego Bay at Jamaica, famed Castle Course at Waikiki Beach, Honolulu; Mississippi, Hudson, Snake, Colorado, Detroit, and Potomac Rivers.

Sleppey learned to swim as a boy in England, during a six-months' stay with his parents there.

Surprisingly enough, he was afraid of water when he was young, and for a long time, mistrusted large bodies of water . . . deep, wide, swift-running rivers and oceans with their strong currents.

INTERNATIONAL SWIMMER — Germany's Rhine River is one of many conquered by Sleppey during periodic swimming jaunts to Europe. He is shown taking a practice swim in a Cologne pool. He is back home in Columbus, at Virginia Hotel, recuperating from a serious virus illness contacted in Europe last summer.

But he found none of his fears ever came true. He never developed a cramp or had an accident, and gradually developed confidence in the water and in his abilities.

Never trying for speed records, he concentrates instead on achieving distance. The technique of "slow and steady" has [illegible] his philosophy to live by.

Strongly advocating swimming as a hobby and aid to a healthier, happier life, Sleppey prefers Lake Erie, off Kelly Island for mile-long swims.

Dangers of speedboats and water skiers are feared most by distance swimmers.

Swam "Wildest River"

"When I swam the Snake River between Clarkson, Wash., and Lewistown, Idaho, authorities cleared the area of skiers and speedboats until I passed. Groups of people would join me, swimming alongside for a while before dropping out.

"Snake River is the wildest in the world. Hell's Canyon, near the headwaters, is the deepest in the world and much of the river is white water. A swimmer drowned in the river

Filling Station Group Sets 'Blue Law' Talk

West Side and Hilltop service station operators, teetering between opposing pressure from Blue Law enforcers and their supplying oil companies, plan a meeting to discuss the problem Thursday night.

Members of the Columbus and Franklin County Independent Service Dealers, Inc., will meet at 7:30 p.m. with their attorney, Vernon Kertzinger of 2542 W. Broad-st at City National Bank, 3109 W. Broad-st.

Conflicting opinions on service stations' status under the Sunday closing law have caught operators in a squeeze between two powerful forces.

CLOSE UP! OPEN UP!

Law says they must close—oil companies insist they must open.

Any service station remaining open on Sunday is liable for citation by agents of the Ohio Independent Merchants Association or the police for violation of the Blue Law.

Oil companies, pointing to leases that call for seven-day operation of stations by operators, urge them to remain open, contending stations may legally do so by selling only gasoline and oil.

Haunted with the thought of losing their leases for violation of contract, but unable to afford the stiff penalties for disobeying the law, most operators plan to continue closing on Sunday. About 20 were closed here last week end.

They hope at Thursday night's meeting to gather their forces, agree on certain issues and prepare a united front. Plans are to urge either complete enforcement of the present Blue Law on a state-wide basis or lobby for legislation to revise the statute.

Attorney Kertzinger will explain the law fully to the group and outline possible courses of

Charter May Divide City In Districts

District representation will probably be part of the revised charter slated to be placed before Columbus electors perhaps as early as the May primaries.

Democratic city councilmen indicated they would support such a move following a hearing on the charter changes last Thursday night.

Councilman Fred J. Shoemaker, in making the policy statment, said the four Democratic legislators had practically agreed the councilmen should be elected from each of five districts: East, West, South, North and Northeast, with four councilmen to be elected at-large from the entire city.

While urging its inclusion with the other charter changes, the Democratic councilmen also pushed for an early May election on the proposals.

Levee Work Still Hummin' On Schedule

Overhaul of Dry Run levee is "going along well" according to Carl Shoene, director of sewers and drainage, who is overseeing the work.

"The cold nights earlier this week was a little rough on our men," said Shoene, "but the Holt Co. is determined to meet its Mar. 4 deadline." The contractor has worked around-the-clock on the flood ruptured dike since it was awarded the job for $33,350 a week ago.

Shoene said the levee has already been raised a foot from the Scioto to the upper end. The heightening has been halted for a while as workers began to lay rip-rap (stone facing) on the side of the ditch.

The contractor is using good quality fill dirt from an old

Rites Are Held For F. Williams

Services for Fred A. Williams, 52, of 898 Anthony-dr, were held Monday at Schoedinger Chapel. He died Saturday at White Cross Hospital.

He was a salesman for Rodenfels Chevrolet and a member of West Gate Lodge F&AM, Scottish Rite and Shrine.

Surviving are his wife, Ellen L.; father, William H. Williams, son, Fred, Jr.; daughter, Ellen Jean Bergh; five brothers; three sisters; and two grandchildren.

Burial was at Sunset Cemetery.

Orchestra Wins Award; To Give Concert Sunday

Three numbers performed by West Junior-Senior High Orchestra in the state contest for high school orchestras held last Saturday at Dayton, will be featured during the orchestra's concert Sunday, Mar. 1 in the school auditorium.

Public is invited to the concert, scheduled for 2:30 p.m. A reception will follow the program.

West's orchestra received a rating of II for its performance of "The Lament," "Fugue In G Minor" and "Fantasia On The Alleluia" at Saturday's contest.

Judging was on the basis of music performance, intonation, musicianship and selection.

None of the five schools entered in the event was rated high than West's II. Classification of I is reserved only for an outstanding performance.

John Dale, director, gave band members a verbal pat on the back with his praise. "They not only brought instrumental music honors on their school, but behaved with the poise and dignity of young adults.

"I heard comments everywhere on their actions and behavior throughout the day. They were a credit to their school."

Admission to Sunday's concert is free.

CONCERT PROGRAM

Program will include, in addition to the three selections performed at the contest, a solo with orchestra accompaniment, "Swallow's Flight" featuring Sharon Downey and Gary Walker, flute and clarinet.

Other numbers will be "Hoagroise" from "Damnation Of Faust" and "Metropolitan Portrait."

A woodwind quartet performing in the "Lament" includes flute, Joan Lorenz; oboe, Sulvia Sanborn; clarinet, Gary Walker and bassoon, Suzy Crawshaw.

West High Band Parents will sponsor the reception following in Room 150.

PUBLISHER ON THE MEND

C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of Hartley Newspapers, is recuperating at Mt. Carmel Hospital following surgery last week. He is expected to be released this week end.

GREEN GRASS GREW ALL AROUND!

MOW ME DOWN!—Imagine how the folks at Columbus Coal and Lime Co., Glenwood and Sullivant-ave, felt last week when they discovered a lush six-inch growth of grass in their basement. It was on sills, around moldings, and generally everywhere. How did it happen? January's flood filled the basement and expertly mixed broken sacks of grass seed and fertilizer. Now, John Niermeyer (above, with shears) can claim to be the first in the city to cut grass this year.

Bowman's Dairy Co., 1068 W. Broad-st, has received a permit for the building of an addition to a concrete building.

YOUR BIRTHDAYS

Every year, with monotonous regularity, each of us 'celebrates' a birthday. With each birthday, we grow a little older. If we also grow a little wiser, we realize what life insurance can do for our future and for our families. And on each birthday, we would be wise to ask ourselves a few questions:

"Have my circumstances changed since last year? Do I now need greater life insurance coverage? Had I better not do something about it immediately before my age changes again, and any new policy which I take out proves more expensive?"

Parents Hold Key To Scouting's Success Sanford Tells Group At Court Of Honor

MOTHER WITNESSES—A Scout and his mother step forward to receive the Tenderfoot badge of rank, Sunday at Haubrich Armory as Troop 273 held its first Court of Honor. Sponsored by the Western Optimists and encouraged by the armory board, the troop has sprung from five to 43 members since January. Many of the boys live in Georgian Heights and Westgate Manor.

Importance of strong support by parents was stressed throughout the first Court of Honor held by Boy Scout Troop 273, Sunday evening at Haubrich Armory. Twenty-one boys received their Tenderfoot badge of rank as the Optimist-backed troop got off to a rousing start.

Scoutmaster Elmer Randle brought the group to order and Rev. Edward L. Gard of Our Saviour Lutheran Church gave the invocation and blessing.

Following a potluck supper, Scoutmaster Randle announced a drive for membership in the troop's Women's Auxiliary.

Three patrols served as color guard to start the meeting. Committee Chairman Rufus Parrish introduced volunteer District Commissioner Vernon Sanford.

"Parents can determine how far, how successful a Scout unit can go," Sanford said, urging families to give full support to the new troop. He also touched on important points about uniforms, camping, equipment, troop finances, and work of the auxiliary in planning troop functions.

Howard Hagen, institutional representative, urged the unit to promote good will and service in the community, and build respect for law.

Hagen gave recognition to Chief Warrant Officer Walter Donaugh and Col. Joseph Tritschler for the assistance of Guard units at the armory.

Hagen then delivered the charge to Tenderfoot candidates appearing before a table of 12 white candles. Senior Leader Tom Randle and Scout mothers assisted. Mothers received miniature badges.

To Show Gun Safety

A theme has been selected by Post 29 for this year's Scout-O-Rama. The boys will present a booth on "Gun Safety." The Scout-O-Rama will be held this year on Mar. 14 and 15, at the state fair grounds.

Next week a member of Post 29 will visit Post 225 to outline plans for a district-wide first-aid course for Explorers.

Banquet Gay Event

A spaghetti dinner provided a different accent to Pack 248's Blue and Gold Banquet, Feb. 22. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meade, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stevenson.

Awards were presented to several Cubs. George Baird, Mark Stevenson and Norman Welch were given den chief's cords.

Wolf badges went to Russell Ransberg and Michael Ream, who also won a gold arrowhead. Silver arrowheads were given to Melvin and Milton Jones and Shermin Griffith. Melvin Jones also received a denner bar. An assistant denner bar patch went to Steven May. Bear awards were won by Charles Hall, Jr., and Rodney Horn. Rodney also won a gold arrowhead.

Local talent entertained. The pack's new charter was presented by Harry Arnold.

Ellis To Play Again

Another dance, sponsored by Pack 114 and Troop 411, will take place at South Franklin School Mar. 20. Dave Ellis and his band will be on hand.

Pack 114's committee thanks all who took part in the bake sale Feb. 6 at Central Point.

Ill Present at Pack 21

More than 200 people attended Pack 21's Blue and Gold Banquet last Thursday evening at West Park Methodist Church. Among the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rasor, Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rhoads and Lorren West, scoutmaster of Troop 29.

Four boys were taken into Troop 29 from Pack 21. They are Omar Cordell, Ned Martin, Jack Howells and Ronnie Scott.

The Howells Sisters, a vocal ensemble, sang.

Pack 21 will sell Jet badges again this year.

trict representations are expected to overcome this biggest block at Monday night's council meeting by outlining the boundaries of each of the five sections.

Earlier attempts to include district representation in the city charter were dropped when supporters were unable to draw boundaries.

Hartley Newspapers had urged councilmen to consider district representation two weeks ago in a front page editorial.

The editorial stated that:

"Such a plan would encourage better candidates from each area to run for council because of the fact they would not have to campaign over such a wide area."

"As Columbus continues to expand rapidly the residents of any section will feel nearer their city government if there is assurance that at least one councilman lives in their area. It will make it possible for local matters to get better consideration than otherwise might be true."

orchard on state hospital property, said Sheene. Four feet of it will be thrown up between the Pennsylvania Railroad and McKinley-av. Where the original break occurred, the earthen wall will be built more than seven feet higher than before, he said.

A spokesman for the county engineer said their workers will begin today or Thursday to clean out the debris found clogging culverts in a 300-foot section beyond the city line.

Agreements with the railroads on installing bigger culverts are still pending.

Parents Operated Center

His parents, John W. and Dora Sleppey, were educators and social workers. His mother taught grade school and his father served at different times as teacher, superintendent of Middletown School and professor of mathematics in Akron, where James was born.

Responding to a need in the West Side, Dr. Gladden, pastor of the Congregational Church, and Mrs. J. A. Jeffrey opened the West Side Settlement House, forerunner of Gladden Community House.

Mr. and Mrs. Sleppey operated the center until 1920, providing recreation, gymnasium, sewing instruction, a kindergarten and guidance to youngsters and oldsters alike.

Carl Bogart, present director of Gladden, and a close friend of the Sleppeys, assumed duties of the post in 1921.

John Sleppey's death in 1934 and Dora's in 1937 were mourned by hundreds who had benefited from their help and counsel.

Speaking of his parents' work Sleppey recalls, "They had a friendly, old-fashioned, comfortable way that people responded to immediately.

Illness Only Interim

He describes his near brush with death and his illness as an interim, "A bad day between many good ones. But I'm out of the hospital now, out of pajamas and in civvies, and when summer comes again I'll be swimming."

Blue Law—

action.

Glenn Howell of Howell's Sunoco Station, 2035 Sullivant-av, described the tour he and a number of other station operators made of Franklin County, Sunday.

"With our own stations closed because of possible citations, we made purchases in many other business establishments. This law is state-wide; they should be closed as well as we."

Can't Afford Fines

Explaining their dilemma, Howells continued, "Most of us just can't afford to be cited.

"First offense is $25 plus $6 court costs, approximately $25 attorney fees and $12 to $15 wages for a man to tend the station while we're in court.

"Second offense rates a $100 fine and maybe ten days in jail.

"As for confining sales to gasoline and oil, stations have a lot more to sell. A customer's tire is just as flat, and he wants it fixed just as much on Sunday as on Monday."

Members of the Service Dealers group feel, as Howells does, that the public and businessmen alike should express their opinions of the Blue Law in its present form.

They urge everyone who has an idea on the subject to write their six representatives and two congressmen expressing their wishes on the matter.

Youngsters Start West Side Fire

Two sisters, age 2 and 4, apparently set a fire which caused $1200 damage to the upper floor of the John A. Pearce home, 45 Hawkes-av, last Thursday morning.

Their mother said she smelled smoke about 9:30 a.m. while working in the kitchen. She investigated and found an upstairs bedroom ablaze. Mrs. Pearce then awakened her husband sleeping in an adjoining room.

Firemen working nearby on Broad-st were called to put out the fire.

It was the proud ideal of Frank A. Glick, and then of his brother, I. A. Glick, to have a store where values were apparent the year 'round, where dealings were based on fairness and honesty, and where the building of life-long friendship was a sacred trust. This was done, and then through the years, they searched for a way to express to their many friends a way of simply saying "Thank You." In 1926 . . .

The Original 19% Bonus Event was the result and their gift to all!

Abraham Lincoln Said:

"This government must be preserved in spite of the acts of any man or set of men. Nowhere in the world is presented a government of so much liberty and equality. To the humblest and poorest amongst us are held out the highest privileges and positions. Ternstedt plant of General Motors awarded $14,503.88 for 468 employee suggestions made during 1958, Paul L. Jones, resident manager, said, this week.

The top award of $1,184.71 went to Walter Ross, Jr., Sunbury. Ross suggested a revision in the method of trimming windshield side garnish moldings, reducing the cost of building dies for the 1958 models. The idea improved a rough grinding operation, officials said.

PERMIT ISSUED

Ralph Schwaigert, 68 W. Park-av, has been granted a permit to build a six-room, one and one-half bath concrete block and stucco dwelling and one and one-half car garage at 410 N. Grener-rd, in Prairie Township.

Ohio State University Extension sheep specialists say it is possible to obtain a pound of gain on suckling lambs from birth to market weight with as little as 2.19 pounds of feed.

Lincoln Hospital Gives Land For Two Buildings

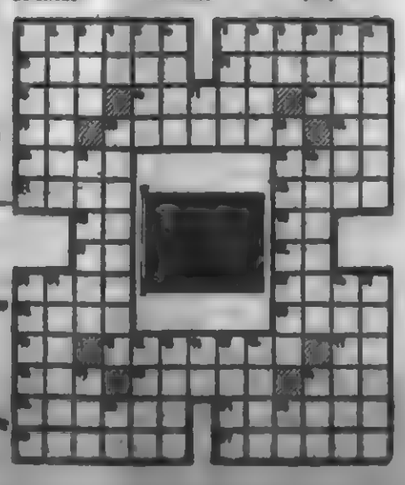
Shortly after the Lincoln celebration Feb. 12 at the new Lincoln Memorial Hospital, 3341 E. Livingston-av, the trustees announced that six acres of ground adjacent to the hospital had been made available for a future home for the Lincoln Historical Association as well as a building for medical research in connection with the hospital. Doctors H. H. Kanter and R. L. McFarland, 1648 Wilson-rd, are trustees of the hospital.

Prof. Earl W. Wiley, state chairman of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial committee and Emile Reiss, 28 N. Wheatland-av, chairman of the Ohio Lincoln Historical Association, Inc. fathered legislation which gave Ohio the authority to go along with national plans to commemorate the Lincoln Sesquicentennial.

TB Seal Gift Follow-Up Starts

Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County this week completed a mailing of 23,000 follow-ups for the 1958 Christmas seal sale.

The letter went to former contributors whose gifts were not received. They were to serve a dual purpose: to remind those who may have forgotten to send their contributions, and to help the post office track down contributions which were sent but never reached their destination.



The 1958 Christmas seal sale is reported $15,000 short of the goal and current needs.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Jesus' Realm Is Different From World

It was of little children that Jesus said, "Of such is the kingdom of Heaven." He also said, "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

It is good to think on the meaning of His kingdom during this Lenten season.

It is the child-like whose characters can be formed by God. Those whose very poverty of spirit makes possible their enrichment by being filled with the Spirit of God are fit subjects of Christ's kingdom.

Jesus said that His kingdom was here and now. It is "within you," or "in your midst," in whichever may we may translate His words.

His kingdom is not of this world, in the sense that its nature and principles are different from those of the kingdoms of the world, and the ideas, rules and principles that govern earthly kingdoms.

The principles of the kingdom that Jesus proclaims are love and service; not getting, but giving. "It is more blessed to give, than to receive."

To the materially minded this concept has always seemed visionary and impractical.

To those of greater vision it is quite apparent how different this strife-torn world could be, if we would all practice the Golden Rule, founded in the love of God and brotherly love.

The President of the U.S. is honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America.

Band Variety Show Date Planned For Mar. 13, 14

By Carol Souther

Twenty-six members of the Future Teachers of America were initiated into the club Feb. 19. There will be no other initiation this year for those who did not attend.

Also on Thursday the 19th, the first rehearsal for the 20th annual Band Variety Show. This year's show will have the theme of "Cinema-Toast." It will, as the title states, give a toast to the movie industry and all its glamour. The show will be held on Mar. 13 and 14. It is open to the public.

Yesterday at the Y-Teen's meeting, members had a rare treat. Mothers of Jerry Spears, Ray Horkey, Don Uldricks, Ted Miller and Bill Hill participated in a panel discussion on boy and girl relationship. Shirley Larkin and Diane Kelsay led the discussion. A trio comprised of Mary Gallicchio, Nancy Phillips, and Judy Miller sang.

On Tuesday, Feb. 24, a meeting for boys interested in baseball was held in room 138.

Meeting for boys interested in high school track was held at 3:30 in room 218, on Feb. [illegible].

Patti Donaldson, June '58, was elected Arnold Air Force Queen Jan. 17 at Lockbourne Air Force Base. She is also a finalist for the Military Ball Queen, Feb. 28. Patti is a pledge of Delta Gamma Sorority at Ohio State University. Congratulations, Patti.

On Monday, Feb. 22, the Girls' Glee Club elected officers. They are president, Polly Fisher, and business manager, Judi Robison.

Central Seniors Choose Officers For 1959 Class

BY NAN LONG

Officers of the Senior Class, 1959, were chosen at an election held Friday. They are: president, George Heery; vice-president, David Bridges; secretary, Marilyn Dye; treasurer, Shirley Marvin. Wilbur Hopkins, history department, is to be the new advisor of senior class activities.

Deadline is creeping up.. chaos surrounds the staff of the "Doubloon", Central's yearbook. Copy will be shipped to the printers Mar. 1. The journalism room is a scene of bedlam. Last minute page paste-ups are under way, copy is being turned out to complete the pages, and there is always that sudden scramble to find a vital photo that managed to get misplaced.

A two-weeks sales campaign has come to a close, and now the usual financial crisis adds to the confusion. Soon, things will calm down a bit, leaving only long, tedious hours of galley proof reading to the staff.

Changes of last week find a new name on the Central faculty list: Carol Jennings, of Ravenna. A graduate of Ohio State, Miss Jennings has taught in Lorain for the past two years. Because of the absence of Floyd Carlisle, who is working as social studies researcher for the Board of Education, there has been a rearrangement of schedules for history teachers. Miss Jennings will teach 10th and 11th grade history as well as some English courses.

Tryouts for Central majorettes will be held this week, with Mrs. Hazel Varner, physical education teacher and Robert Rockey, band director, acting as judges for the preliminaries. Don Harter, drum major will help with the final judging.

Bellows Art Club is looking ahead beyond the snow and zero weather. Carol Gramlich, president, will meet this week with the school beautification committee to plan for a spring tree planting.

Bellows club is financing the planting of cherry trees along Washington-blvd in front of Central. Members hope that someday a line of pink-blossoming trees will follow the Scioto the entire length of the school grounds, from Broad-st to Town-st.

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

Mrs. Arthur Sherlock
BR. [illegible]

To fulfill requirement No. 8 of the Trail Makers rank, the Mah-Kah-Wee Camp Fire Group held a Valentine party, Feb. 10, for the sponsors and mothers of the group. Decorations and refreshments were made by the members.

Mothers attending were Mrs. Mary Schluep, Mrs. Edna Chambers, Mrs. Frank Robinson and leaders Mrs. Joseph Sorg, and Mrs. Jeanne Sutherland.

Mah-Kah-Wee girls present were Margaret Chambers, Mary Chambers, Sharon Dunfee, Susan Jessberger, Catherine Rheinscheld, Sandy Robinson, Linda Schluep, Mary Alice Sorg and Mary Sutherland. Georgia Brannon was unable to attend due to illness.

"Sweetum" Blue Bird girls were hostesses Feb. 12 to a Council Fire and Valentine party with their mothers as honored guests. Refreshments were planned and served by the members. Each girl received a charm for her help during the recent candy sale.

Mothers present were Mrs. Carroll Triplett, Mrs. Richard Wright, Mrs. Donald Riggs, Mrs. Raymond Moss, Mrs. Jack Snyder, Mrs. Jerry Boggs, Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. Ross Brandt, leader and Mrs. Arthur Sherlock, co-leader.

Barbara Randall Chosen Sunshine Teen Queen

Girl Leaders Club of Sunshine Recreation Center sponsored a Valentine dance, Feb. 14 and Barbara Randall, 750 Sullivant-av, reigned as queen.

Central Fire Riddle Ends

Three boys, 9, 10, and 11 who already have juvenile bureau records for shoplifting, breakins and truancy admitted to setting fire to a large can of gasoline at the rear of Central High School Sunday evening.

Two brothers who live on S. Washington-av, were arrested downtown at 1 a.m. Tuesday for breaking the curfew. Police said they are the same boys who tried to cut down trees on the State House lawn last fall.

Central Janitor Orlo Ator, 265 S. Richardson-av, said the youths somehow managed to lift a 250-pound metal grating at the school and throw it into a window well. The gasoline had been dumped from a nearby locker.

Decorations centered around an eight foot paper heart which covered the entire south window of the auditorium.

On the afternoon of Feb. 24 a special Juliette Low International Friendship program was given at the West Mound School.

Mrs. Campbell Warren was [illegible]. Representing the different countries were Brownies Linda Marie Burke (Holland) and Patricia Ruscilli (Spain). Both are members of Troop 965, St. Agnes School, and their leader is Mrs. Charles Burke. Representing Ireland was Michele Floor, and China, Kathleen Ott, of Intermediate Troop 459, St. Agnes School, Mrs. F. Downey, leader.

Brownies Mary Fisher portrayed Italy, and Barbara Howell, Sweden. They belong to Brownie Troop 206, led by Mrs. William Fisher. Representing "All-American Girls" were Mrs. Campbell Warren's Hilltonia Junior High Intermediate Troop 548, who also received their five-year pins. West Mound School Brownie Troop 215 (Mrs. John Grace) sang songs; Mrs. Bowers' Intermediate Troop 73 participated in the canning portion of a garden scene.

Rachel McBride of Troop 73 portrayed the Philippines and wore a regular uniform from that country.

The program began with a flag ceremony by Troop 459. Ruth Knott, Sharen Schothorn and Mary Downey were color guards. Re-enacting Juliette Low's life were Andrea Burke, Troop 477 (Mrs. Ruth Burke, leader); Mrs. Johnson's Brownie Troop 645; Senior Scouts, Polly Fisher and Alberta Sears of Troop 224; Toni Warren of Intermediate Troop 548, and members of Mrs. K. Rigsby's Intermediate Troop 103.

For the garden scene Shelia Valentine, Virginia Cain, Cynthia Barch and Jennifer Barch of Brownie Troop 965 portrayed the garden soil preparation, seed planting, vegetable picking and canning.

Alice Rigsby and Annita Buble of Troop 103 gave a first aid demonstration.

Representing Pakistan in the program were Linda Reece, Troop 103. Patty Loudner represented Japan.

For the Juliette Low International Friendship fund, which extends scouting to other lands, the troop members of this neighborhood measured their feet and contributed a like number of pennies.

Intermediate Troop 246,
Mrs. Carl Chaffin, Leader

The following officers were elected at the Tuesday meeting at Gladden Community Center for a term of six weeks: president, Judy Buhrts; secretary, Terrill Deming; treasurer, Rita Houghland; phone, Judy Johnson; news Avis Ann Chaffin; sergeant-at-arms, Alice Brolist.

Intermediate Troop 555,
Mrs. Nancy Demorest, Leader

Georgia Showalter and Jean Demorest had charge of the Valentine party refreshments and entertainment at Gladden Community Center. They played games and danced.

Brownie Troop 890,
Mrs. Walter Deal, Leader

The girls enjoyed visiting Omar Bakery, and also the Coca-Cola plant. Due to the flood, the troop was unable to meet at St. John's Episcopal Church for several weeks. The church basement was badly hit by the wa-

St. John's Chicks Patrol is nearing completion on the second class badge work, Trefoil Badge, and individual badges. Supersonic Cats Patrol, under Patrol Leader Alice Wemyss, made leather purses. Materials were supplied by Alice's father. They have put on several plays for the Chicks Patrol and are working hard on badges.

Glen Valley Neighborhood Scout families extend heartfelt thanks to the girls of Districts I, VIII, IX and X for their donations of household articles, food and tons of clothing to the flood victims.

Many families were very hard hit, and it was like Christmas all over being able to get the necessary clothing, in particular, at this time.

Special thanks go to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Deal, and St. John's Episcopal Church for this project. Mrs. Deal is neighborhood chairman of Glen Valley, and although she and her family were able to return home only this past week, she and Walter spent all their time at St. John's sorting and distributing so that ohers might benefit from these donations.

St. John's parishioners, even though they were pumping water, scraping mud and just trying to clean up in general, gave their parish hall to this project. More than 50 Scout families and more than 1200 individual persons benefited by this project. "A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout."

All leaders, co-leaders, committee members and registered adults of West High Neighborhood, Girl Scouts, are urged to attend the February meeting at 1:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 26 at the Hilltop "Y".

Mrs. H. C. Booth, new neighborhood chairman will preside.

West High Planning Board of Girl Scouts, composed of representatives from all troops registered in West High Neighborhood and under the direction of Mrs. D. Talmadge Crawshaw, have completed plans for the annual International and Juliette Lowe party.

It will be held Wednesday, Feb. 25 at Westgate Park Shelter House from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

There will be games, dancing and refreshments, announced Mrs. John Swartz, 2920 Olive-st.

Hilltonia Juniors Win

Hilltonia and Starling Junior Highs hooked up in a Westend dual last week with Hilltonia coming out on top, 45-14. The victors were led by Dwight Newman's 18 while the losers were paced by Jim Simpson's five. Hilltonia's record is now 5-6 and Starling's 2-6. Starling ends its season at home this Thursday afternoon against Indianola, while Hilltonia and West Jr. High finish with traditional rivalry . . . at West Thursday. Hilltonia took West's measure 35-27 in the latter's first game this season, so the young Cowboys will have their sights set on evening matters up.

WEST SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS REVIVE WRESTLING PROGRAM

WEST GRAPPLERS—First wrestling team West has produced in many years is made up of these sophomores and juniors. The entire team will return next year for its first full year of inter-school competition. The members are: (front, l. to rt.) Irvin Hill, Roger Johnson, Dick Stelz, Jim Morris and Bob Saint. Second row—Frank Wilgus, Steve Strohm, Larry McQuerrey, Dave Koons and Eric Marlow. Back row—Dick Reams, Lyn Hegele, Tim Skaarer, Tom McGill and Bill Ardle. Absent were Mike Marsh, Bill Doughty, John Graham and Dan Snyder.

Central Still Driving; Reserves Get Crown

In tourney warring at the Coliseum, Monday evening, Central's Pirates thrilled spectators as they nipped Mt. Vernon, 61-60.

A free throw by John Hillman during the clock's final upswing set the victory. However a side shot by Gary Nell of Mt. Vernon in the final five made the contest a hair-raiser.

The Pirates will square off against Linden McKinley this Friday at 5 p.m.

Central finished its regular season with a 68-49 triumph over Aquinas to end up in second place in the City League race . . . behind North and East who tied for the crown.

The Pirates held quarter leads of 15-8, 26-22 and 49-30. They controlled the boards, but their fast break was only "so-so" in its effectiveness on the small Aquinas floor. The Terriers would come within 2-3 points and then the Pirates would spurt; their biggest lead being 21 points about midway thru the third period.

Leading scorers for the game were Jim Gunnell with 15, Butch Lynch with 11 and John Hillman with 10. The Bucs finished the regular season with a 12-6 record.

The Buc reserves wrapped up undisputed first place in the City League Reserve race for the year as they downed Aquinas, 47-42. A little too cocky most of the time, the Bucs had their troubles maintaining command of the game.

Tied up at 9-all after the first period, the Bucs led the rest of the way at 23-16 at halftime and 32-23 at the three quarter mark. Central's lads wouldn't set up their plays and shots until the third period when they finally took charge. But, in the game's late stages they reverted to their ragged style. George Molley's 14 and Roosevelt Coffey's 11 paced the attack. The Bucs controlled the boards. Aquinas ganged the lead man on the fast break and hindered Central some.

Polar Bears Cuff West In Schedule's Finish

By Bob Wilcox

After taking their soundest thumping of the season in winding up their regular schedule, the Cowboys entered the tournament trail last Tuesday evening at the Coliseum. They met Watterson in the third game of the evening. Providing that they pass this first test they will play the winner of the London-Whitehall game at 9:30 Saturday eve at the Coliseum.

London, after knocking off Circleville a week ago Saturday, looks like the choice to still be in action this Saturday also. By most standards the Cowboys should handle these foes with pretty fair ease . . . but after last Friday night, records can mean nothing.

If West passed their Tuesday eve test, London should afford some fairly tough competition. They boast the tallest man in the tourney at 6'7", and two other very good men; the other two are "so-so".

If West does make both of these 'grades', then they will play in the quarterfinals next Tuesday (same place) at 6:30 . . . . and no matter how you "cut the cake" it looks like their opponent would have to be an "old friend", Columbus North!

The tourney calls for four games an evening, starting at 5, 6:30, 8 and 9:30. Tickets must be purchased at the door and are 75 cents for both students and adults.

And now to last Friday's "Arcadia Street Massacre" . . . I probably should end the story there. The final score—75-43; the winner—Columbus North, wrapping up their third consecutive City League basketball crown, but this time sharing it with the East.

It was a romp, and from the word go. The Bears doubled the score early and kept going . . . holding quarter leads of 20-9, 32-15, 54-29.

West was never 'in' the game as North's zone defense worked to perfection in their "2x4 gym". The Polar Bears weren't doing so badly on offense either. Although Ed Clark had a brilliant evening, the real 'straw that broke the camel's back' was a substitute, Fred Haney.

He got them rolling with six points in the first and then helped wind things up in a smashing way with four more in the final stanza. He proved quite a menace on the boards as well as some fine defensive work, especially in helping to handcuff Jerry Spears.

Spears again outscored his opposite, Jim Doughty, but only by one point, 9-8. Yes, and therein lies most of the West "unsuccess" story . . . the Bears completely throttled him up in their zone with double and sometime triple teaming when he had the ball. He scored only one field goal. In their first meeting this season Spears got the 'best' of Doughty (one of his lowest scoring evenings, tho he did manage 20.)

West's real trouble was frigid shooting.

The Broncos completely dominated the boards in the early stages and got as many as five tries via rebounds off one shot . . . but none connecting. But West was finally outrebounded, 39-34.

It not only takes scoring from everywhere to win, but it especially takes 'out' scoring to break a zone. And outside of two beautiful longies each by Chuck King and Billy Castle, West didn't show this weapon.

The real bright spot was the shooting of Ray Horky who led West Scoring with 10 points. His fairly long jump shots were beauties to behold, but even more so when one thinks of the good they can do henceforth.

Statistics bear out West's frigid condition . . . hitting on only 12 of 67 shots from the field (17%) while North hit 31 of 69 (44%). Foul-wise West did slightly better than their adversary . . . West-19-30-63%, North-13-23-57%. (Spears got off 11 tries from the field, connecting on only one. He got 7 of 10 from the charity stripe.

The Cowboys made far too many bobbles, 19 to North's 11, to add to their erratic play.

The Reserves played best game of the night and almost did it, losing 39-38 to the junior Bears. The junior Cowboys did themselves proud, though as Bill Hill's driving shots made him high scorer for the evening with 17. North was led by their skyscraper Bill Hailey with 14. North led all the way, after an early West lead, until West tied it up at 30-all midway in the final period. Garry Weigand and Dick Williamson each had 7 to help the West cause.

Williamson was best breaker and several times popped it in right under the bucket amid a tangled mass of arms and bigger boys. North held quarter leads of 18-8, 19-15, 30-26.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

West has completed its first year of competitive wrestling in a campaign to bring the sport back to the school in an accredited position. With all the boys having to learn from the "ground up", they of course didn't have a fabulous season. They had only a few "practice matches", but did manage to win one.

They beat Linden McKinley, 38-13 and lost to Hilliards, 22-21, Groveport, 27-23, Worthington reserves, 39-3, Franklin Heights, 38-6, East, 36-11, Linden McKinley, 24-21, and Marion Franklin 31-18.

One match was lost due to West's inability (illness) to "field" two men. In point totals . . . West scored 151 to their opponents' 230.

As mentioned last week the Cowboys were not expected to set the District Meet "on fire", but they were even more disappointing. The pressure seemed too much for the inexperienced crew. Captain Tim Skaarer was far and away the outstanding wrestler all year. He remained undefeated (even wrestling overweight in some matches) until the District. He won five by decisions and three by pins.

Lyn Hegele tied with Skaarer for most wins by pins with three . . . while Skaarer took the "most by decisions" crown by a landslide.

On the wrong side of the ledger . . . Hegele and Dave Koons tied for "honor" of most losses, seven. Larry McQuerrey lost by decision the most times, four, while Dick Steltz, Bob Saint, Koons, Jim Morris and Hegele all tied for most losses by pin, four.

Doughty Wins Out

Bill Doughty was the only Cowboy to win a match in the Districts as he won his first before losing his next two. McQuerry, Stelz, Saint, Frank Wilgus, Skaarer, Eric Marlow and Mike Marsh all lost their one District match. Koons and Hegele got into consolation matches but lost two each.

Doughty did give West two points in District, more than some "older" teams could muster . . . and West isn't even a varsity wrestling school, yet.

The squad individual records this season follow: Skaarer 8-1, Marsh 1-1, John Graham 1-1, Ed Roberts 1-1, Doughty, 2-3, McQuerrey 2-5, Roger Johnson 0-4, Steltz 1-6, Irvin Hill 0-3, Saint 3-5, Koons 3-7, Morris 1-5, Dick Reams 0-2, Wilgus, 2-3, Steve Strohm 0-0, Bill Ardle 2-5, Marlow 0-2, Hegele 3-7, Tom McGill, 0-6, and Clyde Kinsely 0-1.

News from St. Aloysius . . . Booster Club will have a meeting Tuesday, Mar. 3 at 8 p.m. in the school annex. The public is welcome to hear Father Dodds speak on the Catholic Church's (at least through the local parishes) campaign to get young and old alike involved in some kind of athletic activity.

St. Al's CYO Girls team lost to Immaculate Conception, 35-33, in a squeaker. Vickie Quinn pumped in 26 of St. Al's 33. They will meet St. Mary Magdalene No. 2 at Our Lady of Victory next Sunday.

St. Al beat Our Lady of Victory, 45-13, at Aquinas last Saturday. They meet St. Christopher next Saturday at the same place for their final game. The CYO boys' team was idle this week, but meets St. Catharine's, there, next Sunday.

Hilltop Recreation alleys will begin hosting the 5-man team, Knights of Columbus state bowling tournament this Saturday. Opening ceremonies and some special team bowling matches will begin at 2 p.m. Each year the tourney is held in a different Ohio city. (The doubles and singles competition is concurrently held at the Riverview alley, 596 W Goodale). Hillcrest will be hosting approximately 550 teams or about 3200 people. Entries from all over the state will bowl only on weekends, starting this Saturday and continuing through Apr. 12.

Also at Hillcrest this week Don Martin bashed the pins for a nice 266. The Men's City League tourney is still going full blast each weekend at Old Trail alleys and will continue for the next three.

Last weekend the following tallies were registered in "all-events" competition: Mike Vincent, 2027; Carrol Woodruff, 1967; Mike Mitchell, 1941; Bill Keethler, 1939; Bob Tudor, 1934; Don Morgan, 1933; Jay Meldon, 1929; Ed Barr, 1928; F. Lengl, 1927; Jack Russell, 1918.

Scores include team event, doubles event and singles.

Columbus DeMolay team lost last Tuesday evening at Glenwood Recreation 59-48 to the Blue Birds. It knocked them out of a first place tie and into second spot. Dick Curtiss with 15 and Alan Daft's 14 paced the losers.

Little Broncs Scalped

Marion-Franklin beat West Junior High 55-36 last Thursday. High for West was Donny Meyer with 18.

Armory Ceremony Immortalizes Haubrich

Crowd Attends Open House Held By National Guards

UNVEILINGS FEATURED—Three significant gifts were presented to personnel of the new National Guard armory at 4094 Sullivant-av during dedication ceremonies last Saturday. At left, three World War I buddies of the 166th Infantry Regiment admire a beautifully restored regimental crest which graces the front of Robert Haubrich Armory. They are Hank Gowdy, first major league ball player to enter the war (played with the Boston Braves; Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, and Col. Oliver H. Gibson, assistant Ohio adjutant general. Below, Mrs. Robert Haubrich, 379 Twelfth-av, stands beside a portrait of the late Colonel Robert Haubrich, World War I hero, for whom the armory was named. It and the bronze plaque (at right) were gifts of the Rainbow Division Veterans Association. standing during a tribute to Haubrich are (left to right) Herbert Leach, president of the Ohio Rainbow Veterans; Mayor Sensenbrenner; General Gibson; Mrs. Haublich and her son, Dr. Robert Haubrich.

"IT'S YOURS"—Gen. Gibson (left) turns over the keys of Haubrich Armory to Col. Joseph E. Tritschler, senior commander assigned to the new facility. In the center are Paul Jones, resident manager of Hamstead division, General Motors, which gave bond for the Armory; and former adjutant General Leo M. Kreiser, under whose command the training center was built.

"CHOW" TOO — Families and guests of the National Guardsmen go through a genuine "chow line" arranged especially for the open house by Service Co., 166th Infantry.

CEREMONIES CLOSE — Formal "Retreat" for flags of Ohio and the nation capped off a sunny Saturday afternoon which brought hundreds to the Muster Day dedication of Haubrich armory.

Wounded Robber Bound To Jury

Lee Francis Duncan, wounded by police as he fled an attempted robbery Sunday, was bound over to the grand jury Tuesday by Judge Wilbur Shull. Duncan's hospital room was the setting for the court room scene.

Listed in "fair" condition at Mt. Carmel, Duncan, 21, of Binghamton, N.Y., was shot in the right shoulder Sunday afternoon by Patrolman James Hykes.

Hykes pursued Duncan into a deadend alley next to 1187 W. Broad-st after the suspect's attempted robbery of Spencer's Carry-Out, 1206 W. Broad-st.

Ignoring an order to drop his gun, Duncan fired. The patrolman then fired, striking Duncan in the right shoulder.

Floyd E. Spencer, 46, of 21 S. Princeton-av, owner of the carry-out said Duncan came into his carry-out and drew a pistol. Spencer hurled a tape dispenser at him, and the robber fled.

FAST WORK—Artificial lures are more deadly than live bait in taking fish, says a scientific report. The white bass above were taken in rapid succession with an orange-bodied spinner, but outdoor editor Rod Cochran advises fishermen not to throw their minnow buckets on the trash heap.

Argument Still Rages Over Live Bait vs. Artificial Lures

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors

By ROD COCHRAN

The universal argument of fishermen seems to be, "Which is more effective, live bait or artificial lures?"

This controversy is really making the rounds these days because mid-winter hot stove league meetings are now in session everywhere north of the Mason-Dixon line. Wherever fishermen gather this question will pop up.

If you're a "minnow man" don't scorn the fisherman who snaps an artificial lure on his line. The chances are he's catching largemouth bass as fast as you are. And, he may even take more lunkers.

The argument of live vs. artificial bait has ranged ever since an early-day "cane poler" ran out of crawdads. One story has is he ripped off a piece of his brightly colored shirt-tail and baited up, proceeding to astound his fellow anglers. This makes a good story, but the actual beginnings of artificial lures is lost in the dim pages of [illegible] primitive man used different artificial devices to lure fish.

But, sometime after fishing became a bragging sport instead of a way of life, began the dispute that has split the fishing "fraternity into two warring factions. Ask the man who dunks a worm or hellgrammite what he thinks about plug casters and he's likely to flip the lid clean off his bait bucket. The advocate of artificials holds his adversary in about equal contempt.

Artificials Have Edge

Actually, both methods catch fish. But man-made lures enjoy a better than two-to-one edge in effectiveness. This was found when scientists in Illinois conducted a survey to determine which technique caught the most fish. Artificials proved far superior, both in numbers and in size.

The style of fishing probably accounts for this wide difference. In casting, a man covers a lot of territory and exposes his lure to many fish. Live bait angling, on the other hand, is much more restrictive, depending mainly upon fish movement, but deadly when fish are finally located.

This doesn't mean that you should rush out and throw your minnow bucket on the trash heap. The wise fisherman uses both methods. First, perhaps he'll try floating a few soft craws under snags or undercut banks. If this does not produce, he will snap an artificial on his line. After all, the final choice is up to the fish — you must give him what he wants at any particular time. Science has not yet been able to direct the whims and fancies of finny creatures.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs Estelle B. Franks

Protein Foods—pork loins, lamb shoulder, frozen ocean perch, large eggs, cheese.

Vegetables—potatoes, broccoli, celery, frozen green beans, peas.

Fruits—oranges, grapefruit, apples, canned applesauce.

FOOD MARKETS CHANGING

All that you buy in today's grocery stores is not food; non-edibles account for about 18 cents of every grocery dollar we Americans spend. Retailers today are giving considerable thought to the future of non-foods in supermarkets.

How it happened—Supermarkets are an outgrowth of the depression years, when customers found their low prices appealing. These prices reflected cost savings from self-service and a rapid turnover of items. As these stores took on some of the functions of department, apparel, drug and variety stores and of discount houses, they become involved in the sale of items which a higher mark-up than that of food and with a slower rate of turnover.

Supermarkets or General Store?—When non-food items are sold under the same roof as food, they offer customers the convenience of one-stop shopping, but they also use valuable floor space. Whether the supermarket of the future will become a modern general store, a truly one-stop shopping center, or concentrate exclusively on the sale of food products remains to be seen. It depends on how the consumer votes. If non-food sales continue to expand in supermarkets, then the big general store will be here.

FOR FAMILY FREEZERS

Pork is in the spotlight these days, as prices continue their downward trend. Seventeen per cent more pork is the prediction for the first six months in 1959. So, if pork is a favorite at your house, now is a good time to freeze some while prices are low.

Fresh pork is wrapped and stored under good conditions keeps good quality three to six months at zero degrees or below. One thing to keep in mind—salt speeds the development of rancidity in cured and salted pork. Therefore, salted products cannot be stored in the freezer as long as fresh pork. Do not store salted sausage in the freezer; unsalted sausage will keep longer — seasoning should be added when cooked.

Cost-Of-Living Wages To Stay Awhile At GM

General Motors announced this week that there had been insufficient change in the nation's cost-of-living index to require any adjustment in pay to General Motors hourly-rate employes during the next three months.

Employes will continue to receive a cost-of-living allowance of 10 cents per hour during March, April and May. Also, salaried employes will continue to receive a quarterly allowance of $50.

The next review of the cost-of-living allowance will be in June based on the April 15 index.

'Mrs. America' Entries Due In Before March 31

Prizes worth more than $15,000 are awaiting the winner of the annual search for the nation's "outstanding housewife" which was begun this week by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

Women of the Columbus area who wish to compete for the 21st "Mrs. America" title may pick up entry blanks at 109 N. Front-st and must submit them before Mar. 31.

Homemaking ability, personality and poise, character, grooming and community activities will be considered in finding winners on a district, state and national level. A $500 gas range will be awarded to "Mrs Columbus."

Still Possible To Make Gift To Heart Fund

Heart Sunday for 1959 has come and gone. But, those who were away from home last Sunday when a Heart Fund Volunteer called, can still make a contribution.

A "not-at-home" envelope was left for this use.

It is self-addressed to the Heart Council, 50 E. Broad-st. "Simply insert your contribution, stamp the envelope and drop it into the nearest mail box. If you haven't already done so, do so now," the Heart Council urges.

Enrollment in Kent State University's College of Business Administration is second in Ohio and 54th in the nation.

Guide Forms Booklet

Again in this issue, subscribers to the six Hartley newspapers will receive a weekly guide to the top television program on all four Columbus area stations. To fold the page into a handy booklet, follow these simple instructions: Taking the page as it is presented in the paper, fold it vertically in half. Then fold the top of the page to the bottom twice until the front page of the section appears. The first three days then follow in order. By turning the page over, the other four days appear.

Weaver Ends 30-Year Stint With Gas Co.

Mearl E. Weaver

Mearl E. Weaver, 1722 Thomas-av, service dispatcher for the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, will retire Mar. 1.

Weaver, 65, has been with the Gas Company for 30 years. He started as a service man in Ohio Fuel's Columbus district service department. He was named service dispatcher eight years ago. Earlier, he was a maintenance man with the New York Central railroad.

Born near Ostrander, Weaver attended Delaware County Schools and was graduated from Delaware Willis High School.

He is a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the Masonic Lodge. At Ohio Fuel, he is a member of the Quarter Century Club, the Square and Compass Club, and the Gasco Club.

Weaver and his wife, Mary, have three sons, Mearl V., 2613 Whitehead-rd, Tom M., Grove City, and John M., Reynoldsburg.

An ardent fisherman, Weaver expects to spend much of his time in Michigan following his retirement.

Glick Annual Bonus Event Under Way

"Glick's original 19% bonus event, now in progress, offers the consumer three-fold savings," said Robert A. Glick, general manager of the Glick Furniture Co.

He described them as follows:

1. "Savings realized on the low 'bold action' prices which are available month after month at Glick's.

2. "Savings realized because these low 'bold action' prices are on merchandise purchased many months ago, before the current general rise in home furnishings prices began.

3. "Savings realized as result of Glick's 19% bonus, which gives the customer 19% in additional free merchandise of her own selections, during this event."

This event, conceived originally by Glick's in 1926, marks the 32nd anniversary of Central Ohio's largest furniture company, Glick said. "Buyers in all departments have scoured the factories of America, especially for this event. All of the associates have been trained to give the public the finest service possible."

"We know, without a doubt," he said "that our original 19% bonus event is the consumers best buying opportunity of the year.

"We offer our customers a 19% bonus in additional free furnishings of their own selection. Prices in all of our four stores are the same as last month and the many months before."

Glick's now operates four stores in Columbus; downtown at 66 E. Long-st, in the Great Western and Northern Lights shopping centers and in the Bargain Annex at 45 E. Long-st.

Glick's offers a complete selection of furniture, carpeting and appliances. Among the many styles featured at any of Glick's four stores are Early American, Danish, French and Italian provincial, traditional and modern.

Chicago Avenue Patrol Honored By Kiwanians

West Side Kiwanis Club paid tribute to 60 boys and girls of the Chicago Avenue Elementary safety patrol last Thursday.

An afternoon party was held at the school. Two movies were shown and Sgt. Kenneth Miller of the safety education department of the Columbus police department gave a talk.

Each youngster was treated with ice cream, cakes, candy and a safety game.

Kiwanians present included George Weber, Dale Brush, and Joe Davis, Jr.

The Avondale school patrol will be honored in March.

Fourth Of City's Gas Station Operators Sing 'Blue Law Blues' At Local Meeting

By BETTY DAFT

More than one fourth of the city's nearly 400 service station operators assembled to discuss the present Sunday Blue Law at a meeting held last Thursday night at 3100 W. Broad-st.

One hundred thirteen operators attended the session called by the Independent Service Station Dealers Association to voice their opinions on the Sunday closing statute, hear members' recommendations and decide on a course of action.

Caught between opposing pressures of law enforcers and the major oil companies, station operators have found themselves in a pinch.

Although liable for citation by remaining open on Sunday, they are at the same time violating contracts with the oil companies that call for seven-day operation.

Some companies have assured operators they do not wish them to violate the state law, but representatives of others have served notice that their leases may be cancelled if their stations are closed on Sundays.

'Companies Couldn't Dictate'

Hilltop attorney Vernon Kertzinger, executive secretary of the association, assured members that the companies could not enforce such threats.

The movement started a few weeks ago by a group of Hilltop and Westside station operators to close their stations on Sunday spread throughout the city this past Sunday, as more operators followed their lead.

Encouraged by reports from the Westside station operators, approximately half of the Eastside stations and most of those on the Northside were closed. Nearly all Hilltop and Westside stations closed last Sunday.

Vernon Croasap of Vern's Gulf Station, W. Mound-st. at Central-av, reported his experience Thursday saying, "I'm all for Sunday closing, and so are my employes and customers.

My books prove that our station averaged as much business in a six-day week as in seven days. It's a matter of selling, when my customers understood they co-operated completely."

The association is planning, by presenting a united front of service stations to push action on legislation that will modify the law and define its application to different businesses.

Favor Voluntary Closing

The opportunity of the operators Thursday favored a voluntary closing plan similar to the one successfully operated in Canada.

Crowd Sees Lively Time At Council

It was "housing and zoning night" at City Council meeting Monday.

Although some 70 pieces of legislation appeared on the agenda, only a handful of ordinances were passed before midnight and suspension of the session until next Monday. Most of the time was spent in hot debate on the proposed minimum housing standards and in committee sessions on rezoning.

Legislation passed included:

• Authorization of the director of public service to enter into contracts and appropriate money for a $1,111,327 E. Fifth-av grade crossing project.

• Affirmed the existence of an emergency requiring $10,000 worth of street repairs to the N. Fourth-st. viaduct.

• Authorized Finance Chief M. D. Portman to obtain the purchase-lease prices on rental of 45 new trucks for the Sanitation Dept.

• Passage of bond ordinance totaling $2800 for street repairs.

• Permission to sell at immediate auction a vacant house on McKinley-av to facilitate improvement on Dry Run.

• Memorials to the families of Mrs. Anna Sensenbrenner, mother of the mayor, and Paul C. Laux, water division superintendent.

• An amendment authorizing six individuals to assist the

New Lines At Westinghouse Will Hike Employment Here

Plans to manufacture four additional products at its Columbus plant within the next few months were announced Thursday by Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Eventually, this will mean creation of several hundred additional jobs and will help to stabilize employment here, company officials said.

John W. Craig, Westinghouse vice-president and general manager of the Electric Appliance Divisions, announced that the company this summer will begin to transfer to Columbus the production of room air conditioners, dehumidifiers, food-waste disposers and water coolers from the firm's plant at Springfield, Mass. The East Coast plant will continue producing the company's motorized small appliances.

First production of the items in the Phillippi-rd. plant is scheduled to start in October. The new program will start with air conditioners. All the items are expected to be in production by the end of the year. Rearrangement of existing facilities will permit the additional production within the present manufacturing area. The plant, built here in 1954, occupies 47 acres on a 103-acre lot.

Called Economy Move

"The consolidation of these operations in Columbus will achieve large-scale economies," Craig said. "Room air conditioners, dehumidifiers and water coolers all are compressor-driven refrigeration products, similar to refrigerators and freezers, the biggest volume items in Columbus. Economies dictate that all such products should be made at one location, to obtain the best use of common equipment, tools and facilities.

"Further, the food-waste disposer currently produced in Springfield is closely related to two Columbus products — the dishwasher and electric water heater. All three are closely tied together from a marketing and production standpoint, because they are often sold as a kitchen equipment package to builders," Craig said. Market potential of the new items is high, a census of many homes revealed.

The consolidation was recommended by results of surveys of the firm's appliance operations conducted over the past 18 months. Craig said it is clear that only the most effectively managed operations will survive.

Families Will Transfer

Shutdown of operations will begin in July. A shift of approximately 100 families of marketing and key personnel to Columbus is expected to follow. Although reluctant to state just how many new jobs would be created, officials indicated the figure would probably top 400.

At a press showing of the additional products, Delmar Starkey, of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce paid high tribute to the Westinghouse influence in the city. Directing his words, to Ed Smith, division plant manager, he praised the company's "community-mindedness." (See p. 10)

Hilltop Attorney Is Elected Chairman Of Child Welfare

Donald F. Smith

Donald F. Smith, 2977 W. Broad-st., an attorney on the Hilltop for 30 years, has been elected chairman of the Franklin County Child Welfare Board. He succeeds Mrs. Francis D. Cady.

The board operates the entire county program for neglected and dependent children. It is in the course of finishing a new half-million-dollar receiving center at Franklin Village (children's home).

Smith has been secretary of the board five years. He is professor in domestic relations law at Franklin University, and holds LL.B. and LL.M. degrees.

The new chairman served as president of the Hilltop Business Association in 1952, was a director of the Hilltop Kiwanis club, member of the Hilltop YMCA board and was Boy Scout district commissioner.

Serving with Smith on the welfare board are Judge Clayton Rose, Thomas Applegate, Mrs. Helen Kauffman and R. H. Nye.

West Annex Petitions Are Filed

A petition asking the annexation of 1,188 acres in Prairie and Franklin Township was handed Franklin County Commissioners Monday by New Rome resident Thomas O'Ryan, 3146 El Paso-dr.

If the anexation is approved, it will mark the first time that the Columbus city limits have been extended into Prairie Twp., where approximately half the tract is located.

Starting at Georgesville-rd., the area generally includes the three lots owned by Peoples Development Co. cutting behind Mix Addition including the land between Sullivant-av. and Hall-rd., going down Cinerd and coming across to the present city limits.

Neither the Westinghouse or General Motors Ternstedt Plant are included in the area.

The land owned by Peoples Development Co. has already been approved for construction of about 500 homes in the near future.

No-Stop Zone Requested

City Council received a request Monday for an ordinance to rezone a 200 foot segment on the south side of Town-st. near Grubb, to a "no stopping, no standing zone."

Jubilee Site Approved

City Council Monday night approved the use of the Sunshine Recreation Center grounds for the West Side Jubilee, to be held June 7 to 13, inclusive.

Power, Newspaper Disputes Felt In Many Communities

March came in like a lion, the uncaged variety, this week for the management of two major consumer industries . . . newspapers and electricity.

A dispute between Local 15 of the Web Pressmen's Union and publishers—mainly on Saturday night overtime issues—brought a halt to printing of three downtown dailies last Thursday. Weekly, labor and university newspapers were not affected.

Requests for start of negotiations Thursday or Friday have been made. The federal mediator returned to town Tuesday after being called away because of family illness.

Other Workers Furloughed

Most employes of both newspaper firms were furloughed last Friday. Only executives, a few others crossing picket lines and some editorial help, serving radio and television remained on duty.

Two locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers walked out on the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. Saturday at midnight. Picketing followed at 53 stations in 23 counties affecting 1200 workers.

Two cases of apparent strike sabotage were reported before dawn Tuesday, current in the Worthington area was cut off. Someone had looped a rope across power lines along the Pennsylvania railroad and attached it to both ends of a rail road tie. When a train hit the ropes power lines were drawn together, causing a 7200-volt short. Circuit breakers were thrown out in Athens county, station telephone cable was cut.

Supervisory personnel and executives of the CSOE are manning generating plants, transmission and distribution systems on a limited scale. They are fearful of trouble, however, if storms should occur.

Pay Plan Announced

CSOE employes who normally get their pay bi-weekly will receive their regular Friday, Mar. 6 pay checks by mail. Persons who have returned to work will receive additional pay offered by the company when negotiations broke off, spokesmen said.

H. V. Potts, vice-president in charge of employe relations, said the increases offered by the company would give local utility workers a pay scale higher than any other similar electric industry scale in the state.

"At present, the Lineman 'A' rate is $2.90 an hour," Potts said. "The proposed raise is 3½%," he continued. "Applied to the above rate, it would bring the rate to $3, which is 10 cents above the highest such rate in Ohio."

He said the linemen were asking for a 10-cent raise combined with a six-per-cent general raise for all union members, resulting in a 28-cent-an-hour boost.

Potts said union members voluntarily returning to work would be guaranteed job security, as long as they offer to pay monthly dues.

Bullet Went Astray—Wants City To Pay

City Council heard a letter Monday night from R. C. McCreary, 315 Wrexham-av., asking that the city finance repairs for damage incurred Jan. 30 when a bullet ripped into his house during a shooting next door.

Mayor's Mother Dies At Age 83

Services for Mrs. Anna Sensenbrenner, mother of Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, were to be held Wednesday, 2 p.m. at Circleville Lutheran Church.

She died Sunday at Circleville Hospital, after suffering a series of strokes.

She is also survived by another son, Marion of Florida, daughter, Mrs. Wallace Emmons of Columbus; 11 grandchildren; and nine great-grandchildren.

Last Jackpot Is Claimed

"MONEY" SHOWER—Mrs. Bob Strapp, 198 N. Wayne-av reversed her umbrella to catch a veritable shower of crisp new "Confederate" bills last week. Shown with Jack Schluep, circulation manager, she exchanged her winning copy of Hartley Newspapers for $75 in "Confederate" money.

Claiming of last week's jackpot award of $75 by a subscriber, marked the end of the newspaper's "Confederate" money game, a weekly feature in Hartley Newspapers for the past several years.

Mrs. Bob Strapp, who has watched every single week for that insignia since the game first started," found the emblem in her copy of last week's issue.

Happily planning a spring shopping spree with the unexpected "cash" the Strapps plan to use the money for their six children.

"Confederate" dollars may be spent at face value with any merchant advertising in the current issue.

DANGEROUS INTERSECTION TRAPS BOY

CAUSE OF CONCERN—Six-year-old Mike Cary, 69 S. Terrace-av, terrified onlookers and tied up traffic Monday when he ran across W. Broad-st at Eureka, into the path of a car driven by Edward W. Taylor, Jr., of Piqua. The boy, mistakenly thinking the traffic light was red, darted out from behind the truck at left center. Taylor swerved his car to avoid Mike, but struck his left side. The boy was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital for minor bruises and said he was eager to be on his way again because his mother had just returned home with a new baby.

Beautiful Spring?

BIBLE COMMENT:

Jesus Knew No Religious Prejudice

One of the most shameful manifestations of the Christian era, over and over again, has been the spectacle of people who preach and practice racial and religious prejudice in the name of Christ.

When Paul spoke of the Gospel of Christ, he emphasized its universality.

Was Paul in this a true interpreter of his Master? Or did Jesus in any way limit His mission, or the benefits and privileges of the grace of God?

The whole story of Jesus, the revelation of His spirit and the general records of the Gospels are much against any interpretation that would lead a thoughtful person to believe other than that Jesus knew no prejudice.

We must view with charity those who, through ignorance or inability to comprehend, misread incidents from the Gospels.

However, those who diabolically turn the Gospels to their own ends are a source of very real concern to earnest Christians.

The danger of their twisted teachings is a blot upon Christianity

Tags Being Sold By Legionnaires

Franklin County Council of the American Legion will have an auto tag sales station in the east basement of Old Memorial Hall, 280 E. Broad-st, until Apr. 2

According to R. A. Billups, proceeds from the sales help the council maintain a wide variety of civic service, veterans youth and local government, as well as during emergencies such as the recent flood. The office at 250 W. Broad-st is self-sustaining, Billups said

Abraham Lincoln Said:

"The human heart is with us; God is with us. We shall again be able not to declare that 'all states as States are equal,' nor yet that all citizens as citizens are equal,' but to renew the broader, better declaration, including both these and much more, that 'all men are created equal'."

Letters To The Editor

Pleased With News Coverage

Dear Editor:—

"I take this opportunity in behalf of myself and the Lincoln Historical Association of Ohio, Inc. and the Franklin County Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission of which I am chairman, to thank the management and staff of the Hilltop Record and associated community Hartley Newspapers for their fine coverage of the Lincoln Memorial tree planting and memorial services held on Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, at the Lincoln Memorial Hospital, 3341 E. Livingston-av.

I wish also to thank the Eastern Review for its splendid newspaper picture and news articles about the hospital tree planting and further thank all the people of the West Side, and other parts of the city, who worked diligently to make this Lincoln Sesquicentennial celebration a huge success.

Sincerely Yours,
Emile Reiss, Chairman,
Lincoln Historical Ass'n. of Ohio, Inc.
Franklin County Lincoln Ses-qui Commission.

Ohio popcorn production last year was 48 million pounds, up 68 percent from a year earlier and the highest production since 1948, according to Ohio State University Extension economists.

Heart Fund Gifts Still Accepted

Although Heart Month ended on Feb. 28 the Franklin County Heart Fund drive chairman points out that additional gifts will be welcomed. Funds are still urgently needed to continue the research, education and community service programs of the Franklin County and Central Ohio Heart Associations, Larry Chambers, campaign chairman, said

"If you haven't yet made your contribution to the 1950 Heart Fund, your check will still be counted in the total collection," he said. "The associations' sole goal is to fight the heart diseases which cause more than half the deaths in Columbus and Franklin County," Chambers asserted.

Heart Fund contributions should be sent to: Heart Fund, 50 E. Broad-st, Columbus 15.

Sohio Station's New Owner Long Established In Area

SELLS SERVICE—Roger Graham, new proprietor of Graham's Sohio Service, Sullivant and Demorest, displays his service truck.

"Complete car care is the concern of our entire organization," according to Roger Graham, new owner and operator of Graham's Sohio Service, Sullivant-av at Demorest-rd.

Graham, a resident of 135 N. Powell-av, came to the city 26 years ago. He was schooled locally and at Kentucky Military Institute in 1945. He also attended Bliss College and worked in several dealer stations during that time.

His technical training includes two major oil company courses on lubrication, automatic transmission school, courses on tires and batteries, personnel management and supervision and marketing.

Graham completed study with the American Petroleum Institute and for six years was a state supervisor of service station sales and bulk plant operations.

An Air Force veteran of the Korean Conflict, he is married to the former Mary Lou Keene of Grove City. They have two children. Graham belongs to Westgate EUB Church and Luther E. Turner Lodge of Masons.

The new station manager is proud of his staff, whose combined experience amounts to 70 years. On it are Marion Ruffner (18 years); Al Besmertnuk (30); Bill Sampson (14); Jim Kimble (5) and Graham (13).

Billiards Champs Listed

A mixed doubles billiard tournament was held at Sunshine Center, Feb. 24.

First place winners were Sandi McGuire and Bob Gallichio. Runners-up were Charlene McCann and Dick Hand.

Olaf Welch Is Top Seller Of 'Y' Taffy

First place in the Annual Hilltop YMCA Taffy Sale went to Olaf Welch of 345 S. Harris-av. Olaf was [illegible] winner of a new English racer bicycle. Second place winner, Harold Kountz, 333 S. Ogden-av, chose a baseball suit. Following were: Steve C. Hedges, 901 Chestershire, third; Larry Culp, fourth, 259 N. Ogden-av, baseball glove; Mark E. Dunbar, 298 S. Richardson-av, fifth, basketball.

The next top five boys were Lawrence Smith, 388 Clarendon; Donald Bender, 324 N. Ogden; Val McGinness, 327 N. Burgess; Steve Basil, 201 S. Algonquin and Fred Ashman, 2667 Kreber.

Twenty boys received YMCA T-shirts for selling 50 pounds or more. Proceeds go to YMCA World Service.

One 'Okay,' Two 'Maybe's' Given By Commission

At their Feb. 26 meeting, members of the City Planning Commission approved the plat of the 575-house Lincoln Village South project, to be developed south of W. Broad-st near Lincoln Village.

Deferred was a decision on plans for the senior citizens' apartment project near Sunshine Park because of disagreement on street changes. Proposed plans would close off Sullivant-av at Gift-st. The city has contracted with the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority to provide land for the apartments on Sullivant-av, west of the Riverside apartments.

Decision also was postponed on a request that the southeast corner of W. Broad-st and Roys-av be rezoned to permit construction of an auto appliance store.

Camp Chase Post Unit To Initiate

Pros, Cons Are Aired

Pink and blue pamphlets preaching the pros and cons of the proposed housing code were distributed to a packed house and set the pace for lively hour-long debate. A dozen persons took the floor.

City Planning Director Jack Bachtel said Columbus promises to grow to a million in the next 30 to 40 years and needs minimum housing regulations to prevent the spread of blighted areas.

He said the suggested code represents thorough study of fire, health and planning committees in many cities and has been sent for study by some 60 organizations.

Backing Bachtel's work Monday night were spokesmen from the Metropolitan Health committee, Urban League, various church groups, settlement organizations, League of Women Voters and neighborhood councils. They said properties were being "bled" by landlords and the resulting congestion was encouraging crime and property devaluation. South Side and University cases were cited specifically.

A strong delegation of property owners and their lawyers read statements denouncing the proposal as "unworkable, and invasion of privacy, bait for federal handouts, and a great hardship to pensioned property owners."

One spokesman, Donald Tishman, said 40 to 50,00 persons would be "put out in the streets. Raising of rents would naturally follow cost alterations in properties, he said. The opposition asked that the code be tabled or placed on the November ballot.

Hardly outshadowed by housing debaters were those appearing before the zoning committee Monday night. South Siders, 30 or 40 strong, argued strenuously against rezoning of property in the vicinity of Wager-st, Innis-av, Ann-st and Oipp-av from commercial and residential to manufacturing.

Officials of the Federal Glass Co. said they need the area for a warehouse which would "not be an eyesore." They explained the entrance would be directly off Woodruff-av and would take a heavy traffic flow off Innis.

Residents didn't see it that way, even after some soothing words from fellow South Sider Bill Hoermle who is chairman of the council's zoning committee.

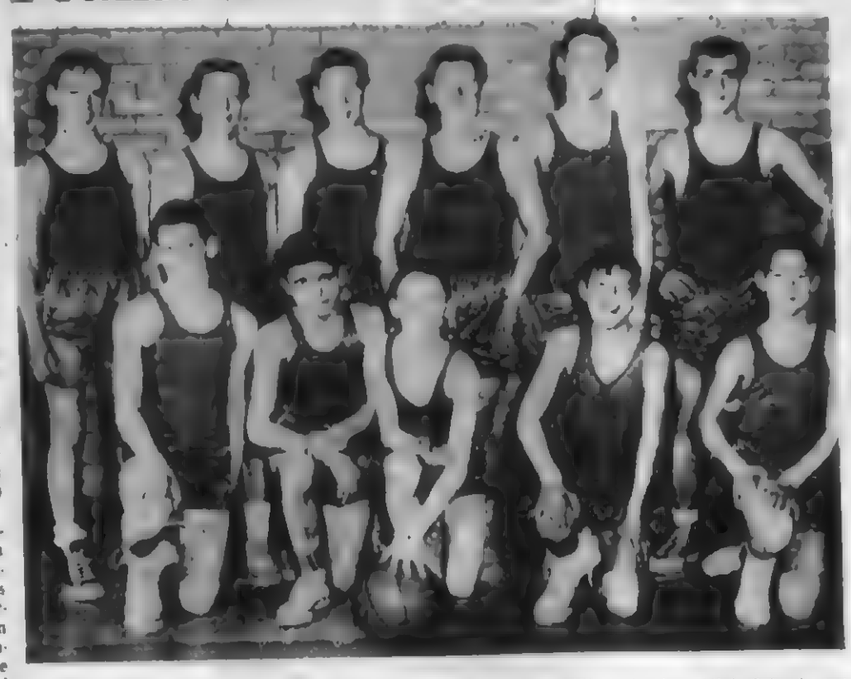
"When you dead-end Innis-av you'll lower the value of our property," said Mrs. Leo Lyons, almost in tears. "We're sure the new building will bring on more dirt, noise and make a racetrack out of more of these streets and alleys."

Federal Glass spokesmen insisted that the warehouse would be surrounded with "at least 15 feet of greenery and would provide very little noise."

August Coulson, 474 Innis-av, complained that residents had been given only four days' notice and many didn't get letters at all.

City zoning commission favored the rezoning but Council President Ralston Westlake suggested a traffic survey first. The matter was tabled for two weeks.

Valleyview Plat Discussed



Held up for one week was action on rezoning an 18-acre area north of Valleyview-dr near Hague-av. from manufacturing to single family residential. Ernest Fritsche Development Co. has an option on the land and wants to build 85 homes there. The company recently finished 56 houses south of the road.

Opposition was voiced by the Pennsylvania Railroad, Dean & Barry Paint Co., and H. H. McKeowen, a member of the Rural Zoning committee.

Jack Bachtel of the city zoning commission said his surveys showed that the housing development could be "compatible" with the paint firm to the west. Dean & Barry spokesmen said the plant would be back from the road and probably some years off. They feared "future pressure groups" from the development. The railroad spokesman said the line had hoped to land an industry on the site although there were no immediate prospects.

McKeowen deplored spotty zoning throughout the county and said it was "time to protect industry."

Teams Are 'Pride Of Parish'

UNDEFEATED SEASON — Triumphant team members from St. Mary Magdalene school's sixth, seventh and eighth grades wound up the 1958-59 season undefeated in basketball, as well as in football. All look forward to a repeat of last year's undefeated baseball season, too, although some of the boys will enroll at Aquinas High School next fall. In the front row are Bob Feller, Zenon Sobczak, Pat Mentel, Jack Radich, and Tom Weisenbach. Behind them are Mike Kerins, Pat Purcell, Ray Highfield, Chuck Ream, Chuck Radich and Terry Ellis. Coaches were Pat Purcell and Bill Richards.

WON ALL GAMES—These ninth and tenth graders from St. Charles and Aquinas wound up an undefeated season as St. Mary Magdalene parish's team in Catholic Youth Organization basketball competition. Stacking up a 6 won and 0-lost record were (kneeling) Tom Blackburn and Jim Thornton; and (rear) John Fisher, Frank Smith, Don Henne and Tom Byrd. Lewis Estes coached the team.

Oppose Charter Change

Mrs. Elizabeth Burke, president of the Sullivant Gardens Council, and Homer Johnson, Sunshine advisory council member, submitted letters to City Council Monday. Both stated that they wished to go on record as opposing the proposed charter revision which would incorporate big changes in the City Recreation Department.

The difference between doin' time and keepin' time is plenty.

Plant To Be Major Appliance Center

PRODUCTS PREVIEW — These four products will be shifted to production on local Westinghouse assembly lines before the end of the year, the company announced this week. Their manufacture will be discontinued in July in Springfield, Mass., Consolidation of production here will save the company money, officials said. At top left is one of many home air conditioner models to be made. This one is portable and can be easily rolled to any window of the house. At top right is a custom model dehumidifier, featuring a quick action humidistat which operates the unit automatically. Seen at the side are pictures of the Westinghouse "cushion-quiet, jam-free" waste disposer for kitchen sinks; and the new "Wall Line" water cooler with concealed plumbing. When production begins here in the fall, all Westinghouse major appliances except ranges and separate laundry appliances will be Columbus-made.

'Y' Position Goes To Rev. Robert Clark

Rev. Robert Clark, assistant pastor of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, has been named by the Hilltop YMCA board of management to fill the unexpired "Y" board term of Rev. George Taylor, former pastor of Westgate Methodist Church. The term is for two years.

Named to fill unexpired terms on the Hilltop "Y" advisory council are Roy Von Ins, manager of the Hilltop branch of City National Bank; Forest Rader, principal of West Broad Street and Valleyview Schools; William Weber, principal of Como School; Attorney John Brown, and Louis Proper of the Majestic Paint Company.

These additions bring to full complement the two groups which meet [illegible] Board officers are C. Carlton Hartley, chairman; John Roman, first vice-chairman; Bill Jones, second vice-chairman; and Roy Agin, third vice-chairman.

West and Hilltonia Junior Highs hooked in a battle of the Westsiders with Hilltonia coming out the victor, 40-32, at West last Thursday. West's Denny Moyer led all scorers with 20 points. Hunter and Newman led Hilltonia with 14 and 11 respectively. Hilltonia held quarter leads of 9-2, 19-16, and 29-22. This wound up the season for both squads.

Meanwhile, Starling was taking a licking at the hands of Indianola Junior High in a non-league fray, 56-26. Indianola held quarter leads of 11-2, 24-6 and 41-15. Both coaches, looking toward next year, substituted freely with their youngsters....at least size-wise. Starling held its Faculty-Varsity game Monday night.

The City League tourney is still under full steam at the Old Trail alleys and will be for another two weekends. Top ten leaders in each field are...

TEAMS: Phillips' Coney Island 3226, Linden Lumber 3213, Blatz Beer 3212, Columbus Home Supply 3200, Campbell Plumbing 3200, Papajac 3183, PX Mix 3162, Earl's White Castle 3153, Barney Floyd 3136, and Belvin Engineers 3136.

DOUBLES: Brady Gul and J. Schmidt 1387, George Wright and Jano Hannon 1344, Tony Trapasso-Harry Gosner 1314, Bud Davis-Carl Marah 1303, Cy Goodwin-Francis Brown 1302, Chuck Quelette, Jr.-Chuck Quelette, III 1300, A. Shkolnik-H. Lewin 1297, C. Crowder-Bob Milligan 1297, F. Walter-Robert Parker 1295, and R. Fraker-Art Hoover, Sr. 1293.

SINGLES: Al Kauffman 729, Ted Anderson 727, George Shipperuk 722, George Himrod 713, Bob Bennett 709, Hank Browning 706, Bob Miller 701, Ron Esterkin 700, Bob Henderson 695 and Mike Vincent 695.

ALL-EVENTS: Mike Vincent 2087, Grover McNamee 2002, J. M. LaMotte 1998, P. J. Allison 1996, Chuck Gutton 1980, Ben Miller 1974, Clarence Hoppes 1973, Carrol Woodruff 1967, Frank Lascola 1962 and Leo Stoney 1952.

Top "scratches" (top scores without use of handicaps) were: all-events—Vincent 1934; singles—Kauffman 676; doubles—Trapasso-Gosner 1304; and team—Certified Credit 2955. Low money scores are: team—2942, doubles—1190, singles—602, and all-events—1838.

The Knights of Columbus' state tourney (five-man team) is also still going strong each weekend and will continue five more (excluding Easter) at Hillcrest lanes.

Jerry Spears hit on only three of his first 13 tries from the field the other evening against Watterson, but he had a little bit of an excuse . . . the night before in practice his left eye made unintended connection with a flying elbow. Lost quite a bit of blood, almost closed his eye, and nine stitches were needed!

In spite of partial sight and some fatigue, 26 points isn't too bad in any man's league.

Oh, yes, some sharp lip reader also finally detected what Spears says prior to shooting each of his foul shots: "Come on, Baby, go in!"

At the halfway point in the Hilltop YMCA Intermediate League's Monday night loop at West, the leaders were Hoge Memorial 8-0—1.000; Westgate Methodist 6-2—.750; Hillcrest Baptist 5-3—.625; West Sr. Hi-Y 5-3—.625; Glenwood Methodist 4-4—.500; Westgate EUB 3-5—.375; DeMolay 2-6—.250; Sullivant-av Friends 2-6—.250; West Park Methodist 1-7—.125.

Top five scorers to date were . . . Hummel, Glenwood Meth.—124; Swank, West Park Meth.—114; Grabill, Westgate Meth.—110; Daft, Westgate EUB—107; Hill, Westgate Meth.—100. High individual games were Hummel (38), Dean, Westgate EUB (29) and Mollette, Sullivant-av Friends (27).

Coliseum Thrills To Cage Windups

In Central Ohio District Basketball tourney play Friday, Bexley won over Hilliards, 74-45; South over Franklin Heights, 65-39; Central dumped Linden McKinley, 68-57; and North neaked by Grandview, 61-60.

Bexley led all the way in posting quarter leads of 21-14, 37-23 and 58-38. The score was considered by some to be a little surprising, but Bexley's aggressive man-to-man overcame Hilliards' zone. The Lions were paced by Dick Masgder's 24, Tom Tussing's 16 and ten apiece by Mike Hardesty and Sam McCandlish. Hilliards was led by Roger Pritchard and Don Yore, each with 10.

South led all the way in racking up quarter leads of 10-7, 30-19 and 51-28. The biggest difference seemed to be in "marksmanship . . . as South hit on 48% of its shots from the field while Franklin could only muster a 20% mark. Off the boards, each covered its own board best, so they split about even on that score. South employed a man-to-man and partial zone defense while Franklin used a 1-2-2 zone until forced to switch in the last frame.

South was led by Jim Marshall's 21, Bud Drake's 19, and Bill Young's 11. Franklin was paced by Bill Johnson with 12 and Bob Batst with 11. In the early stages of the fourth quarter, Franklin put on a successful press (South only managed two shots in first four minutes) and poured in 13 consecutive points before South scored. But the deficit was too great and Franklin couldn't hold the pace.

The North-Grandview game provided one of the real whingdings of the tourney.

Like the other two squads composing the top three rungs in the City League finish this year, North nosed through to a one-point win. Grandview was definitely "up" for the game and, as in their first tourney game against Eastmoor, hotter than the proverbial $2 pistol! Most fans will admit that it was one of the best games seen in this area for a while as Grandview (10-8) played its best game of the year by far by pushing highly rated North (13-4).

Grandview had a fairly decent lead with little time to go, but the pressure and North's hustle and poise came through as Grandview turned over the ball three times in those dying moments . . . to lose the lead and the game. North led 13-8 at the end of the first period, but was trailing 23-32 at halftime. However the Polar Bears held a slim 45-44 lead going into the final stanza.

North lost the services of Jim Doughty and Bob Taylor early via the foul route, thus hurting their rebounding as well as their scoring punch. Doughty actually saw little action . . . picking up three personals and leaving the game midway through the second quarter reentering midway through the third period, only to leave for good shortly thereafter.

Brilliant Ed Clark took up the slack. Never faltering in their hustle and determination, North came back! Clark finished with 20 points for the evening followed by Sam Park's 14 and Doughty's 11. Grandview's Tom Nye took high game honors (and tourney's high to date) with 27, aided by Bob Newland's 14. The score was tied up nine times.

Central had a fairly easy task downing Linden for the third time this season. Further details on the game can be found elsewhere in the paper.

Saturday evening's warring found East trouncing Olentangy, 73-29; Newark dumping Washington Court House, 74-56; Westerville nipping St. Charles, 48-43; and London upsetting West, 74-58.

Details were unavailable at press time on the Newark and Westerville games due to the distance involved. The full story on the West-London game will be found elsewhere in this paper.

Jackie Moore's East crew had themselves a much easier time in registering their second win of the tourney as they clobbered Olentangy, 73-29. East's first team only played the first half. The Tigers held quarter leads of 18-4, 36-15, and 57-20. Both teams used a 1-2-2 zone with Olentangy switching off to a man-to-man at times. The winners were paced by Larry Jones with 16, Clarence Winston's 12, and Max Jones with 10.

There was no tourney play scheduled for Monday evening, but the quarterfinals resumed Tuesday night with the following scheduled games . . . Newark (13-5) vs. Central (13-6); South (8-10) vs. East (15-3); London (15-4) vs. North (14-4); and Bexley (18-2) vs. Westerville (12-7).

The winners of the first and second games and of the third and fourth games will be paired Thursday evening. The winners of those two games meet at the Coliseum on Saturday night, Mar. 7. The victor then advances to the Northwest Regional.

Central Whips Newark

Central's Pirates crashed through the quarter final barrier in the CO District finals Tuesday and rubbed out Newark 66-58.

It was rough going all the way but the solid shooting of Herman Reeves (28 points). Ed Tucker (16) and Jim Gunnell (10) helped seal the victory.

Central "sneaked" through to a 61-60 victory over a rough Mt. Vernon crew in their first tourney test Feb. 28 at the Coliseum. Mt. Vernon led almost all the way until the Pirates, paced by Jim Gunnell and Herman Reeves, finally went ahead at 59-56 in the fourth period.

Then with about three minutes to go, John Hillman sank two free throws for the Bucs to ice the decision. Mt. Vernon possessed a good attack and hit quite well, especially in the first half while Central was experiencing some "coolness" in their own offense. However, the second half was a different tale as Central started to hit and put their fast break to effective use.

The second half found the score tied several times, but Central could never pull away until almost at the gun. Mt. Vernon led at all quarter terminals . . . 21-19, 41-34, 48-46. Gunnell led the Pirates with 22 points, followed by Reeves' 11.

They came charging back Friday night to take the measure of a fellow city-leaguer in their second tourney contest . . . downing Linden McKinley, 65-57. Linden led at the end of the first period, 12-10.

The score was tied several times as the half ended all knotted up at 23-all. Linden jumped off to a quick 25-23 lead to start the third quarter, but from then on it was mostly Central as they dominated and led most of the second half.

Both teams about split off the boards in the first half, but the Bucs had a little better of it after the intermission. Linden was hot the first quarter, but Central started hitting in the second and continued with a torrid third period. They still outpointed Linden by two in the fourth quarter.

Both teams employed the run-run-run theory throughout. Reeves led the victors' scoring with 20, followed by Hillman's 12, Ed Tucker with 11 and Gunnell's 10.

West Claims Watterson; Stopped Cold By London

BY BOB WILCOX

West Cowboys' 1958-59 basketball season came to a screeching halt saturday at the Coliseum. They met their final "Waterloo" and the end of this year's tournament trail at the hands of a good London crew, 74-58. However, Feb. 24 the West lads had dumped Watterson, 63-50, in their first tourney test.

Their first encounter in this year's tournament was a victory over a Watterson team that never quite gave up. Consequently the Cowboys, leading by a fairly safe margin most of the game, never could completely pull it out of Watterson's reach until the late stages.

Watterson held a 9-8 lead at the end of the first period. By halftime West led 26-18 and continued the lead at 41-32 going into the final period. Shootingwise, the figures were fairly close . . . from the field West made 24 of 61 for 39% while Watterson had a 15-47—32% mark. From the free throw line they outshot West, making good on 20 of 26 for 75% while the Broncos had a 18-34—52% figure.

West's scoring was pretty well spread out over four players, after Jerry Spears' 26 points. (Incidentally this was the tourney's individual high mark until last Friday night when a Grandview lad hit for 27 against North.) Spears made a very slow start, hitting on only three of his first 12 tries from the field. But once he started rolling . . . pow!

Spears, Roger Street and Dave Brady (with assists from Ray Horky and Billy Castle) pretty well cleaned the boards as West dominated the rebounding, 39-24. Both squads turned the ball over 10 times.

Horky contributed a good evening's work, especially on defense, with one very well-timed steal. All in all, it was a "normal" game, with Watterson making it an interesting contest by fighting down to the wire.

Saturday night was a completely different story. Between foul-outs and a frigid fourth quarter, the Cowboys were "undone.' Whereas the scoring had been balanced somewhat Tuesday night, there was little or no scoring help forthcoming Saturday from the backcourt crew.

All three big men had good nights as Spears netted 21, Brady 19 and Street 14. Horky, Castle and Don Uldricks were all held scoreless. All three of the "Big Three," above, ended the first half with three personals and eventually fouled out.

Spears left first about midway through the second half. Street followed midway through the final period, and Brady left shortly before the end of the game. All three were missed and helped the downfall.

The Cowboys proceeded to have a disastrous fourth quarter. Behind by only three points going into the final period, London put on a 19-point blitz while the Cowboys could only muster three fielders!

London led most of the way. West finally managed to pull even at 18-18 with 1:20 showing on the clock on a field goal by Street. Brady put in two free throws just as the first quarter ended to again knot the score at 20-all. London led at halftime 42-33. The score was tied five times . . . at 42-42, 44-44, and 46-46 all in the third period; while West's only leads were also in the third frame at 46-44 (their first lead on a long side shot from the right corner by Spears), 48-47 and 50-49.

London's Meade, for his height and fairly good build, was a big disappointment to this reporter as a ballplayer. While garnering 19 points, he seemed either quite lazy or well handled defensively (or possibly both) as he certainly didn't do much off the boards and lost shot after shot by "banging" it off the basket too hard.

London's best all-around player was smooth Roger Reynolds (one of three Reynolds boys on the team) who picked up 20 points . . . 18 in the first half. Right behind him came Rich Garrison, a good, but uncolorful player who chipped in with 16 markers . . . 10 in the last period blast.

Statisticwise, London outdid West in most areas as well as scoring. They hit on 28 of 60 for 47% from the field to West's 24-66—40%. From the free throw lane they hit for 17 of 33 for 52% as compared with West's 9 of 22 for 41%. West did manage to slip through to outrebound London by 41-39, but as usual they lost out in turnovers to their victors, 15-4.

At times, West looked very good on defense. But the losses personnelwise were too much to overcome. Carl Brown did some rebounding work as a sub late in the game (perhaps he should have been in all game) as well as throwing in two points.

SCORING: West—Street, 2-3-9; Brady, 3-1-7, Spears, 11-4-26; Horky, 2-3-7; Castle, 1-0-2; Uldricks, 3-3-9; Briggs, 1-1-3. Totals: 24-15-63. Watterson—Kelley, 3-7-13; Lyons, 4-0-8; Gottemoeller, 1-4-6; Tippett, 2-4-8; Cameron 4-1-9; Doon, 1-4-6. Totals: 18-20-50.

West—Street 6-2-14, Brady 7-5-19; Spears, 9-3-21; Horky, 0-0-0; Castle, 0-0-0; Briggs, 1-0-2; Brown, 1-0-2. Totals: 24-10-50. London — R. Reynolds, 8-4-20; G. Reynolds, 1-3-5; Meade, 7-5-19; Garrison, 6-4-16; Fuggett, 1-2-12; Polley, 1-0-2. Totals: 26-18-74.

It's wonderful how you can remember a fellow's name for years and years, if he owes you some money.

Tourney Marks Quarter-Finals

In Central Ohio District tourney quarter finals at the Coliseum Tuesday night, Westerville nipped Bexley, 51-50; North trounced London 64-47; East dumped South 61-53; and Central beat Newark 66-58.

In the semi-final limelight Friday will be Central vs. East in the first game and North vs. Westerville in the second contest.

Bluebirds Fly Into Tourney Top Position

Bluebirds' 30-26 win over the Otters captured the Senior Boys' Basketball League title at Glenwood Recreation Center. Jerry Hummel of the Bluebirds pumped in 14 points, as did Steve Fetherolf of the losing team.

Leading by only two points in the third quarter, the Cavaliers managed to hand the Staters their second loss of the season, 39-31. Had they won, the Staters would have been tied for first place with the Bluebirds. Julian Howie was high man for the Cavaliers with ten points, and Gary Hiett scored 15 for the Staters.

Dave Dehl's 17 led the Aces to their fifth win of the season when they defeated DeMolay, 38-35. Top scorer for DeMolay was Dick Curtiss with 14.

Final standings find the Bluebirds on top with a 6-and-1 record, followed by the Staters 5-2; Cavaliers 5-2, Aces 5-2, DeMolay 4-3, Otters 2-5, and the Playboys 1-6.

"My electric dryer helped me entertain!"

Finding time to have a friend in for the afternoon is no problem when you have an electric dryer to help you. Low-cost electric drying does more than dry your clothes fluffy and sweet. It saves you time and energy, too. Your laundry-day routine is shorter, and there's no back-breaking drudgery of carrying and hanging wet clothes. Then you can use the time and energy you save to be an even better homemaker, wife and mother.

If you don't already know how much an electric dryer can help you, see your electric appliance dealer. He'll be happy to give you a free demonstration.

Marilyn Francis Weds James McCourt

MRS. JAMES P. McCOURT

St. Mary Magdalene Church was the setting for the wedding on Jan. 24 of Miss Marilyn Lee Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit E. Francis, 879 Binns-blvd, and Mr. James P. McCourt, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCourt, 63 [illegible]-av.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle designed with a tiered tulle skirt and lace overskirt which swept into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was caught to a lace cloche embroidered with seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pink sweetheart roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Judith Rowe, maid of honor, and Miss Dorothy Schultz, bridesmaid, wore identical shrimp, waltz-length gowns with matching feather bandeaus. They carried garlands of Scottish heather and pink camillias.

Mr. Daniel McCourt, the bridegroom's brother, was best man and Mr. David Miller and Mr. Fred Gallucci were ushers.

A breakfast reception was held following the ceremony at the Everglades.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and was associated with Joseph Sculler & Co.

Mr. McCourt was graduated from Aquinas High School and is employed by the State Highway Patrol.

Mr. and Mrs. McCourt are at home at 200 Johnson Circle in Defiance.

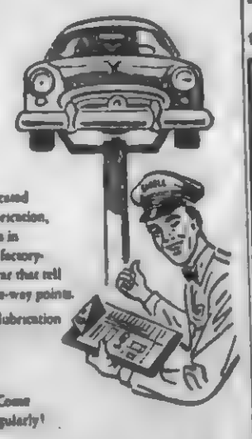
Four Policeman Receive Higher Posts Sunday

Four Columbus policemen received promotions Sunday, Mar. 1, and will be sworn in this week. The promotions, which became effective Sunday, were based on results of recent Civil Service promotional examinations.

Police Captain Marvin L. Canada, of 40 W. Long.-st, was advanced to deputy inspector; Lt. Phillip Momburg, of 263 S. Eureka-av, was promoted to captain; Sgt. Wayne Morgan, of 2880 Grasmere, to lieutenant; and Patrolman William Fickell, of 1475 E. 22nd-st, to sergeant.



Both Canada and Momburg have been with the Columbus police force for 20 years. Lt. Morgan joined the department in 1948 and Sgt. Fickell was appointed to the force in 1946.

Good Reading Tastes Urged For Christians

A weekly Lenten message on good literature is being written by young people of churches belonging to Hilltop Ministerial Association. Iris Lutz is a member of Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren.

By Iris Lutz

Literature has played an important part in opening the way for our modern age and it is still essential to continue our growth in life.

Have you looked at the kind of magazines that is being sold on our corner newsstand and in our drugstores? I am referring to the sex magazines and other unclean literature.

They certainly won't help to improve our lives and our country.

I stated the facts, now you as a Christian should help to purge our country of such "literature." We should start reading material that deserves to be classified as "literature."

West Senior Tops In City

WINS HONORS — Judy Smith, 347 S. Wayne-av, West High senior is among 10,000 from the nation who is competing for 700 national merit scholarships. She is eligible to be considered for selection by placing first in the city and seventh in the county in senior scholarship award tests taken in January.—J. Curtis Allen photo.

Kids Learn Science Via TV

LOOK AND LEARN — Educational television instruction in science for second and sixth grade students was started last week by the Board of Education. Rapt expressions of second grade students at students at Westgate School above, reflect their response to the new method.

TV CLASS—Patricia Manus, Westgate teacher, tunes in the new science sessions for her second grade students for the first time last Thursday. Fifteen minute classes for the second grade pupils and thirty-minute sessions for sixth graders are beamed into local classrooms twice each week.

BAKE SALE SET

Hilltop Council 309, Daughters of America will hold a bake sale at Goodwill Center, W. Broad-st at Powell-av Saturday, Mar. 7.

Plans Okayed, Bid Dates Set For New Schools

School Board took steps on Tuesday to assure adequate housing for the city's elementary student population next September.

Announcement was made of plans to build a new elementary in far eastern section of the city, plans were approved for the building and deadline set for construction bids.

In addition, drawings and specifications were approved, and bid deadlines set for the proposed new Stockbridge School as well as a six-room annex to Main Street School.

The new eastern school, named Pinecrest, will be built on land already owned by the board at 4025 E. Astor-av. The elementary will fulfill an already existing need in the area.

Without the new building, there would be a serious student housing shortage when schools convene in September.

Deadline for bids has been set for Apr. 7.

Specifications and drawings for Stockbridge School, to be built at 3350 S. Champion-av were also okayed by the board and bid deadlines set for Apr. 1.

A six-room, unattached annex planned for Main Street School, will actually serve as a nucleus for a future new building on the site.

Since Main Street, containing some of the oldest classrooms being used in the city system, will undoubtedly need to be replaced in the future. An addition to the present building is not in line with the board's farsighted planning.

First portion of the school was built in 1896 and an addition was made in 1906.

Construction bids for the annex will be received until Apr. 2.

Total flood damage to Columbus School buildings and furniture was set at $10,978.57 with Dana Avenue, hardest hit of all, accounting for $6,749 of the total.

Repairs to the buildings and replacement of furniture has been completed.

West Teacher Given Study Grant Abroad

Mrs. Margaret Harold

Foreign language instructor at West High School, Mrs. Margaret V. Harold, has been awarded one of approximately 400 grants for teaching and participating in summer seminars abroad included in the International Education Exchange Program under the Fulbright Act.

Mrs. Harold will use her grant to attend the summer seminar for American teachers of Spanish at the Instituto Caro y Cuervo, Bogota at Bogota, Columbia.

Mrs. Harold, who came to West Junior-Senior High School in 1947, is a graduate of Oberlin College. She has spent one summer session in the study of advanced Spanish at the University of Havana in Cuba.

She resides with her husband at 341 Piney-dr, Worthington.

15 React To TB Skin-Type Tests

Fifteen first-graders showed positive reactions to the TB needle-type skin tests conducted last week in 12 Catholic schools by the Tuberculosis Society.

Readings on the first 897 tests were completed Monday.

An additional 12 schools are being given the Mantoux test this week, as the free Christmas seal service continues. Included are first-graders in the following Hartley newspaper areas:

St. Aloysius, 2195 W. Broad-st, Monday; St. Mary Magdelene, 478 S. Roys-av; St. Agnes, 744 S. Wheatland-av, and Holy Family, 36 Sandusky-st, Tuesday.

St. Leo, 218 Hanford-st, St. Mary, 685 Mohawk-st and St. Ladislas, 395 Reeb-av, Wednesday.

Corpus Christi, 1249 Linwood-av, and St. John, 630 S. Ohio-av, Friday.

18 'Tapped' For Honors

Eighteen West High seniors were chosen as candidates for the Otto Magley Chapter, National Honor Society, in tapping ceremonies held at the school Tuesday.

Selected on the basis of scholastic record, leadership ability, service record and character, they will be installed into the society at a later assembly.

'Paste Pot Swing' Set At Central

Journalism department of Central High School will sponsor "The Paste Pot Swing," dance to be held Friday, Mar. 6 in the school gymnasium, 8 to 11 p. m.

Disc Jockeys Steve Joos and Dave Cummins from a local radio station will be emcees.

Program will feature in person rock and roll singers Jackie Dee, The Pharoahs, Dale Wright and the Marquees.

Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Richard B. Evans Named Fire Lieutenant Tuesday

Safety Director Leo Phillips announced Tuesday the appointment of Richard B. Evans to fire lieutenant. Lt. Evans, a resident of 2942 Brownlee-av, has been with the fire department since June, 1941. The lieutenant was sworn in by Phillips, Tuesday morning.

The lieutenant was also being congratulated Monday on becoming a father for the fifth time when his wife gave birth to a baby son, Richard Bryan Evans. The Evans also have another son and three daughters.

Redick Suspends Night Levee Work

City Service Director Floyd C. Redick told City Council Monday that "tremendous strides" had been made in the Dry Run levee renovation and that there no longer was any danger of flooding.

Because of this, he said, he had instructed the contractor to suspend night operations on the ditch early this week.

Redick indicated that he intends to survey the situation further, "clear to Grandview-av." He added that clean-up of debris around the culverts had been done by the county last week.

It's wonderful how you can remember a fellow's name for years and years, if he owes you some money.

Holiday Inn To Be Built Near Rome

Holiday Inns of America will construct a luxurious $1,000,000 structure sometime within the next two months in the Lincoln Village area, Archie Quinn, the organization's director of public relations, has announced.

The new Holiday Inn will be a two-story building, consisting of 100 rooms, according to Quinn.

Start of construction date will depend upon the weather. It will take about six months to complete, he said. The hotel will cover 663.65 feet on W. Broad-st, and extend south along Grener-rd for a depth of 400 feet, according to Hilltop Westgate Realty Co. officials who transacted the purchase. The land was acquired from Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Dastelhorst.

The inn will contain a swimming pool, cocktail lounge, dining room, and convention room.

Guests will tread over wall to wall carpeting in their rooms. Each of the rooms will be provided with glass wall extensions. Free television will also be available.

No charge will be made for children under 12 years of age, according to Quinn. Baby sitters and a house physician will be on duty.

At the present time, 82 Holiday Inns are in operation making it the largest chain in the nation By July 1, the organization expects to up that total to 100. Home office is at Memphis, Tenn.

Wildlife Week Planners Underline School's Role

Plans for the local observance of National Wildlife Week Mar. 15-21 have been announced by Charles A. Dambach, 7085 Linworth-rd, statewide chairman for the program. Assisting with the observance this year are Ted Lee, 936 Wilson-av, and Herb Rumfield, 630 Butler-av, representing the League of Ohio Sportsmen.

Walt Disney, producer of the famed "True Life Adventure" nature movie series, is serving as national honorary chairman for Wildlife Week.

Dambach said, "the primary objective of the Wildlife Week campaign in Columbus this year is to acquaint people, including educators and students with the tremendous importance of adopting and applying the concepts of conservation to our everyday lives."

"America's wealth and prestige among nations is due to our once-bountiful natural resources such as fertile soil, plentiful supplies of water, great forests, extensive deposits of ore and abundant wildlife," Lee pointed out at a luncheon last week at the Southern Hotel. A group of conservationists and educators met there to start the Wildlife Week observance.

"Our basic need for resource conservation is a logical concern of the school, particularly social studies, history, science and a number of other school subjects," said Herb Rumfield. "It's vitally important," he added, "that conservation be made a part of the school experience of our children."

Disney Suggestions Given

Featured at the kick-off luncheon were four courses of action, supplied by Walt Disney, to get conservation in our schools:

1. Make it your business to find out if conservation is being taught in the grade and high schools in your district.

2. Start educational and publicity campaigns to show people the need for teaching conservation in their schools. Point out examples of resource mistreatment close to home. Demonstrate how abuse of lands result in soil erosion, water pollution, depletion of farms and forests, destruction of wildlife living places and outdoor recreation areas.

3. Set up a conservation-education committee in your community. Ask representatives of as many civic and agency groups as possible to serve on this — teachers and school administrators, parent-teacher associations, women's clubs, service and farm groups, sportsmen-conservation clubs, youth groups, churches, and conservation agencies.

4. Help get money to support conservation-education activities. Materials for teaching conservation often are in short supply. Make funds available for your schools to provide approved teaching aids, leaflets and books, demonstration and project materials for use in classrooms.

At least two sportsmen's clubs in this area will be active this year in carrying out the theme of Wildlife Week—the Southeast Conservation Club, and the Central Hunters' and Anglers' Club. Others will participate too. If you want to help in starting conservation in your local schools contact one of these clubs. Mr. Rumfield and Mr. Lee are the men to call.

Grilled steaks, chicken, frankfurters or hamburgers taste good in winter. If you have a fireplace, use it to prepare those favorite family "summer" foods, say Ohio State University Extension nutritionists.

Academy Now Accepting Alumni Grant Requests

Applicants will soon be screened for the Columbus Academy Alumni Memorial Scholarship which is awarded annually to an eighth grade boy from schools of Franklin County and vicinity.

The scholarship, which covers four years of high school training at the academy, is based on moral character, all-around ability, intelligence and leadership. The applicant must show that without the financial aid afforded by the scholarship, he would not have been able to attend the school. The size of the scholarship grant will be commensurate with the financial need of the boy.

Candidates will be screened by means of aptitude and achievement tests and personal interviews with members of the academy faculty and the Alumni Scholarship Committee. Applications must be made by May 18 to George D. Brown, faculty representative, Columbus Academy Alumni Association, 1939 Franklin Park-S.

Co-winners of last year's scholarship were Sam Bruskin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bendid Bruskin, of 422 N. Drexel-av, and John Masters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Masters, of Groveport.

Pike Lake Park Cabin Drawing Winners Named

Winners of a Lake Hope and Pike Lake State Park cabin drawing were to be notified by the Ohio Division of Parks. Lake Hope Park has 21 state-owned housekeeping cabins within the 16,000-acre Zaleski State Forest.

Housekeeping cabins, open from Apr. 1 to Nov. 1, are so popular they have to be rented each year by a chance drawing. A total of 23 sleeping cabins, open from May 1 to Nov. 1, are in less demand. There are still a number of vacancies for them.

Occupants of sleeping cabins eat at the Lake Hope Lodge which is scheduled to open May 1 and close Nov. 1.

Wayne Wright, 154 N. Wayne-av, was the first applicant to receive accommodations at Pike State Park, Pike County. There are 14 housekeeping cabins at Pike overlooking a 13-acre lake, open Apr. 1 to Nov. 1.

Also in demand at Pike, and rented from Mar. 1 to Dec. 1 on the basis of an annual drawing, is a large lodge which accommodates groups up to 22 persons. Mrs. Thurman Friday of Dublin, also had her name drawn for a cabin at Pike State Park.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits — Valencia oranges, grapefruit, apples, frozen [illegible].

Vegetables —Potatoes, celery, new cabbage, broccoli.

Protein Foods — Pork loins, round bone beef steak, frozen fish, large eggs, cheese.

ON MARKETS IN MARCH

One of the nice things about this time of year is that it's the season when we get the most and best citrus fruits. Oranges are generally at their lowest point in their price cycle. You'll find plenty of both oranges and grapefruit—and they're at their peak in quality. The popular juice oranges, Florida Valencias, are here in abundance.

Because of that big apple crop in the fall, this fruit is still in good supply — lots of apples to brighten March meals and lunch boxes will still be on the market. Modern carefully regulated storage holds apple quality over the months. Fresh Cuban pineapple and dark green avocados are worth noting for fruit variety. Hot house rhubarb is coming in larger quantities; the first strawberries of the season are here—spring can't be far away!

Vegetables—Potatoes continue so plentiful that they will be one of March's best food buys. For a green vegetable consider new cabbage — crisp and bright in color and high in vitamins C and A. For all it offers, prices are expected to be very reasonable. Celery teams well with cabbage. Supplies are due to be especially large, coming in from Florida, Arizona and California at the same time. Canned vegetables for the month are peas, snap beans, sauerkraut, tomatoes and tomato products.

Poultry and Eggs lead the list of foods due to be plentiful on March markets with lower prices. This is good news for all planning Lenten meals, and also for Easter. Large eggs give you more for your money at this season.

Roast turkey for Easter dinner? It's getting to be a tradition with many families. Turkey also will be plentiful in March, with family-size birds in largest supply. This means markets will be offering the size that most of us prefer.

At Marsh meat counters pork will be a plentiful item. Whole loins, Boston butt, ham, picnics and bacon are good choices. As would be expected when pork is plentiful, lard also is in heavy supply.

Some price concessions will continue on beef — especially loin cuts, steaks and pot roasts. Watch for features on these.

Other plentifuls include peanuts and peanut butter . . . very good proteins by the way.

Milk supplies are increasing seasonally, so dairy products continue in plenty.

Dry beans of one variety or another are buys at your market.

For the sweet tooth there's honey, also in plentiful supply, and so good on breakfast hot cakes or on biscuits or other hot breads.

Newspapers Are Part Of Our Regular Diet

Residents of the entire Central Ohio Area will be glad when the Columbus daily newspaper strike is over. The regular consumption of news has become a vital part of our daily diet . . . and an important factor in our way of [illegible].

In our group of seven Hartley Newspapers with a total of over 70,000 circulation, we have attempted to give some additional coverage of general news but in no manner have attempted to cover the field like the dailies do.

Our papers have expanded considerably in size in the past two weeks as the result of advertising available from many sources.

Just as we have continued to give preference to our local community news events we have given first preference to our local and regular advertisers.

We are sorry our facilities have not been such that we could have extended our service to many more advertisers. We have been forced to turn down thousands of dollars worth of such advertising offered us.

We sincerely hope the strike ends soon. We have long felt that too many people are hurt by strikes. We hope our economy soon finds methods to settle such problems without the resulting losses that accompany the present methods.

While the strike continues we will make every effort to give our best possible service under pressure of production. If we fail in some instances . . . please bear with us.

Thanks

After 11 days in Mt. Carmel Hospital I'm real happy to be back home and gradually getting back into the normal swing of things.

A mighty big "Thank You" to all the many people for their greeting cards, cheery notes, gifts, flowers and a lot of telephone calls and visits.

And this fine word for the Sisters at Mt. Carmel . . . You and your entire staff were wonderful. I actually look back on the whole visit as a pleasant experience . . . Thanks!

Orleans United For Flood Control

Comes word from Washington to the effect that Ohio representatives in Congress are united in their thinking relative to the needs of flood control for our state.

It has been pointed out that damages estimated at $200,000,000 have resulted from floods in Ohio this year but only slightly over $95,000,000 has been spent on flood control in the state SINCE 1936.

Republican Representative Frank Bow of Canton points out that both the Miami Conservancy District at Dayton and the Muskingum Conservancy District have done a great job, and adds, "I hope we do not bypass the conservancy district program which has worked so well."

When the Lord sent word down to Noah to get out his hammer and nails and construct the Ark, Noah went about the business at hand and as a result the human race and the animal kingdom was preserved.

The January opening of the heavens and consequent downfall of waters that resulted in so much damage to this community might well be taken as a directive to get our tools and set about constructing the necessary projects to protect lives and property.

The job can't be done with words alone . . . It needs action. It is a subject that needs constant needling from the public.

Plans for the Community Easter egg hunt, the inspection of parks and the opening of playgrounds will be discussed.

SHAMROCK SHENANIGANS SET

They'll All Be Irish Tuesday!

No Blarney about it, the city will roll out the green carpet for the Irish next Tuesday.

A number of local St. Patrick's Day doin's, public and private, are in the works. Perhaps the most colorful however, will be the downtown procession, beginning at 8:15 a.m. when the Shamrock Club will strut from Knights of Columbus Hall to St. Patrick's church.

Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann, D.D., will preside at the 9:30 Solemn High Mass at which Rev. James T. McKenna, O.P., pastor of St. Patrick's, will be celebrant. Rev. James J. McLarney, O.P., S.T.M., will preach.

Following this, breakfast will be served at the Neil House under the direction of Mike Murtha and Emmett Bain.

Charles J. Carney, member of the Ohio Senate, will be principal speaker. Toastmaster will be Paul J. Lynch of the House of Representatives. Featured music will be by the Shamrock Glee Club of which Jack Flynn is director.

Procession marshal will be chief Larry F. Donovan of the Lockbourne A.F.B. Co-chairmen will be Russell Finneran and R. Patrick West. Other chairmen include William Dailey, Thomas Hinton, Michael Murphy, Mike Eberly, Joe Ginnan, Patrick Canty, and J. Robert Callahan.

Officers of the club are Msgr. Harry S. Connelly, chaplain; Jerry O'Shaughnessy, president, James D. Callahan, vice-president; Frank Strapp, treasurer, and Thomas D. Cahill, secretary.

Court Okays Car Service On Sundays

Auto service businesses, classified Monday by Municipal Court Judge Alan Schwarzwalder as "performing a work of necessity," may now operate on Sunday in Columbus.

Judge Schwarzwalder's opinion on garages, auto parts companies and service stations' status virtually exempted them from the Sunday Blue Law.

Most operators who had closed their service stations the past few weeks to escape citation for violating the Sunday business ban, will probably be open.

Meet Again Thursday

A meeting is planned by Independent Service Station Dealers' Association Thursday, 7:30 p.m at the Coca-Cola plant.

Schwarzwalder dismissed cases Monday against Roy Poston of 3420 Seabrook-dr, operator

Parks Master Plan Urged By Development Committee

Adoption of a master plan to guide parks and recreation development for the 1980 population of the Greater Columbus area was recommended today by the Parks and Recreation Technical Committee of the Development Committee for Greater Columbus, a non-profit citizens action group.

The committee reported after more than a year's inquiry into the parks and recreation problems of the area. It urged that the basic plans prepared by the firm of Harland Bartholomew & Associates in 1954 as amended in light of recent developments be called the official plan for parks and recreation.

Chairman Byron P. Redman told civic and government officials that the committee urged continued application of three Bartholomew recommendations: use of low-lying land along waterways for large parks, provision of major athletic fields in each section of the community, and development of neighborhood parks and playgrounds in conjunction with elementary schools.

He said the committee backed eight large parks along the Marble Cliff, Climo Road, South Scioto River, Lower Big Walnut, Upper Big Walnut, Hoover Dam, Alum Creek and the Olentangy River. All but the Climo Road Park would cover low-lying stream banks.

The committee urged designation of 30.4 acres of Columbus property at McKinley Avenue and Fisher-rd for park use, as well as city-owned land on the west bank of the Scioto south of Southview Park and also portions of city land between W. Whittier-st and the Scioto River.

Bartholomew recommendations for major athletic fields to serve each section of the community were underscored. Steps to get maximum use of Gowdy Park on Olentangy River-rd were also given.

The committee asked that piority be given acquisition of large flat areas for major athletic fields.

These have been at Southview and Whetstone Parks, at Sunbury Road and Mock Road, and a new Berwick Park, along Alum Creek Drive north of the N.Y.C. Railroad. A fifth would be in Valleyview Park already being developed.

The committee endorsed the main Bartholomew proposal for building neighborhood parks and playgrounds next to new school sites and urged continued cooperative efforts inside and out of the city.

The committee said immediate steps should begin on municipal golf course on city property east of Port Columbus, orderly construction should procede on swimming pools at Sunshine, Goodale, Schiller, and Westgate Parks, and Ohio State Fairgrounds facilities should be considered for recreational purposes.

After investigating needs not in the Bartholomew master plan report, the committ-

Housing Site On Valleyview Is Given 'OK'

City Council zoners Monday night gave the nod to rezoning 18 acres north of Valleyview-dr west of Hague-av, permitting an 85-home development to pro-[illegible].

Formal consideration is expected [illegible].

The area designation was changed from manufacturing to single family residential.

The plat abuts 15 acres owned by the Dean and Barry Paint Co. to the west. The company has indicated it plans to build a paint factory near the railroad some day and feared pressure groups from any proposed nearby development.

William Hoermle, chairman of the zoning committee, said Dean and Barry officials stated that the factory would not be "the type that boils off varnish." Apparently no odor problem is foreseen, Hoermle said, adding "construction would probably be back against the railroad and include a park-like frontage.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has objected to the rezoning in hopes that another industry could be located on its line. H. E. McEowen of the Rural Zoning Commission also backed this view.

In its second week of discussion at council, the issue was opposed by a new delegation Monday night. Several Dibblee-av residents opposed the new Fritsche development with its "lower priced homes" and possible effect on their property values. Hoermle said a check of the map showed no appreciable connection with Dibblee.

A number of school, YMCA, and Masonic representatives present favored the new housing as a worthy addition to the community.

Two West High 'DE' Seniors Win Trip To Tacoma, Wash.

Leslie Wilson, a senior in Distributive Education at West High School, Sunday received the highest honor in this field in the state of Ohio.

He now holds the title of "DECA Student of the Year." ("DECA" stands for Distributive Education Clubs of America.)

As a result he will attend a national leadership conference to be held at Tacoma, Wash., April 1 to 4. There he will compete for the national title. The winner will receive $1,000 and consideration for a number of scholarship awards.

Leslie is the president of his local Distributive Education Club. He is employed at the Great Southern J. C. Penney store, where he has compiled an enviable record as a salesperson.

For the past two years he has been the drum-major at West High. Recently, he was tapped for National Honor Society and since has been elected president of this group. He ranks 11th in his class of 272. This record, along with many other accomplishments, including a four-hour grueling interview at a state conference here last weekend, qualified him for the honor. Les lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Wilson, at 2977 Palmetto-st.

Named State Secretary

Nancy Steele also a senior DE major, was elected state DECA secretary. She is employed as a salesperson at Seiller's Department Store, where she is reported to be outstanding. Nancy, too, will compete at Tacoma.

She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Steele, 84 S. Harris-av.

Ronald Bowman, another West High student in the state contest, won third place in Job Interview. Ronald is in the machine accounting with Midland Mutual Life Insurance Company. He resides with his mother, Mrs. Ruth Bowman, at 2244 Safford-[illegible].

Other contestants were John Merrick in speech and Nancy Ream in demonstration sales. Approximately 250 students from 30 Ohio high schools competed.

Course Here Year

The winnings are especially significant since Distributive Education made its debut at West High School last September. It is a vocational course, designed to train people for careers in retailing, wholesaling, and service establishments. There is a close working partnership between business men, the school, and the students.

The teacher-coordinator, O. D. Lehman, will accompany his two state winners to the National Conference. West High is the only Ohio school to have two students going to Tacoma.

Pet Pigeons 'Rescued' From Teeth Of City Law

By Roy S. Merwin, Jr.

"Do pigeons coo at night?"

This poser was asked Monday night by Councilman Robert Van Heyde, along with several other questions before council decided to amend a proposed ordinance to prevent animals or fowls from running at large.

After council and spectators had received a short course in "pigeon appreciation" from Jack Weilbacher, 224 E. Whittier-st, a pigeon man, the ordinance was changed to make homing pigeons bearing official bands an exception to the ordinance.

After this action, Weilbacher was called into immediate consultation by Dr. J. E. Drayer, deputy city health commissioner, in hopes of ridding city hall of pigeons.

The ordinance, which council unanimously ordered for legislation next week, now reads: "No person, being the owner or having charge of any animal or fowl (excepting homing pigeons bearing official bands) shall fail to prevent such animal or fowl from running at large on any property not his own."

Dr. Drayer was impressed with Weilbacher's boast of perfecting a trip which caught 225 pigeons on the roof of Starling Junior High School. Up to the present, Drayer admitted, five traps placed on city hall by his department have netted only two pigeons.

Drayer said, "We have a problem. I think we can work something out. If we can declare pigeons a public nuisance."

Basement Flooding Discussed

Earlier in the evening, Councilman William Hicks introduced a resolution to authorize the director of public service, Floyd C. Redick, to confer with city and county officials to determine the "feasibility" of a study of STUDENTS PROTEST RULING . . .

School Heads Defend Promotion Plan

City Board of Education's cancellation of 1961 and '62 January high school graduations last week has met with resistance from some students at West High School.

An annual promotion plan, adopted by the board in 1950, has affected up until now only those students entering school within the past ten years. Students enrolled before that time have continued to be advanced by semester promotions.

Given Four Choices

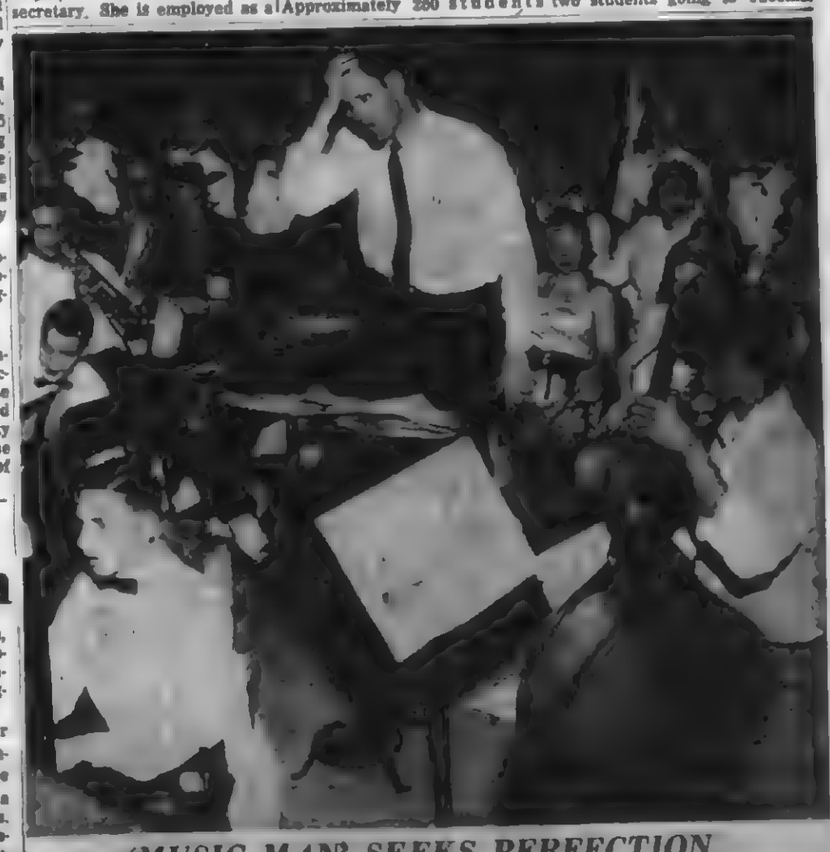
Members of the present 10B and 11B classes, informed that there would be no more formal, mid-year commencement programs, were given their choice of four alternate plans that would permit them to join either the preceding or the following June class events.

They may advance by attending summer school sessions or, if scholastically able, take additional work next year.

Those completing their high school requirements in January may accept a certificate admitting them to the university, a job or service, and return for graduation events in June.

Or, they may continue at West until June, taking additional courses that otherwise they could not elect, and join June class events.

Dislike Split-Up



Their protest that their class "was being broken up, deprived of the privilege of graduating as a unit," was expressed in letters and petitions

School officials, expressing amazement at the students' response, explained, "They are protesting that they are being deprived of the very rights we are trying to protect."

C. L. Dumaree, assistant superintendent of schools, said, "The decision to dispense with mid-year graduation is an answer to a changing situation.

"In the past years, mid-year graduation classes have dwindled to the point that some are now too small to finance a prom or other social events. Some have asked for permission to join the June graduates in these affairs.

"A little more than 400 were graduated in the city this January, as compared to nearly 2000 expected in June."

Local Company Introduces 'Orkil'

Harry C. Esick, manager of the Orkin Exterminating Co., 2280 W. Broad-st, announced the release of a new chemical for the control of termites.

"Called Orkil, it contains chlorehepton and is the deadliest known killer of termites" Esick said, "yet, it will not injure shrubbery, is non-staining, non-flammable and has no disagreeable odor. It is an Orkin exclusive and has been called the most dramatic scientific triumph in termite control in a half century."

With the formulation Orkil, the company is able to offer an unparalleled surety bonded guarantee against future termite damage, Esick said.

YOUR CHILDREN

It's natural for you to want your children to have the best possible start in life. Sun Life insurance can provide them with just such a start, whether through an Educational Builder or a Junior Adjustable Policy, or both. And remember that insurance on your own life provides you with unsurpassed estate to safeguard your family's security should you die prematurely.

BIBLE COMMENT

Jesus Didn't Need School For Teaching

Jesus was a great Teacher, though He conducted no school in the ordinary sense of that word.

His teaching stressed a necessary quality of all true education: knowledge must become personalized.

The school of Jesus had that basic quality in plentitude.

It was mostly out-of-doors, a school of companionship and personal contacts, a school in which He encouraged every success in emulating His example.

It was a school, too, in which the Teacher had infinite patience as every true teacher must have.

But it was a school of strict disciplines and high standards, as well. Poor pupils, even in a good school, may be content just to pass or "get by," but Jesus had called His disciples for high purposes.

They needed training, and that training was teaching and training by example.

Jesus said, first of all, "Follow me." He said, "Go," only when He had shown the way.

A good school is judged by its results and its product.

What a school, then, was that of Jesus, in which humble men became Apostles and spiritual world conquerors!

the sewer and drainage problem. "I do not mean a flood, but ordinary rain fall which causes flooded basements," Hicks said. "I do not know the answer, but it's about time we found out," he added.

Mayor Sensenbrenner and Councilman Shoemaker objected to the resolution on the grounds that it would be a waste of money since surveys have already been made and are available. Shoemaker said, "We need action, not another survey."

Later, in the service committee, Councilmen Hicks and Shoemaker talked with Service Director Redick and Carl W. Schoene, chief engineer of the division of sewerage and drainage. They wanted to determine how much additional storm trunks would cost to insure proper and effective drainage throughout the city.

Survey Costs Asked

The possibility of a $20 million bond issue to cover the cost was discussed. "The problem is that we really don't know the exact need," Schoene said. He said he knows a qualified engineer who could determine this but this person (who formerly worked for the city) is employed by a private firm now, and perhaps the entire firm would have to be employed at a cost of about $5,000, he estimated.

The resolution was finally tabled for a week to give Schoene time to study the problems involved, and to see just how much a survey would cost.

In other considerations for the night, an ordinance to authorize Service Director Redick to enter into contract for the spray of weeds and brush along highways was accepted.

Council also accepted the application for the annexation of certain territory in Clinton Township to the city.

Boat Rule Accepted

An amendment to the city code for the purpose of clarifying the safety rules and regulations around the reservoirs was also accepted. This amendment now reads, "No boat or outboard motor, except training canoes owned by and under the control of the American Red Cross, shall be permitted to operate in or about the reservoirs until it has been duly licensed for such purposes and until there has been attached thereto the valid metal identification tag or plate."

Park Master Plan—

tee urged continued progress on construction of recreational centers at Krumm Park, Westgate Park, the southeast section of the city, and the Senior Citizens Recreation Center in Sunshine Park.

Noting that Columbus Metropolitan Park expansion is essential the committee recommended that land in the districts suggested acquisition program adopted in 1948 should still be considered.

Urban renewal programs, the committee said, should be used wherever possible to acquire parks and recreation sites in densely populated ur-

Redman revealed that all parks and recreation agencies had acquired 272.7 acres of land since the 1954 Bartholomew report, and, that 38.9 acres had been lost, the bulk of this for expressway construction. Total park acreage in the Greater Columbus area now stands at 3270.36 acres.

Despite the increase since 1954, Redman said this represents 0.50 acres for each 100 persons in the Greater Columbus area, a decrease of 0.04 acres since 1954. The nationally recognized standard is one acre per 100 persons.

Its program also promotes the coordinated capital improvements program for parks and recreation facilities, study of methods for providing sufficient funds for their early execution, study of any necessary readjustments of the administrative functions of the agencies concerned with public parks and recreation program, and cooperation with individuals and groups interested in such planning.

Members of the committee in addition to Mr. Redman are: William F. Aschinger, Jr., William H. Brooks, Charles H. Campbell, John T. Canna, Mrs. Harold Eibling, Robert W. Greer, Rand P. Hollenback, Charles J. Kurtz, Jr., Herbert N. Lape, Jr., Mrs. Livingston Taylor, Mrs. Waldo Tyler and George H. Woodworth.

Other technical committees of the Development Committee include the Transportation Committee, Water and Sewage Committee, and Slum Clearance and Rehabilitation Com-

West Teacher Struck By Car

Miss Lois Forbes, West High School teacher, was reported in "satisfactory" condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital Wednesday, with injuries received when struck by a car Monday afternoon.

The accident occurred about 3:30 p.m. on Olive-st near the parking lot. She was struck by a car driven by Ted Monypenny, a student at West. The driver was not held.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs Estelle B. Franks

Meats and Poultry — Pork loins, fresh picnics, bacon, round steak, fryers, large turkeys, large eggs.

Fresh Produce — Oranges, grapefruit, apples, potatoes, carrots, endive, celery, escarole.

MARKET TIPS

If your food budget needs a bit of bolstering, you'll do well to schedule pork on your menus this week.

Wholesale prices on pork are hitting a two-year low, and lower retail prices are evident in many stores. Loin roasts and picnics are good values and so is bacon. Processors are holding hams for Easter.

Beef is in the spotlight on some counters, specials on chuck roasts and steaks. Whole beef ribs to be cut into steaks and roasts are also specially priced in some stores.

Lamb prices are lower than for several years, so now is a good time to enjoy this meat. Remember to serve lamb either hot or cold, not warm.

Poultry, Eggs and Cheese— Several markets are offering frying chickens and fryer parts at near cost prices this week. Large turkeys are also among the good protein food buys.

Eggs and still more eggs—the large supply continues and the large grade A's are an excellent buy.

Several varieties of cheese are being displayed at special prices this week as an aid to meatless menus.

Fruits and Vegetables — Citrus fruits and apples are still the most attractive fresh fruit buys. Quality of the grapefruit and oranges is excellent. Red Delicious, Winesap and some Romes are the apple varieties available. You can expect higher quality bananas at lower prices. The supply of fresh pineapple has increased and prices are more reasonable.

Frozen orange juice concentrate prices have dropped several cents during the past few weeks, and prices may have reached their low point for the year.

There are some minor changes in fresh vegetable prices this week. Dry onions, tomatoes, and head lettuce will wear slightly higher price tags. The effects of the recent rainy weather in Florida are easing off. Prices on green beans and corn are expected to drop and quality should improve. You'll find potatoes, carrots, celery, radishes, spinach and escarole among your better fresh vegetable values.

East Carries City's Banner To Toledo Regionals Friday

By Bob Wilcox

Columbus East wrapped up its eighth Central District Class AA basketball championship last Saturday night at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. The Tigers encountered surprisingly little trouble in downing Columbus North for the title, 62-45. This was a "partial" repeat for East who shared the title with North last year when both advanced to the Regionals at Toledo.

East is moving on as this district's representative in the "Sweet Sixteen" teams left in the race for the state crown, at the Toledo Regionals this Friday and Saturday.

East (18-3) will tangle with a good Lima Senior High (16-5) Friday evening at 8 in the Toledo Scott High School field house.

Lima boasts a fine player and the leading scorer of the the Greater Ohio League (which includes Springfield, Middletown, etc.) in the 6'6" Rick Goodhue. They use a zone to man defense (unless they pull a sleeper), which will be a fairly rare sight to East after most of the squads in the district employed zones in the Coliseum.

To facilitate a larger crowd, the other game of Friday evening's regional will be played at a different site . . . Toledo Scott vs. Sandusky St. Marys at 8 in the University of Toledo field house.

The winners, and hopefully East, will play Saturday night at 8 in the University field house there. Then the next weekend back to the OSU Arena for the State Finals.

North had defeated East earlier in a regular season meeting, but most experts predicted they wouldn't do it again. Right they were, but few guessed it would be so easy for East.

Summing it up: East was about as hot, shooting-wise, as North was cold in the opposite direction. East took a good quick lead as North never led or even tied the game up.

When East did "cool off" slightly in the second, they still maintained a good-steady shooting pace.

North never defrosted all evening and the Tiger lead grew.

The Tigers held quarter leads of 16-8, 30-19 and 45-28. They hit on 23 of 63 from the field for 37 per cent as compared to the Polar Bear's 19-67-28 per cent. From the foul line North held a slight edge, but only percentage-wise—North 7-14-50 per cent, East 16-33-48 per cent.

East outrebounded North 45-40 but turned over the ball 18 times to North's 11. They made eight recoveries to the Bear's six.

Larry Jones was the big gun for the Tigers. He progressed with the evening and wound up with 27 points. Walter Steward chipped in with 11. For North, Jim Doughty had 18 and George Underhill 10. Only 10 personals were called on East while North picked up 23.

Somebody to watch is Roosevelt's contribution to East, Alonso Burke, the city's leading junior high scorer this year. Although graduating in January, he got in for East and scored four points. He looked good—and big.

Underhill, like his teammates, had many shots go in and out, especially early when he was trying to break the zone by his long ones from out. Finally, late in the half he hit on four in a row. Although this was too late to break the zone open, it did put North within shooting range for the second half. But North came out just as frigid, as East outscored them 15-9 in the third period. Early in the frame they put in 10 markers to North's 2.

But as North Coach John Weinrich put it, "You can't expect to win when your top scorers don't produce." Ed Clark was way off the pace he set as the City League's No. 2 scorer as he was held to only six points. The brilliant Clark seldom misses, but Saturday, time after time, his shots were way wide. He seemed to be tense even though he and Doughty are two of the most experienced tourney players in the state.

Doughty, who was North top scorer saving grace off the boards also looked tense and missed several. Bob Taylor, who had been averaging double figures during the tourney, not only went scoreless, but fouled out in the third period. Both squads used a zone, but East was just too much of everything.

But nothing can be taken away from a fine aggressive East crew that covered the boards, certainly made the shots and ran and scrapped with the best of them. A lot of their scoring was from fairly long range, also . . . so to Jackie Moore's fine squad, best of luck and hope to see you in the Arena!!

To gain the finals North dumped Westerville in the semi-finals, 60-43, and East knocked off Central 76-67.

With Doughty collecting 18 and Clark 12, the Bears had a fairly easy time with the Cardinals. They held quarter leads of 6-5, 27-11, and 41-23. Bob Schneider's 13 and Ron Meyer's 17 paced Westerville, with the former doing a good job off the boards.

Westerville pressed a lot and, although not completely poised against it, the Bears managed to beat it. At one time Westerville had hit only three of 24 from the field while they had been hitting at least 50 per cent during the tourney.

East finally outlasted a game Central crew as Jones hit for 26 and Stewart for 20. Central was led by Tucker with 16 and Reeves with both used a 1-2-2 zone until the Bucs went to a man to man in the fourth period.

It hurt more than helped their cause as they lost three starters via fouls shortly thereafter. East controlled the boards generally which also accounted for some of the Buc's fouling. East used their pet out-jump shots with a few worked underneath. They held quarter leads of 16-12, 33-24 and 54-49.

East had an even easier time with South, posting quarter leads of 21-10, 40-23 and 65-38—and had well over a 30-point lead once in the third period when Moore pulled his first team.

All 13 men seeing action for East were "hot" and scored as the Tigers hit 68 per cent in the second period and 50 per cent for the evening. They led all the way with a tight defense helping as much as their torrid [illegible].

Jones with 18, Stewart with 15 and Anderson with 11 paced the Tiger attack while Bud Drake's 14 and Jerry Dailey and Jim Marshall each had 10 for the losers. South used a man-to-man while East employed its zone with Jones and Stewart pretty well covering boards for East.

In quarter-final play Central outclassed Newark, 66-38, East dumped South 71-33, North whipped London, 64-47, and Westerville came from behind to nip Bexley, 51-50.

North held quarter leads of 13-10, 25-18 and 50-39 in posting their easy win. They were led by Taylor with 17 and Clark with 15, and Doughty with 14. Gary Reynolds led London with 24. Big 6'7" Dick Meade didn't score a bucket until the final period as North's fast break worked quite as well as did their 2-3 zone.

Central, winning against Newark, posted quarter leads of 15-8, 29-24, and 42-35. Herman Reeves paced the victor's attack with 28 points (tourney high), followed by Ed Tucker's 16 and Jim Gunnell's 10.

Central controlled the boards and had their fast break working to near perfection. Both squads used a zone, Central overloaded a side and then worked Reeves loose underneath with fine results, so that the Bucs did the rarity—broke a zone from within.

Newark tied it up at 29-29, then took a slight lead, but Central roared back and took over for good. Newark had height, but their experience and jumping couldn't match the Pirate's on the boards.

Westerville trailed Bexley all the way . . . quarter scores 14-9, 26-23 and 39-36 . . . all Bexley. The Cards never took the lead until a three point play by Terry O'Keefe in the last minute. And speaking of comebacks (besides O'Keefe's bucket and foul), Westerville was 11 down with 3 minutes to go!

The Cards used a man-to-man and pressed off and on, but not to much avail until the final quarter. Then the usually-very poised Lions crumbled in the last five minutes. O'Keefe's play was also the first time that the Cards had tied it up.

Meyer and Schneider each with 13 and Tony Pecko with 10 paced the winners while Mike Hardesty's 14 and Dick Nafzger's 13 led the losers.

SCORING: East—L. Jones, 9-9-27; Stewart, 4-3-11; Winston 0-3-3; Anderson, 4-0-8; M. Jones, 3-1-7; Burke, 2-0-4; Oakes, 1-0-2. Totals: 23-16-62. North—Clark, 3-0-6; Doughty, 7-4-18; Taylor, 0-0-0; Parks, 1-3-5; Underhill, 3-0-10; Lyles, 2-0-4; Scott, 1-0-2; Raney, 0-0-0. Totals: 18-7-45.

Parents' Support Is Needed In Forming New Grid Team

With a football program for teenagers in the Westgate area, now well under way, attention is being focused on starting a new Bearcat League team for younger boys.

"We want to hear from every parent on the Hilltop who is interested in forming such a group," said Dave Thornton, 108 S. Ogden-av. Thornton has volunteered to serve as coach.

He said there is plenty of material here for another team of pre-teens, similar to the Westgate Hawks who won a two-state championship last fall.

The proposed team is not to be confused with the Ohio Valley League for older boys, recently organized by Mrs. Violet Swanson.

Harry Jacobs, commissioner for the Ohio Bearcat League and an advisor for OV, has offered to help Thornton set up a new squad. Parents will be under no financial obligation. Thornton said, but a booster club is hoped for. Interested persons may call him at ER. 9-4613.

'Bunny' Hunters Will Bag No Live Game This Year

Bunny hunt, as much a part of the season as chocolate rabbits and jelly beans to local youngsters, will be staged again this year by the Hilltop Y's Men . . . but with a difference.

Protesting parents, who complained "there were rabbits all over the Hilltop," after last year's hunt made their point. Leather craft kits, to be made up into belts, billfolds, purses and moccasins, will replace bunnies this year as top prizes.

Except for the prizes, the event will be staged exactly as always.

A limited number of "hunting licenses" will go on sale at the Hilltop YMCA for ten cents each. Holders of licenses may participate in the hunt, planned for the afternoon of Saturday, Mar. 21 at the YMCA lot, Valleyview-dr at Hague-av.

All youngsters under 12 may join the search. More than 400 foil-wrapped candy eggs and a number of colored, hard-boiled eggs will be hidden on the lot.

Those finding the colored eggs may exchange them for a leather craft kit.

IT'S GIRL SCOUT WEEK

47TH BIRTHDAY—An inverted trefoil frames Girl Scouts from the Hazelwood neighborhood as they present "A Day With Juliette Low" in observance of Girl Scout Week, Mar. 7-14. Front row, in the usual order, are Patricia Ruscilli of Troop 965, St. Agnes School, representing Spain; Aundria and Linda Burke, both of Troop 477, Sullivant Gardens, portraying Juliette Low and a Dutch girl, respectively. Behind them are Mary Fisher of Troop 286, representing Italy; and Rachel McBride of Troop 73 at Sullivant Gardens, dressed as a native of Hawaii. The theme of the skit reflected the international aspects of scouting.

'Irish—'

the Neil House, Mar. 17, at 8:30 p.m.

President Frank McNulty, of 186 Brighton-rd, announced the following program:

Principal speakers, Rev. James J. McLarney, O.P. of Summit, N. Jersey, formerly president of Aquinas College and High Schools in Columbus, and Edmund D. Doyle, attorney of this city.

Toastmaster will be John C. Duffy, judge of the Franklin County Court of Appeals.

Tickets ($6, stag only) can be obtained at the door.

Officers in addition to McNulty, are Dana F. Reynolds, first vice-president; Lawrence P. Murnane, second vice-president; Jerry O'Shaughnessy III, secretary-treasurer.

Maennerchor Pets Set

Columbus Maennerchor, oldest active singing society of its type in the nation, has big plans for honoring its Irish members come St. Patrick's Day. The club's traditional dinner will start at 5 p.m. Tuesday, with entertainment at 6, ballroom program at 8, and dancing at 9 p.m.

Corned beef will be featured, along with old-fashioned Irish singing and dancing. This year marks the 11th such celebration for the club. About 700 members and guests attended the 1958 festivities.

Court Okays—

of the Simplex Parts Co., and an employe, Charles Gain of 4062 Casa-blvd, Grove City.

The pair was cited on Dec. 21 for the sale of two windshield wiper blades.

Schwarzwalder, discussing the law passed in 1831, remarked that even then legislators were conscious of the necessity of travel and those whose work allowed individuals to travel, were exempted.

He said, "It is clear that in our present economic and social life, the auto is a necessity.

"It therefore follows that those businesses and individuals which provide services which enable the auto to operate are performing a work of necessity."

St. Patrick Dance Set At Starling

Starling Junior High PTA will sponsor a St. Patrick's Day dance Friday, Mar. 13 at the Starling gym, from 7:30 to 10:30.

All students are invited. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Mayo

The Gra-Y basketball leagues will conclude their regular season play this week.

Now it appears that the Westgate A and B teams will reign as champions in the West Section and the Highland A and B teams will be the champions of the East Section.

So that more parents may be able to attend the championship games we are scheduling them for Mar. 20 at the Glenwood recreation gym. We hope to have a good turnout. Final statistics will be published in the coming weeks.

This evening there will be a meeting of the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Council at the Hilltop "Y" at 6:30. All officers have been notified by card and are urged to be present. Spring activities probably will be planned. Coming up in the Gra-Y program are tall tales contest, marble tournament, softball league and several others.

West Jr. Hi-Y is in the midst of playoffs for the ping-pong championship. Four finalists will represent the West club at the city-wide tournament Mar. 20 at the Central YMCA.

Wednesday, Mar. 11 — "Y" Golden Age club, Hoge Memorial Church, 12 noon; Gray-Y clubs, John Burroughs and Valleyview, 3:30 p.m.; Gra-Y Council Meeting, Hilltop YMCA, 6:30 p.m.; "Y" Indian Guides (Huron, Commanche), 7:30 p.m.

Guide Forms Booklet

Again in this issue, subscribers to the six Hartley newspapers will receive a weekly guide to the top television program on all four Columbus area stations. To fold the page into a handy booklet, follow these simple instructions: Taking the page as it is presented in the paper, fold it vertically in half. Then fold the top of the page to the botton twice until the front page of the section appears. The first three days then follow in order. By turning the page over, the other four days appear.

Lubrication is more than a grease job!

It doesn't cost any more to have your car lubricated the right way. And once you try us for Shellubrication, you'll never more wonder if all the lube points in your car have been covered. We've got charts, factory-okayed lube charts for your make and model car that tell us where to lubricate—how to reach out-of-the-way points.
And we safety-check your car with every Shellubrication—master cylinder, tires, battery, radiator, etc.
Don't forget—free pickup and delivery, too. Come in and see why folks who try us come back regularly!

Youth Advises 'Good Reading'

This week's article on good literature, part of a series submitted by young people from member churches of Hilltop Ministerial Association, is offered by Roger Howard of Highland Avenue Friends Church.

By Roger Howard

We, the young people of today, believe that our good citizens are fed up with sexy literature. We young people believe that sexy literature and obscene pictures are not the way to present knowledge.

The time has come to do something about this situation. Will you do your part?

We plead with our good citizens to take some action to stop demoralizers from printing such literature.

Writers Name New Officers

Paul Wichterman, 800 N. Powell-av, will be installed as president of the Society of Technical Writers and Editors Wednesday, Mar. 18.

Installation dinner will be held at the Jai-Lai at 6:30 p.m. Bill Alexander is chairman of the affair.

Noverre Musson, architect, will discuss and show slides of Morocco.

this they were banqueted Thursday night at Lincoln Lodge. Hundreds of passersby have watched the record climb daily on a sign in front of the plant. E. M. Landry, district manager, said the sign was toppled by wind last Friday and four persons have called since, thinking the record was shattered.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Young Jr., former residents of Westgate now living in Belmont, Cal., announce the arrival of John Bradley, Mar.

Now it's two full years of accident-free driving for 12 tank-truck drivers of the Sun Oil Co., 3400 W. Broad-st. For 4. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Young, 3196 Parkside-dr and Mr. and Mrs. William Deyo of Derby.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wilt, 222 N. Powell-av, are home from a vacation stay at Delray Beach, Fla. . . . Proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cockfield, 489 S. Harris-av, watched their son, James E., receive his Degree of Juris Doctor from the School of Law, George Washington University at Washington, D.C., Feb. 23. He was graduated from OSU with bachelor and master degrees in petroleum engineering in 1953.

Airman William Pruitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pruitt of 313 S. Wayne-av, stationed in France, was commended by his base commander, Col. Robert Wye and Lt. Col. Kenneth Powell, personnel officer, for alertness in saving the life of a small child last week.

Pruitt had brought his 15-ton tractor-trailer fuel truck to a halt, barely missing a group of pre-school age youngsters who had darted into his path. Before starting, a safety check in his rear-view mirror revealed a four-year-old had crawled under the trailer and was inches from the huge wheel. Pruitt, a 1957 graduate of Wo[illegible]gh School, is a jet-refueling specialist at the base. He was rewarded with $25 for his action in saving the child's life.

Lt. and Mrs. Stuart Jones (Jane Lloyd) left Tuesday for San Francisco and his new assignment at Fort Mason. Lt. Jones returned last week from a tour of duty in Korea. Mrs. Jones, a December graduate of OSU's College of Education, was a grade teacher at West Broad.

Highland, Wheatland Churches Plan Moves

Highland Avenue Friends Church will hold services in the educational unit of its new building, 3750 Sullivant-av. Sunday, Mar. 15, first move in a three-church change planned on the Hilltop

Wheatland Avenue Methodists, purchasers of Highland's church at 99 S. Highland-av, will occupy the building Sunday, Mar. 22, and another newly-organized congregation will take possession of Wheatland Church, 451 S. Wheatland-av.

A new name as well as a new church home will be claimed by the congregation of Highland Avenue Friends Church on Sunday. The historic congregation, organized more than 60 years ago, will be known as Westgate Friends Meeting when it occupies its new building.

Completed portion of the planned, cement block and Norman tan brick building, to be built at an estimated $120,000, was started the first of July.

Unit contains an assembly room with a seating capacity of 300 and 14 classrooms.

Highland Avenue Friends was organized in 1889 by William P. Ong, as a Sunday School in a one-room building on W. Broad-st at Whitethorne-av. The church moved later to a brick school on Clarendon-av, and, in 1893, Highland was constructed.

Rev. Leonard Wines is pastor of the church and trustees are Lee Wheelock, Bob Brown, John Bill, Russell Barnett and Jim Bond.

Building committee includes Paul Langdon, Lee Wheelock, chairman; Harry Drake, Harold Fox and Russell Barnett.

Richard W. Myer and Harry Lee Mallalieu were architects, and James L. Hazelrigg, construction supervisor.

Last Wheatland Service

Last worship service in their old building is planned by members of Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church for Sunday, Mar 15 7:30 p.m

Rev. Richard Goodrich will preach and keys of the church will be presented to officers of the congregation buying the building.

Members and the minister, Rev. Jacob J. Ashburn of Oakley Avenue Baptist Church will join Wheatland Methodist for a service Friday evening, Mar. 13, 7:45 p.m.

Rev. Frederick B. Clay is pastor of Wheatland Avenue.

Spiritualist Church Sets Special Services Series

Rev. Nelle Hunsley, evangelist, will conduct a series of services at Christian Spiritualist Church, 2233 Summit-st, at Oakland Park, Sunday, Mar. 15, through Friday, Mar. 20, each day, at 2:30, and at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Wylie Cooper is pastor.

Oakley To Hold Revival Series

Revival services will be conducted at Oakley Avenue Baptist Church beginning Sunday, Mar. 15, each evening at 7:30 through Mar. 20.

Rev. C. DeRoy Hacker, pastor of Second Baptist Church, Springfield and teach at the seminary, Wilberforce University, will be the evangelist.

Music will be provided by singing groups of the church.

Rev. Jacob J. Ashburn is pastor.

YOU'RE INVITED TO ATTEND SERVICES To Be Held In The WESTGATE FRIENDS CHURCH
Sunday, March 15th
NEW LOCATION: 3750 SULLIVANT AVE.

Picture to left is the old Highland Avenue Friends Church which will now be occupied by Wheatland Avenue Methodist. Picture to right is the new home of The Westgate Friends Meeting.
We invite you to come and worship with us on our Opening Day, March 15th. Sunday School will be at 9:30, and the worship service at 10:45; Youth Services at 6:30, and the Evening Service at 7:30.
A WORD FROM THE PASTOR:
Some dreams do come true! We are happy that now we are ready to have the first Sunday services in the Educational Unit of our new Church building — the fruition of years of dreams given reality through united endeavor.
I assure you that you will find a sincere welcome and a place of inspiration and fellowship. The new Westgate Friends Church at 3750 Sullivant Ave., might be just the church home for which you have been looking.
Leonard E. Wines, pastor

Central Point SHOPPING CENTER

Central Point Merchants Look Forward To Spring

ONE-STOP SHOPPING—Conveniently located near hundreds of homes, Central Point Shopping Center offers customers the goods and services of 38 businesses.

Stores All 'Prepped' For New Season; Easter Bunny Will Arrive March 20

All 38 stores and services comprising the Central Point Center, W. Mound-st at Harrisburg-pk are dressed up in anticipation of the arrival of spring and the "Easter Bunny."

For many weeks merchants have visited the wholesale markets seeking merchandise suited to spring and an exceptionally early Easter, Mar. 29. As a result the "Point" Stores are bulging with all sorts of Easter gifts and early spring necessities.

Six of the Central Point stores are geared to the apparel, shoes and accessories needs, and are "value-packed with new styles, new creations, new everything."

Two jewelry stores offer a wide selection of Easter gifts. Two supermarkets present an extensive range of groceries, meats, fruits and spring-fresh vegetables . . . and, of course, the traditional Easter Ham. A bakery, meat market, poultry store are specialists in their fields.

There are huge drug and variety stores, while for the early gardener or home improver there are three stores handling full lines in hardware, tools, seeds and what not. The out-of-doors man will find a sporting goods store to his liking.

In the field of services there is a cleaner, a barber, a beauty salon, shoe repair, laundromat, optometrist, bank and a U.S Post Office.

The 'Point' roster includes also a fine furniture store, two restaurants and a cocktail lounge, as well as two beverage carry-outs. You may have your income taxes computed by a Point accountant while other stalwartities run from vending machines to insurance.

"Combine all these fine selections of goods and services" said Lew Slye, spokesman for the Central Point Merchants, "with the pleasure and convenience of one-stop shopping, free and unlimited parking, weather-protected walks and a background of soft music and you have, indeed, a "Shoppers City."

All stores are open until 9 p.m. daily.

On Friday, Mar. 20, the "Easter Bunny" will arrive and from then until Easter will distribute free candy Easter eggs to the children.

Kresge Store Here Helps Observe 60th Anniversary

Central Point Shopping Center store of the S. S. Kresge Co. joins the other eight Kresge stores in the Columbus area in celebrating the company's 60th Anniversary.

Kresge's began business in 1899 . . . the year in which the coal miners won an eight-hour day and the country sang and danced the songs, "I don't Care" and "Waiting for the Robert E. Lee."

From their start with a single "5 and 10" store, Kresge's has grown to a huge chain of over 700 stores. But the old "5 and 10" designation is out of date. Today Kresge's sells thousands of items in great variety . . . from pins to power mowers.

The Kresge stores are staging a huge "60th Anniversary Sale" by way of thanking their friends for patronage in the years past . . . and the years to come.

Jeweler Secures New Home Items

Tom Canton of Canton Jewelers in the main section of Central Point Shopping Center is proud of his recent purchases in New York.

He reports finding "a fabulous line of the newest in home decor—clocks, candelabras, bone china cups, hurricane lamps, 58-piece dinnerware sets, etc."

Evening Wear Shows Drama

Some of the most exciting coat and dress costumes of the spring season are those intended for evening wear.

They take into spring such opulent fabrics as moire or lame, as well as chiffon and other silks. Rich colors, prints and embroideries and much feminine flattery of style make them dramatically beautiful.

A favored silhouette for the dresses combines wide, shapely necklines with fitted bodices and belled, bubble or harem skirts. Lovely alternative is the softly slim long dress.

Companion coats are either wide and sweeping or, to accompany slim dresses, a slim column. Necklines offer the spring fashion choice of a big, big collar or no collar at all.

Gourmets Get Big Selection At Coolbrook

Coolbrook Farms in Central Point Shopping Center is now featuring Southworth's U. S. Government-graded eggs and chickens.

For the last seven years the store has featured "strictly fresh" eggs and poultry. Coolbrook also handles a complete delicatessen gourmet line.

The manager states that his is the only store in the West Area that supplies Lake Erie and Canadian fresh fish and oysters.

There is also a large selection of imported seafoods, lobster, frog legs and other allied products.

Sporting Goods Store Features Unique Service

A new "Service" has been inaugurated at Reeves Bros. Sporting Goods in the Central Point Shopping Center.

According to Dick Reeves, manager, it's "free 'husband sitting' for the wives while they shop."

"Our close supervision of husbands at all times insures that they will not roam all over the place and get into trouble," Reeves continued.

"Any special instructions will be followed. The atmosphere of the sporting goods store should be conducive to peace of mind while you shop, and you'll be able to find that husband when you are ready to head home," Reeves guaranteed.

BELTS GAIN

Gaining fashion ground are belts for suits and dresses as well as sportswear. They range from narrow, for fitted styles to wide, and sometimes crushed, belts to wear above full skirts or as optional equipment for demi-fitted styles.

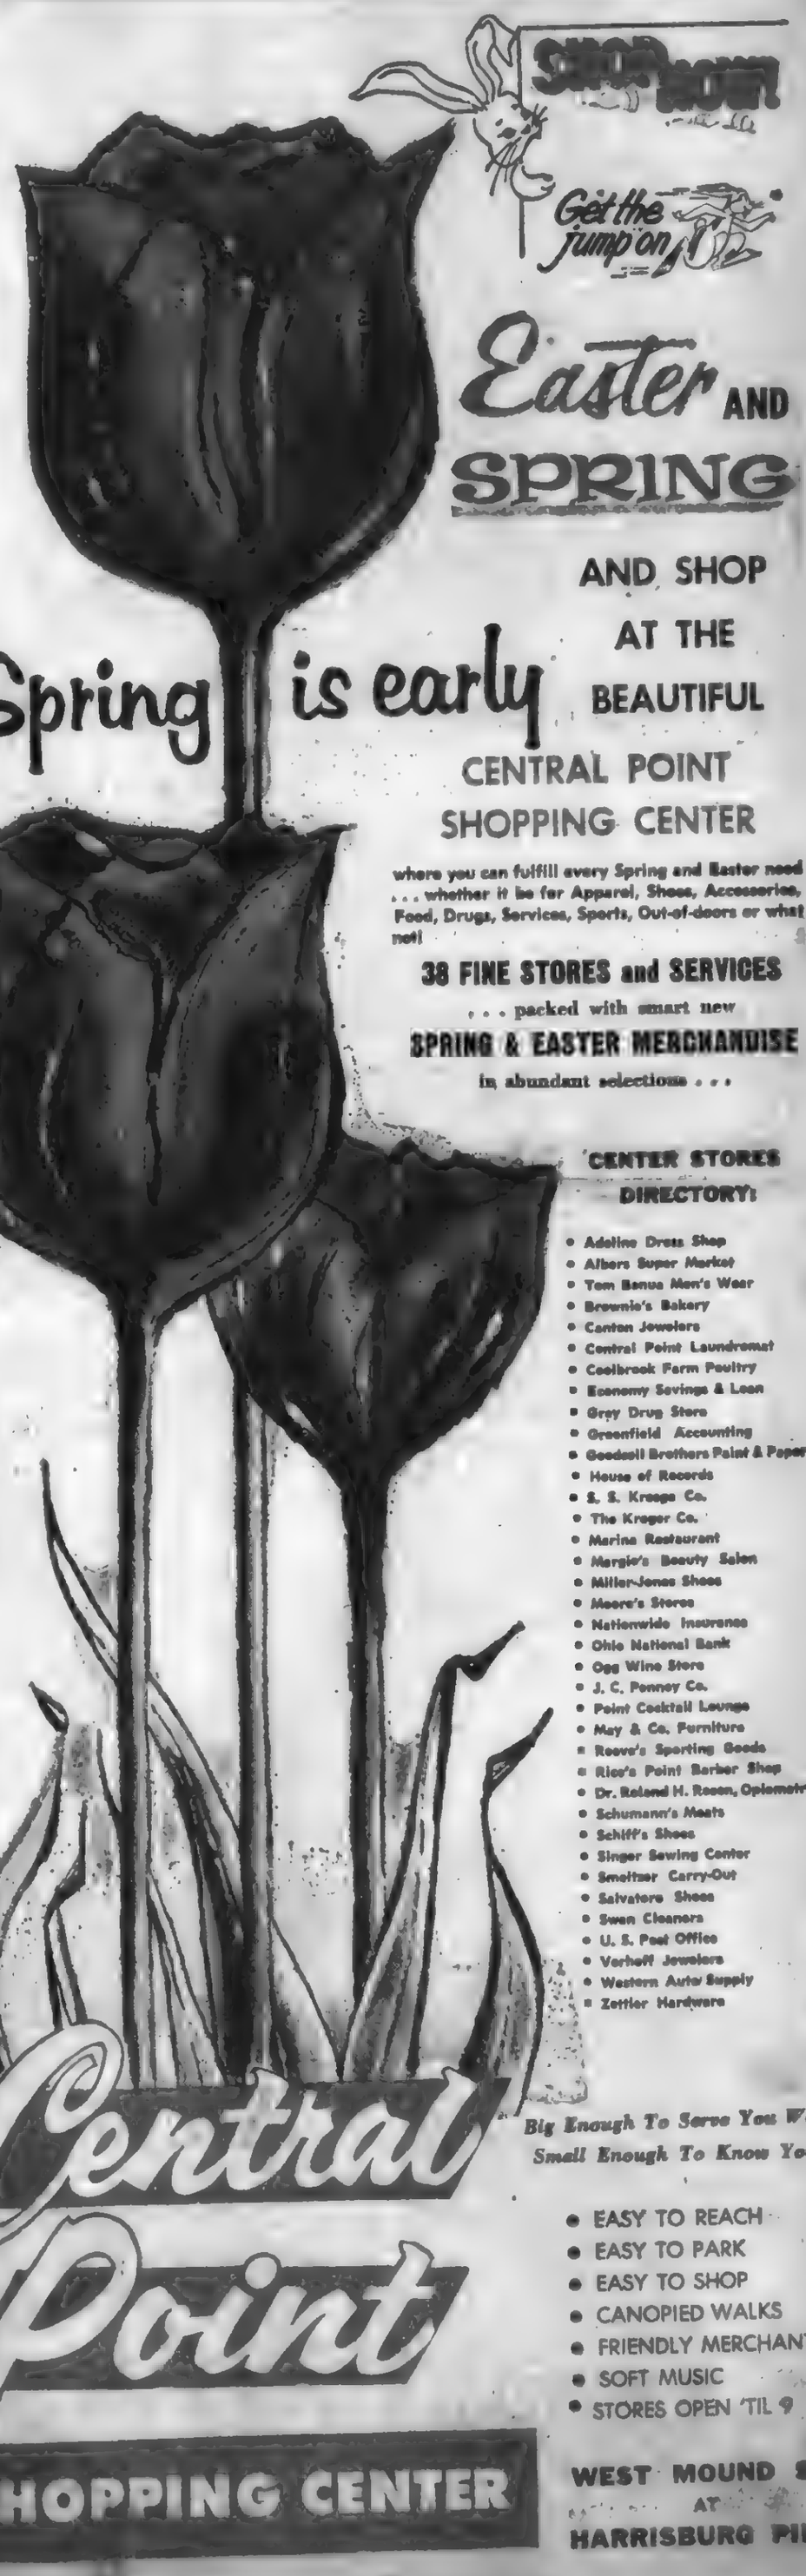
Set a Mantelpiece 'Stage' to Brighten Home

Your mantelpiece can be a focal point of attention, not only at Christmas, but at any time of the year. As shown, small figurines and a container of ivy dress it for spring. (Hummel)

BY EDNA MILES

The house has long since been stripped of its Christmas trimmings. Most homemakers would like something to pick up spirits and decor at same time during late winter and early spring.

The mantel, which looks so bare now, can give a life to the looks of the whole room when it becomes a display point for china figurines.



Favored treasures can be grouped to be shown off to advantage. They can, too, be used to carry out a decorative theme.

China and porcelain figurines, small vases, a collection of animals, a grouping of three or four small musicians—are all candidates for this spot.

For Easter, figurines of youngsters with bunnies or baskets on their arms are effective.

These small figurines can also be moved into position as basis for a floral centerpiece on the table when guests come to dinner.

Or, they are charming on bookshelves, small tables or on hanging shelves in a child's room.

Costume Look Leads Way In Spring Fashion Trends

"UP WITH FASHION" is the cry, and this suit joins the trend, making much of a little jacket with a high-rise look. A-way collar folds gently into an empire band. Soft tucking at hipline of skirt accents tapered effect at hem.

Lifted Waistline, More Top Interest Seen This Season

Fashion plans for spring revolve around the costume look. Although the general style trend is upward — shorter skirts, lifted-look waistlines, more top interest effects — the emphasis is not so much on silhouette as on the attractive combination of all fashion elements.

Such spring partnerships as the dress plus jacket or coat, the coat with a matching skirt and the suit with a coordinated blouse are present in abundance, ready for wearing. Certainly one or all of these will find their way into most wardrobes, and fashion-conscious women will want to assemble additional costumes, from dresses, coats, suits, jackets and blouses that are purchased separately.

As a focal point of fashion, costumes reveal the outstanding spring trends. Take, for instance, the little jackets, ribcage to waist length, that appear so frequently in dress-jacket combinations. These brief jackets help to carry out the high-waisted look, which is often just a look and not an actuality. Thus, a fitted sheath with natural waistline may rely on its accompanying short jacket to give a high-line effect.

Wide belts, fitted midriffs, brief bodices in contrasting colors and fabrics, and high-placed tabs, bows or belts are other ways that the lifted look is created.

Silhouette More Fitted

All point up the fact that, while spring fashions owe inspiration to the empire and Directoire, some flattering changes have been made. Even when the raised waistline is a matter of fit rather than look, the trend is away from the mid-riff fullness of the true empire and toward a more fitted line.

Spring's view of color — plenty of "hot" and pale hues, with strengthening interest in basic navy, beige, black and gray — is beautifully illustrated by coat and dress costumes, in such combinations as a pale beige coat over a dress printed in the vividest of pastels. Often, the coat is lined to match the dress.

Important coat entries for spring — as part of costumes or individually — are the coat with the gathered and tapered or blade-pleated back, the fitted coat, the slim sheath coat and the coat with a softly gathered high waistline.

With much attention being given to top interest, shoulder lines of both coats and suits are often wider, though not padded. More top interest comes from the big, big collar, a major fashion theme.

Adds a Scarf

In contrast, there's the collarless or mandarin neckline, indicative of an Oriental feeling seen in many phases of spring fashion. Top interest isn't neglected here, for the collarless-neckline coat or suit usually comes with a matching, and probably fringed, muffler-like scarf to wrap the neckline.

Because of the emphasis on the costume look, many suits are equipped with their own blouses. An added touch of completeness is provided by matching jacket linings.

As in the dress-jacket costume, the short, easy jacket is a favorite suit component. Fitted and demi-fitted jackets for other suits and prophetic of future fashion trends.

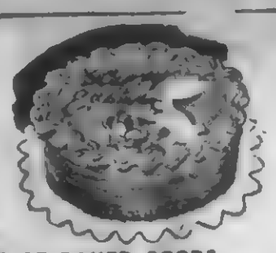
Continuing the interest in texture, fashions appear in such fabrics as tweeds, mohairs, hopsackings, basketweaves. Spring-favored, too, are crisp, smooth-surfaced fabrics which take their place in fashion importance alongside the dimensional weaves.

Men's Topcoats Lighter

Topcoats for Spring are lighter in weight and shorter in length. Fabrics include gabardines, shetlands, tweeds, covert cloths and polos. Many models are tailored for a trim, slimming effect.

Sport jackets are fashioned for comfort in warm weather in lighter-than-ever wool fabrics, wash-wear fabrics or blends. Models range all the way from the traditional blazers in solid colors to jackets in bold checks and king-sized plaids.

Slacks range from the still popular "Ivy" models with back-flap pockets to the new Continentals, featuring a single pleat cut, trim lines, polo pockets and other interesting details.



Bolder Patterns Seen In Neckties

Many of the new neckties are flaunting bright Spring-like colors, bolder patterns and lighter shades. Among the top neckwear choices are shantungs, in both bright and dull silk surfaces. Stripes and plaids predominate. The under-knot pattern or design is headed for quite a comeback this season. These are the ties that show a distinctive pattern under the knot, and go well with striped checked or plaided shirt fabrics.

Popular as ever are the rep ties in both stripes and some new motifs. Along with the classic regimentals and club colors, there are some new off-shades that are particularly striking. Also important for spring are bright and cheerful white background ties with color splash designs.

Corn-Crisped Chicken's Good

A new chicken recipe, like a new pair of stockings, is something no woman can have too many of. When the recipe is both easy and delicious, it becomes a real collector's item.

New Corn-Crisped Chicken uses only three ingredients plus seasoning. It acquires a beautiful even brown crust thanks to its evaporated milk and corn flake crumb coating. It is baked in the oven on aluminum foil, so that there are no pans to wash, no need to cover or turn the chicken while cooking.

Chicken, the National Broiler Council points out, costs less per pound of cooked edible meat than almost anything else in the meat market. Since chicken is in plentiful supply all year around, this recipe promises to become a classic.

Corn-Crisped Chicken

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
1 cup packaged corn flake crumbs
1½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Aluminum foil
⅓ cup evaporated milk

Combine corn flake crumbs with salt and pepper. Line shallow baking pan with aluminum foil. Dip chicken pieces in evaporated milk then roll immediately in seasoned corn flake crumbs. Place chicken pieces, skin side up, in foil-lined pan; do not crowd. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) one hour, or until tender. No need to cover or turn chicken while cooking.

Yield: 4 servings.

WARM WEATHER sportswear features lightweight fabrics and brightcolors, as in this sport coat with burgundy and gold on navy. Fabric is blend of "Dacron" and cotton.

Airy Look, Textures Get Fashion Nod

Appropriately for spring, new fabrics take on an airy look, with textures refined and often crisp. Mohairs are fluffy rather than shaggy, and tweeds and other fabrics show a marked preference for almost-lacy effects.

Looped mohairs and souffle woolens are impressive in open basketweaves, and fishnet mohair makes an entry, looking refreshingly springlike. Other cool and lacy looks are achieved in wool and mohair boucles, hopsackings, and blends of wool with silk, cotton or synthetics.

Some looped mohairs have been pressed flat, making for a novel effect and easier care. Also favored are brushed surfaces, tweeds lightly embellished with mohair loops and the knit look.

Worsteds express texture interest through ribbed, linen-like or knit-look surfaces, with classic checked and glen-plaid worsteds continuing popular. One of the nicest new ideas in worsted for spring is worsted crepe, liked especially for suits and costumes.

On the crisp side are the refined tweeds, appearing in wool or silk or in blends of wool and silk. There's crispness, too, in new-looking blends of reindeer hair and wool.

Silk — a frequent choice for the all-popular dress and jacket costume— goes along with wool in the demand for texture interest. Rustics, such as tussah, and douppioni are among the leaders.

Both cotton and the man-made fibers show a new talent for emulating wool and silk in many dimensional textures.

FABRIC NEWS

Denim and seersucker sportswear is making a comeback, and ribbed effects, linen-like blends, ducks, chinos and sharkskins are also liked. Embroideries in colors are a favored trim.

FAVOR FIT

Closer to the body is the fitting trend of spring fashions, but the "poured-in" look is avoided.

LOOKING very new and beautiful for spring is this giant plaid topper. Fashion news to note here: the ever-aimed Pilgrim collar, the short sleeves, the colors and fabric — deep blue and red in a light-weight, porous brushed English woolen mohair and wool. It's by Monte Sano.

Colorful Hosiery In New Textures

Growing interest in new textures joins the continued trend to color, to create fashion news in stockings for spring.

Shades range from pale bisque tones and pastel mists to dark off-blacks. Stockings may have only a whisper of a tint or come in such hues as deep, rich blue or bright pink.

There are colors to complement just about every fashion shade, including greens, lilacs, golds, apricots, grays and beiges. Some are treated so as to give a fragile glow to the leg.

Textured sheers with a look of lace are sometimes reminiscent of the early Thirties. Among other textured stockings are those with a very fine rib effect, shadowy check and tweed patterns in such two-tone combinations as beige-brown and gray-white, and honeycomb weaves. Many come in seamless styles.

It's not always necessary to match hose to costume colors. More striking effects may be achieved by wearing dark stockings with white, pale stockings with bright colors and adventurous shades with prints.

LOOK FEMININE

Very new and feminine looking are costumes with all-around pleated skirts and little jackets with big bow trims.

COUNTING THE DAYS — Ten-year-old Jimmy Binford, 189 Clarendon-av in his winter coat and crutches day dreams of summer camping for crippled children at Greenwood Lake, near Delaware. He is standing on a bridge across the lake. The two-week camping spree is part of the program of the Easter Seal Society.

New Color Hits Seen In Carpets

New trends in color and texture and increasing emphasis on pattern distinguish spring's carpets and area rugs.

Beige is a big favorite, in shades from cool tan to warm sand. Other neutrals are influenced by tones of yellow and muted greens. Rich blues, oranges, greens and true reds lead among the vivid hues.

Patterns tend to be subtle, small in scale, and are often achieved by texture contrasts. Newest textures are the shaggy look of a handcrafted carpet or rug and, in contrast, the close, flat weave.

FOR BRIDESMAIDS

Pretty fashion choices for spring bridesmaids are dresses with empire and princess lines, pouffed and back-interest styles and bell-skirted silhouettes.

REVERSIBLE

Reversible skirts, jackets and loose pullover tops continue a popular fall trend into spring.

Easter Seals Help To Assure Summer Camping For Jimmy

When a fellow starts dreaming of going camping — spring can't be too far away.

Ten-year-old Jimmy Binford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Binford, 189 Clarendon-av, is just such a fellow. He is eagerly counting the days when he and other crippled children of Franklin County will have the fun of camping for two weeks at Greenwood Lake, the Salvation Army camp just north of Delaware, O.

Here, surrounding a placid lake, are a boys' camp and a girls' camp, connected by a scenic bridge. A swimming pool, sleeping cottages, mess hall, craft cottage and other administrative buildings, make up the camp program.

Last year Jimmy, along with 62 other crippled children, 37 boys and 25 girls, received their camping dividend as a part of the program of the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children. Offered here is the best in a program of supervised recreation for the crippled and it is typical of the 56 camps operating throughout the nation by Easter Seal societies.

The youngsters, ranking in ages from eight to 16, participate in many normal camping experiences, including boating, fishing, campfire sings, swimming, crafts, games, etc. The magic of outdoor living is found by these children in spite of the fact that their disabilities include cerebral palsy, post-polio, muscular dystrophy and other severe handicaps.

Jimmy, who is a third grade pupil at the Neil Avenue School, uses crutches because of an early bout with polio. His fondest memories of camp are the times when he went fishing or caught a turtle in Greenwood Lake.

Miss Christine Vince, 2048 E. Fifth-av, chairman of the camping committee, is a member of the board of trustees for the society. The camping program is made possible through public support of the Easter Seal campaign which pays for all expenses from the chartered bus that takes the children to and from camp to a supply of wheelchairs and other needed supplies.

Camping, though, is only one of the services made possible by Easter Seals. Others include the treatment center for pre-school crippled children, equipment loans, education and the supply of braces, special shoes, etc.

The formulation of Orkil and our unmatched ninety hundred guarantee are to my opinion the greatest advances we have made in more than a half century of service to homeowners and industry.

Otto Orkin
President and Founder

A dramatic Scientific Triumph in Termite Control

BACKED BY AN UNMATCHED TERMITE GUARANTEE

We have just completed two momentous advances for the control of termites.

1. The formulation of Orkil—the most effective termiticide available.
2. The world's strongest surety bonded guarantee against future termite damage.

Orkil, containing chlorchlopton (patent pending), is the deadliest known killer of termites. Yet, it will not injure shrubbery, is non-staining, non-flammable, and has no disagreeable odor. Orkil kills termites on contact and sets up a durable poisonous barrier that termites cannot penetrate. With the formulation of Orkil, an Orkin exclusive, the Orkin Exterminating Company is able to offer an unparalleled surety bonded guarantee against future termite damage.

ORKIL

A Chemical Breakthrough in Termite Control!

Orkil is a new revolutionary formulation.

IT IS AN ORKIN EXCLUSIVE

You can't buy it anywhere... But, it's included without extra charge when Orkin protects your property from termites.

Orkin's guarantee is backed by one of the world's largest bonding and insurance companies with assets in excess of 355 million dollars. Unique features of this guarantee are: (1) annual termite reinspections; (2) additional treatment of soil and structure if necessary at no additional cost; (3) repairs on future termite damage up to $5,000; and (4) comprehensive liability insurance in the amount of one million dollars.

FREE INSPECTION

Without any cost or obligation a complete termite inspection can be made of your property. Termites do millions of dollars damage in this country each year. Do not wait until termites appear—call 'Otto' the Orkin Man for a free termite inspection today.

Before you sign any agreement for termite control be sure and read the details of Orkin's full protection. If anyone else claims comparable surety-bonded coverage, have your insurance agent review the bond to determine your rights as a beneficiary.

When living moves outdoors, indoor conveniences can go along. Decor for a sheltered terrace includes not only attractive furniture in metal and plastic webbing but also the advantages of time and a telephone. An electric clock, with novel swinging pendulum, and a portable phone operate from an outlet and a lock installed on protected parts of the wall.

Grapefruit Baskets Are Hit

Gay as the first flowers of spring are these Florida grapefruit baskets, perfect for the first course of an Easter brunch or dinner.

Easy to fashion, too. Simply halve the plump juicy grapefruit, cut around each section loosening fruit from the membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge. Then place toothpicks at each side, and cut just through the peel, about one-quarter of an inch from the top of the half, to the toothpicks, leaving the peel attached at each side of the fruit. Lift and tie handles, and trim with a flower, a place card, or a bright bow.

Florida grapefruit are specials in all local markets this month, and you'll find both pink and white-meated fruit, as well as seedless and seeded varieties. They not only look as pretty as spring flowers—they're as good for you as any spring tonic. Grapefruit, low in calories, is one of the best natural sources of vitamin C which is so important to good health and looks.

Sheath Styles Lead For Maternity Garb

High-waisted sheath styling predominates in maternity fashion this spring, giving fabric interest and color first importance. Textured fabrics appear by day, while chiffon and printed silks and wool challis are liked for dressier outfits.

Checks and solids are often combined, sometimes in such off-beat combinations as orange and lavender. Other interesting color combinations, appearing in prints and plaids, include orange and turquoise and burgundy, black and navy. Neutral basics may be alternated with brilliant reds, hot pinks, willow greens, coral and gold.

High waistlines appear in the form of drawstring ties, front or central panel ties and bands, bolero effects and fringed ties or bows. Mix and match separates, tunic tops and blouson silhouettes are all popular.

Among other favored styles are one-piece triangular shirtdresses, high waisted side-wraps and bodices softly gathered or smocked above the bustline.

Sportswear For Spring Is Colorful

As bracing as a Spring tonic is the 1959 range of masculine sportswear. In addition to colorful good looks, these garments for fun and leisure also boast new construction features for greater comfort and ease. And greater use of "science" fibers in the fabrics makes for easier care, says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

A quick run-down of what's new for an in tune with 1959 starts with sports jackets, fashioned in lighter-than-ever wool fabrics, wash - wear cottons, man-made fabrics, or blends of any or all of these. All are designed for that basic consideration: to keep cool in the hottest weather, and to look smart and crisp at all times.

As for the good looks, the jackets range all the way from the traditional blazers in solid colors, to bold checks and king-sized plaids. The muted tones of India madras are also in favor.

Fans of wool will find lightweight hopsacking weaves attractive, while other men will prefer the sleekness and sophistication of silk coats. Flannel blazers never go out of style, and this year will be found in solid colors, stripes and again solids with contrasting piping.

The same variety and appeal are to be found in the range of sports slacks, with Ivy models heading the list for many. Some of these feature back flap pockets, English-inspired self-supporting beltless slacks, and the new - as - tomorrow "Continentals" which are distinguished by their single-pleat cut, slim lines, polo pockets and side tabs, among other features.

The growing demand for wash-wear, featherlight flannel slacks this year, ready to wear after laundering and drip-drying. Other models include slacks with that now-familiar iridescent sheen effect and a great variety of patterned types that go with solid colored blazers.

It's a safe prediction that more men will turn out in walking shorts this year than ever, with Bermuda lengths or slightly longer versions getting the preference.

Sweaters continue to enjoy their great revival, with cardigans among the standouts. These feature button-up fronts among other styles, and are woven in lightweight wools, "science" yarns and cottons—or blends. Crew-necked bulky knits are showing in great profusion this spring, along with V-neck styles, all in a range of colors and patterns that are open invitation to the leisure life.

High Marks Being Given Spring Coats

The newest looking coats this spring are marked by high lines, bright colors and versatile "personalities" that adapt easily to suburban, urban and travel situations.

This three-way wearability is achieved through fabrics that can assume several roles. These include vivid nubby and fluffy-surfaced woolens with interesting textures, mohairs, mesh effects and hopsackings, substantial double-knit jerseys in wool or cotton.

Colors are brilliant. There are golden yellows, flower tones of blue, vibrant pinks to ruby reds, melon shades, leaf and sea greens, lilac tones, bleached and unbleached whites. Navy, black, beige and rose-beige offer popular choices among neutrals.

A hand-woven look is stressed in plaids and a great variety of checks, from small worsted patterns to giant windowpanes. They appear in bright or beige with white and in two-color and raised patterns.

For the high-waisted line, the waist may be lifted by belts, sashes, drawstrings or multiple seaming. Gathers, high pockets, flaps, tucks and banding are also used.

A return to demi-fitted and fitted silhouettes is seen in coats with either rounded full skirts or sheath skirts. The waistline is revealed by belts crushed softly at front, by short bodices worked closer to the figure and by all-around belts.

Gentle width across the top is expressed in huge collars, soft shoulders, deep armholes. Necklines are open, with or without collars, some with easy tie effects. The collarless necklines are often accompanied by fringed, detachable scarves.

Try Cookies-In-A-Basket For Enaging Easter Fare

Engaging little baskets of cookies in the shapes of bunnies, chicks and Easter eggs are sure to enchant the children on Easter. Grownups enjoy these cookies, too, when you serve them with coffee, with ice cream or fruit desserts this Easter season.

Use your favorite rolled cookie dough, shaped into chicks, bunnies, and Easter eggs. The Chocolate Dip frosting is made quickly with a package of semi-sweet chocolate morsels that melt faster because they are already in little pieces. Their candy-like flavor makes it unnecessary to make an elaborate frosting.

Easter Cookies

Prepare rolled cookies according to your favorite recipe. Roll out ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut out dough with chicken, bunny and oval cutter. For small eggs, use a 2 inch round cutter; bend to make an ovel shape. For large eggs, remove both ends from a No. 2 can; bend to make an oval shape. Before baking, sprinkle chickens with yellow tinted sugar; use silver candies for eyes. Bake according to recipe directions. Dip bunny and egg shaped cookies into "Chocolate Dip to frost them; use silver candies for eyes of bunnies. Place on waxed paper to harden. With cake decorator, decorate egg shaped cookies with Ornamental Frosting in frilly lines across "egg" or around edge, or inscribe with names, as shown in photograph, or make own designs.

Yield: 4 dozen medium size cookies.

"Chocolate Dip

1 6 oz. package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 tablespoon shortening
⅓ cup evaporated milk
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels and shortening over hot, not boiling, water. Remove from heat; mix in evaporated milk and confectioners' sugar. Beat until smooth. Place in deep cup or bowl; keep over warm water and stir occasionally while dipping.

Tiger Hunting Thrills Felt By Local Big Game Hunter

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

ONE TO REMEMBER—Robert R. Richards, local big game hunter with his trophy of a lifetime, a 700-pound tiger bagged last fall in east central India.

"The day your trophy arrives from the taxidermist is almost as exciting as the hunt," says Robert R. Richards, 8625 W. Broad-st, one of Franklin County's roving big game hunters.

We were standing in Richards' living room admiring an immense tiger skin—a trophy that he bagged last November in India. With enough big game hunting adventures under his belt to write a book, Richards said modestly, "This is my prize."

This latest hunt started for Bob almost a year ago when he wrote Indian officials asking for names of shikar agents (a hunting expedition is called a shikar in India and not a safari as in Africa). They supplied him with several names and addresses and after further correspondence he made his arrangements with the Allywn Cooper agency.

Months of planning went on before Bob found himself in a machan (a small platform built in a tree) watching a huge tiger materialize almost by magic from the Indian jungle. Richards even had to rent the Indian land on which he would hunt. He rented three blocks, each block containing about 25 square miles.

Bob met his shikar agent in Napur and there met his guide, called the shikard gentlemen. Then he boarded a train for Raipur, and from there went about 70 miles north to the hunting area. He stayed in a government hunting lodge. The hunt was, of course, ready to start. There were nine others in the party, guide, trackers, skinners, cook, etc.—all of them Indians. The hunt was to last for ten days.

Three methods of hunting were employed. The guide had purchased 20 bull calves from the natives, and these were staked out through the hunting area. The tactics in this type of hunting are to wait until one of the calves is killed by a tiger and then wait in a machan at the kill and hope the tiger returns.

On the fourth night there was a "kill" reported by the natives, so the next afternoon Bob and his guide climbed into a machan and started the long wait. The night closed in and the night noises started. Bob said, "You don't go to sleep at night in the jungle. You get cramped and cold but it is much too exciting to go to sleep."

Fourteen hours of waiting passed, and no tiger. The same procedure was followed the next and still no tiger. So this type of hunting was abandoned. They later learned from the natives that the tiger returned to his kill at high noon, a very unusual time, on the second day.

Before the bull calf was killed, they had been spending the nights on a different type of hunt. The party would prowl the back jungle trails in an open jeep with a spotlight. It is legal to hunt meat-eaters this way in India, but no heavet animals jacklighted. This type of hunt is also a little risky. You might come around a bend in the trail and be face to face with a tiger—if the first shot doesn't drop him it's every man for himself.

A leopard was seen but disappeared too rapidly for a shot. Richards could have shot at a couple of wildcats, but did not want to shoot for fear of scaring a tiger should it be in the area. Finally, he did shoot five wild dogs out of a pack—predators that the Indians appreciate having killed. The dogs are about twice the size of a fox and colored something like a red fox with a bushy dark brown tail.

Time was running out, so the guide organized a blind beat. This means that about 200 natives form a large horse-shoe-shaped line and beat on pans and sticks and move slowly through the jungle. The object is to drive any tigers in the area by the hunter, and hope that he will see the game in the dense jungle. These beats were very interesting Richards said, for he would hear something in the brush and maybe a deer or peacock or some other game would emerge. But still he saw no tigers.

On the last day of the hunt, Thanksgiving Day, they were returning from a jeep excursion at daylight and one of the trackers in the backseat saw that something heavy had been dragged across the road. They backtracked the trail into the jungle and found a large pool of fresh blood. It meant that a tiger had made a very recent kill, had dragged the animal into an area of thick brush to eat it at his leisure. So a beat was immediately organized. This was not a blind beat—they knew a tiger was near.

So, a little after noon Bob was in a machan looking down a tiny creed bed that provided a little opening in the tropical forest. Game started to move. Peacocks flew by. A sambhar (an antelope) made its escape. "Then I saw a little patch of yellow in the dark green forest. It disappeared. Then a head as large as a bushel basket emerged, without a sound, from the undergrowth. I was shooting a 375 Magnum with a scope sight. The shot was a good one—hitting him in the spine just over the shoulders. The tiger was an exceptionally large male, and dropped in his tracks."

Soon, the 200 beaters were on the scene and surrounded Bob for a celebration. Indians greatly fear tigers, as they have no way of killing them, and anyone who kills one is a hero. Native women appeared and presented Bob gifts of coconuts. Some carried burning candles. They smeared some kind of paste on Bob's forehead and on the forehead of the tiger. After the celebration the trophy was skinner. The tiger was in his prime—an exceptional trophy. He was ten feet long, and was estimated to have weighed 700 pounds.

So, Robert Richards spent last Thanksgiving halfway around the world. He was thankful that he had seen a tiger and had bagged a trophy of a lifetime.

America's Colonial Past Inspires Today's Furniture

Home Fashion Reflects Interest In Handsome Woods, Elegance

Out of the American past comes the most important trend in home fashion today — the trend to reflect, in furniture and furnishings, our country's culture and traditions. Colonial and Early American designs are winning high favor from homemakers, and they also lend their softening warmth to Contemporary and modern furniture.

When the design influences such as Oriental, French or Italian Provincial and Scandinavian are present, their modification and blending with the American feeling is usually evident, and even true period styles which originated in other countries are "Americanized" by the practicality of production methods that reduce the cost and increase versatility and usefulness of the pieces.

Develop Individual Look

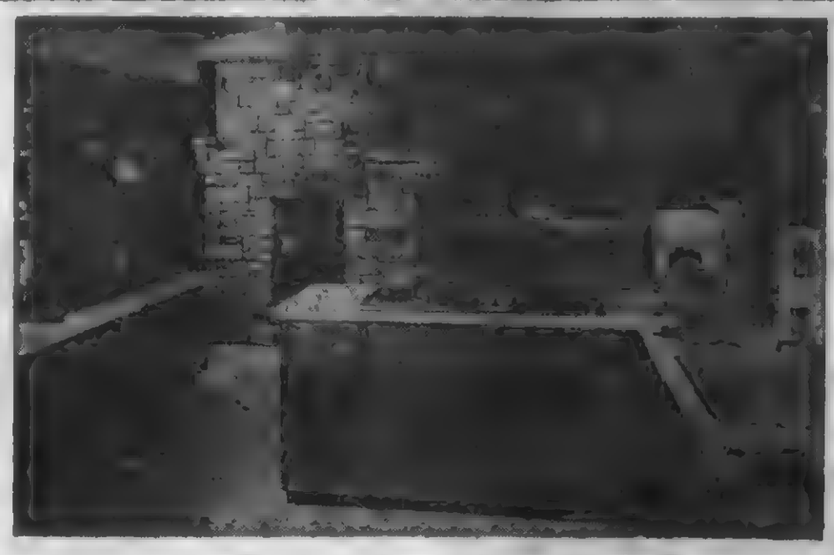
In addition to the emphasis on American design, spring home fashion sees a continuing interest in handsome woods and wood finishes, a growing preference for rich and elegant detail and a further development of individuality and distinction for pieces within correlated groups.

This individuality often stems from effective use of wood—clear wood combined with painted finishes, decorative veneers, faded, oiled or matte finishes, and wood combined with other materials, such as leather, marble or mosaic.

Maple, birch and fruitwoods such as cherry, traditionally associated with Early American and Colonial appear frequently. And, since the American look is often a matter of friendly warmth, other woods such as mahogany and cherry play an important role in new, soft and rich finishes.

Mahogany Noted

In the elegant blending of American and European design influences, mahogany is particularly noteworthy. As the result of an effort to rescue mahogany from limitation to the reddish tone invented and used by Chippendale, this wood now is presented in "new look" finishes ranging from bleached to olive — among them, the popular warm, light browns.



All these finishes are based on the natural tawny tones of mahogany and are well adapted to bringing out the varied and beautiful grained patterns of the wood.

IMAGINATIVE design and texture interest are combined in this versatile floor covering. It's reversible, and can be used for wall-to-wall carpeting or accent effects.

CONTEMPORARY flatware takes the decorative touch of yesterday's charm, in "Silver Flower" pattern, appropriate with traditional Willow pattern dinnerware and milk-glass.

CHEERFUL CHARM — Time-saving, work-saving convenience meet happily in a modern kitchen. The range counter top and nearby sink save the homemaker's steps, and the pass-through counter (in rear) is another easy-living feature. White Formica countertops provide a hardy, heat-proof surface.

Historic Hint Seen In Glass

Glassware joins furniture and home fabrics in expressing the growing nostalgia for our native Colonial past.

Ready to lend added authenticity and charm to Early American interiors are handcrafted accessories of milk glass, cranberr glass and other traditional favorites. Reproductions and adaptations of designs from yesteryear, such as Ashburton, Thumbprint and Paneled Grape, can become pleasing decorative accents for the home as well as being practical in many ingenious ways.

Most dramatic decorating with early American and other American-made glassware is usually achieved either by careful placement or a few large, important pieces or by effective grouping of both large and small pieces to create a focal point in a room.

Many women enjoy collecting glassware, and put this hobby to good use by displaying their individual collections — on a room divider, for instance, on hanging wall shelves or on glass shelves in a window area.

EARLY TOUCH—Authentic Early American styling is apparent in the gently curved wings, graceful spindles and leg turnings of this living room group. For modern practicality, cushions are reversible; table tops are stain-resistant wood-grained plastic. Wood is rock maple and birch in nutmeg brown finish.

All these provide adequate space and display a glass collection to good advantage.

Part of the charm of the glassware comes from the new uses that are found for traditional pieces. Reproductions of the spoonholder, once a must on every table, today appear as planters and vases, while toothpick holders now serve as containers for cigarets or pencils.

Sunny Themes Seen In Raincoat Styles

Styled for wear in sunshine as well as showers, spring raincoats combine weather protection and '59 fashion themes.

Attractive textures and distinctive colors characterize many raincoats. Corded cotton knits, cable-stitch cotton knits, light wool basketweaves, cotton checks and waffle weaves are among the choices.

Such classic raincoat fabrics as poplin and cavalry twill take a new look in floral or paisley-type prints.

Gently high-waisted effects vie with demi-fitted models and chesterfields for popularity.

THEY'RE REVERSIBLE

"Reversible" is an important trend in new coats and jackets. Solid color on one side, print on another is a popular turnabout effect. Other reversibles offer a quick change from color to color and from fabric to fabric.

SWEATER COLORS

Two sweater colors stand out this spring. The first is pink in rose tones, flower shades, shrimp and flamingo. Yellow is second, in rather bright citron shades or in delicate primrose tones.

CHECKED FOR SPRING

Checks form the most important fabric design for spring. There's great variation in size and color. Prominent are black, brown, red or navy with white.

Continental Styling The Newest Trend In Men's Fashions

"Continental" is the word for the newest style trend in men's suits, this spring. Featured are jackets somewhat shorter than other styles, coming with two-buttons as well as three. Other Continental highlights include a wide, more rounded opening at the bottom of the coat front, side vents, flapped slant pockets, a choice of peaked, semi-peaked or notched lapels and an extra trim cut to the trousers.

For the man likes to change in easy stages, there is also the modified Continental with center vent and straight pockets, with or without flaps.

Still very popular are the "Ivy," with its natural shoulders and straight-hanging sides, and the "American Ambassador," the middle-of-the-road suit with slight suppression at the waist, which will probably continue as number one seller in men's suits, for this Spring.

Happily, therefore, today's male has three important spring styles to select from, all in excellent taste, each reflecting something of the wearer's attitude regarding his apparel.

Common to all styles is the narrow lapel and the slimline trousers. While the trousers of the Italian Continental do have pleats, there are only single pleats on either side of the front, and these are of modest depth.

"Midweight" Suits

The new season also introduces new "midweight" suits for days that are neither hot nor cold, but in between the two. Hitherto, many men have shifted from winterweight clothes to summerweight before summer actually arrived, often because medium weight styles were in short supply and the choice was limited.

This Spring, the story is quite different. The new midweights come in a profusion of models and in all types of fabrics, including fannels, slick finished worsteds, hopsacking weaves and sweeds. Colors for the most part range in medium tones, in harmony with the season. Incidentally, midweight suits are good for both Spring and Fall, just right for nippy but not cold weather.

ENTER SILK

Silk coats bring black into the spring picture, with silk and worsted mixtures, silk ottoman and douppioni weaves.

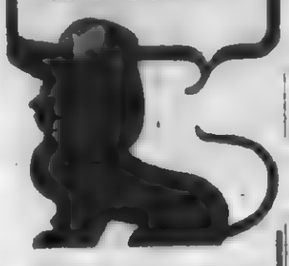
COSTUME IDEAS

Pretty version of the costume suit has a print blouse with the new wider collar, which also serves as the collar of the suit. Other suits are ready for day or evening roles, with deceptive satin overblouses.

WIDELY COLLARED

Wide collars, some shoulder-spanning, have strong fashion significance this season.

PRINTS POPULAR



Prints on silks, cottons and blends are much in demand for spring. They have a modern art look of shock color contrasts in such combinations as orange and yellow, hot pink and red, blue and aqua, in abstract florals or paisley effects.

STYLED LIKE DRESSES

Coats styled to look like dresses attract spring interest.

Brown Takes Spotlight In Men's Shoes

"True Brown" is the dominant color note in men's leather shoes this spring. True brown shoes, with no reddish undertone, are the ideal color go-together with lighter blue suits and slacks in fashion this season.

Versatile true brown leather is just as correct with leisure fabrics of paisley and batik prints. And, of course, it blends smoothly with a muted brown business suit.

Blue slacks and jackets are set off neatly by the woody colors like olivewood, dark oak and hemlock — a brown with a fine-lined bark-like grain. The newest tones — buckeye and club brown — are welcome accents with all except the most formal fashions.

The spring shoe silhouette has the Americanized continental look, which is slightly tapered. Square toes will be popular with supple, sturdy leather soles underlining the greatly blunted toes.

Interpreted in softer grain leathers and modified to fit the American foot, fashion-setting dress casuals carry through the slim lightweight trend that teams comfort with a dressed up appearance. Dress shoes are available in soft grained and smooth leathers, Morocco, Morocco-and-grain combinations, boarded leathers and Cordovan.

Detailing such as perforated wing tips, centerline seams and novelty stitching adds flair and swagger to an all-leather shoe. Hand stitching innovations, like guantone, give a simple moccasin front a custom-made air.

Equally "right" for dress-up, the blucher has been streamlined. From its plain toe, centerline seam breaks the severity of a grained leather upper.

Early Planning Pays In Better Outdoor Living

For more enjoyment from the family's "outdoor living room" during warm weather months "lan early" is the rule.

Even when the weather does not cooperate, early selection of furniture for porch or patio, lawn or terrace can pay off in extra use, since more and more "outdoor" furniture is being designed to look equally at home indoors.

And, if plans are made early enough, many indoor conveniences can be enjoyed outdoors. On a sheltered terrace or patio, or an enclosed porch, small electric appliances for cooking, an electric clock, a portable TV set, even an electric fan can be pleasant and practical additions to outdoor living, but prompt action is called for—not only to select the desired appliances but also to have needed electric outlets installed now.

For the lawn or open patio, outdoor cooking equipment usually ranks right along with furniture in interest and usefulness. Is this the year to build a barbecue oven? Or should the choice be a portable barbecue or grill? The earlier these questions are answered, the more use the family will have of the outdoor living room.

COLUMBUS AND SOUTHERN OHIO ELECTRIC COMPANY

215 NORTH FRONT STREET
COLUMBUS 15, OHIO

H. V. POTTS
VICE PRESIDENT

March 5, 1959

To The Public:

During every strike both of the interested parties seek to convince the public that their respective positions are unassailable and just. In doing so, statements are often made which are in direct conflict and the public often shrugs them off and simply assumes that they are not directly involved and need only await the time when the parties grow weary of the conflict and resume normal relations again.

However, this electric strike is a strike which directly affects every individual in Columbus and all other territory in Ohio which this company serves with a vital and absolutely necessary commodity — i.e. electric energy.

The Management of this company is so aware of its obligations to the public and to its employees that it is the one overriding, controlling motive underlying every decision they make every day. Accordingly, to be accused of demanding that our employees work for unfair wages to the extent of forcing them to strike, requires of this Management a full complete and completely truthful statement of the wage situation as it exists and as it existed when the union represented employees walked away from their jobs and forced upon other employees the burden of assuming their duties.

The union pleads, as an excuse for their conduct, that the company is forcing Linemen to perform dangerous jobs for inadequate pay. In response to this wholly unfounded charge we believe you, the public, are entitled to know the following irrefutable facts.

The Lineman "A" rate is the so called "pilot" rate upon which all electrical companies negotiate throughout the entire industry in this Country. This is true because wage negotiations are primarily based upon comparisons. These comparisons are made with other electrical companies as well as other industries. As a consequence "Line rates" are the most closely examined rates in our industry and the most discussed rates of any rates in any industry.

This company has been negotiating wage rates with two local members of an international union every years since 1945 and 1946 respectively. The international union, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, is the oldest union of its kind in this Country.

We are now going to demonstrate the situation these Line Department rates have involved since the above dates. There are seven major electrical companies in Ohio and the Lineman "A" rates per hour of each such company for each year since 1945 are public records and are as follows:

	Columbus	Company A	Company B	Company C	Company D	Company E	Company F
1945	$1.35	— —	1.40	1.50	1.375	1.32	1.36
1946	1.42	— —	1.505	1.575	1.375	1.35	1.39
1947	1.52	— —	1.605	1.76	1.60	1.60	1.65
1948	1.66	— —	1.705	1.815	1.72	1.72	1.77
1949	1.76	— —	1.86	1.85	1.80	1.78	1.83
1950	1.81	— —	1.945	1.93	1.92	1.86	1.92
1951	1.91	—	2.11	2.035	2.04	2.02	2.05
1952	2.00	2.09	2.205	2.035	2.17	2.16	2.17
1953	2.20	2.29	2.345	2.33	2.29	2.26	2.29
1954	2.33	2.37	2.415	2.41	2.365	2.33	2.39
1955	2.44	2.46	2.495	2.53	2.445	2.46	2.47
1956	2.56	2.56	2.62	2.65	2.61	2.60	2.61
1957	2.71	2.71	2.75	2.79	2.745	2.74	2.76
1958	2.90	2.85	2.87	2.90	2.895	2.90	2.90

The union claims it wants re-evaluation or inequity adjustments for the Overhead Line Department because many other classifications have been re-evaluated or adjusted in recent years. It is true that many other classifications have been adjusted but in making these adjustments the main factor for such adjustments was a comparison with similar classifications with our neighboring companies. For example, our Meter Tester "A" rate was once lower than some of our neighbor electrical companies but, by re-evaluation, this rate was adjusted upward to compare favorably with their rates. And similarly many other rates were likewise compared and adjusted from time to time.

The above comparisons are constantly kept in mind, particularly in regard to our Line Department, because the Lineman "A" rate is now and has been for many years, the "pilot" rate for bargaining.

On February 27, 1959, the union was offered a 3.5% increase applicable to all classifications. This would produce a Lineman "A" rate of $3.00 per hour for the employees of our company which is 10c an hour higher than any other Lineman "A" rate in Ohio. This offer the union flatly rejected.

Yours very truly,

H. V. Potts

Juniors, Teens Offered Fashions With A Flair

Juniors and teens can choose from all the things that fashion favors this spring—among them, checks, vivid colors and new-looking neutrals, textured fabrics, lifted-look silhouettes, costumes, reversible coats.

In addition, young and young-figured shoppers will find that new fashions designed for them are marked by a special flair for adapting to their busy lives.

Both the slim dress with closer fit and the full-skirt dress get extra attention from junior and teen designers. And there's also a generous helping of shirtwaist, blouson, princess and harem-skirt styles.

Youthful gayety is reflected in bright colors, vivid patternings and a world of exciting accents. Green, red, vibrant pinks, yellows and blues show up as solids or, prominently, in checks. Bold plaids and vibrant stripes are liked, as are paisleys, polka dots and prints in blue-green colorings.

For contrast, there are browns, and beiges, followed by navy, gray and black. Classic prints, in black or navy and white, come in for spring attention.

Fresh accents appear in such forms as the polka-dotted cummerbund which shows below the cropped top of a dress and jacket costume. Large mushroom or cape collars, self-bands and bows at the bustline and high-placed buttons are among the young ways of reflecting the lifted look, with emphasis at the top of the silhouette.

Raised - waistline detailing, short and easy or demi-fitted jackets, high-rise or cummerbund-topped skirts and open necklines characterize mainly juniors and teen suits.

Coats, too, like the high-rise look, often combined with fullness to accommodate the many fuller skirts that win young favor. Double-breasted styling appears in both coats and suits, and the reversible jacket or der fabrics and cotton knits.

coat is a frequent entry.

Slubbed and smooth silk, lightweight wools and wool mohairs, crisp worsteds and flannels are young fabric favorites for early spring, plus many easy-care cottons, blends, wonder fabrics and cotton knits.

Boys' Clothes Well-Tailored

For little boys, spring heralds the arrival of young suits and coordinates with a custom-tailored look. The toddler crowd's Eton suits often take to double - breasted styling, while such highlights as cording across jacket yokes or suspenders edged in contrasting colors add interest to other outfits.

New clothes for boys in the ten to 12 age group, especially, interpret the well-dressed look in terms of the same styling Dad likes. Jackets, whether two, three or four button models, are trim and slender, and so are trousers.

Checks and stripes are sports jacket favorites. Red continues popular, and white contrasted with black, brown or navy looks new and fresh.

'Good Eggs' All Set For Scrambles

They don't rate themselves eggheads, eggs-actly, but several committees are putting their heads together to insure some pre-Easter fun for Hilltop and West Side youngsters.

Egg scrambles for youngsters eight and under will be staged at 9 a.m. Saturday, Mar. 28, at Sunshine, Westgate and Glenwood parks.

The Sunshine event is being sponsored solely by the West Side Board of Trade, in cooperation with the staffs of the city recreation department and the Boys' Clubs of Columbus.

According to Co-chairmen John T. Comtess and Chick Carl, 1,000 individually wrapped chocolate eggs will be distributed after the hunts, in addition to the 250 prize eggs.

Committee chairmen are Eugene Roach and Homer Johnson, prizes; Mrs. James C. Mulholand and Tom Timlin, decoration and egg procurement.

Hilltop Community Council will coordinate the Hilltop egg hunts planned by the local Kiwanis and Lions clubs.

Different magic shows will be given at 8:30 and 9:45 a.m. to help keep order among the hundreds of kiddies. Both clubs will finance candy eggs, while the various PTAs, led by Mrs. Claude O'Neill, will supply the dyed eggs.

On committees are the following: Lions (Westgate park), Ed Eberhart, general chairman, Jim Ford, Dr. John Thompson and Galvy Gordon.

Kiwanis (Glenwood park), Joe Goodwin, general chairman; Robert Cassell and Don McVay. Council coordinators are Chuck Moore and Noble Allen, Jr.

Traffic Route Near Project Still Question

Another meeting is expected later this week for more discussion on the best routing of the extreme east end of Sullivant-av around the city's proposed Senior Citizens Housing and Recreation center.

Original planning places the project on a 3.7 acre site north of Gift-st between Gift and McDowell-sts. In doing so it would mean routing downtown-bound traffic north on Gift-st; which now uses McDowell. City Engineer Robert Werner said McDowell is 36 feet wide, while Gift-st is only 24.

One solution suggested by engineers Monday is purchase of a block between Gift and Skidmore to use as a wide curve sending traffic to W. Rich-st around the center.

An alternate idea is placement of the whole project south of Sullivant into Sunshine Park. Harry Drake, coordinator of the Metropolitan Housing Authority in charge of the project, asserted he does not favor chewing off any more of the park's land. The expressway has already done that, he said.

No One's Loafin' At This Agency!

"Who said new license tags are moving slowly?" asked Don Rice of Westgate Electric, 2655 W. Broad-st, today.

Rice said the Hilltop Kiwanis-HBA agency in his store is 600 plates ahead of last year's sales at this time. Meanwhile, the state license bureau reported 70 per cent of the tags remain unsold.

Rice said his store hours—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.—would be extended until 9 p.m. from Mar. 23 through 31 for latecomers.

Trash Bin Fire Is Extinguished

A fire blazing in bins of trash at the side of the Big Bear store, 2635 W. Broad-st, Monday afternoon, was quickly brought under control by firemen sent to the scene.

Smoldering trash sent up a great cloud of smoke, visible for several blocks.

Officials believe there may have been damage to the overhanging roof and to the trailer of a truck parked nearby.

Youth Treatment Centers To Be Neighbors

ALL SET TO GO—This is an architect's sketch of the first phase of a 200-bed training institution for delinquent boys of Central Ohio. It is to be built soon just north of the present construction at JDC (a portion of the land is visible in the foreground of other view). Entrance will be from Wheatland-av. Construction will be financed by funds from the $150 million bond issue approved Nov. 1935 by Ohio voters. The first phase will include cottages, academic and vocational buildings, parts of an administration and professional staff building and central services. The final phase will include a gymnasium and chapel-auditorium, infirmary and rest of the administration and professional staff building. Completion is expected by October, 1960.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE—A 150-bed addition to the central reception unit of the Juvenile Diagnostic Center and (at right) a 100-bed psychiatric treatment hospital are expected to be ready for use by Sept. 1, beating the target date of Oct. 1, according to an engineer with the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction. Looking south, the air view shows Wheatland-av on the right and Broad-st in the background. The center at the left will receive court committed boys 15 to 18 years of age and classify them as to treatment needs. The psychiatric hospital will treat boys and girls.

Russian Traveler To Speak On Education At West High

Dr. Robert Brown, superintendent Marion Public Schools, will discuss "American versus Russian Education" at West High School Tuesday, Mar. 24, 7:45 p. m.

Dr. Robert Brown

He spent two months in Russia last summer, studying the country's school system.

West PTA members, who engaged Brown as speaker, have invited Dr. Harold Eibling, superintendent of schools; all PTA units on the Hilltop, Columbus Council PTA executive board and all Hilltop service clubs to hear him.

Members of West High senior class and their parents will be special guests.

Mrs. John Galloway, West PTA president, will preside. Pledge of Allegiance will be led by Don Morris, president of the Senior High Student Council. Janet Gove, Y-Teens president, will give devotions.

Music will be furnished by the Columbus Mothersingers, directed by Kenneth R. Keller, supervisor of music in the Columbus Public Schools.

Cassell On Tree Group

City council has confirmed the appointment of Robert Cassell, 143 Powhatan-av, to the Metropolitan Tree Commission. He will serve with Del Bodey and C. L. Dumaree.

The group forms the city's program on planting and replacement of trees, and the disposal of old ones.

Cassell, an architect, recently joined the firm of McDonald, Cassell and Bassett, 3752 N. High-st.

Job On Dry Run Almost Finished

Seeding of grass and relocating of a road on State Hospital land this week will write "finis" to another chapter in the history of Dry Run creek.

Holt Co., contractors, are expected to pull out by week's end after extensively overhauling the spot where the West Side flood was spawned.

Meanwhile, city council Monday night passed two ordinances requested by Service Director Floyd Redick to help flood prevention. One outlaws dumping in streams, the other would require a permit for construction on or along streams. A fine of $300 and up to 90 days in jail was established for violators.

Council, however, tabled funds sought by Redick to hire engineers to inspect all city levees twice a year, as ordered in a Westlake-sponsored ordinance several weeks ago.

NEW GRANDTARRITS

If you see buttons scattered around on Broad-st, just be informed they are probably from the vest of Lowell Shroyer. He and Evelyn are beaming over their new grandson, William Lowell, 7 lbs. 6 ozs., born Sunday at Bedford. O Mr and Mrs William Mitchell (Marilyn) are the parents.

'Decision Is Left Up To You,' Board Tells Mid-Year Grads

Reversal Monday of a recent Board of Education rule abolishing mid-term school graduation, leaves the way open for present 10B and 11B classes to choose their own commencement plan.

They may have their own formal graduation exercises in January, or choose to follow the board's proposal to participate in a June commencement.

Prompted by pleas from January graduates, whose classes were so small they were unable to finance traditional social events so much a part of high school commencement, the board offered a solution.

The ruling stepped up the annual promotion policy by two years, and provided four plans for students to join the preceding or following June class in graduation events.

Completely surprised at the organized protests of West High students and their parents, officials reversed the decision after receiving petitions and letters, and learning of a planned delegation visit to Tuesday's board meeting.

Concerned With Stability

C. L. Dumaree, assistant superintendent, explained, "The board had no wish to hurt or upset these students; we're interested always with maintaining their educational stability.

"The ruling was made in response to January graduates' requests and was designed to protect their rights to a memorable graduation, not to deprive them of those rights."

Students, rejecting the ruling,

RETIRING CRAFTSMAN SAYS . . .

Shoes Tell A Tale Of Wearer's Ways

By BETTY DAFT

A shoeman whose chief stock in trade . . . a big grin and genuine interest in people . . . has made friends of all his customers will close his shop doors for the last time Saturday.

Jim DeRubertis, repairing shoes for two generations of Westsiders with the same zest he has for all of life has become friend and confidante of scores of families.

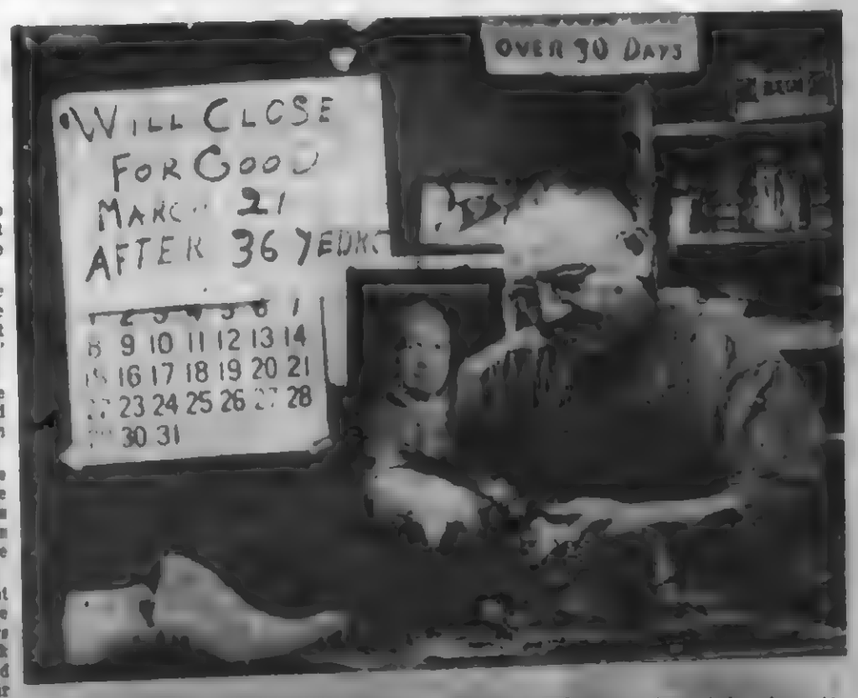
Happiness at the thought of touring his adopted country on a six-month vacation, is tempered with heartfelt regret at losing close contact with his customers.

"I know them so well . . . it's been so long; I feel like grandpa to their kids," he mused.

DeRubertis, in business at the 1419 Sullivant-av address since 1923, worked for a number of years as a shoemaker when he first came to this country from his native Italy.

Tracing time and events in shoe styles, he said, "I came to America in 1906—it was about 1912 that ladies' shoes were made with curved heels.

"Later they were black suede with cloth tops. We made those to fit not only the foot but heavy and slim legs as well," he chuckled.



"And then World War I came along and I enlisted. Shoes had changed when I came back in 1918."

His discerning eyes see much of the person whose shoe he repairs. "People with sore feet and bunions lean their weight on the outside of the sole.

"And I always can guess what kind of work they do because their shoes tell me what floors they walk on. Those who walk on tile floors, like offices and the state school don't lift their feet high and so, kick out their toes and heels."

DAYS DWINDLE DOWN—Only a few are left for the shoe repair shop at 1439 Sullivant-av, neighborhood landmark since 1924, due to close Saturday. Many customers have had a lifetime of footwear, from baby shoes to brogues kept in repair by the genial shoeman, Olindo (Jim) DeRubertis.

Sewers Pose As Growing Problem Here

Mayor Hopefuls Debate Proposal; Rosary Residents Protest Pact

Complaints from the lower West Side about inadequate storm sewers are nothing new to City Council, but Monday night a new voice from the Hilltop was added.

A petition bearing 125 signatures was submitted by Rosary Addition residents who are fearful of an overloaded system because of growth to the west.

The plea was delivered on an appropriate night which found Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner and Council President Ralston Westlake in a pitched debate on the area's growing surface water and sanitary sewage disposal problem.

The two Hilltoppers who are expected to spar around from now until one wins the race for mayor next Nov. 3, took widely differing views on whipping these problems last Monday night.

Republican William M. Hicks introduced a resolution saying "the situation has become so critical that even a normal rainfall causes thousands of homes to have both surface water and sanitary sewage backed up in their basements."

Westlake took up from there and argued for a proposal to study feasibility of a county-wide sewer district. Sensenbrenner retorted that the study would only serve to knock down his annexation program and unlock the city's freeze on sewer and water tapping from the outside. "If those people want these benefits, let them annex to Columbus," he declared.

Sensenbrenner and the Democrat councilmen successfully beat down the Republican minority on the proposal.

West Agreement Revoked

Meeting Tuesday night at Franklin Township firehouse, Rosary Civic Association members continued discussion of basement flooding. The group, under its president, Grover Chamberlain, 3310 Race-st, authored the petition to council.

Chamberlain said, "We want the Division of Sewage and Drainage to void its permission to Lloyd Builders who are hooking Westgate Terrace storm sewers onto ours."

"There are about 20 homes up now in the south portion of the 40-acre plat. We feel that the run-off from these few already was felt last January

Roys-Broad Rezoning Is Softened

City Council has refused to grant a rezoning request which would have permitted construction of an automotive parts store at the corner of Roys-av and W. Broad-st, but accepted a modified proposal.

Opponents of the rezoning successfully contended that the broad "C-4 Commercial" rezoning classification would represent "a toehold" in the residential Westgate addition. They pointed out that the site involved, at the southwest corner of Roys and Broad, was part of an original plat.

Most spokesmen did not, however, oppose rezoning of the site, now a residence, for modified commercial (C-2) use. Council agreed and made the change. This would limit use of the site to something more compatible with residences, such as a doctor's or dentist's office.

The site is adjacent to the Big Bear store parking lot.

TunnelRamps To Be Built

Carl Gibson, parks division engineer, said work will probably begin next week on ramps to the new 124-foot pedestrian tunnel near Valleyview school.

The tunnel, which was partially under water during the flood, is being drained with a sump pump until a storm sewer can be built to the north, Gibson said.

Council Monday night approved a $4,584.34 modification, extending the tunnel 24 feet farther than originally planned.

The parks engineer said plans are ready for a six-foot wide concrete footbridge at the N. Huron-av access to the tunnel. Specifications are also ready for early spring construction of toilets in the picnic area of Glenwood Park, Gibson said.

Contracts Set For School

Contracts amounting to $180,801 for the new Georgian Heights School, to be built in time for occupancy next September, were let by the Board of Education Tuesday.

General and electrical contracts were awarded to Kent Bros. Co. for $137,173, and for $43,628 to Piping Contractors Co. for plumbing, heating and ventilating.

The school is designed to house elementary students living in newly-annexed Georgian Heights, and will be built on a tract of land south of the subdivision.

Letters To The Editor

World War I Veteran Urges Support Of Bill Extendng Service Pensions

"I am quite sure that your readers will be interested in the following actions taken by our World War One national organization which is congressionally chartered.

"As the Ohio state, legislative director, Veterans of World War One USA Inc., I am informed by the national offices that the Van Zandt Bill, H.R. 1181 has been introduced by Past National VFW Commander Jimmie Van Zandt.

"This bill has the solid backing of several war veteran organizations, our own included. We ask all our friends to write their congressmen and urge them to work to get this bill out of committee and into passage by the Congress and Senate.

"Text of this bill, in brief is as follows: To amend sub chapter 11 of chapter 15 of title 38, United States Code, by inserting after section 512 a new section known as 513 World War I Veterans.

"Its provisions in brief: To pay to the WWI veteran, at age 60, who can qualify under this law, a (Service Pension) of $100 per month, or if in need of care, $135.45.

"Limitations (income): A veteran who is single shall be eligible if his income exceeds $2,400, or one who is married with dependents, whose income exceeds $3,800 per year.

"However, in computing income, such things as social security, railroad retirement, civil service retirement, benefits, whether payable by law or contract (shall be excluded) in computing income.

"Final section: Chapter 15 of 16 title 38 US Code to be amended by the following wording: '512, World War I Veteran,' Unquote.

"For complete information on this and all other WWI legislation, attend our meetings of Barracks 461, Veterans of World War I, USA, at the New Memorial Hall, W. Broad-st, 2 p.m. the first Sunday of each month. All meetings are open to the eligible WWI vet.

"Special note: Ohio State Board of Administration will meet in Memorial Hall, 300 W. Broad-st, Sunday, Apr. 5, starting at 10 a.m.

HE DIDN'T MAKE THIS TRIP TWICE

On February 12, 1959 a very frightened and subdued young man finished part of his sentence and walked out the front door of the Ohio Penitentiary. His sentence could not be measured in time as he was only here a short period; in fact, this part of his sentence was only a tour of the institution.

This young man had been convicted on a felony in Knox County, Ohio and placed on probation with an additional order of the Court that he be taken on a tour of one of Ohio's penal institutions.

What was in the mind of this lad as he visited the correctional cells, the death house, the mills and the cell blocks? Is it possible that on the faces of the men he encountered he saw a look that might someday grace his own features if he persisted in a pattern of behavior already started in his own life? Is there a chance that upon this young mind was created the impression that crime and prisons are not at all like their counterparts seen on movie screen and television? This could have very well happened. According to the officer who conducted this youngster on his tour, it was a nervous boy who started around the penitentiary and a boy who grew more nervous with each step through its confines.

There is no doubt that a real look at a prison and its workings would in many cases deter youngsters now growing up from embarking on what to them may seem a glamorous way of life. Perhaps this lad saw in the small crowded cells something that could never take the place of a Saturday afternoon at the movies. As he toured the giant Mess Hall did he think for just a moment that this could be no substitute for a family dining room? It is heartening to think that as this boy stared at the drab prison garb, there was a chance he thought: "I'll never trade a sports jacket and slacks for that!"

The action of the sentencing judge in this case may have solved in his own community a question that is becoming increasingly hard to answer . . . what to do with the youthful offender.

It is hoped that this young man took from here an impression that will stay with him for the rest of his life; the impression that there is nothing worth one hour, one day or one year in prison. If ever again temptation should be placed before him, let there come before him a vision of men alive but dead, of steel bars and high walls. Let this one day of his punishment stay with him always . . . perhaps this is all he needed.

Let's hope this is what happens.

(Reprinted from the Ohio Penitentiary News).

BIBLE COMMENT:

Jesus Knew When Danger Drew Near

With the approach of Palm Sunday, it is well to recall the last journey of Jesus to Jerusalem. At that time, Jesus spoke with hitherto unaccustomed definiteness of the dangers that awaited Him, and of His sacrificial death.

The disciples failed to understand His words, however, and apparently still looked toward His establishment of an earthly kingdom.

We cannot know what was the inner consciousness of Jesus, but He knew that the hour had come.

Instead of retiring from the crowds as was His wont, He moved where the multitudes were.

He accepted their homage and plaudits, as they cast their garments in the way, and hailed Him with their hosannas.

He who had been Master and Teacher, now became Saviour and King.

"Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord."

Deep is the sense of the contrast between those events, between the religious enthusiasm of the people on the one hand, and the sad events of a few days later, as others, aroused to hatred and fear, sent Jesus to the Cross.

The ultimate sorrow—and the eternal triumph — were yet to come.

League Schedules Spring Edition Marriage Series

Columbus Planned Parenthood Center will present the spring edition of its "Looking Toward Marriage" discussion series beginning Apr. 2 for four consecutive Thursdays.

Edward J. Rydman, executive director and marriage counselor at the center, will lead a group discussion concerning the problems encountered in the early months and years of married life.

This series is offered at this time particularly for those couples planning spring and summer weddings, however, any newly weds who may have missed previous sessions may attend simply by calling the Planned Parenthood Center, CA. 4-8423, before Apr. 1.

COLUMBUS AND SOUTHERN OHIO ELECTRIC COMPANY

215 NORTH FRONT STREET

COLUMBUS 15, OHIO

H. V. POTTS
VICE PRESIDENT

March 13, 1959

Mr. H. J. Montoney, Mediator,
Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service
85 Marconi Boulevard,
Columbus, Ohio

Dear Sir:

This statement is addressed to you as the representative of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in charge of the labor dispute now existing between our company and Locals 1466 and 832 International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, hereby submits to you, for your presentation to the above unions, the following offer of settlement of the current strike, subject to all of the conditions hereinafter set forth.

This offer and the conditions recited herein are submitted as a whole and are inseparable, each term and condition stated herein is mutually dependent upon all of the other terms and conditions.

1. The following individual classification wage rates will be increased in accordance with the following schedule:

COLUMBUS DISTRICT

Underground Cable Splicer "A" from $2.85 to $2.90 per hour.
Underground Cable Splicer "B" from $2.57 to $2.63 per hour.
Underground Cable Splicer "C" from $2.15 to $2.21 per hour.
Underground Cable Splicer Helper from $1.96 to $2.05 per hour.
Underground Construction Mechanic from $2.15 to $2.21 per hour.
Auxiliary Tender (Poston and Conesville Station) from $2.15 to $2.25 per hour.
Control Operator "A" (Picway Station) from $3.07 to $3.17 per hour.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT

Electrical Maintenance Man "A" from $2.85 to $2.90 per hour.
Electrical Maintenance Man "B" from $2.57 to $2.63 per hour.
Electrical Maintenance Man "C" from $2.15 to $2.21 per hour.

2. In addition to the foregoing increases, and after the application thereof, the company will increase the wage rates of all classifications 4.5%.

3. The foregoing offer to increase all rates 4.5% shall not be construed as a waiver of the company's previously stated position that it does not recognize the unions as the bargaining agents of all "A" and "B" Foremen, Labor Foremen (Underground), Construction Foremen in Station Construction, all of the Columbus District, and all Line Crew Foremen of the Southern District.

4. Except with respect to the individual increases set forth in paragraph 1 above, this offer to increase all rates to the extent of 4.5% must be submitted to all eligible employees, to be voted on for acceptance or rejection by a secret ballot, in an election to be held under the exclusive management and control of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service as suggested by Section 203 paragraph (e) of the Labor Management Relations Act of 1947 as amended.

5. The election above required must not be held upon any premises owned or rented by either party or associated with either the company or the unions or any other union or labor organization.

6. Except with respect to eligible voters and the election managers and their necessary assistants no individual connected with either the company or the unions or any other company or unions shall be permitted near the polling places.

7. Either party shall be permitted to publicize this offer and urge its acceptance or rejection but none of the parties or their representatives shall threaten, intimidate or interfere with any employee or member of his family or in any manner coerce any individual or offer any reward to any individual to influence the vote of any of the employees eligible to vote at such election.

8. The company will pay the entire expense of the election but will consent to the unions paying one-half or any part thereof but not to exceed one-half of such expense.

9. In the event a majority of the eligible voting employees vote to accept the company's offer the unions will terminate the current strike and will urge the employees to return to their jobs as fast as the company can utilize them in their respective jobs.

10. If the company's offer is accepted all of the wage increases will be made effective at the beginning of the return of each individual to his job at his regularly scheduled work place and time.

Yours very truly,

H. V. Potts

Know What To Look for In A Good Used Boat?

The first mild weather of the year is the signal for the "boating bug" to start biting people.

This time of year the urge to get out on the water is really strong—and boat stores do a brisk business. The prospective boat owner of today has a wide selection of both new and used boats to look over.

Many of the used boats are in excellent condition and are good bargains. In most cases they were traded in for a larger outfit after being in use only a season or two. If you consider buying a used boat this spring, the first rule of advice is to go to a reputable dealer.

Also, run the boat to see if it handles satisfactorily.

Poor Storage Harmful

Have the boat taken out of the water and check the bottom. See that planking abuts the transom and stem squarely and solidly. Sight along the keel for "hooks" (large concave indentations in the bottom caused by improper distribution of weight during storage.) "Hooks" will cause the boat to perform improperly. Be suspicious of cracks which could develop into troublesome leaks. Seams and planks should be so joined as to remain watertight.

Check for nail sickness — the symptoms are spots of rust on the surface of the paint over a nail, or, in some cases, rust streaking down the side of the hull from a nailhole. If the condition looks bad, chances are you're in for a complete refastening job.

Look inside the hull. See that frames and ribs are sound and uncracked. A badly cracked frame will cause the planks to work and the boat to leak.

Examine For Dry Rot

Since most outboard boats are well ventilated, the chances of finding dry rot in an outboard hull are relatively slight. However, inspect a boat thoroughly for dry rot if the boat has been completely covered during a prolonged storage period. If the boat has enclosed spaces, such as cabins, lockers and the like, look for dry rot. Examine under floor boards, decks, etc. If the wood you're inspecting is soft and crumbly and will tear loose at the touch of a thumbnail or screwdriver, it's affected by dry rot. Blistered paint may indicate the condition, but is not necessarily a cause.

A bad paint job, although it will affect a boat's performance, is not dangerous in itself. However it may indicate the previous owner's attitude toward maintenance, so inspect a badly painted craft thoroughly. If you purchase a poorly painted boat, refinish it to get best performance.

Aluminum and glass boats, by nature of the material used in their construction, are durable. Be sure seams in an aluminum boat are correctly joined and will not leak. Glass boats should be free of bad cracks.

John Thomas, 17-year-old Boston University phenomenon, has twice jumped seven feet, the only high-jumper in the world world to soar to that height indoors. AAU officials promptly verified the mark the second time, a formality neglected the first time Thomas performed the feat.

Contracts between the nation's railroads and both operating and nonoperating railroad unions come up for renegotiation this fall.

Post-Disaster Job Finished By Red Cross

Red Cross Disaster Relief office at Central Point Shopping Center brought its flood rehabilitation work to an end Monday.

It had been in operation since Jan. 26, five days after thousands of Franklin countians were routed from their homes.

Of 1142 families appealing for help, assistance was given all but 35, the advisory committee reported. In all, $177,635 was spent on supplies and aid. County residents contributed $85,078 of that amount in answering a special appeal.

The report also stated that 3,200 homeless were given temporary shelter, 2,600 families suffered losses, 900 dwellings received major damage, while 1,900 homes and house trailers were damaged. Of 46 persons seriously injured, 22 were hospitalized.

West Sider Emmet Seely was one of 15 persons in the city serving on the board which reviewed all cases.

Camp-O-Ree Ticket Chairmen To Meet

Chairman of ticket sales for the 1959 Scout-O-Rama, Robert D. Dings, 674 S. Terrace-av, announces that tickets will be distributed to all units of the Southwest District at Central High School auditorium, Friday evening, Mar. 20.

This meeting is not for the boys, Dings said, but for the adult sales representatives. Units not present will have to wait for delivery, losing valuable selling time, he added.

Glenwood Teens Set Planning Meet Tonight

Teen Club will meet at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday at Glenwood Recreation Center.

Topics will include a Mar. 21 bake sale, girls' slumber party, Spring Frolic (semi-formal dance on Apr. 10) and a barn dance in May.

A dance and refreshments will follow the meeting.

Great Western Realty Office Opened By Curry, McDaniel

P. E. McDaniel

Robert E. Curry

Two experienced real estate salesmen have pooled their interests and have formed Great Western Realty, with offices in the Great Western Shopping Center, 173 Wilson-rd.

They are P. E. McDaniel, 5936 Timberbrook-ln and Robert E. Curry, 96 Letchworth-av. Both are licensed real estate brokers.

McDaniel, 32, was a Ford dealer in London for 13 years and has also handled a number of West area property sales. He is married and has one child.

Curry, 34, has lived on the Hilltop all his life, and was graduated from West High. He is married and the father of two daughters. He, too, was in auto sales work five years in addition to real estate.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Meat and Poultry—pork loins, fresh cellas, fryers, frozen fish, large eggs.

Fresh Produce—citrus fruit, fresh pineapple, apples, potatoes, celery, endive.

MARKET TIPS

Meats—Fresh pork is the red meat value again this week. In fact, you can look for pork bargains from now until May. Pork prices are expected to rise as hot weather comes, but not to climb as high as they did last summer.

Prices on most beef cuts are not changed from last week. There may be a slight drop in veal prices but it will be only temporary, as veal supplies remain smaller than usual. If you enjoy lamb, put it on your shopping list again this week, for lamb bargains are likely to end by April. And as usual, there is a good supply of both broilers and fryers.

March is Egg Month—What better time to serve this high protein food often? As a meat substitute you can't beat eggs. When there is a price difference between brown and white eggs, the lower-priced ones are your economical choice. Shell color does not affect the flavor, nutritive value, or cooking performance of eggs.

FRESH PRODUCE

Citrus Fruits now have a top rating among the fruits. Eating quality of both oranges and grapefruit is very good. However, the citrus market in Florida is somewhat unstable. Processors are hesitating to buy for frozen concentrates and canned products because of high price. As a result of packers slowing down operations for a short time, grapefruit may remain on the trees longer this year.

Thus, larger-sized grapefruit will be coming to market. Perhaps some of these will have evidence of "re-greening." This "regreening" happens to either grapefruit of oranges when they stay on the trees longer than usual. This green color affects only the peel of the fruit, not the eating quality—the fruit is ripe.

Look for good pineapple buys in the next few weeks. Cuba is sending us lots of them. Some controlled-atmosphere storage apples (Jonathan and McIntosh) varieties are available. Quality wise, they are much like those freshly picked from the tree. They, too, need to be kept under refrigeration, so buy these apples in small quantities.

Root Vegetables continue to give inexpensive eating, with the exception of dry onions. Unfavorable growing conditions in Texas, the principal source of dry onions, has resulted in smaller than usual supplies and high prices.

You should have no trouble finding salad ingredients —cabbage, spinach, escarole, radishes, and vine-ripened tomatoes, in addition to those listed above. Increased supplies of fresh asparagus are expected and prices should drop below those of last week, although it is still a luxury item.

Lens Artists Recognized At Gallery

Two Hilltoppers have had their camera art accepted for hanging in the annual Central Ohio Camera Council salon at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. The show runs until Apr. 1.

Bill Spencer, 423 S. Ogden-av, rated one honorable mention out of three prints accepted. Four prints belonging to Fred Gunther, 773 S. Warren-av, were hung.

Both men are members of the West Side Camera Club, 963 W. Broad-st. Spencer is president. Gunther won the club's high-point trophy last year.

Anybody can learn to do anything with the help of "do-it-yourself" books at the Columbus Public Library.

Kiwanis Honors Avondale Patrol

Sixty youngsters on the Avondale School Safety patrol will be honored by the West Side Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon.

Refreshments, movies and games will be features, and Sgt. Kenneth Mikler of the traffic safety bureau will speak.

Kiwanians George Weber and Carl Bogart are making arrangements.

Tag Sales Slow West Sider Says

Auto tag sales are lagging, according to Frances A. Boyd, deputy registrar at 1160 W. Broad-st, who reminds drivers that the cops won't be fooling April 1 if they stop you for using an old tag.

Mrs. Boyd's agency is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. six days a week for the convenience of tag customers.

REWARD

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company hereby offers rewards totaling $15,000 to the person or persons furnishing to the Company information directly leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who maliciously damaged, destroyed, or interfered with, property belonging to the Company or used by the Company at the following locations on the following dates, or aided, abetted or procured any person or persons to do any of such acts:

Cutting of the telephone cable serving the Company's Poston Generating Plant in Athens County, Ohio, on March 1, 1959, between the hours of 9:45 P.M. and 10:15 P.M.

Short circuiting the Company's 7620 volt distribution line by rope rigging across line and tied to railroad crossties so that locomotive when passing would short circuit wires and cause line outage. Location of incident at the Lazelle-Flint Road crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central tracks. Line shorted March 3, 1959 at 2:20 A.M.

Short circuiting the Company's 13,200 volt distribution line serving Grove City at 12:05 A.M. on the morning of March 5, 1959.

Short circuiting the Company's Conesville-East Broad 138,000 volt transmission line on Tower No. 222, second tower west of Licking County Road No. 38, by dragging ⅛ in. rope with a log chain attached over tower steel structure and transmission conductor, thereby short circuiting line, on March 5, 1959 at 2:53 A.M.

Severing the Company's overland coal conveyor belt by cutting with sharp instrument at Poston Generating Station, on March 9, 1959 at 1:45 A.M.

Short circuiting the Company's 40,000 volt transmission line supplying Galloway Substation by throwing rope over line and pulling steel guy wire attached to rope over line, thereby short circuiting wires and causing outage of circuit. Line shorted along Doherty Road about ½ mile north of West Broad Street, Franklin County, Ohio, on March 9, 1959 at 3:52 A.M.

The maximum reward per event is $2,500.

The Company further offers a reward of $2,500 to the person or persons furnishing to the Company information directly leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons who hereafter maliciously damages, destroys, or interferes with, property belonging to the Company or used by the Company, or aids, abets or procures any person to do any of such acts.

The maximum reward per event is $2,500.

The Company reserves the right to determine the person or persons entitled to the reward and the proportionate amount of such reward to which each is entitled in each conviction.

Information may be given by calling Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, CApital 8-6411, Columbus, Ohio.

Robert E. Curry

Two experienced real estate salesmen have pooled their interests and have formed Great Western Realty, with offices in the Great Western Shopping Center, 172 Wilson-rd.

They are P. E. McDaniel, [illegible] Timberlake-ln and Robert E. Curry, 96 Letchworth-av. Both are licensed real estate brokers.

McDaniel, 52, was a Ford dealer in London for 13 years and has also handled a number of West area property sales. He is married and has one child.

Curry, 24, has lived on the Hilltop all his life, and was graduated from West High. He is married and the father of two daughters. He, too, was in auto sales work five years in addition to real estate.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Meat and Poultry—pork loins, fresh callas, fryers, frozen fish, large eggs.

Fresh Produce—citrus fruit, fresh pineapple, apples, potatoes, celery, endive.

MARKET TIPS

Meats—Fresh pork is the red meat value again this week. In fact, you can look for pork bargains from now until May. Pork prices are expected to rise as hot weather comes, but not to climb as high as they did last summer.

Prices on most beef cuts are not changed from last week. There may be a slight drop in veal prices but it will be only temporary, as veal supplies remain smaller than usual. If you enjoy lamb, put it on your shopping list again this week, for lamb bargains are likely to end by April. And as usual, there is a good supply of both broilers and fryers.

March is Egg Month—What better time to serve this high protein food often? As a meat substitute you can't beat eggs. When there is a price difference between brown and white eggs, the lower-priced ones are your economical choice. Shell color does not affect the flavor, nutritive value, or cooking performance of eggs.

FRESH PRODUCE

Citrus Fruits now have a top rating among the fruits. Eating quality of both oranges and grapefruit is very good. However, the citrus market in Florida is somewhat unstable. Processors are hesitating to buy for frozen concentrates and canned products because of high price. As a result of packers slowing down operations for a short time, grapefruit may remain on the trees longer this year.

Thus, larger-sized grapefruit will be coming to market. Perhaps some of these will have evidence of "re-greening." This "regreening" happens to either grapefruit of oranges when they stay on the trees longer than usual. This green color affects only the peel of the fruit, not the eating quality—the fruit is ripe.

Look for good pineapple buys in the next few weeks. Cuba is sending us lots of them. Some controlled-atmosphere storage apples (Jonathan and McIntosh) varieties are available. Quality wise, they are much like those freshly picked from the tree. They, too, need to be kept under refrigeration, so buy these apples in small quantities.

Root Vegetables continue to give inexpensive eating, with the exception of dry onions. Unfavorable growing conditions in Texas, the principal source of dry onions, has resulted in smaller than usual supplies and high prices.

You should have no trouble finding salad ingredients —cabbage, spinach, escarole, radishes, and vine-ripened tomatoes, in addition to those listed above. Increased supplies of fresh asparagus are expected and prices should drop below those of last week, although it is still a luxury item.

Lens Artists Recognized At Gallery

Two Hilltoppers have had their camera art accepted for hanging in the annual Central Ohio Camera Council salon at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. The show runs until Apr. 1.

Bill Spencer, 423 S. Ogden-av, rated one honorable mention out of three prints accepted. Four prints belonging to Fred Gunther, 773 S. Warren-av, were hung.

Both men are members of the West Side Camera Club, 963 W. Broad-st. Spencer is president. Gunther won the club's high-point trophy last year.

Anybody can learn to do anything with the help of "do-it-yourself" books at the Columbus Public Library.

Kiwanis Honors Avondale Patrol

Sixty youngsters on the Avondale School safety patrol will be honored by the West Side Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon.

Refreshments, movies and games will be features, and Sgt. Kenneth Mikler of the traffic safety bureau will speak.

Kiwanians George Weber and Carl Bogart are making arrangements.

Tag Sales Slow West Sider Says

Auto tag sales are lagging, according to Frances A. Boyd, deputy registrar at 1160 W. Broad-st, who reminds drivers that the cops won't be fooling April 1 if they stop you for using an old tag.

Mrs. Boyd's agency is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. six days a week for the convenience of tag customers.

REWARD

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company hereby offers rewards totaling $15,000 to the person or persons furnishing to the Company information directly leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who maliciously damaged, destroyed, or interfered with, property belonging to the Company or used by the Company at the following locations on the following dates, or aided, abetted or procured any person or persons to do any of such acts:

Cutting of the telephone cable serving the Company's Poston Generating Plant in Athens County, Ohio, on March 1, 1959, between the hours of 9:45 P.M. and 10:15 P.M.

Short circuiting the Company's 7620 volt distribution line by rope rigging across line and tied to railroad crossties so that locomotive when passing would short circuit wires and cause line outage. Location of incident at the Lancelle-Flint Road crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central tracks. Line shorted March 3, 1959 at 2:29 A.M.

Short circuiting the Company's 13,200 volt distribution line serving Grove City at 12:05 A.M. on the morning of March 5, 1959.

Short circuiting the Company's Conesville-East Broad 138,000 volt transmission line on Tower No. 222, second tower west of Licking County Road No. 36, by dragging ¼ in. rope with a log chain attached over tower steel structure and transmission conductor, thereby short circuiting line, on March 5, 1959 at 2:53 A.M.

Severing the Company's overland coal conveyor belt by cutting with sharp instrument at Poston Generating Station, on March 9, 1959 at 1:45 A.M.

Short circuiting the Company's 40,000 volt transmission line supplying Galloway Substation by throwing rope over line and pulling steel guy wire attached to rope over line, thereby short circuiting wires and causing outage of circuit. Line shorted along Doherty Road about ⅓ mile north of West Broad Street, Franklin County, Ohio, on March 9, 1959 at 3:52 A.M.

The maximum reward per event is $2,500.

The Company further offers a reward of $2,500 to the person or persons furnishing to the Company information directly leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons who hereafter maliciously damages, destroys, or interferes with, property belonging to the Company or used by the Company, or aids, abets or procures any person to do any of such acts.

The maximum reward per event is $2,500.

The Company reserves the right to determine the person or persons entitled to the reward and the proportionate amount of such reward to which each is entitled in each conviction.

Sewers—

when many Rosary residents south of Eakin-rd found about 16 inches of water in their basements," Chamberlain stated.

He continued, "At the time Rosary was built, the developers of Westgate Terrace said they intended to drain their land to the south, through the Board of Education property. They said hold an easement for that purpose but haven't used it."

Chamberlain said that the Terrace developer and an adjacent builder, Ed Tonti, apparently failed to agree on financing the sewer. After that the agreement to hook onto city annexed Rosary sewers to the east was made and is now being accomplished, he said.

The Rosary spokesman said his petition includes an opinion from the Thomas Engineering and Survey Co., 3803 Sullivant-av, stating that the sewers were not built to handle anything more than bordering farm lands. "Should additional sewers be discharged into Rosary it is probable that flooding could result and cause damage to property," the statement concluded.

Residents of eight streets signed the plea to revoke the sewer agreement.

Campfire Girls of Mah-Kah-Wee group toured the Hartley Newspaper plant Mar. 11. They were accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Sorg, guardian, and Bill Rush, editor.

In the group were Susan Jessberger, Georgia Brannon, Mary Alice Sorg, Margaret Chambers, Sandra Robinson, Mary Chambers and Catherine Rheinscheld.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

The Fourth Greater Columbus Indoor Track and Field Meet was held at French Field House on the OSU campus last Friday. Years ago when there was a track underneath the stadium, the meet was inaugurated by some area coaches. Suspended for the past two years, a couple of local coaches again revived the idea this year.

East, who has been practicing at the Field House individually since early in the year (thus far ahead of most of the rest of the area track crop) walked off with the "title" with a smashing 40 points.

This was 12½ better than second place North which finished with 27½; following in order to round out the top six were Upper Arlington 25½, Worthington 24 1-3, West 20 1-3 and Central with 18. All in all 12 teams of the Columbus area and about 125 individuals participated in the annual event . . . no trophies or medals are given.

West in gaining its fifth place finish had quite a few members of the squad hit the "scoring column" to rack up their 20 1-3 points. Jim Prater took second in the high jump and fourth in the 80-yd. dash (some contend he finished second, but there was some confusion by the judges at the finish line due to the overflow crowd on the track.

Carl Brown also 'scored double' as he was third in the 70 yd. high hurdles and the 70 yd. low hurdles. Others placing were Jim Willis, tied for fifth in the pole vault; Larry Barnett, fifth in the shot put; Joe Massey, fourth in the mile; and Bill Kern, third in the 880. The mile relay team took a fourth.

Meanwhile the Central Pirates were just a step behind, but only had three men 'scoring'. Their doubles man was Bill Pegich with a second in the 70 yd. high hurdles and a first in low hurdles over the same distance. Anthony Miles was second in the mile run and Jim Demorest took a fourth in the 880. So it won't be long till those cinders outside will be flying in a competitive tune.

• • • •

On the Cowboy baseball scene, practice is in full swing. Although 65 originally reported out a couple of weeks back to Coach Bill Schmitter, the team is now pared down to around 30. Returning lettermen and their positions are: Terry Briggs, catcher; Don Uldricks and Dave Buhna, pitchers; Mike Cantlon, first; Bob Saint, second; Don Barnes and Tom Hartranft, shortstops; Bob Dean and John Peterson, third; and Dave Brady, Jerry Hummel, Jim Bluhm and Dan Alder, outfielders.

Their 1959 schedule is: Grove City, April 4 T(-1 p.m.); East April 7 (T); Linden McKinley, April 10 (H); Central, April 14 (T); North, April 17 H); Aquinas, April 21 (T); Grove City, April 24 (H); South, Apr. 28 (T); Marion Franklin, May 5 (H); Eastmoor, May 8 (T); East, May 12 (H); Linden McKinley, May 15 (T); Central, May 19 (H); and North, May 22 (T).

• • • •

Getting back to track for a minute, the Bronco squad finds 13 lettermen back from last season. Back in the distance events are Leon Evans, Bob Phillips, Dave Koons, Bill Kern, Gary Dusenbery and Joe Massey. Others returning are Carl Brown and Paul Meadows in the hurdles, Jim Hastings in the dashes and 440, Jim Prater in the dashes, broad jump and high jump, Tom Myers and Jim Willis in the pole vault and Dick Glass in the 440.

They will be supported by five reserve letter winners from 1958 in Bill Jones, and George Francis, 440; Sigriede Moseman, broad jump; Larry Barnett, weights; and Jan Greer in the weights and 880. Coach Rufus Glass expects very little help from a relatively poor 1958 junior high squad. He believes at present that their weak spots will be in the weights and the lacking of depth in the dashes and jumps.

The entire squad only started to practice March 9. Until that time only the lettermen worked out in preparation for the indoor meet mentioned earlier.

The lengthy schedule for the cindermen presently reads as follows: South, Tuesday, April 9 (T); Marion Franklin and Central, Tuesday, April 14 (H); North, Thursday, April 16 (T); OSU Relays, Saturday, April 18 (OSU); Riverside Relays, Monday and Tuesday, April 20-21 (Central); South and Upper Arlington, Thursday, April 23 (South); Polar Bear Relays, Saturday, April 25 (North); East, Tuesday, April 28 (East); Marion Relays, Friday, May 1 (Marion, O.

Hilltop Relays, Tuesday, May 5 (H); Newark, Friday, May 7 (H); Linden McKinley, Monday, May 11 (T); Junior High prelims, Wednesday, May 13; Junior High Finals, Thursday, May 14; District Meet, Friday and Saturday, May 15-16; City prelims, Tuesday, May 19 (Central); Varsity Finals, Wednesday, May 20 (Central); Reserve Finals, Thursday, May 21 (Central); State Finals, Friday and Saturday, May 22-23 (OSU).

West's head basketball mentor has been named chairman of a committee to investigate the possibilities of splitting the Central Ohio District Class AA Basketball Tourney into two or four sectionals next season. Fred Heischman is also the Class AA representative on the District Basketball Coaches committee.

Others on Heischman's investigating committee are Jake Von Kanel, London H. S. principal; J. R. Henry, Circleville H. S. principal; Carlton Smith, Bexley High coach; and Jim Allen, Newark High coach.

Nets Swish As 'Y' Basketball Loops Enter Second Round

Hilltop YMCA intermediate and junior basketball leagues are now in their second round of action.

Last week West Sr. Hi-Y turned back previously undefeated Hoge Memorial 48-40 to take over leadership. Steve Stavrides paced the Hi-Y team, scoring 15 points in the second half, 17 altogether. Howard Hicks and Larry Barnett each scored 13 for the losers.

Elsewhere in the upper bracket Westgate Methodist trounced Hillcrest Baptist 50-27. John Hill with 21 and Jim Bluhm with 13 led to winners and losers respectively.

In the lower bracket Sullivant Avenue Friends continue to set the pace for the league as they beat Glenwood Methodist 58-45. Al Nance of the Friends led all scorers with 19 while Bill Burke scored 18 in the losing cause. Westgate EUD defeated DeMalay 48-41. Al Daft with 18 and Bob Dean with 17 led their team to victory while Mike Richter scored 19 for the losers.

Baptists Assume Lead

In the Junior League Hillcrest Baptist has taken over in the upper bracket, second round, after defeating Hilltop Church of God 35-25. Joe Massey scored 21 for the winners while Dan Snyder, the league's leading scorer, was held to 16.

Elsewhere in the upper bracket West Park Methodist beat Westgate Methodist 18-9. Fred Frank scored as many points as the entire losing team was able to accumulate. Bob Jacobs was high for the losers with 4.

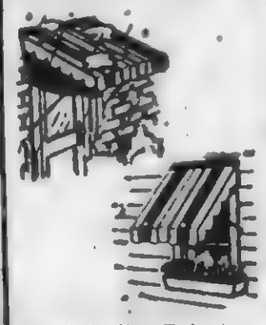
In the lower bracket Glenwood Methodist continues to lead after thumping West Jr. Hi-Y, 26-18. Denny Johnson was high for the winners with 9, while Jim Hughes, Jr. Hi-Y, led all scorers with 10.

Westgate EUB forfeited its game to Burgess EUB.

Rams Grab Tourney Win

The Rams, junior boys' champion cagers from Glenwood Recreation Center, won their first game in the city inter-center basketball tournament last week. They defeated Whetstone, 42-18.

Jack Logue, top Ram scorer, was also high for the game with 15 points. Sam Link and Norman Caune each had 12. Defensively, Steve Bell and Danny Echols were outstanding.



The Rams led 10-4 at the end of the first quarter but Whetstone came back to tie the score at 12 all by halftime. In the third quarter the Rams outscored their opponents 13-6. Whetstone was held scoreless the last quarter while the Rams added 17 points to their total.

The Rams' full-court press did the trick in the fourth.

Spears, Tucker, Chandler Rate With City's Best

West High's towering center, Jerry Spears, was chosen for first team honors in the All-City Basketball League this past week.

He won a similar berth in football last fall. He was the first to crack the cage league individual scoring record this year.

Central's Eddie Tucker, a 6 ft. 2 in. junior, was named to first squad forward and Wallace Chandler, a senior, was chosen as second team forward.

Selections were made by city coaches.

Gladden Cagers Finish Up Third; Nash Gets Title

Gladden's entry in the Columbus Federation of Settlements basketball league recently completed its season with a won 4, lost 2 record.

After a slow start the boys improved with each game and wound up third in the league.

Players were Joe George, Bob Nash, Jim Korting, Charles Gordon, Charles Casto, Don Spaulding, Mike Siemer, Larry Ellis, and Danny O'Keefe.

Gladden's Bob Nash took first place in 13-15 year division of settlements foul shooting contest last week.

Other Gladden entries were Jack Todd and Dick Daugherty.

Sock Hop Set For Friday; Staged By West Y-Teens

Carol Souther

This Friday night at West, the girls will "Take the bill" at one of the biggest events of the year It's Sock Hop time again. This annual affair, sponsored by the Y-Teens, is a "turn-about." Prizes will be given away for the prettiest and funniest socks. Admission is 50 cents stag, 75 cents drag.

On Tuesday, March 17 at the Y-Teens meeting, Margie Johnson, Carolyn Upperman, Susan Weisman, Gwen Conley, Frieda Williams, Frances Williams and Becky Paxton modeled spring fashions.

West High Senior Choir and Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Edith White, participated in the district vocal contest at Whitehall Yearling High School Saturday. Both received a rating of excellent.

Congratulations, music department.

With the Easter holidays drawing nearer the choir is working hard.

On Mar. 28, there will be an Easter assembly. Rev. Terry Smith will be guest speaker and Y-Teens is in charge of both the junior and senior high assemblies. Senior choir will present "The Song of Easter."

On the eve of the 25th, the choir will hold an Easter program at Burgess Avenue EUB Church. The choir will again present "The Song of Easter."

There will be a Science Club meeting Tuesday, Mar. 24, at 8 p.m. in room 327.

Attention members of the Spanish Club. Next meeting will be Thursday, Mar. 19, in room 227 at 8 a.m.

Big date is Mar. 26. Why? This is the day we get out of school for our Easter vacation. Happy Easter to everybody.

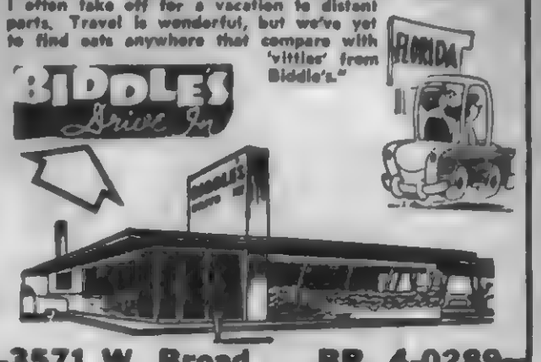
Journalism 'College Course' Is Offered Area Boy Scouts

Boy Scouts of the Central Ohio Council, covering nine counties, will have an opportunity to learn about newspaper work and earn the Journalism merit barge, starting Apr. 14, at the Ohio State University School of Journalism.



Class sessions will be from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on five Saturday mornings, including Apr. 4, 11 and 18, and May 2 and 9. Registration in advance is required at Scout headquarters, 1428 E. Broad-st with name, address, Scout rank and phone number. Journalism Merit Badge booklet is required as text.

Active newspapermen will teach scouts many aspects of newspaper work. A trip through one of the newspaper plants and an interview with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will be part of the course as the Boy Scouts "go to college."

Sponsoring the course are the Central Ohio professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, the Ohio Newspaper Association and the OSU School of Journalism.

Deadline for registration is Monday, Mar. 30.

Open-Church Rites Planned

MISS BETTY JANE BAKER

Miss Betty Jane Baker and Mr. Robert Lee Schmidt will exchange their wedding vows Saturday, June 13 at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church. Dr. A. J. Wold will read the open-church ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Baker, 2525 Steele-av. She was graduated from West High School and is a senior in the College of Education, Ohio State University, where she is a member of Alpha Phi Sorority.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Frank Schmidt, 143 N. Huron-av is also a graduate of West High School. He will be graduated from Ohio State University, College of Arts and Sciences in June, and is a member of Eta Sigma Phi Honorary.

Mr. Schmidt will enter Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N.J. in September, in preparation for the Presbyterian ministry.

Kay Hinderer Is Bride Of Robert Moulder

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Kay Hinderer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hinderer, 175 S. Sylvan-av and Mr. Robert Moulder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Moulder, 310 E. Northwood.

Altar was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and mums for the candlelight ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a rosepoint chantilly lace frock, designed with sabrina neckline, long tapering sleeves and pleated taffeta cummerbund. The bouffant, scalloped-edged skirt and brush train was accented with a taffeta band and bow.

She carried white rosebuds and mums.

Judy Hawthorne served as maid of honor and other attendants were Marlene Schiller, Barbara Day and Sally Moulder. They wore ballerina-length gowns of cobalt blue velveteen with extended bodices, shirred sleeves, bateau necklines and full skirts.

Their matching crowns held circular veils and they carried pink mums.

Mr. Steve Bovie served as best man and ushers were Mr. Fred Hinderer, Mr. Ronald Moulder and Mr. Dick Moulder.

Mother of the bride chose a blue lace over taffeta sheath with matching hat and corsage of red rosebuds.

Bridegroom's mother wore a light blue sheath with matching hat and an identical corsage.

Hostesses for the reception, held at the church, were Donna Brewer, Rosalie Decenso and Dolly Poston.

The new Mrs. Moulder was graduated from West High School and is employed at the M&R Dietetic Lab.

Mr. Moulder was graduated from North High, [redacted] Ohio State University and is enrolled at Ohio Wesleyan University.

The couple is at home at 185½ N. Liberty, Delaware.
